

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2011 with funding from LYRASIS Members and Sloan Foundation

<http://www.archive.org/details/campuscommuni199293univ>

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 5 August 27, 1992

Sizemore, alumna awarded first UNCW patent

A streamlined bacteria test created by UNCW's biology department was awarded the university's first patent on August 11, number 5,137,810.

The new process could replace the conventional gram stain for bacteria, a test used in the diagnosis and treatment of bacterial infections. If the test proves to be effective, it could be a financial windfall for the university.

"The new technique that we have discovered is simpler, faster and produces easily interpreted, conclusive results," said Dr. Ronald Sizemore, co-inventor of the technique.

Sizemore worked with Jerra Caldwell, a graduate of UNCW, to invent the technique in 1986 while Caldwell was working on a marine biology project as an undergraduate.

Anne Kendrick, assistant professor of biological sciences, contributed to the project by spending a year independently verifying the research.

The gram stain, invented in 1884, is done thousands of times a day in hospitals and medical labs around the country.

During the test, cultured bacteria is smeared on a glass slide and dipped in four different stains, then studied under a microscope. Results are determined by the final color of the bacteria, ranging from pink to purple.

The process takes about three minutes and can only be done on freshly grown cultures. Some experience is required for accurate interpretation of results.

The new technique, which uses a wheat germ lectin, uses only one step and takes just one minute to perform, giving it the potential to be highly marketable.

Anne Kendrick, Jerra Caldwell (center) and Ronald Sizemore

The new test can be used directly on cultures without incubation since it is age independent. The results, read when the treated bacteria is viewed under ultraviolet light, are conclusive and easily interpreted even without training. Gram positive bacteria fluoresce brightly, gram negative bacteria do not.

At a press conference announcing the patent award, Dr. James R. Leutze said it gave him "special pride to note that the co-inventor of this method was an undergraduate biology student when it was discovered...this institution takes pride in giving such research opportunities to undergraduate students."

Caldwell graduated from UNCW in 1986 with a degree in medical technology.

UNCW to host its first NCAA Tournament

UNC Wilmington has been awarded its first NCAA tournament, the 1995 NCAA Division I Women's Golf Championship. It will be held at Landfall May 24 to 27 of that year.

"One of our goals is to expand the program on a national scope," said Paul Miller, UNCW's athletic director, "and this will help us accomplish that."

NCAA's top 17 teams and at-large players will travel to Wilmington for the four-day, 72-hole competition.

UNCW's women's golf team, coached by Lea Dudley, competes in the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

4911 finalized

The Telecommunications Department has completed its 4911 campus emergency telephone system. Campus emergencies can now be reported directly to the Campus Police. Each caller's extension and location can be identified immediately, thus speeding response time in emergencies.

The system is connected to the New Hanover County fire and ambulance service. Faculty and staff are urged to call the Campus Police at ext. 4911 in case of emergency.

Carolyn Busse is the new editor of the Campus Communique. Send Communique items to Busse c/o University Relations or to BUSSEC on VAX by NOON, Tuesdays, for inclusion in that week's issue.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FINANCIAL AID

The Financial Aid Office will be closed to the general public from 8 to 10 each morning beginning Monday, August 31. This will help the office deal with an increasing applicant population, new loan counseling requirements and many other significant changes relating to the reauthorization of the Higher Education Act, signed into law July 23.

CPS REVIEW

Contact Brenda Dineen, ext. 3712, if you are interested in attending an evening "Economics and Management" Certified Professional Secretary review class.

ALUMNI AWARDS

The UNCW Alumni Association is seeking nominations for its annual Alumnus of the Year and Distinguished Citizen of the Year awards.

The Alumnus of the Year award is open to all alumni. The Distinguished Citizen award can be for service to UNCW or for service to the community and is not limited to alumni.

Letters of recommendation, specifying award category, should be written to the Alumni Association Board of Directors. Send letters to Carol King, director of alumni relations, Alderman Hall room 108.

TQM DISCUSSION

Total Quality Management will be the topic of a roundtable discussion presented by the MBA Association at 7 p.m., Thursday, September 17 in Cameron Hall Auditorium.

Speaking will be Russ Copeman, director in the International Manufacturing Practice for Coopers & Lybrand, Ann Arbor, MI; Dr. Ed Heard, creator of "Short Cycle Management" from Nashville, Tenn.; and Ron Matthews, senior vice president of manufacturing and engineering and assistant to the chairman of Corning-Vitro, Inc., Corning N.Y.

Cost to attend the program is $30. Call 256-8808 or 452-5920 for information.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

The Cape Fear Chapter of the UNCW Alumni Association will sponsor a golf tournament on September 26 at The Cape Golf and Racquet Club. The tournament will be open to alumni, students, faculty, staff and their families and friends. Corporate teams and individual players are welcome. For more information or entry forms, call the Alumni Relations office at ext. 3616.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

To schedule a presentation about volunteer community service opportunities for classes, departments and student organizations, call the Leadership Center at ext. 4052. The Leadership Center has moved to the University Center, room 138, ext. 4052.

EV-HENWOOD

Ev-Henwood, UNCW's coastal teaching and research forest in Brunswick County, is now available to all academic departments for class field trips, student and faculty research and other educational activities. Call David Sieren at ext. 3197 for more information or to schedule trips.

MEMORIAL QUILT

An informational meeting to discuss campus interest in sponsoring a display in the Names Project Memorial Quilt in February 1993 will be held at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, September 1 in University Union room 206. For more information call Deborah Haywood, LivWELL Center for Health Promotion, at ext. 4137.

TEST PARTICIPANTS NEEDED

UNCW student nurses need happy, healthy children to practice the Denver Developmental Screening Test. Faculty members from the School of Nursing will be on hand to supervise the testing.

Parents with children between the ages of three months and five years are invited to bring their children to McDonald's on College Road September 2, 8, 9 or 15 and October 13, 14, 20 or 21 from 9 to 11 a.m. or 2 to 4 p.m. all dates except September 9, when the hours will be 2 to 4 p.m. For more information or to schedule an appointment call 395-3210.

MISSING PAGES

Please check your 1992-93 undergraduate catalogs for missing pages. Defective copies can be exchanged in the General College or deans' offices.

GAS PUMPING SCHEDULE

The fall schedule for pumping gas at the Motor Pool is as follows: Monday to Friday: 7 a.m. to 8 a.m., 1 to 1:30 p.m., and 3 to 3:25 p.m.

ALTERNATIVES!

A program discussing how alcohol is marketed to high school and college age youth, "Drink Sells the Dream," will be held from 6 to 8 p.m., Sunday, September 20 in University Center Ballroom Three and from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Monday, September 21 in U.C. Ballroom Two.

The program will be presented by Penny Norton, prevention coordinator for Michigan's Mid-State Substance Abuse Commission. Admission is open to students, faculty and staff and attendance vouchers will be available. For information, call ALTERNATIVES! at ext. 3683.

WORKSHOP LOCATION CORRECTION

All VAX and PC workshops will be held in Ho-212, not Trask 119A, as incorrectly listed in the Staff Training & Development Opportunities handbook. Macintosh workshops will be held in Trask 119A.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

N.C. LIVING TREASURE NAMED

Master gunsmith John Braxton has been chosen as the 1992 North Carolina Living Treasure by the UNCW Institute for Human Potential.

Braxton, who is from Snow Camp in Alamance County, is a self-taught machinist and riflemith who is considered a leading authority on North Carolina Long Rifles. His restorations and replicas of early firearms can be found in many museums and state and federal parks across the United States.

He will bring samples of his reproductions of antique rifles and tools to the lobby of University Center and meet with faculty, staff, students and the general public from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Thursday, September 3.

CAPITOL CAMPAIGN UPDATE

University Advancement is finalizing plans for this year's Loyalty Fund, the annual portion of the five-year, $15 million capitol campaign announced in April by Chancellor Leutze. Income from the campaign will be used for faculty enhancement and to fund scholarships.

An information package will be mailed to faculty, staff, alumni and friends of the university in mid-September. For the convenience of campus employees, payroll deductions will be available to accommodate contributions.

The next Campus Communique will be distributed September 3

CONVOCATION CEREMONY PLANNED

UNCW will hold a formal academic convocation ceremony at 11 a.m., Wednesday, September 9, in Trask Coliseum.

The first such event in recent history, the ceremony will mark the beginning of the academic year. Outstanding faculty members will be recognized for their excellence in teaching and honorary doctorates will be granted to William and Ida Friday. Three $5000 endowed professorships will also be awarded.

Faculty, staff and students are invited to attend. Regular classes will be suspended from 10 a.m. to noon that day, and supervisors will be asked to operate their offices at minimum staff levels from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Faculty and Staff

Ron Johnson, head of circulation and online systems coordinator at Randall Library, published the chapter "LS/2000: University of North Carolina at Wilmington" in The Online Catalog Book: Essays and Examples, published by G.K. Hall and Co. Additional information submitted during the project is being published by Library and Information Technology, a division of the American Library Association as The Catalog Collection. Johnson received instruction and assistance in graphic screen capturing and editing from Mike Pressley of Academic Computing Services.

Dr. Omar A. Karim, assistant professor of physics, attended the Gordon Research Conference on Water and Aqueous Solutions, August 3 to 7 in Plymouth, N.H. Karim, attending under the teaching and research program of the Gordon Research Conferences, presented a poster titled "Molecular Dynamics Simulation of Ion Pairs in Water." The research project was supported in part by the College of Arts and Science's 1992 Summer Initiatives program.

Pam Whitlock, grants and contracts officer, was recently elected president-elect of the National Council of University Research Administrators, Southern Section. Made up of over 350 members, the Southern Section represents institutions throughout the Southeast. Whitlock served as the organization's secretary/treasurer for the last two years.

A book by Dr. Walter Thomas Schmid, professor of philosophy and religion, titled On Manly Courage: a Study of Plato's Laches, was released this summer by the Southern Illinois University Press. It is included in the series, Philosophical Explorations, edited by George Kimball Plochmann. Copies are available in the bookstore.

Kristin K. Howell, assistant professor of economics, has been appointed a United Carolina Bank Faculty Fellow for 1992-93. The purpose of the Faculty Fellows Program is to enhance the research mission of the Department of Economics and Finance.

An article by Dr. Bill J. Johnston, associate professor of educational design and management, titled "The Transformation of Work and Educational Reform Policy," has been accepted for publication in the Spring 1993 issue of the American Educational Research Journal.

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama, recently signed a contract with Salem Press to write a critical essay on the founding of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and the first Academy Awards for Great Events From History II: Arts and Culture, to be published in the fall of 1993.

Events Calendar

August 27 - September 3

Friday, August 28

Campus Catering Open House
Hors d'Oeuvres will be served
2 to 3:30, Madeline Suite,
Wagoner Hall

Tuesday, September 1

Intro to Vax
1:30 to 3:30 p.m.,
Human Resources

America 2000 Town Meeting
Topic: the six goals for America's education system
8:30 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

Wednesday, September 2

Developmental Screening Test
9 to 11 a.m., 2 to 4 p.m.
McDonald's, South College Road
(see item in ANNOUNCEMENTS)

Intro to DOS
1:30 to 3 p.m., Human Resources

Allman Brothers Concert
8 p.m., Trask Coliseum

Thursday, September 3

Master gunsmith John Braxton
11 a.m. to 2 p.m.,
University Center lobby

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS (CON'T)

HAITH LEAVING

Frank Haith, assistant men's basketball coach, has left UNCW for a similar position at Texas A&M University.

Haith joined the Seahawks two years ago after serving as an assistant coach at Wake Forest.

He played a vital role in UNCW head coach Kevin Eastman's rebuilding plan for the Seahawks. The team was selected as the Most Improved Team in the Colonial Athletic Association last season by regional network Home Team Sports.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION OFFERS TUTORING

The School of Education at UNCW is currently enrolling kindergarten to ninth grade students for tutoring and diagnosis in the Educational Lab.

The lab is a training center where college students work one-on-one with children on reading, reading-related skills and math. All tutoring is supervised by the lab's professional staff.

A diagnostic testing program is also available. For more information, call Karen Wetherill at 395-3087.

ARTWORK ON DISPLAY

Wilmington artist Pam Toll's exhibit, "The Silent Listening to the Undeniable," will be on display in the Union Living Room through October 1.

The paintings and collages in the exhibit are based on autobiographical narratives often embellished with dream segments.

Toll's work has been shown in one-person, group-juried and gallery shows in North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. She received an Emerging Artists Program Grant from the Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear and North Carolina Arts Council in 1992.

TRACK COACH NAMED

Jim Sprecher has been named track/cross country coach for UNCW. He comes to the university from Arkansas College in Batesville, Ark., where he held the same position.

The deadline for Campus Communique items is NOON on TUESDAYS

Human Resources

Medical Insurance Annual Enrollment

Medical Insurance Annual Enrollment is open now through September 1. Medical Plan change materials concerning enrollment have been mailed to home addresses and should be delivered this week.

Although several plans are presented in the "It's Your Choice" brochure, only the State of N.C. Comprehensive Major Medical Plan (State Plan) and the Physician's Health Plan (PHP) are available in this area.

To stay with your current plan, no action is necessary. To change plans, complete the enrollment in the package and bring it to Human Resources. For specific information on PHP, call 1-800-772-1180. For questions about the State Plan, Call 1-800-422-4658.

SPA Employee Timesheets

SPA temporary employees and permanent employees extra time and shift premium timesheets should be received in Human Resources by noon on Tuesday, September 1.

Optional Retirement Plan Change

Effective July 1, 1992, the university's contribution to the Optional Retirement Plan (ORP) increased from 6.24 to 6.46 percent of salary. Two new vendors are now available in addition to TIAA/CREF: Valic and Lincoln National. Members of the ORP may transfer accumulated funds from TIAA/CREF to either of the new vendors or redirect new contributions. Representatives from each plan will be on campus in late September. Times, dates and locations will be announced.

Salary Changes

Fiscal year 1992-93 salary changes for faculty and 12 month EPA employees will be reflected in August paychecks, retroactive to July 1.

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 6 September 3, 1992

Convocation to launch new academic year

Faculty and staff are invited to attend a formal academic convocation at 11 a.m. next Wednesday, September 9, in Trask Coliseum. The first such event in recent history, the ceremony will mark the beginning of the academic year.

Highlighting the program will be the granting of honorary doctoral degrees to Ida Howell Friday and William C. Friday. Ida Friday will be recognized for a lifetime of achievements in education, public health and cultural affairs.

William Friday, president emeritus of the University of North Carolina, will be recognized for his service to higher education in the state and nation, as well as his work to promote philanthropy, leadership, literacy and economic development initiatives.

Chancellor Leutze will present three distinguished teaching professorships designed to foster UNCW's commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. Each recipient will receive a $5,000 per year stipend for three years. These are the first awards of their kind at UNCW.

Distinguished teaching medallions will be presented to the last 15 Trustee Teaching Excellence Award winners and to 10 prior Chancellor's Teaching Excellence Award recipients.

A picnic lunch on the grounds beside Trask Coliseum will follow. Student meal cards will be honored. The cost for everyone else will be $3.65.

Also scheduled at noon near Trask will be an Outdoor Celebration in the Pines featuring speakers and entertainers from UNCW and the community.

Following lunch, the annual Activities/Volunteer Fair will be held on the north lawn of the Union from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Numerous student organizations and local volunteer agencies will be represented.

Regular classes will be suspended from 10 a.m. to noon that day, and supervisors have been asked to operate their offices at minimum staff levels from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Meet our Living Treasure

This year's North Carolina Living Treasure, John Braxton, will bring samples of his reproductions of antique rifles and tools to the lobby of University center and meet with faculty, staff, students and the general public from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. today.

Braxton is a self-taught machinist and riflesmith and is considered a leading authority on North Carolina Long Rifles.

He will be presented the Living Treasure Award at a banquet tomorrow night.

John Braxton, N.C. Living Treasure

Artist in residence to speak tonight

Handoku Ito, this week's artist in residence, will present a public lecture about his work tonight at 8 p.m. at St. John's Museum of Art.

Recipient of a prestigious Japanese government grant awarded to one artist annually, Ito has spent the past year lecturing and demonstrating his printmaking throughout the U.S. and Canada. His work combines traditional woodblock techniques with modern screen printing.

As artist in residence at UNCW, he is creating a suite of small lithographs and meeting with art and philosophy and religion classes.

Faculty Senate to meet Tuesday

The faculty senate will meet at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, September 8, in 114 DL. Agenda items will include instructor-initiated drops of students not attending the first day of classes, +/- grading and a report from the University Curriculum Committee regarding basic studies.

Complete agendas will be distributed by tomorrow. The senate welcomes attendance of interested faculty and students. Call Ken Gurganus, ext. 3297, if you have any questions.

University employees will be off work on Monday, September 7, in celebration of Labor Day. The library will be open from 10 to 5 on Saturday, closed Sunday, and will be open from 3 p.m. to midnight on Labor Day.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FISHING TOURNAMENT

The Athletic Department invites all faculty and staff to participate in the first "Seahawk Scholarship Fishing Frenzy" to be held October 16. Cost is $200 per person or $1,000 per boat, maximum seven anglers per boat. Call 395-3625 for more information.

AAUP NEWS

The grant that funded the last four editions of the AAUP newsletter has run out. To keep this line of communication open, faculty are asked to participate in a book and bake sale to be held before and after the September 10 faculty meeting. Anyone interested in contributing books, food or money to this sale is asked to contact Jimmy Reeves or Aida Toplin.

BOOKSTORE

The University Bookstore now delivers birthday cakes and balloons on campus. Call ext. 3054 two days in advance to place an order. Delivery is free, and the bookstore can bill individual departments.

SUPPORT GROUP TO MEET

The Crohn's - colitis support group will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, September 24, in University Union room 207. Students, faculty, staff and the public are invited. For questions or more information, call Student Health and Wellness at 395-3280.

YOUTH AND ALCOHOL

A program discussing how alcohol is marketed to high school and college age youth, "Drink Sells the Dream," will be held from 6 to 8 p.m., Sunday, September 20, in University Center Ballroom Two and from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Monday, September 21, in U.C. Ballroom Three.

The program will be presented by Penny Norton, prevention coordinator for Michigan's Mid-State Substance Abuse Commission. Admission is open to students, faculty and staff, and attendance vouchers will be available. For information, call ALTERNATIVES! at ext. 3683.

CRIME REPORT

Watch today's Seahawk for UNCW's 1992 Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act Report.

THANK YOU

Claude Brown Jr. of Purchasing Services wishes to express his appreciation to university staff for the cards and flowers sent to him after the death of his father, Claudius Brown Sr.

UNCW DISCOVERY

Full-time faculty members are invited to submit abstracts describing their research that have appeared recently in peer-reviewed professional media. The UNCW Discovery editorial board will select five or six for expansion into 1200-word articles for the fall issue of Discovery. Submit 10 copies of each abstract to the Graduate School by September 20 on one-page forms available from departmental chairs or from the Graduate School. For questions, call ext. 3135.

TAI CHI CLASSES

Tai Chi classes will be offered to UNCW faculty, staff and students for three months starting September 8 in University Union room 100. Classes for beginners or continuing Tai Chi students will be held on Tuesdays from noon to 1 p.m., September 8 to November 24. Registration deadline is September 29.

For more information, call Diane Edwards at ext. 3577. Sponsored by ALTERNATIVES! and the Student Development Center.

SEANC CONVENTION

Gloria Sasser, secretary in the English department, is an elected delegate for the SEANC convention, to be held September 9, 10 and 11. As a delegate, she will represent all state employees. If you have any concerns that you would like addressed while she is there, contact her at ext. 3338.

FRS PLUS

FRS Plus electronic requisitioning training classes which will update the electronic requisitioning process are available on each of the following dates: September 15-18, 21-25, 28-30; October 1, 2, 5, 9, 12, 15, 16, 19-22, and 28. October 29 will be reserved for new users of electronic requisitioning. Contact Diana Bellamy at ext. 3153 for more information or to reserve a seat in one of these classes.

CLASS WITHDRAWAL

To withdraw from one or more classes, students must report to the Registrar's Office on or before the last day of withdrawal (as listed in the university calendar of events). To withdraw from all classes, students must complete an official withdrawal form at the General College Advising Center or appropriate academic dean's office. Students unable to appear in person must send a written notice to GCAC or appropriate dean's office.

TASTY FUND RAISER

Professional Secretaries International is collecting Snickers, Mars, M&M's, Milky Way, etc. candy wrappers for a fund raising project and would appreciate help from the UNCW community. For more information, call Gloria Sasser at ext. 3338.

YOGA CLASSES OFFERED

The LivWELL Center for Health Promotion and the Student Development Center are co-sponsoring an eight-week yoga series with instructor Nancy Hayes. Classes begin September 30 and continue through November 18 and will be held in the student development training room in Westside Hall. Limited class size. Cost is $24.00 for the eight week series, $12 for students. Call 350-4137 to pre-register or get more information.

The Union says CONGRATULATIONS! to Cathy Birmingham, this year's winner of the UNCW Award of Excellence.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

EMPLOYEE WEEK

Each year the governor dedicates one week to state employee appreciation. During the week winners of the Governor's Award of Excellence from all over the state are officially recognized at a ceremony in Raleigh. The university's Award of Excellence recipient, Catherine Birmingham of the Leadership Center, is our nominee for the state's program.

This year, Employee Appreciation Week is September 14 to 18. We will celebrate by inviting all faculty and staff to a FREE continental breakfast on Tuesday, September 15 in the University Center Ballroom from 8 am to 10 am.

The bookstore will discount all university logo and Seahawk items 20 percent for faculty and staff during the week. ID cards are required at time of purchase.

ARA services will offer free hamburgers and hot dogs to all faculty and staff from 11:30 to 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 16, in front of the bookstore. Bring your I.D. to take advantage of this.

Dr. Lewis E. Nance, professor of chemistry, participated in the ISMAR (International Society of Magnetic Resonance) conference held at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, B.C., the week of July 19 to 24. He presented the poster "Carbon-13 Relaxation and Molecular Motion in Halomethanes." Dr. Art A. Rodriguez and graduate student Tim Davis, both of the ECU Chemistry Department, collaborated in the research. Dr. Nance will hold a seminar discussing this work and other research presented at the conference at 3 p.m. on October 2 in room 114 of DeLoach Hall.

A mystery novel by Dr. Richard Hill, assistant professor of English, titled What Rough Beast, will be published this month by Foul Play Publishing.

ART EXHIBIT

An exhibit by Sara Switzer Keane, titled "Chickeanes and Other Scenes," will be displayed in the University Center lobby September 1 to October 23. The oil on canvas exhibit features crisp images of still lifes and landscapes in bold, luscious colors.

Keane's work has been shown in gallery shows in Connecticut, Tennessee and North Carolina and was featured in an award-winning television movie.

COUPONS AVAILABLE

Discount coupons for admission to Busch Gardens in Williamsburg, Va. are now available to UNCW faculty and staff. The coupons, provided by the Chamber of Commerce, offer a $5 discount off the $24.95 one-day admission price and must be used before November 29. Coupons may be picked up from Sharon San Diego in University Relations, AL 104.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. John Zimmer, visiting assistant professor of chemistry, presented a paper titled "Poetry and Science: A Correlation of the Creation Story in Genesis With the Evolutionary Record" at the Third Congress of the International Christian Studies Association held August 7 to 9 in Pasadena, Ca.

Dr. Bruce C. McKinney, assistant professor of communication studies, has had his book Mediator Communication Competencies published by Burgess International Group. It is a revised edition of the book Mediation: Dispute Resolution Through Communication. Dr. William Kimsey and Dr. Rex Fuller of James Madison University are co-authors.

Four faculty members from the Department of Management and

1992-93 PERFORMANCES

The Department of Fine Arts, Division of Theatre, will present four productions during the 1992-93 academic year. They are: Creation of the World and Other Business by Arthur Miller, Rumors by Neil Simon, Woyczek by Georg Buchner and The Love Suicides at Sonezaki by Chikamatsu Monzaemon, translated by Donald Keene.

A subscription for the entire season may be purchased in advance for $18, $6 off the single ticket price. Call the Kenan Auditorium Box Office at 791-9695 to charge a season subscription. For more information or a copy of the University Theatre brochure, call the Department of Fine Arts at ext. 3440.

PRESENTATION PLANNED

Dr. David E. Padgett, Department of Biological Sciences, will present "Observations of the Ecological Dynamics of Marine Fungi in Cordgrass Roots and Rhizomes" at 2 p.m., September 11 in FH 151. All are welcome and refreshments will be served.

Marketing presented papers at the American Marketing Association's national meeting, held August 8 to 11 in Chicago. Drs. Judy Sigauw and Doug Hoffman presented the paper "The Role of Slotting Allowances in Retail Channel Relationships: Review and Propositions," and Drs. Earl Honeycutt and Vince Howe presented the paper "Specifications of Sales Training Objectives: Organizational Practices and Managerial Implications."

A paper by Ralph W. Braur titled "Geography in the Medieval Muslim World" was published in Comparative Citizens Review.

Dr. H.W. Gillen presented the paper "Arab Seizure Theories before 1500 A.D." at the International Conference on the History of Medicine in Cordoba, Spain.

Faculty and Staff (cont.)

Faculty members guitarist Robert Nathanson and saxophonist Frank Bongiorno, both of the Department of Fine Arts, Music Division, have been invited to perform the premiere of "In the Dragon's Garden" by David Kechley and the Tenth World Saxophone Congress in Pesaro, Italy, September 3 to 8. Bongiorno has also been invited to be a feature soloist in a performance with the Conservatorio di Musica Rossini Orchestra during the event.

An article by Patricia B. Lerch, professor of anthropology, titled "Pageantry, Parade and Indian Dancing: The Staging of Identity Among the Waccamaw Sioux," was published in the June 1992 issue of Museum Anthropology.

The Handbook of Neuropsychological Assessment, edited by Dr. Antonio Puente, professor of psychology, and Robert McCaffrey of SUNY Albany was recently published by Plenum Press. Puente also contributed a chapter on the assessment of possible neural substrates of schizophrenia for the book, Schizophrenic Disorders, by Leighton Whitaker of Swarthmore College.

A critical essay by Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama, on English humorist Oliver Goldsmith, will be published this month by Salem

Press. The article, which appears in the encyclopedic work Magill's Survey of World Literature, examines Goldsmith's best known works, "The Vicar of Wakefield" and "She Stoops to Conquer."

Dr. Hana Noor Al-Deen, of the Communication Studies Department, presented a paper titled "U.S. Television Programming in the Arab Countries: an Acculturation Analysis" at the 42nd Annual Conference of the International Communication Association, in cooperation with the Ninth Annual Intercultural and International Communication Conference, held recently in Miami, FL.

An article by Dr. Tom MacLennan, director of the Writing Place, titled "Robert Coles and the Fruit of a Balanced Development" appeared in the summer issue of the North Carolina English Teacher.

Dr. Kristin K. Howell, assistant professor of economics, has had her paper, "Regional and International Cooperation and Monetary Stability: the Roles of the International Monetary Fund and the Bank for International Settlements," accepted for publication in Rivista Internazionale di Scienze Economiche E Commerciali.

A guided imagery script by Deborah Haywood, LivWELL Center for Health Promotion and Bob Haywood, protestant campus minister, was recently published in 30 Scripts for Relaxation, Imagery, and Inner Healing, published by Whole Person Associates.

"Anthony Hecht," an essay by Dr. Kathy Rugoff, assistant professor of English, was published recently by Salem Press in the Critical Survey of Poetry. English Language Series.

Human Resources

Enrollment extended

The deadline for Open Enrollment for changes between medical plans has been extended to Monday, September 14. Enrollment materials have been mailed to home addresses. If you wish to change plans, complete the enrollment form and deliver it to Human Resources.

Shared leave request

Steve Foster in the Psychology Department has applied for shared leave to cover more than 400 hours of leave without pay. Foster is seriously ill and has been hospitalized twice recently. If you would like to donate vacation leave to help him through this difficult period, complete a leave request form and forward it to Dale Lockwood in Human Resources. Remember to adjust your vacation leave record for the hours donated. If you have questions, call Lockwood at ext. 3161.

VALIC

John Pezzoni, VALIC representative, will be on campus Tuesday, September 8 to meet with individual employees on tax deferred annuities. If you are interested in having additional money tax deferred into a retirement annuity with VALIC, call Elizabeth Greene at ext. 3713 to schedule an appointment.

Luncheon

All faculty and staff are invited to attend the housekeeping luncheon, noon to 2 p.m., September 17 in the University Center Ballroom. The cost is $6.

Events Calendar

September 3 - 10

Thursday, September 3

Lecture by artist-in-residence
Handoku Ito
8 p.m., St. John's Museum of Art

Saturday, September 5

UNCW Soccer vs. The Citadel
1 p.m., Brooks Field

Monday, September 7

Labor Day Holiday

Tuesday, September 8

Volleyball vs. Coastal Carolina
7 p.m., Hanover Gym

Wednesday, September 9

Convocation
11 a.m., Trask Coliseum
Picnic luncheon and Outdoor Celebration in the Pines noon, grounds near Trask Coliseum

Activities/Volunteer Fair
1:30 to 4:30 p.m., Union north lawn

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 7 September 10, 1992

Burton, Johnston and Shinn awarded distinguished teaching professorships

Drs. Grace M. Burton, W. Lee Johnston and Gerald R. Shinn were presented distinguished teaching professorships by Chancellor James R. Leutze during Wednesday's convocation ceremony.

The first of their kind at UNCW, the professorships are designed to foster UNCW's commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. They include a $5,000 per year stipend for three years.

The three winners were previous recipients of the UNCW Board of Trustees Teaching Excellence Award.

Dr. Grace M. Burton was cited for inspiring enthusiasm and commitment. Leutze noted that her students and peers describe her as an exemplary role model.

"The recipient is intent on having her students overcome anxieties about the subject matter, on teaching them to take risks, to try new ideas, and to realize the benefit of their efforts," he said.

A member of the UNCW faculty since 1977, Burton specializes in early childhood and elementary mathematics education and has conducted research into how children best learn mathematical concepts. She also teaches education students how to overcome math anxiety so they will not convey it to their own pupils.

Leutze cited the second recipient, Dr. W. Lee Johnston, for his infectious enthusiasm for teaching, whether he is "infecting" beginning freshmen, student legislators, or participants in the Elderhostel programs at UNCW.

On the UNCW faculty since 1977, Johnston teaches state and local government, American national government and he also specializes in national security and foreign policy issues. Since 1979, he has served as faculty advisor for the Phi Eta Sigma Freshman Honor Society, an organization he helped establish.

Johnston could not accept the award in person because he is participating in a faculty exchange in Korea. During fall semester 1992 he is teaching at Kyung Hee University in Seoul, Korea.

Dr. Gerald Shinn was the third professor presented with the distinguished teaching professorship. "Gerald Shinn generates warmth and love from students, others in the university community, children and people in all walks of life," Leutze said.

Leutze singled out Shinn's founding of the Albert Schweitzer International Prizes in 1975, the establishment of the UNCW Museum of World Cultures, the North Carolina Living Treasure (awarded just this past Friday night), and the United States Living Treasure to be awarded for the first time this coming November. In 1985, he was a finalist in the National Professor of the Year Award.

In addition, Leutze presented distinguished teaching medallions to the last 15 Trustee Teaching Excellence Award Winners and to 10 prior Chancellor's Teaching Excellence Award winners.

William Friday, president emeritus of the University of North Carolina, and his wife, Ida, were presented with honorary doctoral degrees.

Nursing School announces another 100 percent pass rate

One hundred percent of the 1992 UNCW nursing graduates have passed the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses to become registered nurses.

In the six years of baccalaureate nursing graduates at UNCW, the preliminary pass rate has averaged 99 percent.

"This attests to the outstanding quality of the graduates, the faculty, and the entire university," said Nursing School Dean Marlene Rosenkoetter. "I commend each of these new registered nurses and am confident they will make major contributions to health care in the greater community."

There are approximately 850 pre-nursing and nursing students being advised by the School of Nursing. This represents a major increase in enrollment of intended majors and potential registered nurses for this region of Southeastern North Carolina.

UNCW welcomes Marvin K. Moss as provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SPORTS LECTURE

Sports attorney Ron Del Duca will speak at 3:30 p.m., Sept. 10 in room 132 of Cameron Hall. Del Duca represents Boris Becker and other sports stars. His topic will be "The Representation and Compensation of International Athletes." Open to all.

BOOK AND BAKE SALE

The AAUP book and bake sale will be held before and after today's faculty meeting, to be held at 4 p.m. in Cameron Auditorium. Proceeds from the sale will fund this year's editions of the AAUP newsletter.

PIANISTS NEEDED

The University Union Arts in Action program is seeking faculty, staff or student pianists to play in the Union living room during lunch hours. Interested individuals should call Alden Blake at ext. 3811.

DISCOVERY

Full-time faculty members are invited to submit abstracts describing their research that have appeared recently in peer-reviewed professional media. The UNCW Discovery editorial board will select five or six for expansion into 1200-word articles for the fall issue of Discovery. Submit 10 copies of each abstract to the Graduate School by Sept. 20 on one-page forms available from departmental chairs or from the Graduate School. For questions call ext. 3135.

SUPPORT GROUP TO MEET

The Crohn's - colitis support group will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 24 in University Union room 207. Students, faculty, staff and the public are invited. For questions or more information, call Student Health and Wellness at ext. 3280.

YOUTH AND ALCOHOL

A program discussing how alcohol is marketed to high school and college age youth, "Drink Sells the Dream," will be held from 6 to 8 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 20, in University Center Ballroom Two and from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 21, in U.C. Ballroom Three.

The program will be presented by Penny Norton, prevention coordinator for Michigan's Mid-State Substance Abuse Commission. Admission is open to students, faculty and staff, and attendance vouchers will be available. For information, call ALTERNATIVES! at ext. 3683.

AAA TRAVEL

AAA Travel now has a local corporate phone number for use by UNCW employees, 763-7121. The nationwide toll-free emergency number remains 1-800-727-2623. Call Phyllis Adams at ext. 3849 or Charles Sanders at ext. 3158 if you have questions regarding AAA.

ALUMNI GOLF TOURNAMENT

The Cape Fear Chapter of the UNCW Alumni Association will sponsor a golf tournament on Sept. 26 at The Cape Golf and Racquet Club. The tournament will be open to alumni, students, faculty, staff and their families and friends. Corporate teams and individual players are welcome. For more information or entry forms, call the Alumni Relations office at ext. 3616.

CPS REVIEW

A CPS economics and management review course will be taught by Jack Morgan, assistant professor of economics and management, from 6 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays for eight weeks starting Sept. 15. Call ext. 3712 to register.

MOVIE TICKETS

Discount movie tickets can be purchased by faculty and staff at the Information Center for $3. They can be used only at local Carmike Theaters for selected Sunday through Thursday movies. Tickets can be purchased during the center's operating hours, Monday to Thursday 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Friday 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday noon to 5 and Sunday 4 to 10 p.m. Call the center at ext. 3841 or 3846 for more information.

GRAND ILLUSION

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama, will present a film/lecture on Jean Renoir's classic work "Grand Illusion" at 2 p.m., September 12, at Brookgreen Gardens in Murrells Inlet, S.C. The film has long been considered by critics to be among the world's ten greatest films. There is an admission charge to the garden, the lecture is free.

CATALOGS

Please check your 1992-93 undergraduate catalogs for missing pages. Defective copies can be exchanged in the General College or deans' offices.

YOGA CLASSES

The LivWELL Center for Health Promotion and the Student Development Center are co-sponsoring an eight-week yoga series with instructor Nancy Hayes. Classes begin Sept. 30 and continue through Nov. 18 and will be held in the student development training room in Westside Hall from noon to 1 p.m. on Wednesdays. Limited class size. Cost is $24 for the eight week series, $12 for students. Call 350-4137 to pre-register or get more information.

ALLIANCE MOVES

The North Carolina Science and Mathematics Alliance has moved to Hoggard Hall room 210 C & D. Its phone number, 350-3987, and FAX number, 350-4127, remain the same.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

SPELLING BEE TONIGHT

The Star-News Spelling Bee for Literacy will be held at 7 p.m. tonight at the Scottish Rite Temple, 1415 S. 17th St. Come out and cheer for UNCW's Spelling Team - Charles Dodson, Donna Gunter, Dan Noland, and Gene Huguélet, alternate. Tickets are $3 and may be purchased from Brenda Dineen at ext. 3712 or at the door. Proceeds will go to the Cape Fear Literacy Council.

RECOGNIZING STUDENTS IN CRISIS

Dr. Paul Johnston, director of Student Development Center, will discuss "Students in Crisis," from 9 to 11 a.m. tomorrow, Sept. 11, in the Human Resources training room. He will focus on increasing employees' knowledge and awareness of identifying signs and symptoms in students' behavior - depression, suicidal tendencies, substance abuse - and discuss how to make referrals to Student Development Center counselors. Call Ext. 3160 to register.

"T. S. Eliot's Cultural Elitism: An Indictment by Charles Olson and Karl Shapiro," an essay by Dr. Kathy Rugoff, assistant professor of English, was published recently by the Connecticut Review.

Dr. James R. Beeler, retired professor and former chair of the Department of Modern Languages, was recently appointed to the Cape Fear Museum's board of trustees.

Richard A. Roscher, assistant professor of accountancy and business law, attended the Eighth Annual Conference on Accountancy and Business Law, held in Williamsburg, Va. Aug. 5 to 7.

WHAT DO N. C. WOMEN WANT?

Faculty and staff are invited to attend the Women's Agenda meeting from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Sept. 26 at the YWCA and help decide what North Carolina women want to tell the N.C. General Assembly about issues concerning women. Deadline for registration is Sept. 11. Registration Forms are available in Human Resources. Childcare is free.

FRS PLUS TRAINING

FRS Plus electronic requisitioning training classes which will update the electronic requisitioning process are available on each of the following dates: Sept. 15-18, 21-25, 28-30; Oct. 1, 2, 5, 9, 12, 15, 16, 19-22, 28. Oct. 29 is reserved for new users of electronic requisitioning. Contact Diana Bellamy at ext. 3153 for more information or to reserve a seat in one of these classes.

The next Campus Communique will be distributed September 17

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED

Graduate student Lisa McCann Nelson has been awarded the 1992-93 Champion McDowell Davis Scholarship, the largest scholarship available to graduate students at UNCW.

Nelson earned her undergraduate degree in industrial engineering from Purdue University and is now seeking an MBA at UNCW. She is an outstanding student with a 4.0 grade point average, a member of the MBA Association, and a graduate assistant at the Small Business and Technology Development Center.

Champ Davis was a dynamic Wilmington leader before his death in 1975. He was president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, the city's largest employer, from 1942 to 1957.

In retirement, he devoted his energies to the Charitable Foundation and established the Cornelia Nixon Davis Nursing Home in memory of his mother. In 1958, shortly after Wilmington College was admitted to the N.C. community college system, he served on the school's first board of trustees.

The scholarship pays full tuition and fees, about $3,500 a year.

Faculty and Staff

A proposal by Dr. Melton McLaurin, professor of history, titled "Southern Autobiography since World War II," for a summer seminar for school teachers, has been funded $62,347 by the National Endowment for the Humanities. The period of the grant is from Oct., 1992 through Sept., 1993.

Dr. Patricia B. Lerch, professor of anthropology, was one of twelve anthropologists who participated in a post-doctoral institute on research methods in cultural anthropology sponsored by the National Science Foundation at the University of Florida, Gainesville, Aug. 3 to 21.

Dr. Earl Honeycutt and Dr. Vince Howe of the Department of Management and Marketing recently had their refereed article "Shortcomings of Sales Training Programs" accepted for publication in early 1993 by Industrial Marketing Management.

An article by Dr. Rob Miller, professor of sociology, and Ms. Toni Benton titled, "The Effects of ROTC Program Participation on Socioeconomic Status and Life Satisfaction," appears in the current issue of Sociological Inquiry. Benton graduated from UNCW in December 1989 with a B.A. in criminal justice.

Employee Appreciation Week is next week!

All Faculty and Staff are are invited to a FREE continental breakfast on Tuesday, Sept. 15 in the UC Ballroom from 8 to 10 a.m. Service awards recipient photographs will be posted. Recipients may take their pictures after 10 a.m.

The bookstore will discount all university logo and Seahawk items 20 percent for faculty and staff during the week. ID cards are required at time of purchase.

ARA services will offer free hamburgers and hot dogs to all faculty and staff from 11:30 to 1:30 p.m. Sept. 16, in front of the bookstore. Bring your I.D. The following employees were promoted or their jobs were reclassified during the last year. They will be recognized at the Employee Appreciation Breakfast.

TOWANA MOORE
BETTY GURGANUS
JULIE LEWIS
MIKE PRESSLEY
PAT COCHRAN
VICKI DULL
KAY WARD
LYNNE GOODSPEED
DIANE BILLINGS
REBECCA CHILCOTE
WAYNE HOWELL
BRENDA TEAGUE
REBECCA MARSHBURN
SHARON BLACKWELL
EARLINE TEETER
MARY KELLY
JAMES BROWN
SANDRA SUE
JANET KING
PHYLLIS ADAMS
LYDIA WOODARD
MACE GASKINS

KAREN SHANNON
LINDA MACRAE
GEEORGE SYLES
KATHY DORSEY
ELOUISE ANDREWS
ANN FREEMAN
CHARLES GAGUM
CRAIG COOPER
PAUL THRUSH
JAMES SCOTT
LANCE HORN
DAVID WARD
JOSEPH ELLISON
ROBERT HUGHES
KELLIE KANUIT
CORLISS BRADLEY
DAN GEDDIE
ELAINE PADGETT
MARGARET BEATTY
ANN GREENE
ANNE HOWELL

JOSEPH CAPELL
MARTHA LONG
MARY SCHUETTE
LINDA MOORE
LESLIE LANGER
LINDA FERRELL
MIMI CUNNINGHAM
TERRIE DUGAN
PATRICIA DEANES
ANNETTE ANDERSON
PAM WHITLOCK
NANCY HILL
ALLISON RANKIN
FRANCIS CARR
MARTHA JO CLEMMONS
JEFF JOLLY
DANA WARD
MANDY HURT
FREEDIA RAYNOR
CLAIRE FILION
ROY COX
EVELYN EVANS

Human Resources

Enrollment Extended

The deadline for Open Enrollment for changes between medical plans has been extended to Monday, Sept. 14. Enrollment materials have been mailed to home addresses. If you wish to change plans, complete the enrollment form and deliver it to Human Resources.

Shared leave request

Steve Foster in the Psychology Department has applied for shared leave to cover more than 400 hours of leave without pay. Foster is seriously ill and has been hospitalized twice recently. If you would like to donate vacation leave to help him through this difficult period, complete a leave request form and forward it to Dale Lockwood in Human Resources. Remember to adjust your vacation leave record for the hours donated. If you have questions, call Lockwood at ext. 3161.

Welcome

UNCW welcomes new employees: Roger Davis/Campus Police; Cinna Hatcher/Public Service; Gia Todd/Telecommunications.

Events Calendar

September 10 - 17

Thursday, September 10

Ron Del Duca, sports attorney
3:30 p.m., CH room 132

Friday, September 11

"Observations on the Ecological Dynamics of Marine Fungi in Cordgrass Roots and Rhizomes" with Dr. David E. Padgett
2 p.m., Friday Hall room 151

Saturday, September 12

Southern Shores Arts and Crafts Show
10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Trask Coliseum

N.C. Symphony Orchestra
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium

Sunday, September 13

Southern Shores Arts and Crafts Show
noon to 6 p.m., Trask Coliseum

Tuesday, September 15

Free continental breakfast for university employees
8 to 10 a.m., UC Ballroom

Ballet Folklorico Columbia
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium

Wednesday, September 16

Free hamburgers and hot dogs for university employees 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., in front of the bookstore

Community Item

BOATING COURSE OFFERED

The Cape Fear Power Squadron will offer a safe boating course for the public beginning at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 15 in room 106 of Bear Hall. The course covers all aspects of boating including operating under adverse conditions, elementary piloting, rules of the road, trailer use and sailing. There is no registration fee, but course materials will cost about $20. Contact Dr. Clifford Collins at 392-5310 for further information.

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 8 September 17, 1992

Clifford wins scholarship award

Dr. John Clifford, professor of English at UNCW, was presented the university's 1992 Faculty Scholarship Award during the fall faculty meeting last Thursday.

Clifford was chosen as the winner by an anonymous committee of faculty members chaired by last year's award winner, Dr. Mark Galizio, professor of psychology. In addition to the award, Clifford received a check for $1500.

The selection committee praised Clifford for the numerous journal articles and reviews he has published, and for editing and contributing to several books.

Chancellor's Forum Examines Yugoslavia

A two-part Chancellor's Forum, focusing on the current political, cultural and economic conditions in Yugoslavia, will be moderated by Chancellor James R. Leutze on Wednesday Sept. 23 and Wednesday, Sept. 30, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Cameron Hall auditorium.

"The Break-Up of Yugoslavia: Why Now and What Next?" will feature guest panelists from UNC Greensboro, UNCW, Wake Forest University, and Bosnia. The forum is free and open to the public.

The Sept. 23 forum will feature Dr. David MacKenzie, UNCG history professor on "Yugoslavia: Its Creation and Disintegration;" Dr. Mark Spaulding, UNCW history professor, on "International Implications of the Break-up of Yugoslavia;" and Brad Sekulich, UNCW graduate student, on "Croatian-Americans' View of the Balkan Crisis."

A colleague who recommended Clifford for the award said, "His work is definitely making a difference...in the way composition teachers do their work." Another said, "John is not only thoroughly current (and indeed a leader) in his field but also is able to apply that knowledge in writing for student as well as academic audiences."

Clifford teaches courses in composition and literature. He joined UNCW in 1978. He received his bachelor's degree from St. Francis College and his master's and doctoral degrees from New York University.

LivWell fair planned

"LivWell '92," a UNCW campus-wide health promotion event for students, faculty and staff, will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 23 on the Union north lawn. A variety of events will be offered to encourage individuals to focus on the responsibility of maintaining one's health.

Along with informative events and displays, there will be free health snacks and entertainment provided by the campus radio station, WLOZ.

There is no charge to attend and prizes will be given throughout the event. Attendance tickets will be available to students.

The fair is sponsored by the UNCW Student Health and Wellness Center and is being organized by Deborah Haywood, coordinator of health and promotion services. Contact her at ext. 3683 for more information.

The event's rain site will be Trask Coliseum.

Salwen joins faculty

Dr. Barry Salwen has joined the UNCW faculty as an assistant professor and member of the Fine Arts Department, music division.

Salwen is an international concert pianist who has performed in North America, Central America, Europe and Asia. He is particularly active in bringing the music of the American composer Roger Sessions to his audiences.

Salwen's most recent recording is a compact disk of Roger Sessions' complete solo piano works. His recent concert at New York's Merkin Hall, titled "The Vienna Waltz: Theme and Variations," was recorded live by National Public Radio for broadcast nationwide on its "Performance Today" program.

He received his doctor of musical arts degree from The Juilliard School in 1982. Salwen will play a concert at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 16, in Kenan Auditorium.

Dr. Barry Salwen

ANNOUNCEMENTS

HURRICANE RELIEF

Alpha Xi Delta sorority is sponsoring a relief effort for the victims of Hurricane Andrew. They will be accepting donations of bottled water, non-perishable food items, paper products, pet food, baby food, shoes, feminine hygiene products, children's clothes and other items through Sept. 18 near the information desk in the Union. For more information, call Shanda Williams at 791-7458 or the Student Activities Office at ext. 3827.

MOTHERS-TO-BE NEEDED

The School of Nursing is seeking 30 mothers-to-be who will have their babies between Oct. 1 and Nov. 21 of this year. The pregnant women and their families will be teamed with UNCW nursing students who are studying "The Expanding Family" during the fall semester.

Two nursing students will be assigned to each expectant family, and they will get to know the family during the prenatal period, through delivery, and as they incorporate the new baby into the family. The students will visit with the mother-to-be at home, at the physician's office, attend childbirth classes, or just talk.

Interested individuals should contact the UNCW School of Nursing at ext. 3766 or 3200. For additional information call Marguerite Hopkins at ext. 3766 or Dr. Helen Faller at ext. 3205.

SIX POWERS

Eagle Man, Ed McGaa, will be on campus at 8 p.m., Monday, Oct. 5 in the UC Ballroom to give a presentation about Native American spirituality titled "The Six Powers."

McGaa is an Oglala Sioux lawyer, writer and lecturer. He flew 110 combat missions in Vietnam as a Marine and returned to dance in six annual Sioux Sun Dances. He has given numerous lectures on the seven mother earth ceremonies and wrote Mother Earth Spirituality.

Attendance vouchers will be available.

STUDY ABROAD

Dr. William L. Gaines will discuss "Thoughts on American Study Abroad: Looking Ahead to 2000," at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 24 in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium.

Gaines, who holds a Ph.D. from Yale, is president of The Institute of European Studies and The Institute of Asian Studies, Chicago, IL. The joint private, independent, not-for-profit institutions were founded in 1950 and conduct selected junior-year academic programs in 13 centers in Europe and seven centers in Asia.

The event is sponsored jointly by the Department of History, the Office of International Programs, and the College of Arts and Sciences.

COMBINED CAMPAIGN

UNCW's State Employees' Combined Campaign will be held Sept. 23 to Oct. 17. Packets will be distributed to each individual. UNCW employees are urged to designate their contributions to partners/agencies in which they have an interest.

All contributors will be eligible for a drawing at the conclusion of the campaign. Prizes have been contributed by ARA Food Services, Division for Public Service, and the Bookstore.

FACULTY SENATE

Congratulations to newly elected leaders of the UNCW Faculty Senate:

Dr. Ken Spackman, vice president

Dr. Richard Veit, secretary

Four new members of the steering committee:

Dr. Grace Burton

Dr. John Williams

Dr. Carol Ellis

Dr. Melton McLaurin

Dr. Ken Gurganus is president of the Faculty Senate

MEETING ROOMS

The University Union has a variety of quiet, private meeting rooms available for use by faculty and staff members. Rooms have seating capacities ranging from one to 400. For room reservations, call ext. 3833.

MEET THE CANDIDATES

Faculty and staff are invited to a legislative Meet the Candidates forum at 7 p.m., Monday, Sept. 21 in Cameron Hall Auditorium. Candidates from New Hanover and Brunswick counties are expected to attend. Sponsored by SEANC District 89.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

The UNCW Chapter of Habitat for Humanity is seeking student, staff and faculty volunteers. Meetings are held at 7:30 p.m. every other Thursday evening in Friday Hall room 251.

The organization on campus is run by students, with primarily student involvement, but anyone is welcome to participate.

For more information contact Frank Ainsley, faculty advisor, at ext. 3493 or Nancy Fauser at ext. 3285.

EFFECTIVE TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION

Dr. Stephen Pullum, assistant professor of communication studies, will present "Effective Telephone Communications," from 3 to 4 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 28, in the Human Resources training room. Learn how to make every telephone call a positive experience for you and the caller. Call ext. 3160 to register.

FRS REPORTS

A workshop on understanding administrative procedures and FRS reports will be held from 9 a.m. to noon on Sept. 29 in the Human Resources training room. Call ext. 3160 to register.

CPS REVIEW

It's not too late to enroll in the CPS economics & management review course being taught by Dr. Jack Morgan, assistant professor of economics and finance, every Tuesday evening from 6 to 9 p.m. for eight weeks in the Human Resources training room. The next class will meet starting Feb. 22. Call ext. 3160 to register.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

ART EXHIBIT

Susan C. Knoll's exhibit "Wildlife Etchings" will be on display in Randall Library through Oct. 9. The exhibit will feature hand-painted zinc plate intaglio etchings of nature's wildlife.

Knoll's works are shown in 16 or more juried exhibitions throughout Florida each year and are available in galleries and shows from Coconut Grove, Fl. to Bar Harbor, Me.

Knoll, a resident of Delray Beach, Fl., received her Bachelor's Degree in fine art from Chestnut Hill College in Pennsylvania

The library is open from 7:30 a.m. to midnight Monday through Thursday, 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 1 p.m. to midnight on Sunday.

START

Craig Martin, Director of the START (Sensitivity Today and Respect Tomorrow) Program for New Hanover County Schools, will hold a workshop for supervisors on racial and cultural sensitivity from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Oct. 23 in the Human Resources training room. Call ext. 3160 to register.

Dr. Hana Noor Al-Deen, assistant professor of communication studies, had her paper "Arab-Americans and the Gulf Crisis" released by ERIC, ED 342 025.

Dr. Carole Tallant, professor of communication studies, and Frank Trimble, assistant professor of communication studies, published the article "Participating in the Poetry Playground: Staging the Nonsense Wordplay in Children's Poetry" in the July 1992 issue of Communication Education.

Dr. Earl Honeycutt, associate professor of management and marketing, Dr. John Ford and doctoral

DIVING SYMPOSIUM

The 12th Annual Scientific Diving Symposium of the American Academy of Underwater Sciences will be held on the campus of UNCW Sept. 24-27. The academy is made up of scientists who use diving as a primary research tool.

Numerous UNCW faculty members will conduct presentations during the symposium, and Marvin K. Moss, UNCW's provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs, will present the keynote address at 10 a.m., Sunday, Sept. 27.

UNCW WOMEN

Female faculty and staff members and spouses are invited to join UNCW Women, a group dedicated to providing scholarships to deserving students.

The organization presents a fall and spring promotion each year. This year's fall program will be held from 7 to 9 p.m., Sept. 24, in the University Center Ballroom. Diane Cashman will be the guest speaker.

Donations of $10 or more provide funding for numerous scholarships with minimal operating expenses. Call ext. 3712 to RSVP if you have not responded by mail.

KETNER AWARD

UNCW employees are invited to submit innovative, cost-saving ideas for consideration for the Ralph Ketner Award. Ketner, a Salisbury resident and co-founder of Food Lion, will contribute a total of $10,000 to state government employees for their award-winning ideas.

Any suggestions adopted between now and June 30, 1993 will be eligible for the Ketner Award.

Winners will be chosen by a committee of Employee Suggestion System coordinators. For suggestion forms or more information, contact Pam Barnes in Human Resources at ext. 3162.

REGALIA ORDERS

The bookstore will hold a regalia purchase week from Sept. 28 to Oct. 2. Regalia will be 10 percent off regular prices, with delivery in time for Dec. 5 graduation guaranteed. Call Jessiebeth Geddies at ext. 3054 to make an appointment to place your order.

The deadline for Campus Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

Faculty and Staff

candidate Dianne Eppler of Old Dominion University, had the article "Determinants of Sales Effectiveness Related to Hiring" accepted for presentation and publication at the Southeast TIMS Conference in Myrtle Beach, SC on Oct. 1 and 2.

Dr. Teresita J. Parra, assistant professor of Spanish, presented the paper, "La rebeldia femenina en algunos cuentos de Rosario Ferre" at the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese Conference held Aug. 10 to 14 in Cancun, Mexico.

Dr. Eleanor Krassen Maxwell, associate professor of sociology and anthropology, attended the International Congress on Women's Health Issues held in Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 23-28. She chaired a session on the health of elderly women and presented a paper titled "Professional Services for the Elderly: The Impact on Women in Families." Maxwell is on the board of directors of the International Council of Women's Health Issues, which sponsored the congress.

Gloria Sasser of English Department and Cathy Hall of the Cameron School of Business Administration, Dean's Office, attended the SEANC convention, held Sept. 9 to 11 in Charlotte.

Division for Public Service

Learn to play popular songs of your choice in a one-day course "Pop Piano Playing Made Easy." Since participants will learn to play the piano using chords they should have a very basic knowledge of treble clef and keyboard layout.

The course will be taught by Dr. Deborah Belcher, who has taught piano for 20 years to beginners and adults. She holds a bachelor's degree from Winthrop College and a master's from the University of Indiana. She earned a doctorate in piano performance from Michigan State University.

The class will be held on Monday, Oct. 19 from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Fee is $60 for registrations received by October 5 and $65 after. The registration deadline is Oct. 12.

A Christmas at Tryon Palace trip will be offered as part of the division's Discovery Tour series. The excursion is scheduled for Dec. 10-11.

Architectural historian and restoration consultant Ed Turberg will serve as escort on this trip which will be highlighted by daytime and candlelight tours of Tryon Palace. Other highlights include lunch at Henderson House and stops in historic Washington and Bath.

The fee, which includes transportation and accommodations, is $128 for registrations received by Oct. 22 and $143 after. The registration deadline is Oct. 29. Single occupancy will cost an additional $20.

"Astronomy: An Introduction to the Night Sky," will be offered from 8-9:30 p.m., Thursdays, Sept. 17 to Oct. 29.

Designed for beginners or anyone interested in the night sky, topics such as constellations, black holes, and life in space will be covered on a non-technical basis. Viewing sessions with telescopes will be held if weather permits.

Instructor Ron Hawes has been an amateur astronomer for 32 years and is a member of the Cape Fear Astronomical Society.

Fee is $40 for registrations received by Oct. 3 and $45 after. Registration deadline is Oct. 10.

For more information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call (919) 395-3195.

Events Calendar

September 17 - 24

Saturday, September 19

Home Show
10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Trask Coliseum
Adults $2.50, Sr. Citizens and ages 6 to 18, $2, under 6 free

Sunday, September 20

Home Show
noon to 6 p.m., Trask Coliseum
see Saturday's prices

"Drink Sells the Dream"
6 p.m., UC Ballroom #2

Monday, September 21

"Drink Sells the Dream"
11:30 a.m., UC Ballroom #3

Meet the Candidates forum
7 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

Wednesday, September 23

Chancellor's Forum: Yugoslavia
7:30 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

LivWell '92 health promotion fair
10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Union north lawn

Thursday, September 24

"Columbus and the American Dream"
with Dr. James R. Leutze
7:30 p.m., N. H. County Public Library

Crohn's - colitis support group
7:30 p.m., Union room 207

For a more complete UNCW events listing, check the events calendar on VAX by typing EVENTS at the $ prompt.

Human Resources

Enrollment Extended

The deadline for open enrollment for changes between medical plans has been extended to Wednesday, Sept. 30. Enrollment materials have been mailed to home addresses. If you wish to change plans, complete the enrollment form and deliver it to Human Resources.

Optional Retirement Plan

Representatives of each ORP will be on campus to discuss and answer questions pertaining to their plans on Tuesday, Sept. 29th & Wednesday, Sept. 30th. Call Elizabeth Greene at Ext. 3713 to register.

Welcome

UNCW welcomes new employee Louis Leiner, Project Design and Management, Physical Plant.

Community Item

The Friends of the Battleship North Carolina will sponsor a "Relive the Glory" tour, their major 1992 fundraiser, at 7 p.m., Oct. 9.

The program will provide insight into the physical and emotional demands made on crew members of the USS Battleship North Carolina during World War II. The public will have an opportunity to meet former crew members and listen to them discuss their experiences. Refreshments will follow the tour.

UNCW's 7 O'Clock Big Band, led by Dr. Frank Bongiorno of the Fine Arts Department, Music, will provide entertainment.

Tickets are $10 and may be purchased by calling the battleship ticket office at 251-5797 or Dr. Kristin M. Szylvian, Department of History, at ext. 3311.

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 9 September 24, 1992

Women's swimming and diving team honored

The women's swimming and diving team at UNCW has earned all academic team honors for the 1992 spring semester, according to the College Swimming Coaches Association of America (CSCAA).

The CSCAA recently released its rankings of the Top 30 NCAA Division I schools by team grade point average. To qualify, each team must earn at least a 2.80 GPA on a 4.00 scale.

UNCW tied with The University of California at Santa Barbara and Southern Methodist University for 27th place with a 2.87 GPA.

UNCW was one of two North Carolina schools to finish in the top 30. UNC Chapel Hill finished 23rd with a GPA of 2.92. Xavier came in first in the rankings with a 3.43 GPA.

The award continues the team's past success in the classroom. The women had the seventh highest GPA among NCAA Division I schools during the spring 1991 semester, and fourth highest GPA during the fall 1990 semester.

Last year, Laura Doepp was named to the GTE-College Sports Information Directors of America District III Academic All-America Team and was awarded a scholarship by the New Hanover-Pender County Medical Auxiliary.

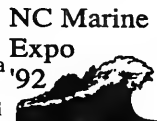

Along with performing well academically, last year's team enjoyed an outstanding season in the pool, finishing with a 9-2 record.

Marine Expo'92

UNCW will take part in Marine Expo '92, three days of marine trade exhibits, demonstrations, workshops and seminars. It will be held Oct. 1 to 3 at the Coastline Convention Center and Cape Fear Community College.

Members of UNCW's National Undersea Research Center will present a seminar covering Aquarius, the mixed gas diving program, and underwater robotics at 3:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 1, in room 501-S of CFCC.

Other exhibits will include boat building and repair, marinas and marina support products, marine supplies, electronics and electricity, environmental consulting, marine salvage and construction, diving, and marine safety and insurance.

Regalia for sale

The bookstore will offer academic regalia for purchase next week, Sept. 28 to Oct. 2. If interested, call Jessiebeth Geddie at ext. 3054 to make an appointment to be fitted and place an order.

To rent regalia for Dec. 5 graduation, contact the bookstore if you have a card on file. New faculty should go to the bookstore to fill out a card for their file. Purchase and rental orders will be sent to Oak Hall at the end of the day on Oct. 2 to guarantee delivery by Dec. 5. Rental prices including tax:

Ph.D. gown, cap and tassel	$15
Ph.D. hood	$15
M.A. gown, cap and tassel	$13
M.A. hood	$13
Bachelor gown, cap and tassel	$12.25
Bachelor hood	$12.25

Science and the Bible

A presentation titled "A Comparison of the Six Days in Genesis with the Evolutionary Record" will be presented by visiting assistant professor Dr. John Zimmer at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 29, in Deloach Hall, Room 124. The seminar is free and open to the public.

Both the Creation Story in Genesis and the evolutionary record describe a series of events. The Creation Story portrays the events as a sequence of "days." The evolutionary scientific record describes the events as a sequence of "eras."

The presentation questions whether the series of events portrayed in the first chapter of Genesis correlate with the sequence of events described in the evolutionary record.

Is the match convincing? Zimmer thinks so, but in the end the listener decides.

Fall student hours

Students can meet with Chancellor Leutze in his office during the following hours:

3:30 p.m. - 5 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 15
8:30 a.m. - 9:30 a.m., Wednesday, Oct. 21
3:30 p.m. - 5 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 11
8:30 a.m. - 9:30 a.m., Thursday, Nov. 19
3:30 p.m. - 5 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 1
8:30 a.m. - 9:30 a.m., Wednesday, Dec. 9

Graduation Applications

Reminder to all faculty advisors: the deadline to file May 1993 graduation applications is Oct. 15.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

RECYCLE UNCW

Last year, an average of 1,024,255 sheets of paper passed through printing services each month. That figure includes all of the paper used by the Print Shop and in copy machines.

The Chancellor's Office urges faculty and staff to recycle paper and envelopes, reduce use of colored paper and utilize E-Mail and the Campus Communique to communicate with others on campus.

BICYCLE AUCTION

The Campus Police will conduct their annual bicycle auction at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 24 behind the police building. All items to be auctioned may be viewed from 7 a.m. until the auction begins. Bicycles and several other miscellaneous items will be auctioned.

TEACHING FELLOWS

The UNCW Teaching Fellows Program welcomes its '92-'93 class of Teaching Fellow Scholarship recipients. The 13 students joining the 66 returning fellows are: James Anderson, Susan Bowers, Trista Marie Bray, Allison Cranford, Heather Dyer, Shannon Everette, Kristy Hudson, Phonekham Manivanh, Christopher Marshall, Monica Mobley, Laura Swinson, Bobby Tew Jr. and Scott Wait.

The students' average SAT score is 1047 and their average GPA is 3.97.

THANK YOU

The Physical Plant Housekeeping Department wishes to extend a heartfelt thank you to university faculty and staff for their many kind words and deeds during National Housekeeping Week. In addition, they would like to thank the following departments for their support/donations to the housekeeping luncheon door prizes: Division for Public Service, bookstore, Hawk's Nest/Center Stage Cafe, Athletic Department, Vending Services, Auxiliary Services and Kenan Auditorium.

CAROLINA SEMINARS

UNCW faculty and staff are invited to apply to attend to the UNC-CH Carolina Seminars, designed to explore current issues of intellectual substance. This fall's topics will include health care, the future of the American university, and environmental decision-making.

The program has already attracted 84 scholars, scientists, government officials, corporate professionals and others. Seminar sizes are limited, and admission is based on achievement and expertise.

For more information about applying for membership in a seminar, contact the Carolina Seminars Office at (919) 962-2501.

LIBRARY HOURS

The library will be open the following hours during fall break:

Wednesday, Oct. 7 — 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Thursday, Oct. 8 — 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 9 — 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 10 — 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Sunday, Oct. 11 — 1 p.m. to midnight

BRIDGE

Anyone interested in joining the UNCW Women's Bridge group is invited to call Terry Barry at 791-1667. The group, which meets the third Wednesday evening of each month, supports the University Women's scholarship fund.

GLOBAL VOLUNTEERS

Global Volunteers, a program of the Leadership Center, will have their first meeting at 5:15 p.m., Oct. 12, Union room 212. They are planning several trips for the upcoming year including one out-of-country trip. All those interested in helping others are invited to join.

CATALOGS

Please check your 1992-93 undergraduate catalogs for missing pages. Defective copies can be exchanged in the General College or deans' offices.

I.D. PLUS

Faculty and staff are encouraged to sign up for a new I. D. Plus account. The program allows you to use your I. D. card in vending machines, the bookstore, and at all food service locations on campus.

Checks can be sent to Auxiliary Services through campus mail by using envelopes provided in all vending and food service areas and at the cashiers office. For more information call Auxiliary Services at ext. 3560.

ALL-ACADEMIC TEAM

Faculty members are invited to nominate full-time undergraduate students for USA Today's 1993 All-USA Academic Team.

Sixty students will be chosen on the basis of academic achievement and leadership roles on and off campus. The winners will be featured in the Feb. 5 issue of USA Today, and the top 20 winners will receive $2500 in cash.

For more information or nominating forms, call Carolyn Busse at ext. 4082.

HOST FAMILIES NEEDED

The Office of International Programs needs host families for international students during school breaks. Call ext. 3685 if interested.

DEGREE AUDIT

Degree audit training sessions will be held Oct. 13 and 14 for any interested faculty advisor. Call Terri at ext. 3036 to sign up.

CPR/FIRST AID

The Safety Department will offer CPR/standard first aid training on the following dates:

Oct. 12 and 14 — 1 to 5 p.m.

Oct. 27 and 29 — 8 a.m. to noon

Nov. 9 and 10 — noon to 4 p.m.

Dec. 1 and 2 — 8 a.m. to noon

Dec. 9 and 10 — 1 to 5 p.m.

The cost is $18.50. Call Joan Greene at ext. 3057 to register.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

ART EXHIBIT

Mark David Scott's exhibit titled "Dream Crisis" will be on display in the Union living room from Oct. 4 to Nov. 20. The exhibit contains works in mixed media, oil, pastel, graphite, and prism color.

Scott describes his art as a "variety of media, incorporating images of myself, relatives, close friends, graveyards, pets, Walt Disney, Hanna-Barbara, and Warner Brothers, architectural structures, nuns, Egyptian sculpture, fire, and toys."

Scott studied art at East Carolina University where he received his B.F.A. in painting. He later went on to the University of South Carolina and received his M.F.A. in painting. Mark's work has been shown in numerous one-person and group shows throughout North and South Carolina.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Registration for the eighth annual UNCW Al Barry Faculty-Staff Tennis Tournament is open through Oct. 9. Registration forms are available at the Division for Public Service, Westside Hall. For information, call Diane Talley at ext. 3798.

DISCOVER OUTDOOR LEADERSHIP

Discover the adventures of backpacking with the Leadership Center's Discover Outdoor Leadership Program. The fall break trip will be to the Shining Rock Wilderness Area of Pisgah National Forest. For more information contact the Leadership Center at ext. 3877 or visit them in University Center Room 138.

CHANCELLOR'S FORUM

The second half of a two-part Chancellor's Forum, focusing on the current political, cultural and economic conditions in Yugoslavia, will be moderated by Chancellor Leutze at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 30, in Cameron Auditorium.

"The Break-Up of Yugoslavia: Why Now and What Next?" will feature Dr. Medzib Sacirbey, Bosnian representative to the United States, discussing current events in Bosnia and Hercegovina, and Dr. E. Pendleton Banks, Wake Forest University anthropology professor, on "Whatever Happened to Yugoslavia?"

The deadline for Campus Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

Faculty and Staff

Guitarist Robert Nathanson and saxophonist Dr. Frank Bongiorno of the Department of Fine Arts, Music Division, performed the North American premiere of "In the Dragon's Garden" by David Kechley at Williams College's, Williamstown, Ma., Group for 20th Century Music Series on Sept. 19.

The NC Wildlife Resources Commission has appointed Dr. Eric G. Bolen, dean of the Graduate School, to its Nongame Wildlife Advisory Committee. Bolen will also serve on the newly formed Ornithological Council as a representative of the Wilson Ornithological Society.

Dr. Vince Howe, interim chair of management and marketing, Dr. Steve Maurer of Washington State University, and Tom Lee of the University of Washington had their article, "Organizational Recruiting as Marketing Management: an Interdisciplinary Study of Engineering Graduates," accepted for publication in the Dec. 1992 issue of Personnel Psychology.

Dr. Bruce C. McKinney, assistant professor of communication studies, has had his article, "Mediator Neutrality and Storytelling Order," accepted for publication in Mediation Quarterly. The article was co-authored with Dr. Rex M. Fuller and Dr. William Kimsey, both of the Department of Human Communication at James Madison University.

Dr. Sybil K. Burgess, associate professor of chemistry, Ms. Dana M. Carey, former chemistry undergraduate student and Ms. Sharon L. Oxendine, chemistry graduate student, have had their paper "Novel Protein Inhibits in vitro Precipitation of Calcium Carbonate" published in volume 297 of Archives of Biochemistry and Biophysics. This research was supported in part by a Greenwall Foundation, Inc. Grant of Research Corporation, the UNCW Center for Marine Science Research, and a UNCW Research Committee Undergraduate Student Research Fellowship.

A critical essay by Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama, on German poet/playwright Friedrich Schiller was published recently by Salem Press. The article, which appears in the encyclopedic work Magill's Survey of World Literature examines Schiller's best known play "William Tell" and a chronological sampling of his poetry from youth to maturity.

Dr. Ralph W. Braur, adjunct professor of biology, will speak to the International Society for the History of Discoveries next week in Miami. His topic will be "Geographical Coordinates in Three Civilizations - What Columbus Saw."

Dr. Ned H. Martin, professor of chemistry, has been awarded 194 hours of time on the Cray Y-MP supercomputer at the North Carolina Supercomputing Center for continuation of his work, in collaboration with Dr. C.A. Ogle of UNCC and Kevin Moore of NCSC, on "Development of a Proton Shielding Model for the Face of a Phenyl Ring."

Human Resources

Enrollment Extended

The deadline for open enrollment for changes between medical plans has been extended to Wednesday, Sept. 30. Enrollment materials have been mailed to home addresses. If you wish to change plans, complete the enrollment form, remit personal check made payable to UNCW for Oct. 1 premium, and deliver it to Human Resources.

Optional Retirement Plan

Representatives of each ORP will be on campus to discuss and answer questions pertaining to their plans on Tuesday, Sept. 29 and Wednesday, Sept. 30. Call Elizabeth Greene at ext. 3713 to register.

Shared leave request

Steve Foster in the Psychology Department has applied for shared leave to cover more than 400 hours of leave without pay. Foster is seriously ill and has been hospitalized twice recently. If you would like to donate vacation leave to help him through this difficult period, complete a leave request form and forward it to Dale Lockwood in Human Resources. If you have questions, call Lockwood at ext. 3161.

Welcome

Rhonda Franklin/printing services; Meshell Horne/campus police; Timothy Necaice/physical plant; Catherine Tonkinson/bookstore.

Division for Public Service

The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI): Discovering Your Personality Type. Helps you understand yourself and others. 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 8. Fee is $25 by Sept. 24.

How to Develop a Winning Resume. Course teaches how to develop the most competitive and effective resume and cover letter for the job market of your choice. 7-8:30 p.m., Thursdays, Oct. 8 and 15. Fee is $20 by Sept. 24.

Jack Sprat Could Eat No Fat. Explore the relationship between food and health. Thursdays, Oct. 1-22, 7-8 p.m. Fee is $35 by Sept. 24.

How to Prepare for the SAT. Course introduces you to strategies that can make the SAT less formidable and help your score. 9:30 a.m.-noon, Saturdays, Oct. 3-31. Fee is $99 by Sept. 25.

Understanding Microcomputer Systems. Designed for people who want to learn about IBM or IBM-compatible microcomputer systems. 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 8. Fee is $80 by Sept. 24. 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 9. Fee is $80 by Sept. 25.

Advertising Design. Learn basic design techniques for advertisements and brochures including layout, logos, camera-ready art and the printing process. 10 a.m.-5 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 3. Fee is $50 by Sept. 28.

Conversational English. Offers speakers of other languages a chance to improve their English. Should have basic knowledge, basic grammar and some ability to read and write English. 7-8:30 p.m., Mondays, Oct. 5-Nov. 23. Fee is $55 by Sept. 28.

Estate Planning. Gives a basic overview of forms of ownership, wills, powers of attorney, trusts, gifts, taxes, living wills and more. Requires no advance preparation. 7-9 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 6. Fee is $15 by Sept. 29.

For more information or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Events Calendar

September 24 - October 1

Thursday, September 24

"Columbus and the American Dream" with Dr. James R. Leutze
7:30 p.m., N. H. County Public Library

Thoughts on American Study Abroad: Looking Ahead to 2000" with Dr. William L. Gaines
7:30 p.m., Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium

Crohn's - colitis support group
7:30 p.m., Union room 207

Friday, September 25

"Sunsteel" Steel Band Concert
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium
tickets, $10, date of purchase

Saturday, September 26

Wilmington Black Youth Pageant
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium
tickets, $6

Monday, September 28

Effective Telephone Communication
3 to 4 p.m., Human Resources

Tuesday, September 29

Understanding Administrative Procedures and FRS Reports
9 a.m. to noon, Human Resources

Wednesday, September 30

UNCW Volleyball vs. East Carolina
7 p.m., Trask Coliseum

UNCW Theatre
"Creation of the World and Other Business"

8 p.m., Kenan Hall, SRO Theatre, $6
UNCW students free with ID

Chancellor's Forum: Yugoslavia
7:30 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

Thursday, October 1

Dr. Kathleen Berkeley discusses
Little Women
7 p.m., N.H. County Public Library

UNCW Jazz Ensemble Concert
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium

"Creation of the World and Other Business"
Same as Wednesday

For a more complete UNCW events listing, check the events calendar on VAX by typing EVENTS at the $ prompt.

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No.10 October 1, 1992

Physician to speak about healthy eating

Dr. Neal Barnard, president and founder of the Physicians Committee for Responsible Medicine, will speak at UNCW at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 14 in Cameron Auditorium. He will present his theories on nutritional well being and the relationship between diet and disease.

The Physicians Committee for Responsible Medicine is a nationwide group of physicians that promotes preventive medicine and addresses controversies in modern medicine.

In April 1991, the committee proposed four new food groups to replace the previous federal nutrition guidelines - whole grains, vegetables, legumes, and fruits. Such food choices are designed to lower cholesterol and fat intake, which in turn lowers the incidence of heart disease, cancer, weight problems, and food-borne illness.

The committee also publishes Guide to Healthy Eating, a bimonthly magazine of nutritional information, news, and recipes.

Dr. Barnard has written several novels and has produced audio tapes encouraging a healthy nutritional plan through a vegetarian diet. He also maintains a private practice.

Dr. Neal Barnard

The LivWell Center for Health Promotion and the Student Health and Wellness Center will co-sponsor the presentation with the Vegetarian Society of the Lower Cape Fear.

Refreshments will be provided by Doxey's Market and Cafe at a reception following. Attendance is free.

For more information, contact the UNCW LivWell Center for Health Promotion at 350-4137.

First dean candidate here next week

Dr. Howard Rockness will be the first candidate to visit campus for the position of dean of the Cameron School of Business Administration. Rockness is associate dean for the MBA program and professor of accounting at UNC Chapel Hill.

He is scheduled for a general session with the Cameron School's faculty and staff from 4 to 5 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 7, in CH-105.

Anyone interested in learning about Rockness's perception about the future of business education and his views for the Cameron School is welcome to attend.

WAAV to carry Seahawks again

WAAV Radio, located at 980 on the AM dial, will be the flagship station of all of UNCW's men's basketball games during the 1992-93 season, marking the ninth consecutive season the station has carried the Seahawks.

"We are pleased to be carrying the Seahawks again," said Donn Ansell, WAAV station manager. "UNCW basketball is extremely popular and as the community's sports leader, it's a natural fit for us. We are delighted to have the Seahawks on our station."

Longtime Seahawk commentator Jim Whitmeyer has left the station, so Sam Gore, who provided the play-by-play in 1990-91, will call the action. Veteran radio and television broadcaster Wayne Jackson will serve as the color analyst.

This year's coverage begins with UNCW's second exhibition game on Nov. 24 against the Cuban Junior National Team. Regular season coverage opens Dec. 1 when the Seahawks travel to Raleigh to meet N.C. State.

One of the highlights of the radio package comes Dec. 18-19 when all four games of the inaugural USAir East Coast Basketball Classic are carried live. Auburn and Louisiana State square off in the opener at 6 p.m. on Dec. 18, while the host Seahawks meet Alabama State in the nightcap at 8 p.m.

WAAV begins its second campaign with the Seahawks, and another station in nearby Jacksonville is expected to also pick up the contests when negotiations are completed.

The next Campus Communique
will be distributed October 8.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SUMMER INTERNSHIPS

The Summer Intern Program of the Institute of Government will give 30 students the opportunity to work as interns in state and local government in the summer of 1993. Applications for the 10-week summer internships will be accepted from any college sophomore, junior, or senior who is a North Carolina resident or who attends a college or university in the state. Deadline to apply is Jan. 25, 1993.

Contact the Career Planning and Placement Center, 106 University Union, ext. 3174, for more information.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Registration is in progress through Oct. 9 for the eighth annual UNCW Al Barry Faculty/Staff Tennis Tournament. All player levels are invited to register with the Division for Public Service, Westside Hall. Awards include a free lunch courtesy of Elijah's and Swensen's and a $3 certificate good toward any purchase donated by the Hawk's Nest. For more information, call Diane Talley at ext. 3798.

CORRECTION

Last week's communique listed Oct. 15 as the May 1993 graduation application deadline. That date applies to undergraduate students only. The graduation application deadline for graduate students is Dec. 15.

CENTER STAGE

The Student Activities Office will present a Center Stage Special Program featuring Robert Shannon & the Dorkestra at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 13. The group incorporates elements of folk, rock, and blues into their exciting live performances.

Their image reflects a style of music which draws on the musical traditions of such diverse artists as Bob Dylan, John Prine, Willie Dixon, and Elvis Costello. Performance will be held at the Center Stage Cafe in the University Center. Free for UNCW students, $3 charge for the general public.

PROPERTY INSURANCE

Personal property brought on campus or used in a work-related manner is not covered by state insurance, and the state will not reimburse employees if their property is lost or stolen. The state insurance program is self-insured and covers only state-owned equipment.

In many instances home owner's policies will cover the loss of personal property. Business affairs suggests that employees check their home owner's policies before bringing personal property on campus.

Contact Barbara Harlow or Dick Scott at ext. 3139 if you have questions.

LIBRARY HOURS

The library will be open the following hours during Fall Break:

Wednesday, Oct. 7 — 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Thursday, Oct. 8 — 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 9 — 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 10 — 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Sunday, Oct. 11 — 1 p.m. to midnight

COMBINED CAMPAIGN

UNCW's State Employees' Combined Campaign will run until Oct. 17. Packets have been distributed to each individual. UNCW employees are urged to designate their contributions to partners/agencies in which they have an interest.

All contributors will be eligible for a drawing at the conclusion of the campaign. Prizes have been contributed by ARA FoodServices, Division for Public Service, and the bookstore.

RECYCLE UNCW

Last year, an average of 1,024,255 sheets of paper passed through printing services each month. That figure includes all of the paper used by the Print Shop and in copy machines.

The chancellor's office urges faculty and staff to recycle paper and envelopes, reduce use of colored paper, and utilize E-Mail and the Campus Communique to communicate with others on campus.

DEGREE AUDIT

Degree audit training sessions will be held Oct. 13 and 14 for any interested faculty advisor. Call Terri at ext. 3036 to sign up.

CPR/FIRST AID

The Safety Department will offer CPR/standard first aid training on the following dates:

Oct. 12 and 14 — 1 to 5 p.m.

Oct. 27 and 29 — 8 a.m. to noon

Nov. 9 and 10 — noon to 4 p.m.

Dec. 1 and 2 — 8 a.m. to noon

Dec. 9 and 10 — 1 to 5 p.m.

The cost is $18.50. Call Joan Greene at ext. 3057 to register.

EAGLE MAN

Eagle Man, Ed McGaa, will be on campus at 8 p.m. Monday, Oct. 5 in the UC Ballroom to give a presentation about Native American spirituality titled "The Six Powers."

McGaa is an Oglala Sioux lawyer, writer, and lecturer. He flew 110 combat missions in Vietnam as a Marine and returned to dance in six annual Sioux Sun Dances. McGaa has given numerous lectures on the seven mother earth ceremonies and wrote Mother Earth Spirituality.

Attendance vouchers will be available.

POSTAL SERVICES

Contact Postal Services for information on their student survey service. Surveys are distributed to the student boxes and returned to their survey box located in the post office lobby.

For information contact Doris Moore at ext.3734.

Please be reminded that in order for Postal Services to seal business-size envelopes, they must be processed with flaps in the closed position.

Migratory bird stamps are on sale in Postal Services for $15.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

COLLEGE ROAD BEAUTIFICATION

N.C. Secretary of Transportation Thomas J. Harrelson, Division Three Board Member Marilyn Williams, Governor's Beautification Council member Betsy Boddie, and UNCW Chancellor Dr. James R. Leutze planted a juniper shrub at the front of campus on Friday to kick off a $50,000 beautification project on a two-mile section of College Road.

The project calls for planting trees and shrubs on each side of College Road from Wilshire Boulevard to Market Street. Other types of shrubs and trees to be planted as part of the project include crepe myrtle, sergeants juniper, red bud, dogwood, American holly and azalea.

JAZZ ENSEMBLES

The UNCW Jazz Ensembles will present their first program of the 1992-93 season at 8 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 1 in Kenan Auditorium. General Admission is $2 and UNCW students will be admitted free with I.D.

Featured ensembles will be the UNCW Sextet and Septet. The two combos perform small group mainstream jazz compositions from the 40s to the present and are under the direction of Frank Bongiorno.

The Sextet, a cooperative student and community ensemble, will open the concert with the well-known jazz standards Impressions by John Coltrane, Song for My Father by Horace Silver, and others.

Concluding the concert will be the Septet, which is comprised solely of UNCW students. The varied program will include Speak No Evil by Wayne Shorter, Clifford Brown's Minor Mood, Seven Steps to Heaven by Miles Davis, and the ballad, A Child is Born, by Thad Jones.

For additional information, call ext. 3390.

HOST FAMILIES NEEDED

The Office of International Programs needs host families for international students during school breaks. Call ext. 3685 if interested.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Luther Lawson, associate professor of economics, has been appointed a United Carolina Bank Faculty Fellow for the second straight year. The UCB Fellowship carries with it a salary supplement, funds for travel, and a research assistant. It is awarded to a faculty member in the business school's Department of Economics and Finance who has a strong interest in banking and finance.

Dr. Paula Kamenish of the English Department and Dr. Joe Wilson of the Department of Philosophy and Religion represented UNCW at the fall meeting of SASASAAS (South Atlantic States Association for Asian and African Studies) held Sept. 18-19 at Winthrop University in Rock Hill, S.C. The program included information on student study abroad opportunities in China, discussions with Jordanian Ambassador Al-Qadi, and a presentation by John Alexander of the Department of Education on Fulbright-Hays grants.

An article titled "Synthesis and Spectra of Substituted 9 Chloromethylenexanthones, Their Corresponding Xanthenes, and Related Minor Products" by Dr. Ned H. Martin, professor of chemistry, and co-authored by former UNCW students Robert T. Clary, Louise D. Fudala, Raymond G. Hyde, E. Patrick Jackson, Julie M. Uehling, Frederick O'Conner, Gary A. Pennington, Ricky T. Piner, Danny P. Sykes, Richard A. Wells, and Kelvin W. Wright, has been accepted for publication in the Journal of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society Vol. 108, No. 3 (1992).

Joe Browning, sports information director, has been named to the Special Awards Committee of the College Sports Information Directors of America. Members of the committee have at least 10 years experience in the field and administer several major awards presented at the group's annual workshop in the summer.

Dr. Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences, attended the Sponge Taxonomy Workshop and the first annual meeting of the Florida Sponge Society at Harbor Branch Oceanographic

Institution's Division of Biomedical Marine Research, Sept. 25 to 27, in Fort Pierce, Florida. Brian Chanas, a M.S. student in marine biology, also attended. Dr. Pawlik gave a presentation titled "Patterns of Chemical Defense Among Caribbean Reef Sponges."

Dr. Kimon Bird of the Biology Department and Center for Marine Science Research recently published two articles with UNCW undergraduate students. The first, "The Effects of Herbicides on Development of Myriophyllum spicatum L. Cultured in Vitro," was published by Bird and Susan V. Christopher in the Journal of Environmental Quality, Vol 21, pp 203-207. The second, published by Bird and Todd Hinson, was "Seasonal Variations in Agar Yields and Quality from North Carolina Agarophytes" and was published in Botanica Marina, Vol. 35, pages 291-195.

Gloria Sasser, secretary in the English Department, has been appointed to the Bookstore Advisory Committee.

Division for Public Service

Cults and Ritualistic Crimes. Three-day course designed to provide the professional with basic understanding of deviant cult behavior and ritualistic crime. Approved for 1.9 hours of teacher renewal credit. 8 a.m.-4 p.m., Oct. 8-10. Fee is $95; $25 for full-time students. Preregistration is required. Registration deadline is Oct. 1.

Pop Piano Playing Made Easy. Learn to play the piano the way "pros" do, using chord playing. Should have very basic knowledge of treble clef and keyboard layout. 6:30-9:30 p.m. Oct. 19. Fee is $60 by Oct. 5; $65 after. Registration deadline is Oct. 12.

Arab-Israeli Conflict. Examine the protracted conflict between Israelis and Palestinians in Israel and the occupied territories. 4 to 5:30 p.m., Thursdays, Oct. 22 to Dec. 10, 4 to 5:30 p.m. Fee is $40 by Oct. 8; $45 after.

Using Wordperfect 5.1. Designed for people with little or no background in word processing. Oct. 23, 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Fee is $90 by Oct. 9; $95 after.

Using Wordperfect 5.1 Graphics. Designed for people who want to learn how to produce flyers, newsletters, and short documents including art images and graphics. Oct. 27, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fee is $90 by Oct. 13; $95 after. Registration deadline is Oct. 20.

Arab-Israeli Conflict. Examine the protracted conflict between Israelis and Palestinians in Israel and the occupied territories. 4 to 5:30 p.m., Thursdays, Oct. 22 to Dec. 10. Fee is $40 by Oct. 8; $45 after. Registration deadline is Oct. 15.

Using dBase IV. Learn the basics of a database management system. 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Nov. 5-6. Fee is $140 by Oct. 22; $145 after. Registration deadline is Oct. 29.

Human Resources

Dependent Care Assistance Plan

October and November have been designated as open enrollment for DCAP for the 1993 tax year. Detailed information is being distributed to all employees this week. For more information contact Elizabeth Greene in Human Resources at ext. 3713 or call Fringe Benefits Management, the plan administrator at 1-800-342-8017.

Legal Insurance

October is open enrollment month for Prepaid Legal Insurance. Cost for the service is $9.50 monthly and up to $3200 in legal services may be claimed annually. For details on the plan, call Elizabeth Greene in Human Resources, ext. 3713.

Welcome

Gary Barentine and Robert Morris/Physical Plant; Albert Brunson/Central Receiving; Jean Dennerline/Small Business Technology Development Center; Mary Forsythe/Purchasing Services; Tina Wilson/Accounting.

Events Calendar

September 17 - 24

Thursday, October 1

Dr. Kathleen Berkeley discusses
Little Women
7 p.m., N.H. County Public Library

UNCW Jazz Ensemble Concert
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium

"Creation of the World and
Other Business"
8 p.m., Kenan Hall, SRO Theatre
$6, UNCW students free with ID

Friday, October 2

UNCW Theatre
"Creation of the World and
Other Business"
same as Thursday

Men's Tennis hosts Riverfest Invitational
8 a.m. to 4 p.m., UNCW tennis courts
free

Saturday, October 3

UNCW Soccer vs. William and Mary
1 p.m., Brooks Field
Adults $2, students (UNCW w/I.D.) $1

Riverfest Invitational same as Friday

Wilmington Symphony Orchestra
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium
$8, UNCW students free with I.D.

"Creation of the World and
Other Business"
same as Thursday

Monday, October 5

"The Six Powers"
Native American spirituality with Sioux writer and speaker Ed McGaa
8 p.m., UC Ballroom

Thursday, October 8

"The Origins of African Slavery in the New World"
with Dr. John Haley
7:30 p.m., N.H. County Public Library

For a more complete events listing, check the events calendar on VAX by typing EVENTS at the $ prompt

Community Items

Cape Fear Memorial Hospital and N. H. Regional Medical Center will offer free introductory sessions to their smoke ending courses. NHRMC's free session will be held at 7:45 p.m. on Oct. 7. Contact the Smokeless Program at 762-4020 for more information.

CFMH will offer their free session at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 13. Call Smoke-stoppers at 452-8388 or 452-8118 with questions.

The premier walk for Multiple Sclerosis, titled WALKtoberFEST will be held at Greenfield Lake on Oct. 10. Kathy Brooks, an MS patient and UNCW employee, will participate in the walk. Anyone interested in making a pledge or signing up as a walker or volunteer for rest stops, please contact Brooks at ext. 3634.

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No.11 October 8, 1992

Two more dean candidates to visit

The Dean Search Committee for the Cameron School of Business has announced the names of two more candidates who have been invited for a campus visit.

Dr. Stanton Cort will visit UNCW on Oct. 15 and 16. Cort is associate professor and chair of the Department of Marketing at Case Western Reserve University.

Dr. James Littlefield will visit UNCW Oct. 19 and 20. Littlefield is a professor of marketing and former department chair at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University.

Cort is scheduled for a general session with the Cameron School's faculty and staff from 4 to 5 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 15 in CH-105. Dr. Littlefield's session is scheduled for the same time and place on Oct. 19.

Anyone who is interested in learning about Cort's or Littlefield's perceptions about the future of business education and the Cameron School is welcome to attend.

N. C. African-American leadership conference planned

UNCW's Black Student Leadership Network (BSLN) will sponsor the first annual North Carolina African-American Student Leadership Conference (NCAASLC) Feb. 5 to 7. It will be the first conference of its type to be held at a state level.

The theme of NCAASLC '93 is "Followers of Yesterday: Leaders of Tomorrow: Stand Up and Lead or Step Aside and Follow."

Approximately 200 African-American students and advisors from across North Carolina are expected to attend, and all UNCW students will be able to participate in the conference.

The purpose of the conference is to develop and strengthen the leadership skills of African-American students. NCAASLC will also address the problems that African-American students, citizens, and leaders face in society.

The keynote speaker for the event will be poet Nikki Giovanni. She will speak at the closing banquet on Feb. 6.

Those not attending the entire conference will be able to purchase tickets to the banquet.

As a means of increasing African-American student enrollment at the university, 40 African-American juniors and seniors from four area high schools have been invited to participate in the conference.

For more information contact Ruby Brown in the Leadership Center, UC 138, or call ext. 3877.

Seahawks to stage baseball marathon, home run derby

College baseball season is still five months away, but fans can preview this year's team and join them in other activities at the first Seahawk Baseball Marathon Game on Saturday, Oct. 17.

In addition to the marathon game, which begins at 9 a.m., a home run derby scheduled for noon will offer fans an opportunity to test their batting strength. Fans can assemble five batters and join one Seahawk player to compete for prizes. Home run distances are 300 feet for men and 150 feet for women.

Minnesota Twins and former UNCW star pitcher Carl Willis will be on hand to sign autographs from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Other attractions include a speed gun for fans to test their pitching velocity, a dunking booth, and a target throw with a chance to win a Seahawk baseball t-shirt.

Fans can also pledge as little as a penny per out during the marathon game.

Pre-registration by Oct. 15 is $10 and signups on the 17th will cost $15. For more information or to register for the home run derby, call ext. 3570 or 3793.

Trustees to meet next week

The regular quarterly committee meetings of the Board of Trustees of UNCW are listed below. These meetings will be held prior to the full board meeting scheduled for 1 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 14, in the Madeline Suite of Wagoner Hall.

Committee meetings:

Long Range Planning Committee -- 10 a.m., Tuesday, Oct. 13, Randall Library Conference Room

Student Affairs Committee -- 1 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 13, University Center Conference Room

University Advancement Committee -- 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 13, University Center Conference Room

Business Affairs Committee -- 7:30 a.m., Wednesday, Oct. 14, Glass Room, Hawk's Nest

Academic Affairs Committee -- 10 a.m., Oct. 14, Alderman Hall, Room 215

ANNOUNCEMENTS

POSTAL SERVICES

To expedite interdepartmental mail delivery, please include the addressee's name and department. Building names and room numbers should not be used.

Postal Services now offers a paper shredding service. For details call Doris Moore at ext. 3734.

BOSSES DAY

The UNCW Bookstore has a big selection of mylar balloons for Bosses Day, Oct. 16. Coffee mugs that can be filled with M & M's and cakes are also available. Orders must be placed at least one week in advance. Orders of $8 or more can be delivered on campus. A 9" round cake with six balloons delivered is $15 and a 9 X 12 sheet cake with six balloons is $25. Call ext. 3054 to place an order.

FIXED ASSETS

All movable equipment forms should be sent to the Fixed Assets Office prior to sending them to Surplus Property or Moving Services. If equipment is being transferred, a moving services request form should be completed and sent to Moving Services and a movable equipment form should be completed and sent to Fixed Assets. Please do not sign the movable equipment form as the receiver unless equipment has been physically moved. If you have questions, call Sondra Roark at ext. 3875.

GLOBAL VOLUNTEERS

Faculty, staff, and students interested in becoming UNCW Global Volunteer are invited to attend an organizational meeting at 5:15 p.m., Monday, Oct. 12, in Union room 212.

The group is seeking volunteers to participate in the Service Learning Project, scheduled for May, 1993. Previous trips, made after spring final exams, have been to Mexico and the Appalachian Mountains.

Call Bob Haywood of United Campus Christian Ministries at 799-8497 or Cathy Birmingham at ext. 3877 for information.

FOOD DRIVE

Starting Oct. 12, the Student Government Association will be collecting canned and non-perishable foods for donation to needy individuals. Clothes and other items will also be accepted.

SGA asks faculty, staff, and students to bring goods to the room next to the University Union Information Center weekdays between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. The program will end on the last day of fall semester classes.

DIABETES SUPPORT GROUP

The diabetes support group will hold two meetings this semester. They will be held at 7 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 19 and Monday, Nov. 16 in Union room 203. For more information contact Diana Taylor, Student Health and Wellness, ext. 3280.

CRUISE

The UNCW Alumni Association is sponsoring a week-long cruise to the Caribbean the week of May 23, 1993, aboard Carnival Cruise Line's newest ship, the Ecstasy. The cruise begins in Miami and sails to Cozumel and Playa del Carmen, Grand Caymen and Ocho Rios, Jamaica.

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to join in on the cruise. A portion of each fare will benefit the Alumni Association. For more information, call Carol King, director of Alumni Relations, at ext. 3616.

BOSSES DAY BREAKFAST

Professional Secretaries International will host their annual Bosses Appreciation Day Breakfast from 7:30 to 9 a.m., Oct. 16, in Wagoner Hall's Madeline Suite. A guest speaker is planned, and the 1992 Executive of the Year will be announced.

The cost of the buffet breakfast will be $6 per person. For reservations, call Donna Schultz at 763-7440 or Mary Browning at 395-3188.

WHO'S WHO

Nominations are once again being sought for outstanding junior, senior and graduate students to be named to Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges.

Faculty and staff members and presidents of registered clubs and organizations are urged to nominate qualified students. Nomination forms are available from your dean, director or department head and club presidents. They can also be picked up at the University Union Information Desk or in the Student Activities Office, Union Room 202.

Nominations close at 5 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 26. For further information, contact the Student Activities Office at ext. 3827.

VISIT THE UNION

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to visit the University Union when searching for a place to take a break during the day. The Union offers comfortable lounges and a quiet living room.

SUMMER INTERN PROGRAM

The Summer Intern Program of the Institute of Government will give 30 students the opportunity to work as interns in state and local government in the summer of 1993. Applications for the 10-week summer internships will be accepted from any college sophomore, junior, or senior who is a North Carolina resident or who attends a college or university in the state. Deadline to apply is Jan. 25, 1993.

Contact the Career Planning and Placement Center, 106 University Union, ext. 3174, for more information.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Friday, Oct. 9 is the last day to register for the eighth annual UNCW Al Barry Faculty/Staff Tennis Tournament. For more information, call Diane Talley at ext. 3798.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

All interested faculty, administrators, and graduate students are invited to the first meeting of the Feminist Colloquium, 4 to 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 23, in UC room 104. The topic for discussion will be "Beyond Sisterhood" from Elizabeth Fox-Genovese's Feminism Without Illusions. The essay is on reserve in the library for reading before the colloquium. Faculty are asked to inform graduate students about this new forum.

DONATE BLOOD

The Red Cross will sponsor a campus blood drive from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 21 in the UC Ballroom.

Donors must be between 17 and 76 years old, weigh at least 110 pounds, and should be in good health. Donations can be made every eight weeks.

FALL BREAK HOURS

The Hawk's Nest will be open from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday, Oct. 8 and 9. Continental breakfast and soup-and-sandwich lunch will be available. It will be closed Saturday and Sunday. Center Stage Cafe will be closed Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and open from 5 to 11 p.m. for deliveries only on Sunday, Oct. 11. The Seahawk Station convenience store will be open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, and from 5 p.m. to 12 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 11.

Wagoner Hall Cafeteria will be closed for fall break. It will reopen at 4:30 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 11.

Send Campus Communique items to BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn Busse, c/o University Relations. The deadline for Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

COLUMBUS DISCUSSION

Several UNCW faculty members will conduct a panel discussion titled "Christopher Columbus, Europe and the World on Columbus Day evening, Monday, Oct. 12. The panel will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Cameron Auditorium. The event is open to the public; no admission will be charged.

1992 represents the 500th anniversary of the first voyage of Columbus to the New World. The Wilmington and UNCW communities are invited to hear the views of some professional students of the topic, as well as offer their own comments and questions.

Panel Participants will be:

Dr. Katherine Campbell, foreign languages and literatures
Dr. Thomas Lofffield, archaeology
Dr. William McCarthy, history
Dr. James Sabella, anthropology
Dr. Peter Thomas, foreign languages and literatures

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Ned H. Martin, professor of chemistry, presented a research seminar to students and faculty at Fayetteville State University on Sept. 29 on "The Mechanism of Enamine Photo-Oxygenation."

Linda Moore, director of the University Union, is president-elect of the North Carolina Association of Women in Education. She was elected at the annual fall conference last month in Greensboro.

An article by Dr. Randall Hanson, associate professor of accountancy and business law, titled "Automobile Lemon Laws and the Uniform Commercial Code: Advising Clients With Lemon Cars" was published in the most recent issue of North Carolina State Bar Quarterly.

Dr. James Dixon of the Department of Political Science spoke to the East Wilmington Rotary Club on Sept. 28 on "The Supreme Court and Symbolic Speech."

Dr. George Schell, chairman of the Production and Decision Sciences Department, had "A Case Study of a Tactical Information System" accepted for publication in the Oct. issue of Information & Management.

A review by Dr. Brooks Dodson, English department, of Casagrande, Tess of the d'Urbervilles: Unorthodox Beauty has been published in the September 1992 issue of Choice.

Dr. Ann Lockledge of curricular studies, in conjunction with two public school colleagues, presented the paper "Using Geometric Figures to Portray the Impact of the Columbian Encounter" at the annual conference of the National Council for Geographic Education held in Santo Domingo, Sept. 23-27.

Dr. Eric G. Bolen, dean of the Graduate School, recently published two papers. "Gazing Across the Gulf, Environmental History and American Wildlife Ecology" (coauthored with D.

L. Flores) appeared in the Transactions of the North American Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference, and "The Hamerstoms, a Memoir," appeared in the Journal of Raptor Research. The latter was an invited paper for a commemorative issue dedicated to a renowned husband-wife team of wildlife biologists

Dr. Michael Brophy of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures presented a paper titled "La Rigueur du regard: Bernard Noel et Henri Matisse" at Dalhousie University, Canada, as part of an international colloquium titled "L'Art et la littérature en France depuis 1970" held Sept. 24 to 26. His review of La langue, la Poesie by Jean-Jacques Thomas also appeared in a special summer edition of L'Esprit Createur. He has been appointed to the international board of editors for Chiasma (Rodopi Editions), a new book series whose focus will be interdisciplinary French studies.

Division for Public Service

Faculty and Staff (continued)

Discovery Tour to Rachel Carson Island. Explore the splendors of marine life and bird shoals. Lunch on your own in historic Beaufort. 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Oct. 26. Fee is $40 by Oct. 16; $50 after.

How to Conduct an Effective Job Search. Learn strategies for capturing an employer's attention and presenting the best image in a job interview. 7 to 9 p.m., Oct. 29 and Nov. 5. Fee is $20 by Oct. 15; $25 after. Registration deadline is Oct. 22.

Overcoming Stage Fright with Dr. Stephen Pullum. Course is designed to help you overcome your fear of public speaking. 9 to 11 a.m., Saturdays, Nov. 7-21. Fee is $50 by Oct. 26.

Development of Competitive Proposals. Learn how to identify funding sources, market an idea and develop components for a successful proposal. Non-profit organization representatives encouraged to attend. 7 to 8:30 p.m., Mondays and Wednesdays, Nov. 2-11. Fee is $45 for registrations received by Oct. 19; $50 after. Registration deadline is Oct. 26.

How to Get Published. Learn about the development of an initial creative impulse, the ins, outs and strategies surrounding the submission and eventual sale of writings. 6 to 9:30 p.m., Nov. 10. Fee is $30 by Oct. 27; $35 after. Registration deadline is Nov. 3.

Dr. Frank J. Bongiorno, associate professor of music in the Fine Arts Department, recently had a book review published in the National Association of College Wind and Percussion Instructors' Journal. He reviewed Robert A. Luckey's "Saxophone Altissimo: High Note Development for the Contemporary Player."

Two members of the faculty in the School of Nursing attended the Fifth International Congress on Women's Health Issues in Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 25 to 28. Dr. Helen Fallier, associate professor, presented her recent study on Hmong Women: "Can Prenatal Self Care be Safe Care?" Dr. Mary Ann Zakutney, assistant professor, presented two papers: "An Investigation of the Transcendental Meditation Technique as a Positive Health Action: Why People Begin and Continue the Practice" and "Improving Women's Health Through the Science of Ayur Veda."

CHRISTMAS MAILING DEADLINES

It's never too early to mail your Christmas cards and packages to overseas addresses, so why not beat the last minute rush and bring your mail to the UNCW post office by the dates listed below.

country	air letters/cards	air parcel post	surface
Africa.....	Dec. 2.....	Nov. 18.....	passed
Australia.....	Dec. 2.....	Dec. 2.....	Nov. 2
Caribbean.....	Dec. 7.....	Dec. 7.....	Nov. 2
Europe.....	Dec. 2.....	Dec. 2.....	Nov. 2
Far East.....	Dec. 2.....	Dec. 2.....	Nov. 2
Greenland.....	Dec. 2.....	Dec. 2.....	n/a
Middle East.....	Nov. 25.....	Nov. 15.....	passed
Southeast Asia.....	Dec. 2.....	Dec. 2.....	Nov. 1
Central and South America.....	Dec. 7.....	Dec. 2.....	passed

Human Resources

Dependent Care Assistance Plan

October and November have been designated as open enrollment for DCAP for the 1993 tax year. Detailed information is being distributed to all employees this week. For more information contact Elizabeth Greene in Human Resources, ext. 3713 or call fringe benefits management, plan administrator at 1-800-342-8017.

Legal Insurance

October is open enrollment month for Prepaid Legal Insurance. Cost for the service is $9.50 monthly and up to $3200 in legal services may be claimed annually. For details on the plan, call Elizabeth Greene in Human Resources, ext. 3713.

Welcome

Maitilda Eason/parking-identification; Glenn Frazier Jr./campus police; Brooks Samuels Jr. and William Wooten/physical plant.

Events Calendar

October 8 - 15

Thursday, October 8

"The Origins of African Slavery in the New World"

with Dr. John Haley

7:30 p.m., N.H. County Public Library

fall break

Friday, October 9

fall break

Monday, October 12

Panel discussion: "Christopher Columbus, Europe, and the World"

7:30 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

For a more complete events listing, check the events calendar on VAX by typing EVENTS at the $ prompt

Tuesday, October 13

Volleyball vs. Charleston Southern

7 p.m., Trask Coliseum

free

Robert Shannon & the Dorkestra

7:30 p.m., Center Stage Cafe

$3, Free for UNCW students

Wednesday, October 14

Dr. Neal Barnard discusses healthy eating

7:30 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

free

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 12 October 15, 1992

Seahawk swimmers lend helping hand

Eugene Huguelet, director of library services, was swimming in work recently until he got a big assist from the school's swimming and diving teams.

About 56 members of the Seahawk men's and women's swim teams spent the better part of a weekend morning assisting the library staff with a major project.

"We subscribe to more than 5,000 journals and periodicals, and each one has its place here," said Huguelet. "We've been using stick-on labels for the shelves for so many years that we finally decided to begin using magnetic holders."

That's where the swimmers came in. Under the direction of Coach Dave Allen, the team members met at 7 a.m. on a Saturday morning for the work detail. The group peeled off the old labels, scrubbed the shelves, and made way for the new magnetic labels.

"It would have taken us six months to do the work, but the swim teams came to our rescue," Huguelet said. "In a little over two hours, we had the work done."

Several members of UNCW's swimming and diving team assisted the school's library staff with a major shelving project recently. Working out the logistics are, left to right, Mark Alford, Amy Jackson, Director of Library Services Eugene Huguelet, Acquisitions Librarian Louise Jackson, Clifton Perkins and Molly Best.

Seahawks kick off basketball ticket sales

Season tickets for UNCW's 15 home games, including the 1st Annual USAir East Coast Basketball Classic, are on sale now.

The season tickets are $90 each for the general public. UNCW faculty and staff can purchase tickets at a reduced rate of $65, which includes all four games in the 1st Annual USAir East Coast Basketball Classic.

The Seahawks open the season with a pair of exhibition games Nov. 19 and Nov. 24 against the St. Petersburg, Fla., AAU team and the Cuban Junior Nationals.

The first regular season home game is Sunday, Dec. 13, when Barton College meets the Seahawks in a 2 p.m. game at Trask Coliseum.

For information, call the athletic ticket office at ext. 3580.

B. Frank Hall dedication to be held Tuesday

Faculty and staff are invited to attend a dedication ceremony to honor the memory of Dr. B. Frank Hall at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 20, at the University Center.

Two display cases for use by the UNCW Museum of World Cultures will be dedicated. The collections of Hall and Dr. Bernard Boyd are now on display.

Hall, a Wilmington native, led an active life as a minister, professor, and columnist. He founded the Department of Philosophy and Religion at UNCW in 1963 and served as department chair for the first 12 years.

Hall was awarded the first Board of Trustees' Teaching Excellence Award in 1978. In 1986 the UNCW Alumni Association recognized his service to the Wilmington community and his inspiration as a pastor with their Distinguished Citizen Award.

Upon his death in June 1991, gifts were made in his memory for use at UNCW.

CPR/FIRST AID

The Safety Department will offer CPR/standard first aid training on the following dates:

Oct. 27 and 29 — 8 a.m. to noon
Nov. 9 and 10 — noon to 4 p.m.
Dec. 1 and 2 — 8 a.m. to noon
Dec. 9 and 10 — 1 to 5 p.m.

The cost is $18.50. Call Joan Greene at ext. 3057 to register.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

ALUMNI CRUISE

Faculty, staff, and students interested in joining in on the Alumni Association's seven-day cruise to the Caribbean are invited to cruise party at 6:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 26, at the University Center Ballroom.

A representative from Carnival Cruise Lines will show videos and provide information about the FunShip cruise, scheduled to set sail from Miami May 23, 1993. Tropical drinks and other refreshments will be served.

Call ext. 3169 by Wednesday, Oct. 21 to RSVP.

CHESS CLUB

The Seahawk Chess Club meets every Wednesday at 7 p.m. in Union room 201 or the Union study room. The club is composed of faculty, staff, and students as well as members of the community and local high schools. Club members usually play three games each night with a clock (30 minutes each). Most members also play in chess tournaments, but the club welcomes anyone with an interest in playing. For more information, call John Clifford at ext. 3327.

U.N. LUNCHEON

The North Carolina Chapter of the United Nations Association will hold a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 24, in UC Ballroom One.

This year's guest speaker will be Dr. Juergen Dedring of the U.N. Department of Humanitarian Affairs. Dedring is responsible for policy planning and development for the newly formed department.

The cost to attend the luncheon is $8. To reserve a space, send a check payable to UNA Chapter to Virginia Sherman, president, 8201 Blue Heron Dr. E. #4, Wilmington, NC, 28405.

LOST & FOUND

UNCW's lost and found is located in the Union Information Center. If you have misplaced a personal item on campus, call the center at ext. 3841.

ARTS IN ACTION

The university Arts in Action Committee will sponsor a faculty/staff art exhibit in the living room of the Union from Nov. 3 to Jan. 7. Any faculty or staff member interested in showing their work should call Heather Smith at ext. 3833. All levels of ability are encouraged to participate.

DYSLEXIA CONFERENCE

The fall conference of the North Carolina branch of the Orton Dyslexia Society will be held at UNCW Oct. 16-17. Dr. Carol Chase Thomas, professor of curricular studies and coordinator of student education at the School of Education, will introduce one of Saturday's afternoon sessions.

DEPARTMENTAL SEMINAR

A departmental seminar in biological sciences will feature Robert Crane, a retired optical engineer. He will present a seminar titled: "Availability and Application of Satellite Remote Sensing Data" at 2 p.m., Friday, Oct. 16, in Friday Hall room 151, Friday Hall. Everyone is welcome, refreshments will be served.

TWINS

Dr. Rudi Kiefer of the Department of Earth Sciences and Karla S. Kiefer proudly announce the birth of two healthy baby boys: Daniel Joseph Kiefer, Oct. 5 at 10:17 p.m., 6 lbs, 13 oz, and Jefferson George Kiefer, Oct. 5 at 10:22 p.m., 6 lbs, 1 oz.

WOMEN ADMINISTRATORS

The Women Administrators in North Carolina Higher Education will hold their fall meeting on Friday, Oct. 30, in Greensboro. Dr. Suzanne Lebsack, nationally recognized feminist historian, will speak on "The Gender Gap in History." For more information, contact Linda Moore at ext. 3283.

FORUM ON LAW

All students interested in legal careers are invited to a forum on the practice of law featuring a panel of local attorneys. It will be held at noon on Wednesday, Oct. 21, in the UC Ballroom Three.

Topics to be discussed include admission to law school, the law school experience, and the practice of law. A short presentation followed by a question and answer session is planned.

Contact the Career Planning and Placement Center for more information.

AMBASSADOR OF CYPRUS

The Ambassador of Cyprus to the U.S., Michael E. Sherifis, will visit UNCW at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 20 to open the Museum of World Culture's Cyprus exhibit. The event will take place in the Union living room.

Following the opening, Sherifis will give a presentation titled "History of Cyprus: Ancient and Modern at 8 p.m. in the Union living room.

Faculty, staff, students, and the public are invited to attend.

PARALLEL PROCESSING

Dr. Chris Nevison of Colgate University will discuss Parallel Processing with Occam and Transputers on Thursday, Oct. 22, at 3:30 p.m. in Bear Hall room 219. Refreshments preceding the talk will be served at 3 p.m. in Bear Hall, room 211.

WELCOME

The Office of the Dean of Students welcomes new employee Cheryl Hicks.

Beverly Eakins, formerly of the Payroll Office, has transferred to the budget office. Eakins's new telephone ext. is 3914.

The deadline for Campus Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

CRIME PREVENTION EFFORTS HONORED

The Campus Police Department at UNCW has been selected to receive a Superior Award in Category E: Campus Police, for crime prevention efforts during 1991. This marks the fifth consecutive year the department has been chosen for the award.

Hunter N. Davis, safety officer, has been selected for an Outstanding Crime Prevention Achievement Award for crime prevention efforts during 1991. This is the third year in a row that he has been chosen for the award.

The awards are granted by the N.C. Department of Crime Control and Public Safety and will be presented at the North Carolina Crime Prevention Officers' Association meeting to be held Nov. 4 to 6.

DONATE BLOOD

The Red Cross will sponsor a campus blood drive from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 21 in the UC Ballroom.

Donors must be between 17 and 76 years old, weigh at least 110 pounds, and should be in good health. Donations can be made every eight weeks.

AAUP PARTY

As advertised, AAUP will hold a pot luck "social" open to all faculty, on Sunday, Oct. 25, at the home of Aida and Bob Toplin, 1839 Newkirk Rd. The festivities will start at 1 p.m. Croquet and badminton tournaments are planned and any other outdoor games fun for kids of all ages are welcome. Contact Jimmy Reeves or Aida Toplin for a map to the Toplin home.

BALLET CLASSES

The Glasnost Ballet (composed of members of the Bolshoi and Kirov Ballets) will perform as part of the Wilmington Concert Series Wednesday, Oct. 21 in Kenan Auditorium. In conjunction with the performance, the Fine Arts Department will offer two master ballet classes taught by members of the company. The classes are free to all UNCW students and faculty and are available to members of the community for a small fee.

A teachers' class will be held at 10 a.m., Monday, Oct. 19 at the Community Arts Center. A students' class will be held at 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 20, at the same location.

Class size is limited to 30. To reserve a place in class, or for more information, call Doris Levy at 395-4062.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Bruce C. McKinney, assistant professor of communication studies, presented the paper, "The Real War vs. The 'Reel' War: Hollywood and the Survival of the Romantic Quest in Vietnam," Oct. 3 at the Carolinas Speech Communication Association Convention in Spartanburg, South Carolina.

Dr. John Zimmer, visiting assistant professor in the Department of Chemistry, presented "Poetry and Science: a Correlation of the Creation Story in Genesis with the Evolutionary Record" to the North Carolina Religious Studies Association's annual meeting.

Dr. Stephen Pullum, assistant professor of communication studies, presented a paper titled "Sisters of the Spirit: The Rhetorical Method of the Female Faith Healers Aimee Semple McPherson, Kathryn Kuhlman, and Gloria Copeland" at the Carolinas Speech Communication Association's annual convention held Oct. 2-3 in Spartanburg, S.C.

A proposal by Dr. Kimon Bird, program coordinator at the Center for Marine Science Research, in collaboration with the University of the Philippines, titled "Genetic and Chemical Characterization of Philippine Agar Producing Seaweed as a Basis for Cultivar Selection" has been funded $150,000 by the Agency for International Development. The period of the grant is Oct. 1992 through Sept. 1994.

Dr. William A. Bryan, vice chancellor for student affairs, recently attended the Australasian Institute of Tertiary Education Administrators Conference (Ballarat, Australia) as the official delegate of the American Association of University Administrators. While at the conference, he participated in a session titled "International Dimension-Reports From Off-Shore." Comments from international visitors centered around higher education issues and concerns in their countries. He also presented "Alcohol and other Drug Abuse on Campus: Strategies for Change" at a special interest group session.

The Study Group of the English department has published a review/interview of Stanley Aronowitz and Henry Giroux's Postmodern Education in Pre/Text: A Journal of Rhetorical Theory (fall, 1992). The authors are William Atwill, John Clifford, Andrea Deagon, Janet Ellerby, Wendy Gwathmey, Joyce Hollingsworth, Agnes McDonald, Ele McKenna, Dan Noland, Lee Schweninger, Sally Sullivan, and Barbara Waxman.

Dr. Andrew F. Clark, assistant professor of history, presented a paper titled "Slavery and its Demise in West Africa, 1890-1920" to the Association of Historians of North Carolina at Pembroke State University on Oct. 9.

Dr. Lewis E. Nance of the chemistry department attended the Southeastern Magnetic Resonance Conference (SEMRC), held Oct. 8 to 10 in Raleigh. He presented a poster on research done in conjunction with Dr. Art A. Rodriguez and graduate student P. B. Simcox of ECU titled "Carbon-13 Relaxation Mechanisms and Motional Studies in Nethyliodide." It is one of a series of halomethane molecules they are studying to determine modes of motion in the liquid state.

Faculty and Staff

(continued)

Dr. Hana Noor Al-Deen, associate professor of communication studies, has signed a contract with Greenwood Publishing to write a chapter titled "Mass Media in Oman" for the book Mass Media in the Middle East: a Comprehensive Reference Guide.

Dr. Helen Stewart Faller recently published two articles. "Among women: Characteristics and birth outcomes, 1990," was published in Birth 19(3) 144-150 and "Developmental Screening at McDonalds: an Innovative Learning Experience for Nursing Majors," was published in Vigilando, alumni magazine of the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing, 91 (2) 17.

Dr. Edna Mory, assistant professor in the School of Education's Department of Design and Management, had the article, "The Use of Informational Feedback in Instruction: Implications for Future Research," published in Educational Technology Research and Development. Her manuscript was the winner of the 1992 ETR & D Young Scholar Competition. The award is given to the best research article submitted by educators who do not hold a doctoral degree or who received their degree within the past five years.

Dr. John Marts, Chair of the Department of Accountancy and Business Law, presented a paper titled "A Comparison of Accounting Education Systems in Australia, the United States of America, and the People's Republic of China" at the International Conference on Accounting Education, Oct. 10, in Arlington, VA. The paper is co-authored by Yi-fen (Grace) Hu of the Southeastern University of Finance and Economics in the PRC.

Dr. Cem Canel, assistant professor of production and decision sciences, has had two papers accepted for presentation at the Decision Sciences Institute national meeting, to be held Nov. 22 to 24 in San Francisco. They are "International Facilities Location: Complexities and Problem Formulation" and "Application of International Facilities Location and Extensions." His paper, "Facilities Location: An Application for International Development," has been accepted for presentation at the International Conference on Operational Research for Development to be held Dec. 14 to 16 in Ahmedabad, India. All three papers were co-authored by Dr. B. Khumawala of the University of Houston.

Dr. Moorad Alexanian of the Department of Physics spoke to the East Wilmington Rotary Club on Sept. 21 on "Cosmology."

Human Resources

Dependent Care Assistance Plan

October and November have been designated as open enrollment for DCAP for the 1993 tax year. Detailed information is being distributed to all employees this week. For more information, contact Elizabeth Greene in Human Resources, ext. 3713, or call fringe benefits management, the plan administrator, at 1-800-342-8017.

Legal Insurance

October is open enrollment month for Prepaid Legal Insurance. Cost for the service is $9.50 monthly, and up to $3200 in legal services may be claimed annually. For details on the plan, call Elizabeth Greene in Human Resources, ext. 3713.

Community Item

Bradley Creek Elementary School will host their annual Kids Software Show Oct. 27 and 28. The event is designed to let children introduce and demonstrate computer software to their fellow classmates and the general public.

Kevin Ulmer of the Registrar's Office will be helping with the show for his third year and encourages all parents and interested parties to join him and the children of Bradley Creek Elementary School in celebration of National Computer Week.

Events Calendar

October 15- 22

Friday, October 16

"Encore" children's play produced by the Chamber Theatre of Boston
10 a.m., 12:15 p.m., Kenan Auditorium, $9.25

Biological sciences departmental seminar
"Availability and Application of Remote Sensing Data"
2 p.m., Friday Hall room 151

N.C. Symphony Concert
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium
$18, $15, $12
UNCW students free w/I.D.

Saturday, October 17

Soccer vs. Old Dominion
1 p.m., Brooks Field
$2, $1 for students

Monday, October 19

Volleyball vs. Charleston
7 p.m., Trask Coliseum, free

Tuesday, October 20

B. Frank Hall dedication ceremony
11 a.m., University Center

Volleyball vs. St. Andrews
7 p.m., Trask Coliseum, free

Wednesday, October 21

Red Cross blood drive
10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., UC Ballroom

Thursday, October 22

"Native American Responses to Columbus' Arrival"
with Dr. Lee Schweninger
7:30 p.m., N.H. County Public Library

For a more complete events listing, check the events calendar on VAX by typing EVENTS at the $ prompt

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 13 October 22, 1992

UNCW makes top 25 percent in national survey

UNCW has joined the ranks of the top 25 percent of regional colleges and universities in the South, according to survey released last week by U.S. News and World Report.

Out of 147 schools polled, UNCW tied for 23rd place with eight other schools. It is the highest ranking UNCW has ever received.

Criteria included S.A.T. scores, percentage of faculty with doctoral degrees, class rank of incoming freshman, student/faculty ratio, graduation rate, and dollars spent per student.

15th and 16th Century map collector to visit

Emilio Moreschi, owner of the world's most important private collection of maps and charts of ancient Italy and its surrounding areas, will speak at UNCW at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 28, in Cameron Auditorium. He will give a slide lecture titled "15th Century Cartography and Navigation." The public is invited to attend.

Moreschi, a resident of Bergamo, Italy, is a recognized European expert on 15th and 16th Century maps and charts and is frequently called upon as a consultant.

In addition to map collecting, Moreschi is an avid mountain climber. He is a member of the Italian Alpine Team, Italy's most prominent mountain climbing organization. He is the group's official photographer and has participated in climbs in the Himalayas, Greenland, Peru, Africa, and the United States.

Moreschi is the managing director of Rulli

Rulmeca, Interroll's affiliate company in Italy. He studied in the commercial schools of Bergamo and is a graduate of the Catholic University of Milan, where he studied economics and finance.

The event is sponsored by the UNCW Museum of World Cultures and Interroll Corporation.

Road named for Cahill

The UNCW Board of Trustees named the newest road on campus for Dr. Charles Cahill, retired provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs, during its regular quarterly meeting Oct. 15.

The road extends from Reynolds Drive, passes Wagoner Hall and leads to undeveloped land on the east side of campus.

Cahill returned to full-time teaching in the chemistry department this fall.

Federal Paper donates trees to Seahawks

The outfield fence of the Brooks Field baseball stadium was lined with 50 Leyland Cypress trees last Tuesday, courtesy of Federal Paper Board Company's Riegelwood plant.

The evergreen trees, approximately 6-7 years old, are four feet tall and will replace the scrubs along the outside of the fence.

Ambassador of Cyprus to speak tonight

The Ambassador of Cyprus to the U.S., Michael E. Sherifis, will visit UNCW at 8 p.m. tonight to open the Museum of World Culture's Cyprus Exhibit. The event will take place in the Union Living Room.

Following the opening, Sherifis will give a presentation titled "History of Cyprus: Ancient and Modern."

Faculty, staff, students, and the public are invited to attend.

Nursing School initiates 'for credit' program in Barbados

The School of Nursing and Barbados Community College, Queen Elizabeth Hospital, and Sir Winston Scott Polyclinic, all of Bridgetown, Barbados, are planning to provide a 'for credit' transcultural experience for UNCW nursing students.

The proposed agreement would offer an international nursing experience for up to 10 UNCW students as well as several registered nurses who already hold bachelor's degrees in nursing and meet UNCW's eligibility requirements.

According to Dean Rosenkoetter, this would be the first known university-based international nursing experience for any public North Carolina university.

The program will be offered for the first time to correspond with UNCW's 1993 summer session one.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

WHO'S WHO

Nominations are once again being sought for outstanding junior, senior and graduate students to be named to Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges.

Faculty and staff members and presidents of registered clubs and organizations are urged to nominate qualified students. Nomination forms are available from deans, directors or department heads, and club presidents. They can also be picked up at the University Union Information Desk or in the Student Activities Office, University Union Room 202.

Nominations close at 5 p.m. on Friday, October 26. For further information, contact the Student Activities Office at ext. 3827.

CAREER DAY '92

UNCW Career Day '92 will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 28 in Trask Coliseum. Employment representatives from business, industry, the armed services, graduate and professional schools, hospitals, the federal government, and state agencies are expected to attend.

The event is sponsored by the Career Planning and Placement Center.

Students, faculty, and staff are invited to attend. Free punch and cookies will be available, and those attending will have a chance at a door prize.

Call ext. 3174 for more information.

NOTE TO ADVISORS

Every student wishing to preregister for MAT 111 for spring 1993 must get a written permission form from the Mathematical Sciences Department, BR 207, before going to their data station. Registration in the course is by department permission only. No exceptions.

MOTOR FLEET FEE

Vehicles returned to Motor Fleet containing more than normal trash and/or dirt will be assessed a $25 cleaning fee.

CHANCELLOR'S STAFF ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Chancellor's Staff Advisory Committee met on Sept. 24. The following is a summary of the meeting's minutes.

The committee was updated on the status of the assignment of information liaisons for buildings on campus. Fifteen people, to be named soon, will handle the assignment.

Directional signs will be updated and signs will be added to building exteriors. Lights will be added to improve night visibility. The committee discussed the importance of campus safety. Reports show that university crimes are on the rise across the state. Faculty and staff members are reminded to be careful when walking across campus at night or working after hours.

The employee exchange program has been successful. Seven employees have participated in this program and one employee has been promoted because of the positive experience received in participating in this program.

The committee's members are: Jean Bibby, Frances Carr, Peggy Chance,* Brenda Dineen, Ann Freeman, Arthur Goodwin, Fred Green, Stan Harts,* Doug Johnson, Donna Lamont,* Heather Smith, and James Young. Contact committee members with concerns, questions, or suggestions.

Future meetings have been scheduled for today and Dec. 2.

*new members

YARD SALE

The bookstore will hold its semi-annual yard sale from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 30 to clear its warehouse before renovations begin.

WLOZ will air from the front of the bookstore and ARA will offer hot dogs and hamburgers. A costume contest will be held at noon and the mountain bike drawing will take place at 2 p.m.

All sales will be final and gift certificates will not be redeemed.

The deadline for Campus Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

ARTS IN ACTION

The university Arts in Action Committee will sponsor a faculty/staff art exhibit in the living room of the Union beginning Nov. 23, not Nov. 3, as listed in last week's Communique. It will run until Jan. 7. Any faculty or staff member interested in showing work should call Heather Smith at ext. 3833. All levels of ability are encouraged to participate.

ARCHAEOLOGY IN CYPRUS

Dr. Michael Toumazou, of Davidson College's Department of Classical Studies, will give a slide presentation on archaeological excavation on the island of Cyprus at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 22 in the Union living room.

HALLOW-EVENING DINNER

Center Stage Cafe will hold a "Hallow-Evening" dinner at 5 to 8 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 29, at the cafe. "Frightfully delicious" entrees will include seafood newberg and barbecue pork tenderloin for $5.95 each, and vegetarian lasagna for $5.25.

Call ext. 3534 to make a reservation.

BIOLOGY SEMINAR

Biological sciences will host a departmental seminar featuring Dr. Robert W. Chapman, associate research professor of the Institute for Coastal and Marine Resources, East Carolina University. The seminar, titled "A Portrait of the Pleistocene: Evidence from Anadromous Fishes" will be held at 2 p.m., Friday, Oct. 23, in Friday Hall room 151.

Everyone is welcome, refreshments will be served.

HOST FAMILIES NEEDED

The Office of International Programs needs host families for international students during school breaks. Call ext. 3685 if interested.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

PARALLEL COMPUTING

Dr. Chris Nevison of Colgate University will describe "A Pipeline Prime Number Sieve: a Case Study in Parallel Computing," at 3:30 p.m. on Thursday Oct. 22, in Bear 219. The talk will include a live demonstration of parallel computation with transputers.

There will be refreshments preceding the talk at 3 p.m. in Bear 211.

TITLE CHANGE

At its regular meeting in Chapel Hill last week, the UNC Board of Governors approved the request by UNC Wilmington for a title change to add a fifth vice chancellorship. The action changes the title of Jane Smith Patterson from director of the Division for Public Service to vice chancellor for public service and extended education.

As director of this division, Patterson already performs work on the level of a vice chancellor and reports directly to the chancellor.

CAR WASH

The University Union/Center student employees will hold a car wash between 3 and 6 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 23, behind the University Center. Reasonable donations will be accepted. Proceeds will go to Toys for Tots and the University Union/Center Student Employee Committee, which supports employee training.

SPEAKIN' GREEK

Speakin' Greek kicks off its first presentation on at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 28 in UC ballroom 4. The session is called "Great Sexpectations!" and features Greek panelists Steve Bright from Kappa Sigma and Whitney Walker from Chi Omega.

This series is sponsored by Alternatives!, LivWell, and the Student Development Center.

Send Campus Communique items to BUSSEC on VAX

WRITERS HARVEST

UNCW's Creative Writing Program, in association with Share Our Strength (SOS) and Bristol Books, is proud to announce the local participation of The National Reading: Writers Harvest for the Homeless was the fourth most successful in the nation, beating out many major cities. The reading took place on Sept. 22 in over 90 cities, with over 200 authors reading.

Local authors and writers from across the state, including Clyde Edgerton, Tim McLaurin, read selections from their works to a capacity crowd in King Hall on UNCW campus. The event drew over 200 people and raised more than $1500 for SOS. All proceeds will go to help the homeless.

CHANGE

Please change the extension numbers on your new campus directory for M. Tyrone Rowell and for Barbara McDowell from ext. 3751 to ext. 3924.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. John Zimmer, visiting assistant professor of chemistry, presented "A Comparison of the Creation Story in Genesis With the Evolutionary Record" at the INTERFACE Humanities and Technology Conference in Marietta, Georgia, Oct. 9 and 10.

Dr. Kristin Szylyan, assistant professor of history, has been elected vice president of the board of the Friends of the Battleship.

Dr. John Stokes, director of the General College Advising Center, gave the presentation "Advising's Influence on Retention," at the National Academic Advising Association Conference held Oct. 11 to 14 in Atlanta. The presentation dealt with research and practices on the topic.

Dr. Barry A. Wray, assistant professor of production and decision sciences, has had a paper accepted for presentation at the Decision Sciences

Institute's national meeting to be held Nov. 22 to 24 in San Francisco. The paper is titled "Dynamically Adjusting the Number of Kanbans in a Stochastic JIT Environment: an Application of Neural Networks."

Dr. Charles Lewis, professor, HPER, and Donna Jeffers-Brown, lecturer, HPER, recently attended a playground safety workshop conducted by the Recreation Resources Services Division of NCSU. Participants from day care centers and parks and recreation departments from throughout the state were instructed in United States Consumer Product Safety Commission Standards related to public playground safety.

Jane Smith Patterson, vice chancellor for public service and extended education, recently spoke before two local civic organizations on the role of politics, elections and political polling. "Political Parties and Elections" was her topic at the Rotary Club's Oct. 12 meeting at Wally's, Wrightsville Beach. On Sept. 22, she discussed the "History of Political Polling" at the Wrightsville Beach Lions Club. Patterson has a background in international studies and commerce and has lectured on many topics including political parties and elections.

Mel Gibson, assistant athletic director for facilities, has been elected to the Western Carolina University Athletic Hall of Fame, joining 10 other former athletes recently honored by the school.

An essay by Dr. Barbara Frey Waxman, associate professor of English, titled "Postexistentialism in the Neo-Gothic Mode: Anne Rice's Interview with the Vampire," has been published in Mosaic: a Journal for the Interdisciplinary Study of Literature 25/3 (Summer 1992).

Division for Public Service

Using dBase IV. Learn the basics of a database management system. Nov. 5-6, 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Fee is $140 by Oct. 22; $145 after.

Overcoming Stage Fright with Dr. Stephen Pullum. Course is designed to help you overcome your fear of public speaking. Saturdays, Nov. 7-21, 9-11 a.m. Fee is $50 by Oct. 26.

Development of Competitive Proposals. Learn now to identify funding sources, market an idea and develop components for a successful proposal. Non-profit organization representatives encouraged to attend, 7 to 8:30 p.m., Mondays and Wednesdays, Nov. 2-11. Fee is $50 by Oct. 26.

For more information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3915.

ANNOUNCEMENTS (CONT')

Because of recent incidents of theft of personal property from UNCW offices reported to the Campus Police, consider the following suggestions to ensure your safety. When leaving your office for the day, make sure:

- 1) All valuables are out of sight.
- 2) All doors and windows are closed and locked.
- 3) All desks and files are locked.
- 4) Keys are not left in unlocked doors, file cabinets or drawers.

Never leave valuables such as wallets, purses or jewelry on your desk. Place them in a locked drawer or somewhere out of sight. If you leave the room, lock the door.

All thefts or property loss should be reported immediately to the campus police. If a loss has occurred, try not to disturb the scene. By following these suggestions, your chances of being victimized are reduced.

CHARTING THE CURRENTS OF CHANGE

1992-93 Loyalty Fund Update

An institution's success can be measured in many different ways, and at UNCW our capital campaign is moving full steam ahead. To date, over $90,000 in gifts and pledges have been made to our Loyalty Fund.

Special thanks to:

Atlantic Printing &

Rusty Carter, Foundation Boardmember

Craig Tallberg, Tallberg Chevrolet

John Pollard, '70, Farlow-Pollard & Co.

Human Resources

Meeting rescheduled

The secretarial/office support quarterly meeting has been rescheduled from Oct. 29 to 3 to 5 p.m. on Dec. 4.

Training opportunities

Travel and Purchasing Accounting Procedures will be held from 10 to 11 a.m. on Nov 4. To register, call ext. 3160.

Jim Asplough of Seminars International will present Team Leadership for Managers and Supervisors: how to Inspire Commitment, Teamwork, and Cooperation from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Nov. 11, in the Human Resources training room. The cost is $60, which includes workbook and materials. Limited seating is available. Call ext. 3160 to register.

The Art of Resolving Conflicts workshop has been rescheduled from Oct. 28 to 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Dec. 3.

Welcome

Robin Williams/Center for Marine Science Research

Events Calendar

October 22 - 29

Thursday, October 22

Parallel processing with
Dr. Chris Nevison

3:30 p.m., Bear Hall room 219

"Native American Responses to Columbus' Arrival"

with Dr. Lee Schweninger
7:30 p.m., N.H. County Public Library

"History of Cyprus: Ancient and Modern" with Michael E. Sherifis,
Ambassador of Cyprus
8 p.m., Union Living Room

Friday, October 23

Feminist Colloquium
4 p.m., UC room 104

Volleyball hosts CAA Round Robin
7 to 9 p.m., Trask Coliseum

Saturday, October 24

Bicycle auction
9 a.m., behind the police building

Volleyball hosts CAA round robin
10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Trask Coliseum

Soccer vs. Richmond

1 p.m., Brooks Field, $2, $1 students

Sunday, Oct. 25

AAUP Party

1 p.m., Toplin home

UNCW Chamber Singers perform at St. James Episcopal Church
3 p.m., free

Wednesday, Oct. 28

Career Day

10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Trask Coliseum

"15th Century Cartography and Navigation"

with Emilio Moreschi
8 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

Thursday, Oct. 29

"Early Colonial Art in South America"
with Paul Clifford
8 p.m., Randall Auditorium

For a more complete events listing, check the events calendar on VAX by typing EVENTS at the $ prompt

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 14 October 29, 1992

Washington artist named first National Living Treasure

North Carolina Governor James Martin and Chancellor James R. Leutze will honor internationally esteemed Washington State glass artist, Dale Chihuly, as the recipient of the First National Living Treasure Award on Nov. 10. Chihuly's experiments in blown glass led to international recognition of him as a leader of the studio glass movement.

Dale Chihuly (right)

This prestigious award presented by UNCW is designed to celebrate those Americans who exemplify the highest levels of creativity and execution in their fields. In selecting this year's recipient, Governor James Martin sent each state and territorial governor a nomination form. A committee of 42 individuals from eight states and three countries chose the winner.

A banquet honoring Chihuly will be held at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 10, in Wagoner Hall. Chihuly will receive a bronze medal designed by Steven LeQuire, associate professor of fine arts, as well as a cash supplement. For reservations, call ext. 3030. Tickets are $20 per person.

The National Living Treasure, to be awarded every two years, is an outgrowth of the yearly N. C. Living Treasure, awarded in October to gunsmith John Braxton.

Chihuly, a native of Tacoma, has been largely responsible for the establishing the state of Washington as a center for the glass arts. In 1971, he founded the Pilchuck Glass School at Mt. Vernon, 50 miles north of Seattle. The school, which Chihuly calls "an international glass communications center," attracts teachers and hundreds of students from around the world each summer.

Chihuly's accomplishments have been recognized by museums world-wide. In 1986 he was honored by a retrospective exhibition at the Musée des Arts Decoratifs in the Palais du Louvre in Paris. Only four Americans have been given a one-man show. In 1989 Chihuly presented a survey of his work in the XX International Bial de Sao Paulo, Brazil. This exhibition was shown in Santiago, Chile, in Jan. and Feb., 1990. Other major exhibitions for 1990 include Azabu Museum, Tokyo, in July and the Musium of Decorative Arts, Prague, Czechoslovakia, in October.

Final dean candidates to visit next week

The Dean Search Committee for the Cameron School of Business has announced the names of the final candidates who have been invited for a campus visit.

Dr. Danny Arnold will visit UNCW Nov. 2 and 3. Arnold is associate dean and professor of marketing at Mississippi State University.

Dr. Randolph New will visit UNCW Nov. 5 and 6. New is dean and professor of management at Loyola University in New Orleans.

Arnold is scheduled for a general session with the Cameron School's faculty and staff from 4 to 5 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 2, in CH-132. New's session is scheduled for the same time and place on Nov. 5. Attendance is open.

Regalia rentals

The final order for regalia rentals for December graduation will be mailed Nov. 2. Faculty who have not already ordered regalia, and have a card on file at the bookstore, should call Jessiebeth Geddie at ext. 3054 to place an order. New faculty members should visit the bookstore to be measured and place an order.

This order will be the store's last.

Piano at lunch

Dr. Rudi Kiefer, earth sciences, will play the piano in the Union living room from 12 to 1 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Anyone interested in playing the piano during lunch hours should call Alden Blake at ext. 3811.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MASONBORO SOCIETY

The Society for Masonboro Island will hold its annual meeting in the UC Ballroom at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 5. Chancellor Leutze will be the guest speaker for the meeting. Faculty, staff, and students are invited to attend. Refreshments will be provided. For further information, call Heather Smith at ext. 3833.

THESIS DEFENSE

Biological sciences will host a graduate thesis defense by Guy Beretich titled "Comparisons of Water Column and Benthic Chlorophyll on the Continental Shelf" at 2 p.m., Friday, Oct. 30, in Friday Hall room 151.

Everyone is welcome, refreshments will be served.

COMBINED CAMPAIGN

If you have not returned your State Employee's Combined Campaign pledge card and envelope, please do so today. All contributors will be eligible for a drawing for gifts contributed by ARA, Division for Public Service, and the UNCW Bookstore.

Return envelopes to your account executive or Pam Whitlock to be eligible for the drawing.

UNCW CONNECTION

UNCW and the New Hanover County School System are collaborating in a new program called The UNCW Connection.

The program will begin with the fifth graders - the class of 2000. Teams consisting of faculty, staff, students, and administrators will speak to them about "connecting the present with the future and how preparation in school over the next seven years will provide more choices at graduation."

Fifth graders will be invited to attend the Nov. 19 UNCW men's basketball game. When they reach the sixth grade, they will be introduced to student life during a half-day campus tour. In the seventh grade they will return for a half-day tour focusing on academics.

ADVISORY COMMITTEES

The Chancellor's Student Advisory Committee and the Chancellor's Faculty Advisory Committee are already meeting regularly with the chancellor. Members of the student advisory committee are Victor Brown, Cara Chickanosky, James Clark, JoEllen Frank, Kristen Grady, Ivey Graham, Jeff Gush, Nathaniel Hill, Roger Hyman, Jennifer Jamieson, Leslie Noukelak, Bobbi Pate, Nancy Roman, Kande Shipp, and Kimberly Smith.

Members of the faculty advisory committee are Grace Burton, curricular studies; Sue Combs, HPER; Ann Conner, fine arts; Kenneth Gurganus, mathematical sciences; P.J. LaPaire, foreign languages and literatures; Donald R. Latham, management and marketing; Diane Levy, sociology and anthropology; Jack Levy, chemistry; Thomas Loftfield, sociology and anthropology; James Merritt, CMSR; Joseph R. Pawlick, biological sciences; Antonio E. Puente, psychology; Rebecca Sawyer, accountancy and business law; Raymond Dawson, political science; Doretha Stone, nursing; and Robert Toplin, history.

ORIENTATION LEADER SELECTION

The orientation leader selection process for the 1993 staff will begin with an optional informational meeting at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 12, in Union room 103. Applications will be available from Nov. 2 to 30 at the Union information center and the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, Alderman room 101. Application deadline is 5 p.m. on Nov. 30. Faculty and staff are asked to encourage enthusiastic students possessing strong leadership potential to apply. Call Dick Mullendore at ext. 3089 with questions.

1993 CALENDARS

The bookstore has received monthly and weekly 1993 calendars with faux leather covers and gold leaf page edging.

IN MEMORIAM

Leopold Sipe, a former member of the UNCW fine arts/music division, died on Friday, Oct. 23, in Charlotte, N.C., after a lengthy illness. Mr. Sipe was a member of the music faculty at UNCW from 1984 to 1986.

Sipe was concertmaster for the Wilmington Symphony during his tenure at UNCW and taught violin and music appreciation. Before coming to Wilmington he was music director and conductor of the renowned St. Paul Chamber Orchestra for 12 years and professor emeritus of Kent State University in Ohio. He was a member of the Ruggeri Trio which performed frequently in Wilmington and consisted of Dr. Sherrill V. Martin, piano, and Kathy Meyer, cello.

Memorial services will be held at 3 p.m., Oct. 31, at St. John's Baptist Church, Charlotte, N.C.

UNCW CONCERT BAND

The UNCW Concert Band, under the direction of Harry McLamb, will hold a concert at 8 p.m., Nov. 1 in Kenan Auditorium. General admission is $4 and UNCW students free with I.D.

The band will begin the program with LaFiesta Mexicana (a Mexican folk song symphony) by H. Owen Reed, Chorale and Alleluia by Howard Hanson, Bravura (a circus march) by C.E. Duble, and a galop by Warren Barker.

The second half of the program will consist of works of a lighter nature - themes from movies and television specials. Among these compositions are the National Geographic Theme by Elmer Bernstein, the Theme from J.F.K. by John Williams, and the Symphonic Suite from Robin Hood Prince of Thieves by Michael Kamen.

VISITING ARTIST

Visiting artist Daniel Nie will give a demonstration of chinese watercolor and brush techniques at 2 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 4, in Kenan Hall room 125 (painting studio).

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

CPR/FIRST AID

The Safety Department will offer CPR/standard first aid training on the following dates:

Nov. 9 and 10 — noon to 4 p.m.

Dec. 1 and 2 — 8 a.m. to noon

Dec. 9 and 10 — 1 to 5 p.m.

The cost is $18.50. Call Joan Greene at ext. 3057 to register.

SEXUAL ASSAULT AWARENESS WEEK

Sexual Assault Awareness Week is Nov. 16 to 20. Departments wishing to participate by sponsoring displays, exhibits, movies or speakers, or present a workshop on issues related to sexual violence, contact Diane Edwards at ext. 3577 by Nov. 4.

ART EXHIBIT

Wilmington artist Nancy Handlan will have an exhibit titled, "Watercolor Impressions" on display in the lobby of University Center from Oct. 26 to Dec. 18. She will also perform a watercolor painting exhibition on from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 10. The public is invited.

HOST FAMILIES NEEDED

The Office of International Programs needs host families for international students during school breaks. Call ext. 3685 if interested.

The deadline for Campus Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

TOURNAMENT WINNERS

The winners of the 1991 Al Barry Faculty Staff Tennis Tournament were as follows:

Men's singles: 1st place: Jack Manock, 2nd place: Rick Roscher

Men's doubles: 1st place: Joe Browning and Dave Miller, 2nd place: Al Barry and Larry Honeycutt

Women's singles: 1st place: Sally Reamer, 2nd place: Brenda Dineen

Women's doubles: 1st place: Maggie St. Ledger and Gerry Whiting, 2nd place: Diane Talley and Sally Reamer

Mixed doubles: 1st place: Brenda Dineen and Jim Applefield, 2nd place: Mark Ellington and Maggie St. Ledger

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Diane Levy of the sociology faculty has had her article, "Teaching Family Ritual: Sunday, Sausage, and Solidarity," published in the Oct. issue of Teaching Sociology. The was a special issue was devoted to 20 great ideas for teaching sociology.

Dr. Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences, has been appointed an editorial advisor to Marine Ecology Progress Series, an international journal of research in marine biology and ecology.

Dr. Judy Peel, assistant professor, HPER, presented "Teen Issues/Tough Choices: Evaluation of a Middle School Sexuality Curriculum" at the American School Health Association's national convention in Orlando, FL, on Oct. 9.

Dr. Nancy Gladwell, associate professor, HPER, has been appointed to the National Certification Board of the National Recreation and Parks Association. She is serving as the Society of Parks and Recreation Educators' representative to the board.

Dr. Charles Lewis, professor, HPER, presented a paper titled "Careers and Professionals in Commercial Recreation and Tourism: the Next Decade," at the 1992 Congress of the National Recreation and Parks Association held in Cincinnati Oct. 15-19.

Dr. Ralph W. Brauer of the Institute for Research on the Interrelation of Science and Culture will speak before the Nineteenth New England Medieval Conference at the Peabody Museum of Salem, Massachusetts on "Dynamics of Change in the Magnitude of Geographical Coordinates in Three Civilizations."

Dr. Grace Burton and Dr. Ann Lockledge of the Curricular Studies Department attended the 22nd Annual Conference of the North Carolina Council of Teachers of Mathematics in Raleigh, Oct. 15 and 16. Burton presented "Mastering Those Multiplication Facts" Lockledge presented instructional materials on "Making the Geometry - Geography Connection."

Dr. Judy Siguaw and Dr. Earl Honeycutt of management and marketing had the article "Manufacturing Flexibility and the Implications for Marketing Channel Relationships" accepted for presentation and publication at the American Marketing Association's Winter Educators' Conference to be held in Newport Beach, Ca., in Feb. 1993.

Laura Young, systems and procedures analyst, has completed all requirements necessary to graduate from the N.C. Public Manager Program. Her ranking was four out of 46 participants seeking the CPM designation.

Ann Freeman, secretary in the chancellor's office, has been elected to the Cape Fear Museum Associates Board. She will serve a three-year term.

Dr. Bruce C. McKinney, assistant professor of communication studies, had the article, "An Investigation Into the Relationship Between Communication Competence and Depression," published in the 1992 (Vol. XLVIII) edition of The Pennsylvania Speech Communication Annual. The article is co-authored with Dr. Lynne Kelly of the University of Hartford, West Hartford, Ct.

Dr. Helen Faller, associate professor and level I/II coordinator, addressed the Rotary Club in Whiteville on Oct. 9. The topic of her presentation was infant mortality.

Division for Public Service

1992 FALL CPE SERIES FOR CPAs. The Basics of Retirement Plans, Nov. 5. S Corporations, Nov. 6. Pre-Tax Season Review-Individuals, Dec. 2. Pre-Tax Season Review-Corporate, Dec. 10. Federal Tax Update, Dec. 11. Programs are $125 per class. Recommended CPE Credit is 8. Registration deadline is one week in advance.

New Bern Tour to Christmas at Tryon Palace and Historic Bath. Two-day trip to visit New Bern, Washington, and Bath during the holiday season. Architectural historian Ed Turberg will guide you through tours of Tryon Palace and other historical treasures, Dec. 10-11. $143 by Oct. 29. Includes transportation and overnight accommodations. (Based on double occupancy, single occupancy available.) Call ext. 3915 for details.

Human Resources

PHP Bike Safety Program

Physicians' Health Plan (PHP) is offering a $15 benefit to PHP members who purchase a bicycle helmet between now and Dec. 31. To claim your benefit, call Elizabeth Greene at ext. 3713 for a bonus coupon. Attach the receipt for the bicycle helmet to the bonus coupon and mail to PHP. PHP will mail the $15 bonus to you.

Election day

University employees are encouraged to exercise their right to vote on election day, Nov. 3. For employees who cannot get to the polls before or after work on election day, management is authorized to allow a reasonable period of administrative leave to vote some time during the work day.

Holidays

The university will be closed for the following holidays this year:

Thanksgiving: Thursday & Friday, Nov. 26 and 27.

Christmas & New Year: Thursday, Dec. 24, to Sunday, Jan. 3. Dec. 30 and 31 must be charged to accrued comp time or vacation leave, or time may be made up with supervisory approval in cases where operational requirements permit; however, time must be made up within 12 months.

Valic

John Pezzoni, Valic representative, will be on campus on Monday, Nov. 9, to meet with individual employees about tax deferred annuities. If you are interested in having additional money tax deferred into a retirement annuity with Valic, call Elizabeth Greene at ext. 3713 to schedule an appointment.

Dependent care reps on campus

Representatives from Fringe Benefits Management will be on campus on Nov. 9 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. If you are interested in using pre-tax dollars to pay for dependent care, call Elizabeth Greene at ext. 3713 to make an appointment with a representative.

Pre-paid legal insurance

October is open-enrollment month for pre-paid legal insurance. The monthly premium is $9.50. Call Elizabeth Greene at ext. 3713 for a brochure.

Shared leave requests

Charles Vickery, physical plant, is recuperating from major surgery and will be unable to return to work for six weeks. He needs 240 hours of shared leave to keep him on the payroll.

Hank Moore, athletics, also needs 240 hours of shared leave due to surgery recuperation.

Temporary employees

SPA temporary employee salary rates were increased by $0.25 per hour Oct. 1. Time sheets are due to Human Resources by noon on Monday, Nov. 2.

Events Calendar

October 29 - November 5

Thursday, October 29

Thursday Live with Elaine Penn and Frank Tascone, guitarists, singers
noon to 1 p.m., Center Stage Cafe

"Hallow Evening" Dinner at Center Stage Cafe
5 to 8 p.m.

"Early Colonial Art in South America"
with Paul Clifford
8 p.m., Randall Auditorium

Friday, October 30

bookstore yard sale
9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Robert Nathanson - guitar concert
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium

Saturday, October 31

Swimming/diving vs. Old Dominion
2 p.m., natatorium

Sunday, November 1

Soccer vs. American University
1 p.m., Brooks Field

Michelob Soccer Team vs. crew members of the HMS Coventry
3 p.m., Brooks Field

Dr. Lori White and Dr. Sherill Martin present "The Sounds of War"
3 p.m., Cape Fear Museum

Wednesday, November 4

ACE Movie: 9 1/2 Weeks
9 p.m., UC Ballroom,

Thursday, November 5

Andy Whittington plays jazz piano
noon to 1 p.m., Center Stage Cafe

Dr. Jo Ann Seiple speaks on Caribbean women writers
7:30 p.m., N.H. County Public Library

For a more complete events listing, check the events calendar on VAX by typing EVENTS at the $ prompt

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 15 November 5, 1992

Dawson honored for service to education

Dr. Raymond H. Dawson, professor of political science and former senior vice president of the University of North Carolina, was honored last Thursday night for outstanding service to education in the state.

At the annual meeting of the N.C. Association of Colleges and Universities in Greensboro, Dawson was presented the Hugh McEniry Award.

Hugh McEniry, vice chancellor for academic affairs at UNC Charlotte, died in 1974 while serving as acting chancellor of Western Carolina University. Dawson's nomination was made jointly by Dr. Charles Jenkins, vice chancellor for academic affairs at Pembroke State University, and Chancellor James R. Leutze.

Steel to give first alumni lecture

UNCW alumnus, Dr. Duncan Steel, will give the first alumni lecture at 2 p.m., Friday, Nov. 6, in DeLoach Hall, room 218. Steel will speak on the influence of lasers in a talk titled "From Satellites to Proteins-The Impact of Non-Linear Optics." Steel is a professor at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, as well as a research scientist at the Institute of Gerontology at the university's school of medicine.

Steel completed his freshman year at UNCW while simultaneously completing his senior year in high school. He received his master of science and doctorate degrees in electrical and nuclear science from the University of Michigan.

Dr. Gerald Shinn, professor of philosophy and religion and acting director of the Museum of World Cultures, hopes to bring in one alumni speaker each month. The purpose of the lectures is "to give the students an opportunity to see fellow alumni who have become successful."

TREE PLANTING

Federal Paper Board recently donated 50 leyland cypress trees to UNCW. They line the outfield fence at Brooks Field baseball stadium. Paul Miller, athletic director, and chancellor Leutze, assisted by Federal Paper Board representative Bob Carroll, break ground for the first tree.

Senior voice recital to be held Sunday

Finley Woolston, senior voice major from UNCW, will perform a recital at 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 8, in The Great Hall of St. James Church in Wilmington. The recital is free, and the public is invited.

Woolston will be joined in his performance by pianist Ellen Robison, a UNCW faculty member, cellist Michael Pope, and violinist Brad Martin. The program includes music by Handel, Beethoven, Debussy, Schubert, Donizetti, and Charles Ives.

Woolston retired after a career in the U.S. Marine Corps and Navy. He has lived in (and sung) in such diverse places as Japan, Nigeria, Zambia, New York, and Europe. As a member of the Saratoga-Potsdam Chorus during the 1980s, he performed choral masterworks with the Philadelphia Orchestra under conductors Eric Leinsdorff and Robert Shaw. In 1988, he was a member of the chorus with the Brooklyn Philharmonic under Lucas Foss for a performance in Carnegie Hall of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony and Bernstein's Chichester Psalms.

ART DEMONSTRATION

Wilmington artist Nancy Handlan will demonstrate watercolor painting from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 10, in the UC lobby. All are invited.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

COMMITTEE CHAIRS

Chancellor Leutze has appointed the following 1992-93 administrative committee chairs:

Aids Advisory Committee, Dr. Kathleen Kowal; Athletic Council, Dr. James Johnson; Calender Committee, Dr. Roger P. Hill; Campus Judicial Board (CJB), Dr. Nancy Gladwell and Student Vice Chairperson Mr. Ivey D. Graham Jr.; Compliance Advisory Committee, Mr. Paul B. Eaglin; Employee Benefits Advisory Committee, Dr. Richard Engdahl; Hearings Panel, stand-by; Institutional Review Board for Protection of Human Subjects (IRB), Dr. Candace C. Gauthier; Investigating Panel, stand-by; Parking Appeals Committee, Dr. Grace Burton; Radiation Safety Committee, Dr. John Zimmer; Campus Recreational Advisory Board, Dr. Charles Lewis; Safety Advisory Committee, Mr. Richard Scott; Student Organizations Committee, Dr. L. Drew Rosen and Student Co-Chairperson Ms. Lisa Royal; and the Teacher Education Council, Mr. Joe Hickman.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES UPDATE

The Administrative Procedures Manual updates are as follows:

HR 1.80 - Voluntary Service on Campus - This is a new procedure that establishes guidelines for individuals who volunteer services to UNCW.

PUR 1.30 - Procurement of Contractual Services - This is a new procedure that explains policies and procedures for procurement of contractual services other than consulting services.

AUX 9.40 - Campus Moving Services - This procedure replaces PUR 3.40 and provides a revised moving services request form and a new table and/or chair reservation form, which will soon be available through the Printing Services catalog.

The Manual can be accessed through either VXA, VXB, or VXC on the VAX by typing INFO at the username prompt. These procedures can also be accessed through SNBALLEXP and through SIS menus.

PURCHASING

Check all packages before signing the purchase order receiving copy (pink/partial). Invoice payments will not be made until you verify satisfactory receipt of goods. Signatures are required. Call Karen, ext. 3156, with questions about receiving.

UNCW DISCOVERY

Full-time faculty members are invited to submit abstracts describing their research that has appeared recently in peer-reviewed professional media. The UNCW Discovery editorial board will select five or six for expansion into 1200-word articles for the spring issue of Discovery. Submit 10 copies of each abstract to the Graduate School by Dec. 1 on one-page forms available from departmental chairs or from the Graduate School. For questions, call ext. 3135.

LOGO CONTEST

Designers/artists are needed for Sexual Assault Awareness Week logo contest. STAR (Student Team Against Rape) is seeking ideas for a design or logo to promote its program. The winning design will be used on T-shirts, buttons, table tents, and other promotional items. All UNCW students are invited to submit designs. The winner will receive a $30 gift certificate to the bookstore. The contest deadline is 5 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 17. The winner will be announced on Friday, Nov. 20. All entries must conform to "Logo Contest Guidelines," available from Diane Edwards, Union room 104, ext. 3577.

NOTE TO ADVISORS

Every student wishing to preregister for MAT 111 for spring 1993 must obtain a written permission form from the Mathematical Sciences Department, BR 207, before going to the data station. Registration in the course is by department permission only. No exceptions.

CAREER WORKSHOP

Phillip Sharp of the Student Development Center will offer a career workshop for students the first three Saturdays in Nov. Call ext. 3746 for information.

MULTIMEDIA WORKSHOPS

The Center for Teaching Excellence is sponsoring a series of hands-on workshops to introduce UNCW faculty to the techniques and technology needed for developing multimedia classroom presentations Jan. 6, 7, and 8 and March 1, 2, and 3. Topics to be covered include the use of still and motion video, videodisk, hypertext, animation, and sound. The workshop will run from 9 to 12 and 1 to 4 for the first two days and from 9 to 12 on the third day. Each participant will receive sample programs and reference materials on the use of Asymetrix ToolBook. Participants should already be familiar with the use of Microsoft Windows.

The Center for Teaching Excellence is actively involved in helping establish master classrooms on campus that support the use of hypermedia instruction. A multimedia workstation is available in the center for faculty to use to develop classroom presentations.

To register for one of the workshops call the Center for Teaching Excellence at ext. 3034 or stop by the center, Hoggard 216. All workshops will be held in BR 102.

ORIENTATION LEADER SELECTION

The orientation leader selection process for the 1993 staff will begin with an optional informational meeting at 7 p.m., Nov. 12, in Union room 103. Applications will be available Nov. 2 to 30 at the Union information center and the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, Alderman room 101. Application deadline is 5 p.m. on Nov. 30. Faculty and staff are asked to encourage enthusiastic students possessing strong leadership potential to apply. Call Dick Mullendore at ext. 3089 with questions.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

GLOBAL VOLUNTEERS

The next meeting of the Global Volunteers will be at 5:15 p.m., Nov. 9, in Union room 212. Anyone interested in a service/learning project to Barbados in May is invited to attend.

BIOLOGY THESIS DEFENSE

Biological Sciences will host a graduate thesis defense by Carrie Jo Thomas titled "Differentiation of Trophic Bases Supporting Reef Fishes by Stable Isotope Analyses" at 2 p.m., Friday, Nov. 6 in Friday room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

SEXUAL ASSAULT AWARENESS WEEK

Sexual Assault Awareness Week will be held Nov. 16 to 20 and will include presentations, resource tables, films, and more. Call ext. 3577 for a schedule of events.

HOST FAMILIES NEEDED

The Office of International Programs needs host families for international students during school breaks. Call ext. 3685 if interested.

THANK YOU

Ms. Kay F. Jackson wishes to thank the university staff for flowers, cards, and condolences expressed after the death of her brother.

EARTH SCIENCES THESIS DEFENSE

Earth sciences will host a graduate thesis defense by Ken Swain titled "Modification of a Coastal Plain/Bar-built Estuary in Southeastern N.C." at 2:30 p.m., Nov. 11, in Friday Hall room 251. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Nancy Gladwell, associate professor of parks and recreation management (HPER), presented a paper titled "Professional Certification: it's for you" at the NRPA Congress held in Cincinnati Oct. 15-19.

Michael Brophy of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures had the article, "L'Interrogation de soi et de l'autre," published in Initiales, vol. 12 (Canada).

Dr. Richard H. Mullendore, associate vice chancellor for student affairs, presented "Rights, Freedoms and Responsibilities of Students - Principles and Perspectives," at the National Orientation Directors Association (NODA) conference in Kansas City. Mullendore completed his two-year term as association president at the conference. In addition, two UNCW students, Kimberly Smith and Kande Shipp, presented "The Staff Training Roundtable."

Woody Sutton, public service and extended education, has been elected to serve on the board of directors of the Museum of World Cultures.

Tom Macie, associate professor of drama, has published an article titled "Guidelines for Audience Safety and Design for the Small Flexible Theatre" in the fall 1992 issue of Theatre Design and Technology, a journal for design and production professionals in the performing arts.

Dr. Bob Toplin of the History Department was the sponsored representative of the American Historical Association at Indiana University's Poynter Center. He participated in a conference on "Ethics in the Academic Profession."

Dr. David Webster of biological sciences and John Brunjes, a senior majoring in marine biology, presented a paper titled "Effects of Rice Rat Predation on Colonial Waterbirds" at the annual meeting of the Colonial Waterbird Society, held at the University of Mississippi in Oxford, Oct. 18.

Members of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures attending the 1992 Mountain Interstate Foreign Language Conference at Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Oct. 12 to 14, were professors Dr. Lori Spicher, Dr. Joann Mount and Dr. Terry Mount. Each gave presentations as follows: Spicher, "Language Attitudes in the Business Community: Some Disturbing Findings;" J. Mount, "Neruda: the Historical Context of Political Diatribe;" T. Mount, "On Translating Berceo's Milagros."

Dr. Vince Howe and Dr. Doug Hoffman of management and marketing and Dr. Donald Hardigree of UNLV had the article "The Relationship Between Ethical and Customer-Oriented Behavior and Their Effects on the Selling of Complex Services" accepted for presentation and publication at the American Marketing Association's Winter Educators' Conference to be held in Newport Beach, Ca. in Feb. 1993.

Dr. Deborah Dowd, assistant professor, HPER, recently attended the National Measurement Symposium at the University of Georgia and presented a paper titled "A Factor Analysis of Selected Skill Testing."

Judy A. Thomas, program manager, public service and extended education, was elected to the Board of Directors of the National Association of Teen Institutes (NATI) at its Oct. conference in Indianapolis.

Dr. Ron Copley, Department of Economics and Finance, recently returned from Japan where he consulted with the Security Analysts Association of Japan. In 1993, he will head a team of U.S. educators in training Japanese security analysts and portfolio managers.

Public Service and Extended Education

Human Resources

Valic

John Pezzoni, Valic representative, will be on campus Monday, Nov. 9, to meet with individual employees about tax deferred annuities. If you are interested in having additional money tax deferred into a retirement annuity with Valic, call Elizabeth Greene at ext. 3713 to schedule an appointment.

Dependent care reps on campus

Representatives from Fringe Benefits Management, administrator of the Dependent Care Assistance Plan, will be on campus at 9 a.m. on Nov. 9. If you are interested in using pre-tax dollars to pay for dependent care, call Elizabeth Greene at ext. 3713 to make an appointment.

Shared leave requests

Charles Vickery, physical plant, is recuperating from major surgery and will be unable to return to work for six weeks. He needs 240 hours of shared leave. Hank Moore, athletics, also needs 240 hours of shared leave due to surgery recuperation.

Lotus 1-2-3

Lotus 1-2-3, an introductory workshop, will be held from 9 a.m. to noon, Nov. 23 and 24. Call Michelle Turner at ext. 3717 for more information.

Season basketball tickets

The deadline to purchase season basketball tickets by payroll deduction is Friday, Nov. 6. Employees can begin payroll deduction for debit cards at any time.

VIP night

All university employees are invited to Brendle's VIP night from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 15. The event is not open to the general public. Exclusive savings will be offered to university employees and their immediate family members. Refreshments will be served and there will be drawings for Brendle's gift certificates. If interested, drop by Human Resources for a special saving coupon or present your UNCW I.D. at the door.

Training opportunities

Jim Asplough of Seminars International will present "Team Leadership for Managers and Supervisors: how to Inspire Commitment, Teamwork, and Cooperation" from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 11, in the human resources training room. Cost is $60, which includes workbook and materials. Managers and supervisors are encouraged to attend. Limited seating is available. Call Brenda Dineen at ext. 3712 for more information.

Community Items

An exhibit titled "The Art of Building in North Carolina" recently opened at the Cape Fear Museum in Wilmington. The show features black and white photographs by Tim Buchman that depict the artistic and aesthetic aspects of various North Carolina buildings, including architectural elements from buildings in the Cape Fear region.

Volunteers are need to work at Hospice Children's Festival Land at the Coastline Convention Center for 3 to 4 hours between Nov. 28 and Dec. 6. Contact Jeanne at 452-1062.

Deadline extended

New Bern Tour to Christmas at Tryon Palace and Historic Bath. Two-day trip to visit New Bern, Washington and Bath during the holiday season. Architectural historian Ed Turberg will guide you through tours of Tryon Palace and other historical treasures. Dec. 10-11. $128 by the Nov. 13 registration deadline. Includes transportation and overnight accommodations. (Based on double occupancy, single occupancy available.) Call for details.

Starting a Small Business. One-day seminar. Learn from experts the basics of starting a small business enterprise. 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Nov. 6. Fee is $45 for participants, $24 for spouses of registered participants and $10 for full-time high school/college students. Registration deadline is Nov. 6.

Baseball Hitting Camp. Stresses one-on-one instruction as well as hitting drills, batting practice and audio-visual sessions. For boys and girls grades 6 through 11. 9 a.m. to noon, Nov. 20, and 1 to 4 p.m., Nov. 21. Rain dates are Dec. 5 and 6. Fee is $60 by Nov. 6; $65 after. Registration deadline is Nov. 13.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3915.

Events Calendar

November 5 - 12

Thursday, November 5

Andy Whittington plays jazz piano
noon to 1 p.m., Center Stage Cafe

Dr. Jo Ann Seiple speaks on Caribbean women writers
7:30 p.m., N. H. County Public Library

Tuesday, November 10

National Living Treasure Banquet
7 p.m., UC Ballroom

Wednesday, November 11

volleyball vs. Campbell
7 p.m., Trask Coliseum, free

ACE movie, Sea of Love
9 p.m., UC Ballroom

Thursday, November 12

Thursday Live with Brant Vanhoy,
classical guitarist
noon to 1 p.m., Center Stage Cafe

For a more complete events listing, check the events calendar on VAX by typing EVENTS at the $ prompt

Campus Communique

The publication for
UNCW faculty and staff

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 16 November 12, 1992

Marine archaeologist to discuss Columbus

Dr. Paul Johnston, marine archaeologist and curator of maritime history at the National Museum of American History, Smithsonian Institution, will discuss "Christopher Columbus: Man and Myth" at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 18, in Cameron Auditorium. The free public lecture is part of the fall 1992 "Perspectives on Discovery" lecture series commemorating the quincentennial of Christopher Columbus' voyage of discovery to the new world in 1492. The lecture is sponsored by NationsBank Trust for the UNCW Department of History.

"Christopher Columbus: Man and Myth" examines the explorer in an illustrated slide lecture. Was his name really Columbus, and did he even set foot on the North American continent he is credited with discovering? Who was the man honored as a hero by some and compared to Hitler by others? Johnston will explore these questions and more.

Johnston, author of more than 30 publications, articles, and book reviews, has presented over 25 lectures in the U.S. and in such places as Kingston, Jamaica, and Sydney, Australia.

During 1991-1992, Johnston was the project director for the archaeological expedition to the wrecked steamship "Indiana," lost in Lake Superior off Whitefish Point, MI in 1858. He also participated and consulted with museums on archaeological sites in Finland and the Soviet Union under the sponsorship of the Finnish government (1986). This included visitations to the shipwreck site of "St. Nicolai," an 18th century Russian warship off Kotka, Finland, and trips to maritime museums in Tallinn, Estonia, and Leningrad, Russia.

Jazz Quartet to perform tomorrow night

Saxophonist Frank Bongiorno will be featured with the UNCW Jazz Quartet from 8 to 10 p.m., Friday, Nov. 13 in the Center Stage Cafe of University Center. General admission will be $2 and UNCW students free.

Bongiorno, an associate professor of music, is active as a performer and clinician throughout the country and abroad. He will perform with a rhythm section consisting of talented UNCW student musicians on string bass, guitar, piano, and drums. The program will feature popular jazz standards by composers such as George Gershwin, Cole Porter, and others.

Minority visitation day to be held Nov. 21

UNCW will present Minority Visitation Day for prospective students from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 21, in the University Center.

The program will give prospective students and their parents the opportunity to visit the campus, meet with admissions and financial aid representatives, tour on-campus housing, meet enrolled students and faculty, plus much more.

After the program, the prospective students and their parents will be invited to dine in Wagoner Hall Cafeteria on the campus. For additional information, contact the admissions office at ext. 3243.

Dawson to discuss election impact

Dr. Raymond Dawson, professor of political science, will speak about the impact of the recent elections at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 17, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium. His talk is titled "The Clinton Presidency and the Post-Cold War Era; What Will Change?"

Dawson is the former senior vice president of the 16-campus University of North Carolina. He joined the political science faculty at UNCW after retiring from the senior academic position in the UNC system, a post he had held since 1972, when he joined the staff of then-President Bill Friday. Prior to that, he was dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and General College at UNC-Chapel Hill. He joined the school's political science faculty in 1958.

A summa cum laude graduate in history from the College of the Ozarks, Arkansas, Dawson holds a master's degree in political science from Vanderbilt University and a doctorate in political science from UNC-Chapel Hill. He received the Tanner Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching in 1962 and the E. Harris Harbison Prize for Distinguished Teaching in 1968.

The forum is free and open to the public.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

ADMINISTRATIVE POLICIES UPDATE

Updates to the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual now available on the VAX are as follows:

AUX 9.20 - Disposition of UNCW Surplus Property. This procedure has been revised to explain university policies and procedures for the declaration, transfer, and sale of UNCW surplus property.

PHY 1.30 - Digging and Excavation. This is a NEW procedure which provides guidelines for digging and excavation. Anyone having a need to dig or excavate on university property must receive written permission from the director of physical plant (or designee) prior to commencing digging/excavation operations.

PUR 1.50 - Purchase of State and Federal Surplus Property. This procedure has been revised to explain policies and procedures for the purchase of surplus property from the State Surplus Property Agency or the Federal Surplus Property Warehouse.

The Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual can be accessed through either VXA, VXB, or VXC on the VAX by typing INFO at the username prompt. These procedures can also be accessed through SNBALLEXP and through FRS and SIS menus.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

The next meeting of the UNCW chapter of Habitat for Humanity will be at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 12, in Friday Hall room 251. Volunteers are always needed and everyone is welcome to attend. For more information, contact Frank Ainsley at ext. 3493, or Nancy Fauser at ext. 3285.

AWARENESS WEEK

Sexual Assault Awareness Week will be held Nov. 16 to 20 and will include a purple ribbon campaign, presentations, resource tables, films, a self-defense program, and more. Call Diane Edwards at ext. 3577 for more information or a schedule of events.

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

All interested faculty, staff, administrators, and students are invited to the Feminist Colloquium, 3 to 4 p.m., Friday, Nov. 20, in UC room 104. The reading to be discussed is on reserve in the library under the title Feminism Without Illusions and the name Janet Ellerby. In addition, the constitution will be ratified. Faculty, please inform students about this new forum.

DEPARTMENTAL SEMINAR

Biological sciences will host a departmental seminar featuring Dr. John Williams, Department of Psychology, titled "Field Study of Coyotes in Yellowstone National Park" at 2 p.m., Friday, Nov. 13, in Friday Hall room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

THANK YOU

Kathy Brooks would like to thank all those who sponsored her in Walktober Fest '92 for the Multiple Sclerosis Society. She raised $635.

AIDS QUILT

A committee is being formed to bring the AIDS Names Project Quilt to the UNCW campus next year. An organizational meeting will be held from 12:30 to 2 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 19, in the UC ballroom. If you are interested in attending or would like further information, please call LivWELL at ext. 4137.

BEHIND MATLOCK

The Department of Fine Arts, Division of Drama, will host guest speakers from The Matlock Company, producers of the television series "Matlock," at 11 a.m., Thursday, Nov. 12, in Kenan Hall's SRO Theatre. Speakers will be Jeff Peters, supervising producer; John Jefferies, production designer; and Tim Bourne, production manager. All are invited.

UNCW VOLUNTEERS!

The Leadership Center's UNCW Volunteers! program members are available to give presentations to UNCW classes about volunteering in the community. Interested faculty members should call The Leadership Center at ext. 3877. Leave your name and extension number.

ALTERNATIVES!

ALTERNATIVES! wishes to thank faculty and staff who assisted and participated in the recent substance use/abuse survey. Questions on the survey were adopted from the core pre/post evaluation instrument, a substance use survey used in universities nationwide. Data from the UNCW survey will be used in the assessment and development of campus substance abuse services.

If you have questions or comments, please call ext. 3735.

CHAPLIN LECTURE

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama in the Fine Arts Department, will present a film lecture titled "Charlie Chaplin: the Early Years" at 2 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 15, at Brookgreen Gardens Murrels Inlet, S.C., 17 miles south of Myrtle Beach.

Chaplin, who has been called the greatest entertainer of the century, will be shown in his first screen appearance, the later emergence of the "Little Tramp" character, and in examples of his best early work.

There is an admission charge to Brookgreen, but the film program is free.

BIOLOGY SEMINAR

Biological sciences will host a seminar by Mario Tamburri, Department of Biological Sciences, University of South Carolina, Columbia, titled "Chemical Control of Oyster Larval Settlement," at 2 p.m., Friday, Nov. 20, in Friday Hall room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

STOP SMOKING

The university is offering the SMOKE STOPPERS program for employees who are interested in stopping or cutting down on their smoking.

Call Marsha Hinson at ext. 3160 by Nov. 16 to register for the free introductory session. Payroll deduction is available for further sessions.

Quit smoking "survival kits" are available free from the LivWELL Center for Health Promotion during the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout, to be held Thursday, Nov. 19. Call ext. 4137 to have survival kits delivered to your office.

POSTAL SERVICES

Christmas stamps are now on sale in the university post office.

Postal services now offers a paper shredding service. Call Doris Moore at ext. 3734 for details.

STUDENT TIME SHEETS

All November student time sheets are due to payroll no later than 3 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 25. Hours for Nov. 30 should be included on Dec. time sheets. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 with questions.

KETNER AWARD

UNCW employees are invited to submit innovative, cost-saving ideas for consideration for the Ralph Ketner Award. Ketner, a Salisbury resident and co-founder of Food Lion, will contribute a total of $10,000 to state government employees for their award-winning ideas.

Any suggestions adopted between now and June 30, 1993, will be eligible for the Ketner Award.

For suggestion forms or more information, contact Pam Barnes at ext. 3162.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Hana Noor Al-Deen, associate professor of communication studies, presented a paper titled "Communicating a Changing Position for Age Among Arab-Americans: a Cross-Cultural Perspective" at the Seventy-Eighth Annual Meeting of the Speech Communication Association held in Chicago.

Dr. Doug Hoffman, Cameron Fellow of Marketing, and Dr. Scott Kelley of the University of Kentucky recently presented "A Typology of Retail Service Failures and Recovery Strategies" at the American Marketing Association's Frontiers in Services Marketing Conference held at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tn.

Ron Johnson, circulation/library online systems coordinator, made two presentations on the University of North Carolina/OCCL Terminal Link Test to the North Carolina Library Association's Resources and Technical Services Section conference held in Durham Oct. 22 to 23.

Percussionist John Rack and saxophonist Frank Bongiorno of the Fine Arts Department/Music Division performed at the American Chamber Music Festival in Beaufort, N. C. Nov. 6.

Two members of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, Dr. Peter Thomas and Dr. Lori Spicher, attended the annual convention of the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association in Ogden, Utah, Oct. 15 to 18. Dr. Thomas chaired the Spanish American Literature session, while Dr. Spicher presented a paper in the Spanish and Portuguese linguistics session titled "Phonetics in the L2 Classroom: Are We Starting Too Late?" Dr. Spicher was to serve as session chair at next year's convention.

Dr. Michael S. Smith of earth sciences presented "A Cretaceous (Santonian) Chirocentrid Teleost From the Smoky Hill Member, Niobrara Formation, Larimer County, Northern Colorado," and "Inoceramid Bivalve Populations in the Cretaceous Niobrara Formation of Northern Colorado" at the 1992 SEPM Theme Meeting Mesozoic of the Western Interior, held at Colorado State University.

Dr. John P. Bennett, associate professor, HPER, gave the keynote speech "You, Change, and Leadership" and two additional general sessions to the Beaverton, Or. health and physical education public school teachers during their fall staff development sessions on Sept. 1.

Dr. Tom MacLennan, director of the Writing Place, and Jane Kirby, UNCW Department of English graduate student, made a joint presentation at the National Conference on Peer Tutoring at Indiana, Penn., on Oct. 24. Their presentation revolved around a research project dealing with the impact of mind style on writing center consultations.

Dr. Sybil K. Burgess, associate professor in the Department of Chemistry, recently presented a seminar for the Department of Chemistry at the College of Charleston. The title of her presentation was "Novel Protein Inhibits in vitro Precipitation of Calcium Carbonate."

Bruce C. McKinney, assistant professor of communication studies, has had his article "Mediation: an Alternative for the Management of Conflicts in Organizational Settings," published in the 1992, Vol. VIII, issue of The Carolinas Speech Communication Annual. The article is co-authored with Dr. William Kimsey of James Madison University.

Three faculty members (Dick Engdahl, Becky Porterfield, and Drew Rosen) from the Cameron School of Business and three staff members (Sam Connally, Brenda Dineen, and Bob Fry) participated in a recent workshop on TQM techniques at Oregon State University. OSU is recognized as a leader in adapting TQM to the higher education setting. These individuals are currently preparing materials for use on the UNCW campus.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

FREE RUMORS TICKETS

To show their appreciation of UNCW faculty and staff support for previous events sponsored by the Department of Fine Arts, the drama faculty is offering each UNCW faculty and staff member two complimentary tickets to the University Theatre production of Neil Simon's Rumors, to be performed in Kenan Auditorium from Wednesday, Nov. 18, to Sunday, Nov. 22.

Tickets can be reserved for any performance by calling the Kenan Auditorium box office at 791-9695 during regular box office hours (10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday to Friday). You may pick up your tickets at the box office any time before the performance, or on performance night until 7:40 p.m. by showing a valid UNCW I.D. Tickets are available by prior reservation only (no tickets available at the door on performance nights with this option).

The deadline for Campus Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

MOTOR FLEET

Motor Fleet Management in Raleigh has allowed the universal credit card that is in the glove box of each state-owned vehicle to expire. The new contracts were signed last week, and it will be at least six weeks before new cards are available. In the interim, a copy of a letter from the N.C. Dept. of Administration extending the use of these cards will be attached to the outside of each travel packet for use in conjunction with the outdated blue universal credit card.

Motor Fleet Management still prefers that drivers of state-owned vehicles use state-owned facilities to purchase gasoline using the red Dept. of Transportation credit card. Should commercial gasoline be purchased using the blue universal card, form FM-33 still needs to be completed.

Drivers experiencing difficulty using the card, and who pay for gasoline out of their own pocket, may contact motor fleet at ext. 3591 for forms to fill out in order to be reimbursed by the state.

RACE RELATIONS TELECONFERENCE

UNCW will sponsor a teleconference titled "Enhancing Race Relations on Campus" from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 18, in Cameron Hall Auditorium. The public is invited and admission is free.

The live, interactive satellite broadcast will join together local and national panelists to discuss positive methods, solutions, programs, and strategies to improve relations on American college and university campuses. A question and answer session will be available with the panelists. The program is sponsored by the UNCW Human Relations Advisory Commission, chaired by Lana Taylor, reference librarian.

Panelists include: Dr. Julianne Malveaux, an economist, columnist, and television/radio commentator on economic and social political issues; Dr. Ronald Takaki, professor of Asian American Studies at the University of California; Dr. Evelyn Hu-DeHart, professor of history and director of the Center for Studies of Ethnicity and Race in America at the University of Colorado at Boulder; Dr. James Anderson, dean of undergraduate studies at North Carolina State University; and Julian Bond, moderator.

Contact Ralph Parker at ext. 3439 for more information.

Events Calendar

November 12 - 19

Thursday, November 12

Thursday Live with Brant Vanhoy,
classical guitarist
noon to 1 p.m., Center Stage Cafe

Friday, November 13

UNCW Concert Choir
7:30 p.m., St. Matthew's Lutheran Church

Saturday, November 14

Christmas Fantasia arts and crafts show
10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Trask Coliseum

Sunday, November 15

Christmas Fantasia arts and crafts show
11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Trask Coliseum

Tuesday, November 17

Evening at Center Stage
7:30 p.m., Center Stage Cafe

America 2000 satellite meeting
"Adult Literacy and Lifelong Learning"
8:30 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

Wednesday, November 18

Race Relations Teleconference
1 to 3 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

"Christopher Columbus: Man and Myth" with Paul Johnston of the National Museum of American History
8 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

Thursday, November 19

Thursday Live with Eddie Quinn,
guitarist/singer
noon to 1 p.m., Center Stage Cafe

Men's basketball vs.
St. Petersburg, Fl. AAU
7:30 p.m., Trask Coliseum

"Consequences for Algonkian Indians of Their Interactions with Europeans"
with Dale McCall
7:30 p.m., N.H. County Public Library

"Rumors" by Neil Simon
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium
$6, UNCW students free w/ID

CONCERT CHOIR

The UNCW Concert Choir will appear at 7:30 p.m., Friday, Nov. 13, at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church on South College Road. The choir, conducted by Joe Hickman, will be joined in the performance by organist Gregory Bell and a string orchestra. Admission to the program is free and the public is invited to attend.

The featured works on the program will be "Rejoice in the Lamb" by Benjamin Britten and "Jesu, meine Freude" by J.S. Bach. The Britten work, based on a text of the same title by Christopher Smart, features solo organ and chorus with vocal solos for boy soprano, counter tenor, and bass.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 17 November 19, 1992

Conference examines legacy of Los Alamos

How has the atomic age affected Americans? Were the 1950s and 60s movies depicting monsters and evil scientists a popular response to fear of nuclear weapons and radioactive mutation?

On the 50th anniversary of the beginning of the Manhattan Project, professors at UNCW have organized a free public conference to examine "The Legacy of Los Alamos: the First Fifty Years of the Atomic Age in America." It will take place on the afternoon and evening of Monday, Nov. 23, in Cameron Auditorium.

The first conference, at 3 p.m., will be a roundtable discussion looking at the legacy of Los Alamos. Panelists include Chancellor James R. Leutze, military historian; Provost Dr. Marvin Moss, nuclear physicist with experience in federal government nuclear policy making; Dr. Ray Dawson, professor of political science and an authority on foreign policy and international affairs; Dr. William Jones, professor of political science at Virginia Wesleyan College at Norfolk, a scholar of American popular culture, especially the 50s; and Dr. L. Worth Seagondollar, professor of physics and former department chair, N.C. State University, who was a participant in the Manhattan Project at Los Alamos.

The 7:30 p.m. lecture will focus on "Nuclear Images in Popular Culture" and will include the film, The Atomic Cafe. Dr. Jones will speak at this session and lead the discussion to follow.

The conference was developed by Dr. Thad W. Dankel, professor of mathematical sciences, and Dr. Patti Turrisi, assistant professor of philosophy and religion, as part of the science, humanities, and society minor. The interdisciplinary program focuses on understanding scientific research and how its resulting achievements and problems impact society historically and philosophically.

Holiday library hours

Randall Library will be open the following hours over Thanksgiving:

Tuesday, Nov. 24 - 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.
Wednesday, Nov. 25 - 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Thursday, Nov. 26 - closed
Friday, Nov. 27 - 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Saturday, Nov. 28 - 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Sunday, Nov. 29 - 1 p.m. to midnight

The University will be closed Thursday, Nov. 26, and Friday, Nov. 27 for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Chancellor's staff advisory committee meets Dec. 1

The Chancellor's Staff Advisory Committee will meet on Dec. 1. Contact members of the committee if you have concerns, questions, or suggestions that you would like discussed during the meeting. The committee members are: Jean Bibby, Frances Carr, Peggy Chance, Brenda Dineen, Ann Freeman, Arthur Goodwin, Fred Green, Stan Harts, Doug Johnson, Donna Lamont, Heather Smith, and James Young.

Communique named official bulletin of UNCW

Last year, an average of 1,024,255 sheets of paper passed through printing services each month.

In an effort to reduce that number by cutting bulk mailings on campus, the Administrative Cabinet recently designated the Campus Communique the official bulletin of UNCW. All departments of the university should use the Communique to distribute news and information on campus, and faculty and staff members should refer to the Communique for official announcements and campus news.

The Communique will run a special front page section for official announcements when necessary. Each department should keep at least one set of back copies of the Communique for future reference.

Items for the Communique should be sent to BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn Busse, c/o University Relations. Announcements should be typed in upper and lower case letters (not all capitals). The deadline for Campus Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

COMMUNIQUE ON VIDEOTEX

The Campus Communique has returned to VIDEOTEX. To access it, type info at the 5 prompt and select item 10, News and Publications.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SPEAKIN' GREEK

Speakin' Greek will hold its next presentation at 7 p.m., Monday, Nov. 23, in UC Ballroom 4. The session is called "Beer Goggles: Drinking and Dating." The Greek organization with the best attendance wins a $20 gift certificate and automatically competes for the overall best attendance, a $40 prize. This series is sponsored by ALTERNATIVES!, LivWell, and the Student Development Center.

CHANCELLOR'S HOURS

The chancellor's student office hour scheduled for 8:30 to 9:30 a.m., Wednesday, Dec. 9, has been rescheduled for 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., Tuesday, Dec. 8.

UNCW VS. N.C. STATE

The Student Activities Office is offering a game package to N.C. State on Dec. 1. The $20 package includes ticket, transportation, and snacks on the bus. The bus will leave at 4:30 p.m. and game time is 7:30 p.m. For more information contact the Student Activities Office at ext. 3827.

BULK MAILING

When you prepare camera-ready originals for mailings using imprinted bulk mail or business reply, be sure all information is included in the indicia. If you have questions about how and when to use the indicia or the format, contact printing services for assistance. Failure to prepare the indicia correctly could result in the mailing being rejected by the U.S. Post Office.

AIDS QUILT

A committee is being formed to bring the AIDS Names Project Quilt to the UNCW campus. An organizational meeting will be held from 12:30 to 2 p.m. today in the UC ballroom. Call LivWell at ext. 4137 for more information.

FOR SALE

The Graduate School has four, four-drawer, legal size file cabinets with locks for sale, asking price is $25 each. For more information contact the Graduate School at ext. 3135.

Digital Rainbow 100+ monitor, keyboard, with software, Digital LQP02 wide carriage letter quality printer. Any reasonable offer. Call Jan Lion at ext. 3227.

HOUSING NEEDED

UNCW faculty member seeks 2 to 3 bedroom home to rent, sublet, or house sit from Dec./Jan. onward. Nonsmokers. Please call: Dr. Lindsay Pentolfe-Aegerter in Seattle, WA at (206) 528-4787.

LOST & FOUND

UNCW's lost and found is located in the Union information center. If you have misplaced a personal item on campus, call the center at ext. 3841.

UMBRELLAS

The University Information Center, located in the Union, is offering a new service for faculty, staff, and students. Umbrellas are available for check-out. You must present a UNCW I.D. to borrow an umbrella.

MOVIE TICKET SALE

The Student Government Association is holding a discount movie ticket sale. The price of tickets until Dec. 23 will be $2. They are valid until Dec. 31 for select Sunday to Thursday shows at Carmike Theaters. Tickets, while they last, are available at the University Information Center in the Union.

HOST FAMILIES NEEDED

The Office of International Programs needs host families for international students during school breaks. Call ext. 3685 if interested.

WRITERS NETWORK

The North Carolina Writers Network held its 8th Annual Fall Conference Nov. 6 to 8. The theme of this year's gathering was Writing Across Borders.

Over 430 novice to professional writers, the largest turnout the conference has seen, attended workshops and readings during the three day event at the Wilmington Hilton.

Among those representing UNCW were Richard Hill, Kathleen Halme and Philip Gerard, UNCW's professional and creative writing program director, who chaired the event with the assistance of faculty member Cameron Sperry.

Assistance behind the scenes came from UNCW staff members such as Corliss Bradley, Lavonne Adams, Mary Ellen Polson, Pam Hurley, and UNCW students Phillip Loughlin and RaMona Hupp.

The weekend's events also included readings by poets Alan Shapiro and Carolyn Forché, and fiction writers Lee Smith, Randall Kenan, and Linda Beatrice Brown.

If you would like to learn more about the NCWN, contact their office, P.O. Box 954, Carrboro, NC 27510, (919) 967-9540.

UNCW DISCOVERY

Full-time faculty members are invited to submit abstracts describing their research that has appeared recently in peer-reviewed professional media. The UNCW Discovery editorial board will select five or six for expansion into 1200-word articles for the spring issue of Discovery. Submit 10 copies of each abstract to the Graduate School by Dec. 1 on one-page forms available from departmental chairs or from the Graduate School. For questions, call ext. 3135.

STUDENT TIME SHEETS

All November student time sheets are due to payroll no later than 3 p.m., Nov. 25. Hours for Nov. 30 should be included on Dec. time sheets. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 with questions.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

ART EXHIBIT

A faculty/staff art exhibit will be on display in the Union living room Nov. 23 to Jan. 7. Contributing artists will be Dale Lockwood, Human Resources; Robert Cutting, Cameron school; and Derek Spencer, physical plant.

MOVIE

The Accused starring Jodie Foster and Kelly McGillis will be shown at 5:30 p.m. tonight in the University Center. Free pizza will be served. The event is a part of Sexual Assault Awareness Week.

CPR/FIRST AID

The Safety Department will offer CPR/standard first aid training on the following dates:

Dec. 1 and 2 — 8 a.m. to noon
Dec. 9 and 10 — 1 to 5 p.m.

The cost is $18.50. Call Joan Greene at ext. 3057 to register.

Faculty and Staff

Deborah Haywood of the LivWELL Center for Health Promotion attended the Southern Association of College Student Affairs (SACSA) in Atlanta, Nov. 6 to 9, and gave a presentation titled "Sailing Into Wellness."

Chancellor Leutze was a keynote speaker at the 26th annual conference of the Foreign Language Association of North Carolina in Greensboro, held Oct. 22 to 24 and attended by 1,200 language professionals. His topic was "The USA in a Changing World." A second keynote speaker was Gov. Jim Martin, who revealed plans for a new School of International Languages & Cultures. The UNCW Foreign Language Department was well represented. Dr. T. Parra gave a paper titled "Fuerzas contradictorias en la formacion del hispanoamericano." Dr. L. Spicher's paper was titled "A Focus on Phonetics in the First-Year Classroom." A. Toplin chaired a session on Mexico. Also in attendance were Drs. J. Mount and T. Mount, recording secretary of the Association of Teachers of Spanish/Portuguese. Jim McNab, president of FLANC, chaired the general sessions and helped plan the conference.

Dr. Harry F. Smith of mathematical sciences has been selected to serve on the courses jury for SIGGRAPH '93. This annual computer graphics showcase draws more than 25,000 participants over a week's time. It presents over 30 full-day courses, generating in excess of a million dollars in revenue.

Dr. Doug Hoffman, Cameron Fellow of Marketing, and Drs. Donald Hardigree and Robert Aalberts of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas had the article "The Americans With Disabilities Act: Overview and Marketing Implications" accepted for presentation and publication at the American Marketing Association's Winter Educators' Conference to be held in Newport Beach, CA. in Feb., 1993.

Dr. John P. Bennett, associate professor, HPER, gave the opening address to Carteret County public school employees titled "Ours is the Opportunity to Do!" on Aug. 19. He also presented the opening general session for the N. C. Physical Education Eastern Regional Workshop held at UNCW on Aug. 21. His presentation was titled "Dance for All Ages." Bennett spoke about "Effective Teaching Techniques in Physical Education/Dance" at N. C. Central University on Oct. 9.

A research article by Dr. Wei Feng, assistant professor of mathematical sciences, titled "Stability and Asymptotic Behavior in a Reaction-Diffusion System," has been accepted for publication by Mathematical Methods in the Applied Sciences. The paper treats a mathematical model for reversible reactions of fine chemical substances.

Dr. L. Drew Rosen, production and decision sciences, was a member of the program committee for the Institute of Management Sciences Southeast region conference held Oct. 1 and 2 in Myrtle Beach. He served as track chairperson for the student paper competition. Rosen attended Oregon State University's total quality management facilitator/ team leadership workshop, in Corvallis, Or., Oct. 4 to 7. He presented a paper titled "The Relationship Between Quality and Operating Characteristics in Service Organizations" at the 1992 Production Operations Management Society National Meeting in Orlando, FL., held Oct. 19 to 21.

Dr. Jim Megivern of the Philosophy and Religion Department was one of the speakers on the Veterans Day program at Pembroke State University Nov. 11. Funded in part by the N.C. Humanities Council, the theme of the program was U.S. foreign policy, and Megivern's address was titled "Ethics and Nuclear Deterrence Strategies: a Look Back/a Look Ahead."

On Nov. 14, Dr. John Zimmer, visiting assistant professor in the Department of Chemistry, presented "On-line Data Acquisition: pH Titration of Cola" to the student division of the North Carolina Academy of Science at Hoggard High School.

Dr. Kathleen Berkeley, Department of History, recently attended the joint meetings of the Southern Historical Association (SHA) and the Southern Association for Women Historians (SAWH) which were held in Atlanta, Ga. Berkeley was elected second vice-president of the SAWH and was asked to chair the Committee on the Status of Women in the SHA for the 1992-93 academic year.

Human Resources

Faculty and Staff (cont.)

Stop smoking

The university is offering the SMOKE STOPPERS program for employees who are interested in stopping or cutting down on their smoking.

Call Marsha Hinson at ext. 3160 by 5 p.m., Nov. 20 to register for the free introductory session. Payroll deduction is available for further sessions.

Welcome

Barbara Cowan and Lisa Garrett/
Advancement; Leisa Heltzel/
Financial Aid.

Two criminal justice faculty members recently participated in the American Society of Criminology meeting in New Orleans. Dr. David Evans presented a paper examining the impact of religious involvement on adult criminal behavior. Dr. Randy LaGrange served as a discussant in a panel session on social control and the community.

Lienne Federico, English department, presented a paper titled "Multicultural Education and Change" at East Carolina University, during the Counselor and Adult Education fall conference on Oct. 23. The paper was based on her evaluation of the 1992 ECU Multicultural Institute and was funded by a grant from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation.

Dr. Frank Bongiorno, associate professor, fine arts/music division, has been invited to perform a solo, Fantasia Concertante by Bernhard Heiden, with the Auburn University Wind Ensemble Nov. 18 and 19. Bongiorno also conducted a masterclass for Auburn University and area high school music students.

Public Service and Extended Education

Violin Lessons. Lynda Rolfes, fine arts faculty member, is offering lessons through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. Violin and viola students of all ages are welcome. Suzuki method classes are being offered for pre-school and early elementary age children. Older students will learn by the traditional method.

Snow Skiing Classes. Earn one hour of academic credit. Jan. 3-7.

-Learning Adventure includes five sessions of skiing, unlimited instruction with French-Swiss Ski College, all equipment, boots, skis and poles, slope and lift fees and lodging for four nights at Appalachian Ski Mountain. Fee is from $210.

-Multi-Mountain includes five sessions of skiing with one night and two days at Appalachian Ski Mountain, one day each at Sugar Mountain and Ski Beech, three sessions of instruction, all equipment, boots, skis and poles, slope and lift fees and lodging for four nights. Fee is from $224. First class meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. tonight in Trask room 142. A $50 non-refundable deposit will be collected.

1992 FALL CPE SERIES FOR CPAs. Pre-Tax Season Review-Individuals, Dec. 2. Pre-Tax Season Review-Corporate, Dec. 10. Federal Tax Update, Dec. 11. Programs are $125 per class. Recommended CPE Credit is 8. Registration deadline is one week in advance.

For more information or to register by credit card, call ext. 3915.

Events Calendar

November 19 - December 3

Thursday, November 19

Thursday Live with Eddie Quinn,
guitarist/singer
noon to 1 p.m., Center Stage Cafe

AIDS Quilt meeting
12:30 p.m., UC Ballroom

Men's basketball vs. St. Petersburg, Fl.
AAU
7:30 p.m., Trask Coliseum

"Consequences for Algonkian Indians of Their Interactions with Europeans"
with Dale McCall
7:30 p.m., N.H. County Public Library

Rumors by Neil Simon
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium
$6, UNCW students free w/ID

Friday, November 20

"Chemical Control of Oyster Larval Settlement" with Mario Tamburri
2 p.m., Friday Hall room 151

Rumors by Neil Simon
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium
$6, UNCW students free w/ID

Feminist Colloquium
3 p.m., UC room 104

Saturday, November 21

Minority Visitation Day
noon to 5 p.m., University Center

Rumors by Neil Simon
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium
$6, UNCW students free w/ID

Sunday, November 22

Rumors by Neil Simon
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium
$6, UNCW students free w/ID

Monday, November 23

The Legacy of Los Alamos
3 p.m. to 10:30 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

Tuesday, November 24

Men's Basketball vs. Cuban Nationals
7:30 p.m., Trask Coliseum

Thursday, November 26

Thanksgiving Holiday
university closed

Friday, November 27

university closed

Tuesday, December 1

Women's basketball vs. Duke
7:30 p.m., Trask Coliseum

Campus Community

Archives 2

of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 18 December 3, 1992

Bryan receives Melvene D. Hardee Award

Dr. William A. Bryan, vice chancellor for student affairs, was awarded the Melvene Draheim Hardee Award by the Southern Association for College Student Affairs during its annual conference, held recently in Atlanta.

The award, first granted in 1976, recognizes achievement in four areas: development of programs that impact the work of student personnel in the Southeastern United States, significant research and publication, outstanding leadership in professional organizations, and unique and outstanding contributions to student personnel work.

A nominator said of Bryan: "His focus is on students and he always has a vision for their involvement in out-of-class experiences that promote student development and learning ... he is a respected national leader who has focused on issues that are the head and heart of student learning."

Melvne Draheim Hardee, the award's namesake, was a long-time leader in the area of student affairs. She is a retired professor of higher education from Florida State University.

Bryan joined UNCW in 1983. He received his bachelor's degree at Florida State University, his master's degree at Indiana University, and his doctoral degree at the University of Wyoming.

Roadside checks planned

In an effort to increase awareness and compliance of seatbelt use at UNCW, the University Police will be conducting roadside checks, targeting seatbelt use, during the next month. Those wearing seatbelts, as required by law, will be given a reward for their compliance; those not wearing seatbelts will be asked to please "buckle up."

In addition to working toward increased awareness and compliance, the campus police are aiming to make the 70 percent and higher National Honor Roll, a program created by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration to reduce the risk of serious injury or death caused by failure to wear seatbelts.

Regalia ready for graduation

Faculty rental and purchased regalia is ready to be picked up at the bookstore. In addition to normal hours, the bookstore will be open from 7:45 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday for graduation.

Rental regalia must be returned to the bookstore before 2 p.m. that day.

UNCW Jazz Ensemble holds December concert

The UNCW 7 O'clock Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Frank Bongiorno, will present its fall semester concert at 8 p.m. tonight in Kenan Auditorium. General admission is $4 with a discounted admission of $2 for senior citizens. UNCW students will be admitted free with I.D.

Big band music from the 7 O'clock Jazz Ensemble's second cassette, recorded this fall, will be featured during tonight's performance. Favorite jazz standards such as Satin Doll, Shiny Stockings, Moten Swing, Mood Indigo, Until I Met You, and Milestones, by Miles Davis, Duke Ellington, Count Basie, and others will be performed by the 18-piece jazz ensemble. In addition, a traditional seasonal selection will be performed to highlight the upcoming holidays.

Reserve lists due December 22

Faculty should submit Randall Library reserve reading lists for the spring semester before Dec. 22. Send lists to Carolyn Andrews in the library or to ANDREWSC on VAX. To renew previous lists, call ext. 3790.

TREE TRIMMING PARTY

Faculty and staff are invited to the chancellor's annual Trim the Tree Party, 3 to 4 p.m., Monday, Dec. 7, in the Alderman Hall lobby. Please bring non-perishable or canned food to fill the canoe that will be in the lobby. Ornaments will be available to hang on the tree, and cider and cookies will be served.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MOTOR FLEET

Motor Fleet has received maroon Department of Transportation credit cards for use with university-owned vans at any state-owned facility. They may be used at highway patrol stations, DOT facilities, and other state campuses. Drivers should use these cards rather than purchasing commercial gasoline whenever possible. The cost to the university is half that of commercial fuel. Travel packets will include locations of and directions to facilities in planned travel areas.

Any change of plans, cancellations, or extensions of travel need to be reported to the Motor Fleet office, ext. 3591, or to the Campus Police, ext. 3184, after normal working hours. All vehicles must be turned in when official travel has ended.

PATTERSON TO SERVE ON HUNT'S TRANSITION TEAM

Jane Smith Patterson, vice chancellor for public service and extended education, has been granted a two-month leave-without-pay to work in the transition process for Governor-elect James B. Hunt. Patterson's service was requested by the governor-elect and approved by UNC President C. D. Spangler, Jr. Dr. Everard Smith, assistant director, will head the primarily receipt-supported division during Patterson's leave, which took effect Nov. 17.

AMERICAN FILM PREMIER

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama, will host the American premiere of The Rat, a powerful new film from the Republic of Georgia. Directed by rising Georgian filmmaker Paata Miorava, it stars Irakli Khizanishvili, who plays a man hunted by the KGB. Khizanishvili will be present at the showing to answer questions. The Rat has been banned in much of the former Soviet Union.

The one-time showing will be at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 9, at College Road Cinemas. Admission is $4.

BUSINESS COUNCIL FORMED

Twenty-six top-level executives from business and government met with university leaders on Nov. 18 to form the Business Council, whose mission is to create a partnership between the business community and the Cameron School. The organization is dedicated to improving quality by enabling an exchange of knowledge, ideas, and resources between business executives and business educators for the benefit of everyone involved.

Ed Mayorga, president of R&E Electronics, was elected council president, and Herb McKim, president of McKim & Creed Engineers, was elected vice president. The program included presentations by John Anderson, interim dean of the Cameron School; John Marts, chairman of accountancy and business law; Claude Farrell, chairman of economics and finance; Vince Howe, chairman of management and marketing; George Schell, chairman of production and decision sciences; Rebecca Porterfield, MBA coordinator; and Woody Hall, director of the Center for Business and Economics Services. The next meeting is planned for March 1993, during the Cameron School's annual Business Week.

SURPLUS PROPERTY

Software programs should not be sent to Surplus Property. They should be transferred to Doug Jackson in Computer and Information Systems, Hoggard room 211. For questions, call Sondra Roark, ext. 3875.

POSTAL SERVICES

Christmas stamps are available at the UNCW Post Office. Mail your parcels now while the lines are short. Hunters and collectors, a few $15 Migratory Bird Stamps are still available. Departments with excess inter-campus envelopes may return them to Postal Services for reuse. For shredding services information, call Doris Moore at ext. 3734.

TASK FORCE ON HUMAN SERVICE NEEDS

The task force made up of the Cape Fear Area United Way, the New Hanover County Department of Social Services, and UNCW has completed its study of the state of human service needs in New Hanover, Brunswick, and Pender Counties. The task force, chaired by Stephen C. Harper, professor of management, will present its report to the community at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 16, in Cameron Hall Auditorium. The report profiles recent census data, focus group information from human service agencies, and results from a survey of area residents. Copies of the report will be placed on reserve in Randall Library.

GLOBAL VOLUNTEERS

The UNCW Global Volunteers are willing to rake yards Dec. 5 or 12 to earn money for their upcoming Barbados service project. If you are interested in having your yard raked, call ext. 3877 weekdays before 5 p.m. or Margaret Bailey at 343-0019 after 5 p.m. and leave a message. Sponsored by the Leadership Center and United Campus Christian Ministries.

COMBINED CAMPAIGN

Please check to be sure you have returned your State Employees Combined Campaign envelope. There is still time to make a contribution. Employees have donated over $20,000 so far in this year's campaign, 20 percent below the goal. Return pledges to Pam Whitlock, ext. 3167. Extra forms are available from Whitlock.

CHRISTMAS DINNER

The faculty and staff christmas dinner will be held from 5 to 7 p.m., Dec. 17, in Wagoner Hall. The cost is $5.50. The menu will include tossed salad, cranberry sauce, roast turkey, roast beef, seafood casserole, au gratin potatoes, green bean casserole, glazed carrots, bread/butter, iced tea/coffee, and a dessert table.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

All interested faculty, staff, administrators, and students are invited to the Feminist Colloquium, Friday, Dec. 11, 3 to 4 p.m., in UC room 104. The reading to be discussed is on reserve in the library under the title The Beauty Myth.

CHEMISTRY PROJECTS

Chemistry undergraduates will present their DIS research projects at 3 p.m., Friday, Dec. 4, in DL 114. All are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served prior to the presentations.

BIOLOGY SEMINAR

Biological sciences will host Dr. G. Thomas Chandler, Department of Environmental Health Sciences, School of Public Health, University of South Carolina, who will present a seminar titled "Sediment, Porewater, and Aqueous Space Phase Pesticide Effects on Meiobenthos: Implications for Sediment Quality Criteria Development" at 2 p.m., Friday, Dec. 4, in Friday Hall room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

WORLD HUMAN RIGHTS DAY

World Human Rights Day, commemorating the 44th anniversary of the United Nation's adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, is Dec 10. Faculty, staff, and students are invited to attend a panel discussion at 8 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 10, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium. Susan P. McCaffray, history department, and Cecil L. Willis, criminal justice, will be featured, and James J. Megivern, philosophy and religion, will moderate the discussion.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. John Bennett, associate professor, HPER, gave a presentation at the UNCW Alumni Association Board of Directors retreat, Nov. 14, titled "Excellence Through Teamwork."

Cameron Sperry, a part-time lecturer in the English department, will have her short story, "Steps," published in Sleeping With Dionysis, an anthology forthcoming from Crossing Press.

Three professors in the Department of Psychology recently presented research reports at the annual meeting of the Society of Neuroscience in Los Angeles. All of the presentations were co-authored by undergraduate psychology majors who are indicated below by asterisks: Dr. Mark Galizio, K. L. Hale,* M. Liborio,* and M. Miller:* "Effects of Serotonergic Anxiolytics on Behavior Maintained by Timeout From Avoidance." C. Hart,* A. Strauss,* and Dr. Robert Hakan: "Neurophysiological Effects of Systemic Nicotine on Neurons in the Nucleus Accumbens." Dr. William Overman, L. Carter,* S. Thompson,* B. Pate,* C. Pittman,* D. Trull,* K. Kieft,* and L. Williams:* "Development of Place Memory in Children as Measured in a Dry Morris Maze."

Dr. Melton McLaurin, professor of history, is one of the authors of You Wrote My Life, a book about lyrical themes in country music. The book is made up of essays by leading historians, sociologists, and observers of American culture. It is included in Cultural Perspectives on the American South, a series of annual interdisciplinary volumes published by Gordon and Breach Science Publications for the Center for the Study of Southern Culture at the University of Mississippi.

Two UNCW marine scientists, Dr. Kimon T. Bird and Dr. D. Fritz Kapraun, have received funds from the U.S. Agency for International Development to undertake a joint development project with the University of the Philippines. The project, titled "Genetic and Chemical Characterization of Philippine Agar Producing Seaweed as a Basis for Cultivar Selection," has been funded for $150,000. Non-federal contributions received from the University of the Philippines are estimated to be $100,000. The period of the grant is Oct. 1992 to Sept. 1994.

Dr. Gabriel Lugo, Dr. Wei Feng, Dr. Russell Herman, and Dr. Joseph Yan attended the Midwest-Southeastern Atlantic Second Joint Regional Conference on Differential Equations, held Nov. 13-15 at the University of Kentucky. Several attending faculty presented talks at the conference. Feng discussed "Coexistence, Stability, and Limiting Behavior in a One-Predator-

Two-Prey Model," Yan presented "Formation and Deformation of Patterns Through Diffusion," and Herman gave a talk titled "Soliton Dynamics for Near Integrable Differential-Difference Equations."

Dr. Sally P. Cummings, assistant professor, and Dr. P. Howard Cummings, associate professor in the School of Nursing, have been selected to Who's Who in American Nursing 1993-1994 by the Society of Nursing Professionals.

Dr. Marlene Rosenkoetter, dean, School of Nursing, and Dr. Betty Reynolds, associate dean, provided consultation and a workshop on curriculum development in nursing at the Barbados Community College, Bridgetown, Barbados, on Nov. 13.

Dr. Charles Lewis, professor of parks and recreation in the HPER department, presented a paper titled "The State of Recreation Education in North Carolina" at the 1992 Convention of the N.C. Recreation and Park Society held in Pinehurst.

Dr. Carol Chase Thomas, professor in the Department of Curricular Studies, presented a paper titled "Strategies for Written Language Assessment" on Nov. 20 at the 44th annual Conference on Exceptional Children held in Charlotte.

ANNOUNCEMENTS (continued)

Official Announcements

ENERGY CONSERVATION COMMITTEE

The Chancellor's Energy Conservation Committee for UNCW was formed in July 1991 and charged by the chancellor to develop a viable energy conservation policy for UNCW, determine procedures to implement conservation measures for UNCW, and develop methods of disseminating information to the campus community.

After a number of meetings, the committee identified areas of concentration and divided into three subcommittees. The subcommittees are Policy Development, Implementation Procedures, and Information Dissemination.

Volunteers from each building are needed to assist in monitoring energy use and to serve as liaisons between the Chancellor's Office and the campus community. Those interested should contact any one of the following committee members: Patsy Larrick, University Advancement; Charles Maimone, Auxiliary Services; Mel Gibson, Athletics; Andy Jackson, Psychology; Brock Snyder, University Center; Dan Noland, English; Roger Fry and Billy Farmer, physical plant; or Scott Huffman, student.

APPLE COMPUTERS

Faculty and staff should not install their Apple Computer equipment themselves. Contact purchasing services when equipment arrives, and they will make arrangements to have the equipment installed by a local Apple dealer.

MATH CONFERENCE

The Southeastern Atlantic Regional Conference on Differential Equations will be held at UNCW in the fall of 1993. This will be the first major gathering of mathematicians at UNCW. The local organizing committee for the conference will include Dr. Steven Bianco, Dr. Thaddeus Dankel, Dr. Wei Feng, Dr. Russell Herman, Dr. Gabriel Lugo (chair), Dr. Ibrahim Sadek, and Dr. Joseph Yan.

Dental Insurance

Blue Cross/Blue Shield will be UNCW's dental insurance carrier effective January 1. New enrollees must have enrollment forms to Human Resources by Friday, Dec. 4, for Jan. 1 coverage.

Holidays

The university will be closed Dec. 24 to Jan. 3, Dec. 24, 25, 26, 29 and Jan. 1 are holidays. Dec. 30 and 31 must be charged to vacation leave or accrued comp time. Comp time may be advanced for these two days, but must be made up within 12 months.

Pre-tax medical insurance deductions

Payroll deductions for medical insurance are made on a pre-tax basis automatically, unless you complete a benefit rejection form each year.

For most employees, this results in a 30 percent savings. However, employees who are eligible for the earned income tax credit should determine if they would be better off paying with after tax dollars and claiming the health insurance tax credit on their tax return.

Shared leave requests

Beverly Eakins, Budget Department, is recuperating from surgery and needs 134 hours to avoid leave without pay until she can return to work.

Furman Wilder, physical plant-grounds, needs 330 hours due to severe illness during the disability waiting period.

Reminder

To donate leave, complete a vacation leave request form including the number of vacation hours donated and the name of the employee to receive the hours. Send the request to your department head and then to Human Resources.

Secretarial & office support

The Secretarial and Office Support Quarterly Meeting will be held from 3 to 5 p.m., Dec. 4. Call ext. 3160 if you plan to attend.

ESC survey

The Employment Security Commission is conducting a random survey throughout state agencies. Five percent of state employees will receive a 51-question survey at their homes regarding the Performance Management Program.

The survey is being conducted to obtain an assessment of performance management practices, performance pay, and the dispute resolution procedures within the agency.

Human Resources encourages employees receiving the survey to respond to it and return it to the ESC by the Jan. 31 deadline.

Associate VP for public affairs sought

The University of North Carolina invites applications and nominations for the position of associate vice president for public affairs.

The associate VP will assist the vice president for public affairs in communicating about, representing and promoting the interests of UNC before the various agencies of the North Carolina state government, particularly the General Assembly, with special emphasis on budget and funding issues.

A candidate for this position should (1) have at least a B.A. degree from an accredited institution of higher education, (2) have had extensive public administrative experience, (3) be knowledgeable about legislative and executive aspects of the budget process of the state, (4) be familiar with the programs, needs, and resources of UNC, and (5) have highly developed interpersonal skills.

The application deadline is Dec. 15. Contact Human Resources for more information.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 19 December 10, 1992

Leutze hosts coach's show segments

For the third year, Chancellor Leutze will host a weekly segment on the Kevin Eastman Show, which airs at 12:30 p.m. on Sundays on Wilmington's TV-3.

The segments will include an interview with Wilmington Police Chief Robert Wadman, who will be reaching a criminal justice course at UNCW this spring, a pictorial history of the university, and close-up looks at the various areas of study offered by the university.

Below is a list of the people Leutze will interview and an airing schedule.

Dec. 13 - Kevin Eastman interviews Dr. Leutze, focusing on what it's like to be a chancellor.

Dec. 20 - Mike Sabrinski, former Seahawk basketball player 1968-72.

Jan. 10 - Rhone Sasser, CEO of United Carolina Bank.

Jan. 17 - Steven Weiss, chair, communication studies; Kim Kopka, TV-3 anchor and assignment editor (UNCW alumna); Sherri Connelly, TV-3 intern.

Jan. 24 - John Bennett, associate professor of health, physical education, and recreation, and HPER students.

Jan. 31 - Wilmington Police Chief Robert Wadman and Amber Juilene Garrett, criminal justice major.

Feb. 7 - Robert Warren, grounds superintendent.

Feb. 14 - History of UNCW with vintage photographs of the university provided by UNCW Archives.

Feb. 28 - Paul Miller, athletic director.

Eaton scholarship established

Cape Fear Community College and UNCW announced recently the establishment of scholarship programs at each institution to honor the late Dr. Hubert A. Eaton, prominent Wilmington physician, civil rights leader, and UNCW trustee.

Each institution will provide an annual scholarship of $500 to an incoming student beginning in the fall of 1993. Scholarship recipients may continue to receive the award each year based on academic performance.

The Hubert A. Eaton Scholarship is an outgrowth of a community effort to identify an appropriate means of honoring the late leader, who died in September 1991. The Hubert A. Eaton Task Force, formed in March 1992, includes representatives from the New Hanover County Schools, UNCW, CFCC, the City of Wilmington, the

New Hanover County Human Relations Commission, New Hanover Regional Medical Center, Friends of the Library, and the Commission on African American History. Rachel Freeman, vice chair of the New Hanover County School Board, chairs the task force.

Students eligible for the scholarship must meet the following criteria: graduate from any accredited high school in New Hanover County, achieve a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or higher, demonstrate a record of leadership, school and community service, and maintain a 3.0 GPA or higher for scholarship renewal.

Race will not be a factor in determining recipients. Where candidates are substantially equal in qualifications, choice shall be determined by need.

Tyndall picked for education dean

On the recommendation of Provost Marvin Moss and following consultation with trustees, Chancellor Leutze has forwarded the name of Dr. Robert E. Tyndall to President C. D. Spangler Jr. and the UNC Board of Governors as his choice to become dean of the School of Education. The Board of Governors will act on the recommendation at its Jan. meeting.

Tyndall has served as interim dean of the School of Education since 1991, having served as associate and assistant dean beginning in 1988. A former Moore County Superintendent of Schools, Tyndall spent more than 17 years in the public schools.

New Seahawk mascot to be "hatched" Sunday

We've all seen the university's new Seahawk logo, but the new Seahawk mascot has yet to be unveiled.

The Seahawk newspaper gave us a glimpse at his head last week, and the rest of him will be unveiled at the men's basketball game vs. Barton, at 2 p.m., Sunday, in Trask Coliseum.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR SALE

The Science and Mathematics Education Center has the following items available for sale to departments on campus. Call Henri at ext. 3034 for more information.

1) Ronco Alcatel mimeograph (#8800) and electronic stencil maker (#8852). This combination unit is five years old and comes with a supply of ink and stencils. $500.

2) Font cartridges for Hewlett-Packard laser printers. The cartridges work in all models of HP laser printers. Each cartridge is $75. Models available are:

- a) HP-ZIA (Microsoft fonts) - Times Roman and Helvetica
- b) HP-U - Helvetica and Letter Gothic
- c) HP-G - Prestige Elite
- d) Jetware SuperSet (425-in-one font cartridge)

3) Internal tape backup drive for IBM or compatible computers. Only used twice. Unit with five 80 MB tapes for $100.

4) 65 MB Seagate RLL hard drive with controller card. Formatted with MS-DOS 5.0. The controller card will handle two hard drives and two floppy drives and requires a full-size expansion slot. $125.

POINSETTIA SALE

Girls' Inc. of Wilmington is conducting its annual poinsettia sale Dec. 4 to 23. Red, white, or pink plants in 6" pots are available for $6.50.

Orders may be placed by contacting Pam Whitlock, ext. 3167; Laura Young, ext. 3856; Jan Lion, ext. 3227; Sandra Harkin, ext. 3174; Doretha Stone, ext. 3200; or the Girls, Inc. office at 763-6674. Place your order today. UNCW delivery will be tomorrow, Friday, Dec. 11, or plants may be picked up at the Girls Inc. office at 1502 Castle St. any day between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

UNCW VOLUNTEERS!

The Leadership Center's UNCW Volunteers! program members will give presentations to UNCW classes about volunteering in the community. Call the center at ext. 3877 for more information.

ENERGY CONSERVATION COMMITTEE

The mission statement for the Chancellor's Energy Conservation Committee is as follows:

UNCW is committed to the conservation of all natural resources. UNCW will take all reasonable measures to insure the effective, efficient and economical use of its resources. To make this mission successful, the support of all students, faculty, and staff is needed.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

University Advancement is seeking faculty and staff volunteers to act as ambassadors for guests of the university. People willing to give tours of the university and the Wilmington area, or participate in a hobby they have in common with a university guest, such as golf, tennis, or hunting, etc., are needed. Contact Margaret Robison at ext. 3879 for more information.

HOLIDAY PARTY

The Chancellor and Mrs. Leutze would like to remind all faculty and staff that they are invited to the Holiday Party scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 15, in Wagoner Hall. Everyone may bring their spouse or a guest.

If you did not receive an invitation, or are unable to attend, contact the Chancellor's Office at ext. 3030.

WORLD HUMAN RIGHTS DAY

World Human Rights Day, commemorating the 44th anniversary of the United Nation's adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, is today. Faculty, staff, and students are invited to attend a panel discussion at 8 p.m. tonight in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium. Susan P. McCaffray, history department; and Cecil L. Willis, criminal justice; will be featured, and James J. Megivern, philosophy and religion, will moderate the discussion.

STAR

The Office of the Dean of Students and members of STAR (Student Team Against Rape) wish to thank all faculty, staff, and students who supported Sexual Assault Awareness Week during November.

STAR and the Dean of Students office are planning a "Take Back the Night" walk for 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 16, on the UNCW campus. The march will draw attention to the tragedy of sexual assault and its relationship to violence and will emphasize the need for community involvement to stop it. All faculty and staff members interested in helping with this event are invited to attend the first planning meeting at 5 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 20, in Union room 201. For more information, call Diane Edwards at ext. 3577.

New members are needed for STAR for the spring semester 1993. Members develop and implement campus-wide assault educational programs. Men and minorities are especially encouraged to apply for these volunteer positions. Please encourage interested students to apply by stopping by Union room 104 or by calling Edwards.

SEANC

The State Employees Association of N.C. will sponsor "State Employees Appreciation Night" Jan. 16 in Trask Coliseum when the Seahawks host George Mason. Members of SEANC may purchase tickets for $3 from Gloria Sasser at ext. 3338.

THESIS DEFENSE

A Department of Biological Sciences graduate thesis defense by Nancy L. Andon titled "Molt-related changes in the gill ultrastructure of the decapod crustaceans Uca pugnator and Palaeomonetes pugio" will be held at 10 a.m., Monday, Dec. 14, in Friday Hall room 310. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

To read the Communique on VIDEOTEX type info at the $ prompt and select item 10, News and Publications.

Official Announcements

Shared Leave

A new shared leave policy revision allows donations of leave during the disability period associated with normal childbirth and recovery. Three employees have applied for shared leave donations for leave without pay associated with a new baby. They are:

Lori Barrett, Student Affairs, needs 203 hours.

Kim Stowell, NURC, needs 323 hours.

Claudette Saporito, GCAC, will need 240 hours.

Donations must be sent to Human Resources before Dec. 18. Call Dale at ext. 3161 with questions.

Beverly Eakins, Budget Department, who is recovering from surgery, and Furman Wilder, Physical Plant - Grounds, due to severe illness, are also in need of shared leave hours.

John Baldwin Jr., chair of the UNCW Alumni Association Board of Directors, and his parents, John Sr. and Virginia Baldwin, recently donated this 100-year-old display case to the UNCW Museum of World Cultures. The case came from the People's Drug Company, which was located in downtown Wilmington and owned and operated by the Baldwins for 40 years. Now on display in Alderman Hall, it contains artifacts from the university's Indonesian exhibit.

Faculty and Staff

Deborah Haywood, of the LivWELL Center for Health Promotion, was a reviewer of Small Business Innovative Research (SBIR) grant proposals for the Human Development and Aging Study Section of the National Institutes of Health in Washington, D.C. Nov. 12 to 13.

Dr. Michael S. Smith, Department of Earth Sciences, presented "Palaeontology and stratigraphy of the Cretaceous Niobrara Formation, northern Front Range, Larimer County, Colorado" and "Origin of Archaean quartz-cordierite gneisses (QCG), Gothabsfjord region, West Greenland: Trace element and oxygen isotope evidence for a hydrothermally altered felsic volcanoclastic precursor with an affinity to A-type granites" at the 1992 Geological Society of America National Meeting in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Dr. Candace Gauthier, Department of Philosophy and Religion, presented a paper, "Art and Visual Studies in Medical Education," to the annual meeting of the Society for Health and Human Values, held in Memphis, Tenn. in November. She also moderated a panel discussion on ethics and economics in medicine. She presented a lecture on "Ethical Issues in Medical Technology," to the N.C. Association of Medical Technologists and Clinical Laboratorians meeting held in Wilmington in October.

A professional profile of Dr. Moorad Alexanian, professor of physics, appeared in the first edition of MARQUIS Who's Who in Science and Engineering 1992-1993.

Barbara F. Waxman, associate professor of English, delivered a paper titled "Jewish Folk Materials in Jo Sinclair's The Changelings and Philip Roth's Patrimony" at the South Atlantic Modern Language Association Convention, Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 12 to 14.

Dr. Ann Lockledge and Dr. Robert Smith of the Department of Curricular Studies attended the 72nd annual meeting of the National Council for Social Studies in Detroit, Nov. 19 to 22. Both serve on operating committees of the organization. Lockledge also chaired a round table discussion, "Middle School Connections: Practical Strategies for Social Studies Across the Curriculum."

Dr. Deborah Dowd and Dr. Judy Peel, assistant professors in HPER, recently conducted a poster presentation titled "Dietary Fat Reduction Practices by College Males and Females" at the NCAHPERD Convention in Greensboro. Dowd also presented a paper titled "A Factor Analysis of Racquetball Playing Activity."

Welcome

Sherri Batson/Accounting

Faculty and Staff (cont)

On Nov. 19 Lu Huntley-Johnston, lecturer in the English Department, was the featured speaker at a meeting of the Craven County chapter of the International Reading Association. "Reading-Writing Connections: Children and Poetry" was the presentation topic.

Dr. Judith A. Hayn, Department of Curricular Studies, recently attended the meeting of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) and the preconvention session cosponsored by the Assembly on Literature for Adolescents (ALAN) which were held in Louisville. She represented the Cape Fear Writing Project at the National Writing Project Directors Meeting on Nov. 20.

Dr. Nancy Gladwell, coordinator of the parks and recreation management program in the HPER Department, was recently elected chair-elect of the North Carolina Recreation and Park Society's Educators Division.

Dr. Andrew F. Clark, assistant professor of history, chaired a panel titled "Migrations in the Senegal River Valley: Historical Perspectives" at the annual meeting of the African Studies Association held in Seattle, Wash., Nov. 21-24. Clark also presented the paper, "Migrations and Population Movements in the Upper Senegal Valley, 1890-1920."

Aida Toplin, coordinator of Study Abroad Programs in the Office of International Programs, has been appointed to the Human Services Allocation Advisory Board by the New Hanover County Commissioners.

Dr. P. Howard Cummings, associate professor in the School of Nursing, has been appointed to the eight-member Editorial Advisory Board of the North Carolina monthly magazine for R.N.'s, Nursing Matters. The board is made up of deans, directors, managers, and faculty of state-level nursing organizations across North Carolina.

Dr. Sybil K. Burgess, associate professor in the Department of Chemistry, participated in a panel review of research proposals with the General Medicine Study Section A of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Maryland, Oct. 26 to 28.

Dr. James H. Reeves, associate professor of chemistry, Dr. Shihua Song, and Dr. Edmond F. Bowden have had their paper "The Application of Square Wave Voltammetry to Strongly Adsorbed Quasireversible Redox Molecules" accepted for publication in Analytical Chemistry.

Dr. John Bennett, associate professor of physical education, HPER Department, gave a presentation at the Annual Convention of the N.C. Alliance for HPERD in Greensboro titled "Haiku What, Let's Make Connections-Integrate." He was also interviewed for an article titled "Curriculum Currents-New Directions" in the Subject Areas" to appear in the Dec. 1992 Update. His interview focused on promoting lifelong fitness for all students.

Dr. Kimon Bird (CMSR & biology) just returned from a meeting at the Brookings Institution, Washington, D.C. He met as part of a panel to discuss the possible role marine algae might play in the global warming problem. He specifically spoke on some of the economic and technical issues concerning marine algal culture and carbon dioxide uptake.

CAHILL AWARDS FOR FACULTY RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

The following faculty members have received Cahill Awards for Faculty Research and Development. The awards total $16,905.

Gur Adhar, Mathematical Sciences, $800
Optimum Representation of Constraint Graphs for Channel Assignment in VLSI

Robert Buerger, HPER, $500
A Reassessment of Recreational Impacts on Masonboro Island

Ann Conner, Fine Arts, $1000
Development of Woodcut as Painting Based Aesthetic

James Dockal, Earth Sciences, $775
Attendance at "Groundwater Flow and Well Hydraulics," a short course.

Paula Kamenish, English, $2000
The Present State of Bertolt Brecht's Berliner Ensemble

Robert Kieber/Pamela Seaton, Chemistry, $1700
Biologically Important Metabolites From the Marine Diatom Cylindrotheca

Kathleen Kowal, Psychology, $800
Death Anxiety in Indians and Americans: Does it Vary With Religion or Culture?

Jack Levy, Chemistry, $1000
Synthesis of Phosphorus-Containing Organic Compounds for Medicinal Applications

Thomas Loftfield, Sociology and Anthropology, $800
Seminar/symposium titled: "Historic Conservation: How Do We Articulate with the International Community?"

Brenda Loren, Psychology, $750
Relative Impact of Intrapersonal and Interpersonal Factors on Excessive Alcohol Consumption in College Students

William McCarthy, History, $1200
The Material Culture of the Manila Galleon Trade

Keith Newlin, English, $1200
Selected Letters of Hamlin Garland

Nora Noel, Psychology, $960
Substance Use by Psychiatric Patients

William Overman, Psychology, $720
Support Services for Learning and Memory Disability Study in Children

Joseph Pawlik, Biology, $800
Initiation of a new research program: Chemical Defenses of Caribbean Sponges

Carol Pilgrim, Psychology, $500
Disruption of Equivalence Classes

Barry Salwen, Fine Arts, $1000
A compact disk recording of music by the American composer Roger Sessions (1896-1985)

Barbara Waxman, English, $400
The Nonfiction of Aging

ANNOUNCEMENTS

RA'S NEEDED

Housing and Residence Life is looking for several students to fill resident assistant positions for the spring semester.

One of the most unique student leadership positions found on a university campus, it is also one of the most difficult to hold and perform well. The resident assistant is responsible for 40 to 70 residents in a hall, suite, or apartment building. An RA assumes the roles of teacher, counselor, role model, and student, and no student problem escapes the RA's involvement.

Applications are available from the Office of Housing and Residence Life (behind Schwartz Hall). RA's receive $2000 for the academic year, an additional $25 on declining balance, class registration priority, a free refrigerator, and the option of a single room for the price of a double room.

Refer interested, capable students to housing and residence life or have them call ext. 3241.

GLOBAL VOLUNTEERS

The UNCW Global Volunteers are willing to rake yards Dec. 12 to earn money for their upcoming Barbados service project. If you are interested in having your yard raked, call ext. 3877 weekdays before 5 p.m. or Margaret Bailey at 343-0019 after 5 p.m. and leave a message. Sponsored by the Leadership Center and United Campus Christian Ministries.

RESERVE LISTS

Randall Library reserves: faculty are asked to submit reserve reading lists for spring 1993 before Dec. 22. Send lists to Carolyn Andrews in the library or to ANDREWSC on VAX. To renew previous lists, call ext. 3790.

The deadline for Campus Communicu-e items is noon on Tuesdays. Send items to BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn Busse, University Relations.

DIVERSITY GROUP

The Diversity Group is looking for a faculty member studying oppression and its impact on the world who is interested in speaking to students at an upcoming retreat. Call Chris Kaberline at ext. 3241.

SECC DRAWING

Congratulations to the winners of the SECC contributors drawing. Prizes included a gift certificate from public service and extended education for a tuition waiver; UNCW apparel and mugs from the bookstore; and desserts and lunches from ARA Services.

MEETING SPACES

The University Center has a variety of meeting spaces available which include a conference room, a large ballroom, and smaller meeting areas to accommodate meetings from 6 to 600. Special lighting and audio/visual equipment is also available. For reservations, contact Heather Smith at ext. 3833.

GAME ROOM

The University Center gameroom is open the following hours:

Monday to Friday 10:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Saturday - Sunday 1 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Billiards, table tennis, and foosball are half price from 5:30 p.m. on Friday to 5:30 p.m. on Sundays. In addition, the gameroom has several new video games.

NEW FOOTBRIDGE, OCTOPUS

The Department of Biological Sciences invites you to enjoy the new scenic footbridge in the Bluethenthal Wildflower Preserve. Its entrance is approximately 200 feet east of the Union, and the bridge is located next to the preserve's pond.

The department has also acquired a new octopus, "Finger 2," which is on display in the lobby of Friday Hall.

ECUADOR TRIP

Dr. Paz Bartolome, professor, School of Education, and Dr. Rich Huber, assistant professor, School of Education, will sponsor a study abroad program in Quito, Ecuador this summer. Students may sign up for EDN 294 (Education with Global Perspectives) and EDN 336 (The Teaching of Science and Health).

Students and faculty will be housed with families in Ecuador. Participants will observe and participate in Quito schools in the morning and take classes in the afternoons. Tours to San Patricio, the Equator Line, and Indian areas will be arranged. A longer, four day/three night trip to Riobamba and Cuenca is being arranged.

Add-on trips can be taken to the Galapagos or into the jungle and rain forests. For more information, contact the Department of Curricular Studies or the Office of International Programs.

MOVIE TICKET SALE

The price of movie tickets, available at the Union information center, is $2 until Dec. 23. They are valid until Dec. 31 for select shows at Carmike Theaters.

FOOD FOR THE NEEDY

Faculty and staff are reminded to bring food for the needy to fill the canoe in the lobby of Alderman Hall.

PROGRAM UPGRADES

Purchasing has received upgrades for the following software programs under maintenance agreements: QuarkXPress and Financial Planning Toolkit. Anyone who ordered the original software should contact Phyllis Adams at ext. 3849.

PHONE NUMBER CHANGE

The after-hours phone number for the Student Health and Wellness Center has been changed as of Dec. 2. The new number is 343-6058. Use this number to reach student health personnel after 5 p.m. weekdays and on weekends.

Randall Library Workshops

Faculty members are invited to arrange for spring semester library instruction sessions by calling Donna Gunter, bibliographic instruction coordinator and reference librarian, at ext. 3689.

Register for Workshops I or II at the reference desk on the first floor of the library or by calling ext. 3760.

Workshop I: Introduction to Randall Library. Includes an overview of the library, location and arrangement of its collections, and the services of various library departments. Dates and times:

Jan. 13 (W) - 10 a.m.
Jan. 20 (W) - 2 p.m.
Jan. 21 (Th) - 9:30 a.m.
Feb. 8 (M) - 3 p.m.
Feb. 11 (Th) - 3:30 p.m.
Feb. 16 (T) - 9:30 a.m.

Workshop II: Introduction to the Online Public Access Catalog (OPAC). Includes how to search the OPAC for books and other materials, how to find books in the library, and how to search the OPAC from terminals outside the library. Dates and times:

Jan. 14 (Th) - 2 p.m.
Jan. 19 (T) - 11 a.m.
Jan. 22 (F) - 10 a.m.
Feb. 9 (T) - 2 p.m.
Feb. 10 (W) - 11 a.m.
Feb. 17 (W) - 3 p.m.

Workshop III: Introduction to ERIC on CD-ROM. ERIC (an education index) workshops are offered in the Curriculum Materials Center (second floor) throughout the spring semester at the following times:

9 - 10 a.m. (MWF)
1 - 2 p.m. (T Th)

To attend one of these workshops, call the Curriculum Materials Center at ext. 3362.

cut out this announcement and save it for future reference

Public Service and Extended Education

CPA Review Course. For candidates preparing to take the May 1993 Uniform CPA Examination. 6-10 p.m., Feb. 2-April 22. Tuition discount before Jan. 1. Call 1-800-274-3926 for more information or to register.

Wild Wild Water. Marine study program for children on teacher work days. 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., rain or shine. Program dates are Jan. 22, March 8, and April 26. Fee is $16 per day per participant. Fee includes round-trip transportation from UNCW to the N.C. Aquarium at Ft. Fisher, activities, field trips, and some supplies.

Musical Instruction. Individual instruction in piano, voice, violin, and other instruments with UNCW's distinguished faculty of artist/teachers. 30 or 60 minute lessons given weekly. Call for more information.

Springtime in London Trip. Visit this historic and world-class city. See all the famous landmarks; go on walking tours through London's architectural delights guided by Wilmington architectural historian Ed Turberg. April 17-25, $2,185. $250 deposit by January 15 registration deadline with balance due February 25. Includes round-trip airfare, hotel, continental breakfast, tips, local taxes, guided tours, three full days of travel on London buses and underground trains, admission fees, and a voucher booklet. Call for a detailed brochure.

Violin Lessons. Lynda Rolfes, fine arts faculty member, is offering lessons through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. Violin and viola students of all ages are welcome. Suzuki method classes are being offered for pre-school and early elementary age children. Older students will learn by the traditional method. Call for more information or fees.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Events Calendar

December 10 - 17

Thursday, December 10

World Human Rights Day
8 p.m., Bryan Auditorium

Friday, December 11

Feminist Colloquium
4 p.m., UC room 104

Santa's Christmas Tree performed by the Thalian Assoc.
Children's Theatre
7 p.m., Kenan Auditorium

Saturday, December 12

Santa's Christmas Tree (see above)
7 p.m., Kenan Auditorium

Sunday, December 13

Men's basketball vs. Barton
2 p.m., Trask Coliseum

Monday, December 14

John T. Hoggard High School
Choral Concert
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium

Wednesday, December 16

Task Force on Human Service Needs
7:30 p.m., Cameron Auditorium

Thursday, December 17

Christmas Dinner
5 to 7 p.m., Wagoner Hall, $5.50

For a more complete events listing, check the Events Calendar on VAX by typing EVENTS at the $ prompt

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 20 December 17, 1992

Premier issue of N.C. Humanities unveiled

The College of Arts and Sciences recently announced the publication of the first issue of North Carolina Humanities. An interdisciplinary journal addressed to the educated general public, it will be published twice yearly. The publication was developed to demonstrate the essential importance of the humanities to North Carolinians, and each issue will feature at least one article on a North Carolina topic. North Carolina Humanities is available to subscribers and through bookstores and libraries locally and across the state.

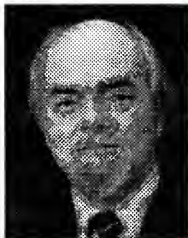

The articles in the first issue include a short story by Clyde Edgerton, who is the author of five novels; Raney, Walking Across Egypt, The Floatplane Notebooks, Killer Diller, and In Memory of Junior. Other articles examine the American flag as a religious symbol and the fast emerging united Europe. Closer to home, a story about Love Valley depicts a utopian community in the mountains of North Carolina. Also included in the volume's contents are essays on the literature of the Space Age, the curricula of American universities, poetry, and much more. Photographs by Tim Buchman illustrate the premier issue.

The editorial board, with Dr. Melton A. McLaurin, professor of history, as managing editor, developed the publication based on three basic assumptions. The first is that among North Carolina's most valuable human resources are the humanities scholars who work and teach in the state. The second is that humanities issues relate directly to the daily lives of all North Carolinians. The third assumption is that North Carolina's humanities scholars rarely communicate with their fellow citizens about the humanities issues that concern all.

"North Carolina Humanities is an experiment in improving communications between those for whom the humanities are a profession and others who are concerned with humanities issues," said McLaurin.

"The journal will be addressing medical ethics, racial relations, the role of religion in society, economic equity, regional culture, and educational values, to name a few potential topics."

North Carolina Humanities hopes to publish material from contributors within the state as well as from some living outside the state who have personal or professional ties to North Carolina. The cost to become a charter subscriber is $15 per year. To subscribe, contact McLaurin at ext. 3310. The work is also available at the UNCW Bookstore.

Time sheets due early

Student time sheets for December are due to the Payroll Office by Friday, Dec. 18, at 3 p.m. Dec. 21 to 23 hours are to be recorded on January time sheets. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 with any questions.

Ross retires

The physical plant's locksmith shop is saying goodbye to Caldwell Ross, who will retire Jan. 1. They hope he'll enjoy his retirement as much as they have enjoyed working with him. Please let him know how much he'll be missed.

Library schedule

Randall Library will be open the following hours during the intersession period:

Dec. 17 to 18 - 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Dec. 19 to 20 - closed

Dec. 21 to 23 - 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Dec. 24 to Jan. 3 - closed

Jan. 4 to 8 - 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Jan. 9 to 10 - closed

Jan. 11 - regular schedule begins

Happy Holidays

from the staff of

University Advancement

ANNOUNCEMENTS

PURCHASING

UNCW is pleased to have an exclusive contract for airfare with AAA Travel Agency. In an effort to strengthen this partnership, Purchasing is working to enhance communication about the program so full advantage may be taken of the services AAA and Purchasing have to offer.

Members of AAA management are available to discuss their services, your unique needs, and how they may best be addressed. They will talk with individuals or groups of your choice.

AAA has placed complete sets of TourBooks, CampBooks, and CitiBooks in several areas around campus for your reference: 1) Library, 2) University Union, 3) University Center, 4) International Programs, and 5) Purchasing. The books are for site reference, although AAA will provide a set for your department upon request.

Purchasing has revised the AAA desk reference handbook, and it is available upon request. AAA and Purchasing also have Motor Club applications for discounted memberships to UNCW faculty, staff, and students.

Call Mary Forsythe, assistant director of purchasing, at ext. 3154 if you have questions about the AAA contract, the AAA desk reference handbook, or are interested in a personal presentation.

UMBRELLAS

The University Information Center, located in the Union, is offering a new service for faculty, staff, and students. Umbrellas are available for check-out. You must present a UNCW I.D. to borrow an umbrella.

PHONE NUMBER CHANGE

The after hours phone number for the Student Health and Wellness Center has been changed as of Dec. 2. The new number is 343-6058. Use this number to reach student health personnel after 5 p.m. weekdays and on weekends.

The next Campus Communique will be distributed January 7.

COPY CENTER MOVES

The Copy Center will move to Westside Hall Dec. 21 and will be closed until 8 a.m., Jan. 6, for the move and equipment set-up. Please plan ahead for your copying needs. Printing Services regrets any inconvenience the closing may cause and looks forward to serving you in the new, more centrally located Copy Center. Two parking spaces are reserved in Lot E for Copy Center users.

ENERGY CONSERVATION

Did you know that UNCW's Physical Plant has in place a Preventive Maintenance Program? This team is responsible for servicing all heating and air conditioning for maximum efficiency.

This year the Physical Plant made 3500 service calls for heating and air conditioning.

FOOD FOR THE NEEDY

Faculty and staff are reminded to bring food for the needy to fill the canoe in the lobby of Alderman Hall by Monday, Dec. 21. The food will be donated to Mother Hubbard's Cupboard.

KETNER AWARD

UNCW employees are invited to submit innovative, cost-saving ideas for consideration for the Ralph Ketner Award. Ketner, a Salisbury resident and co-founder of Food Lion, will contribute a total of $10,000 to state government employees for their award-winning ideas.

Any suggestions adopted between now and June 30, 1993, will be eligible for the Ketner Award.

Winners will be chosen by a committee of Employee Suggestion System coordinators. For suggestion forms or more information, contact Pam Barnes in Human Resources at ext. 3162.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

University Advancement is seeking faculty and staff volunteers to act as ambassadors for guests of the university. People willing to give tours of the university and the Wilmington area, or participate in a hobby they have in common with a university guest, such as golf, tennis, or hunting, etc., are needed. Contact Margaret Robison at ext. 3879 for more information.

SEANC

The State Employees Association of N.C. will sponsor "State Employees Appreciation Night" Jan. 16 in Trask Coliseum when the Seahawks host George Mason. Members of SEANC may purchase tickets for $3 from Gloria Sasser at ext. 3338.

RESERVE LISTS

Randall Library reserves: faculty are asked to submit reserve reading lists for spring 1993 before Dec. 22. Send lists to Carolyn Andrews in the library or to ANDREWSC on VAX. To renew previous lists, call ext. 3790.

MOVIE TICKET SALE

The Student Government Association is holding a discount movie ticket sale. The price of tickets until Dec. 23 will be $1. They are valid until Dec. 31 for select Sunday to Thursday shows at Carmike Theaters. Tickets, while they last, are available at the University Information Center in the Union.

LIBRARY WORKSHOPS

Faculty members are invited to arrange for spring semester library instruction sessions by calling Donna Gunter at ext. 3689.

For a complete list of workshops available, read the Campus Communique on VIDEOTEX. To access it, type info at the $ prompt and select item 10, News and Publications.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION SEEKS BOARD MEMBERS

The UNCW Alumni Association is seeking nominations for its Board of Directors. Seven full-time positions and five alternate positions will be filled in early January.

Full-time appointments are for three-year terms; alternates serve one-year terms.

Nominations are open to anyone who has ever attended UNC Wilmington or Wilmington College. Potential board members should be active in UNCW alumni events, be contributing members of the Alumni Association, and be willing to attend board meetings. The Alumni Association Board of Directors meets four times a year.

Resumes should be forwarded by Dec. 31 to Jessiebeth Geddie, Nominations Committee, 6235 Turtle Hall Drive, Wilmington, NC 28409.

PRE-GAME SOCIAL

The Pre-Game Social, sponsored by the UNCW Alumni Association, for USAir East Coast Basketball Classic, will be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 19, in the Hawk's Nest.

The cost is $7.50 for adults, $3 for children ages 3 to 12 years, and free for children under age three.

Make reservations by leaving a message at ext. 3169.

YOGA CLASSES

The LivWELL Center for Health Promotion and the Student Development Center are co-sponsoring an eight-week yoga series with instructor Nancy Hayes. Classes begin Jan. 27 and end March 24. They will be held in the student development training room in Westside Hall from noon to 1 p.m. on Wednesdays. Limited class size. The cost is $24 for the eight week series, $12 for students. Call 350-4137 after Jan. 6 to pre-register or get more information.

News From Purchasing

One of Purchasing's most frequently asked questions is how long does it take for Purchasing to work up a requisition and get a purchase order in the mail. The following information will give you an idea of this timing.

1) ELECTRONIC REGULAR REQUISITIONS

Please plan your ordering so Purchasing and the appropriate vendor may do the best possible job for you. This is the normal, most frequent requisition handling method.

Processing within 7 to 10 days from receipt of requisition to printing PO.
NO STANDARD TEXT CODE

During busy times, such as the beginning of semesters and the fiscal year end, the volume of orders increases and the purchase order process may be delayed. Any special freight handling needs to be specified.

2) ELECTRONIC PRIORITY REQUISITIONS

To minimize use of this method, your consideration is requested before requiring "priority" handling. Think of your neighbor department.

Processing within two days
STANDARD TEXT CODE:
003 - Priority/Please Rush!

Please include necessary delivery date. Any special freight handling needs to be specified.

3) ELECTRONIC CONFIRM- ING REQUISITIONS

Purchasing is often asked to call an order to a vendor if the situation warrants it. They will call or FAX orders if your delivery date demands it. Issuing a requisition after a purchase has been made is contrary to university policy. If an invoice has been received, payment must be followed by a check request with a written explanation of the circumstances attached.

Next day processing
STANDARD TEXT CODES:
003 - Priority/Please Rush!

004 - Purchasing - Please call vendor with PO number

Text will be added to PO copies as follows:

Confirmed with: _____ (Name)
Date: _____

Delivery date must be specified in text. Any special freight handling needs to be specified.

4) EMERGENCY OR PRESS- ING NEED REQUISITIONS

Emergency orders will only be authorized if the goods or services are needed for a program to continue, because of a life threatening situation, a breakdown in machinery, or there is a pressing need that arose from unforeseen causes.

The requisition must be hand carried to Purchasing and an explanation must accompany the requisition.

Immediate processing on receipt of requisition

Any special freight handling needs to be specified.

The above processing times assume spending approval by those responsible for the funding account, receipt of any necessary attachments or approvals, and purchasing agent authorization. Items subject to bid will require a longer period of time.

Purchasing strives for service excellence. They can use all the information you can give them. For Purchasing to obligate your budget to additional freight charges, you must specify special freight handling needs such as overnight, second day, etc. An especially useful bit of information is the date you need the goods. That date becomes useless, however, if you are not realistic. The more time you give Purchasing, the better the job they can do.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Luther D. Lawson, associate professor of economics, has had the article "Does the Use of a Community Resource Person Affect a Learner's Level of Economic Comprehension?" accepted for publication in the Journal of the Southwestern Society of Economists (Volume 20, No. 1, 1993). Research for the article was funded in part by the United Carolina Bank Fellows program.

A research article by Dr. Wei Feng, assistant professor of mathematical sciences, with Dr. W.H. Ruan at Purdue University Calumet, titled "On the Fixed Point Index and Multiple Steady-state Solutions of Reaction-diffusion Systems" has been accepted for publication in the Journal of Differential and Integral Equations. The paper is concerned with the fixed point index of a compact operator and its application to the study of multiplicity of steady states in the three-species ecological models.

Education, Recreation, and Dance State Convention in Myrtle Beach Nov. 6 and 7. The titles were "Teaching Fitness and Dance Activities for the Elementary Physical Education Class" and "Social Dance for Elementary Teachers."

Dr. Rudi Kiefer of the Earth Sciences Department had his article "Concentrations and Controls of Soil Carbon Dioxide in Sandy Soil in the North Carolina Coastal Plain" published in CATENA (Geocology and Landscape Evolution), Dec. 1992.

Official Announcements

Holidays

The university will be closed Dec. 24 to Jan. 3, Dec. 24, 25, 26, 29 and Jan. 1 are holidays. Dec. 30 and 31 must be charged to vacation leave or accrued comp time. Comp time may be advanced for these two days, but must be made up within 12 months.

Shared Leave

Furman Wilder, from the physical plant, needs 330 hours to avoid leave without pay due to a severe illness.

Lori Barrett, Student Affairs, needs 203 hours, Kim Stowell, NURC, needs 323 hours, and Claudette Saporito, from GCAC, will need 240. All three need hours for leave without pay due to maternity.

Only 240 hours may be forwarded into the new year. Excess hours may be donated to any of the employees above to help them avoid leave without pay.

Thanks in advance for your generosity and please send donations before December 18. For questions, call Dale at ext. 3161.

Timesheets

Temporary, overtime, and shift premium timesheets must be submitted to Human Resources by close of business Wednesday, Dec. 23, or no later than 10 a.m., Monday, Jan. 4. Timesheets not meeting deadlines will not be processed for payment until February 15.

Dr. John Bennett, associate professor, HPER, presented two sessions for the South Carolina Association for Health, Physical

Welcome

Gail Montgomery/Accounting
Amy Watts/Public Service

Public Service and Extended Education

CPA Review Course. For candidates preparing to take the May 1993 Uniform CPA Examination. 6-10 p.m., Feb. 2-April 22. Tuition discount before Jan. 1. Call 1-800-274-3926 for more information or to register.

Wild Wild Water. Marine study program for children on teacher work days. 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., rain or shine. Program dates are Jan. 22, March 8, and April 26. Fee is $16 per day per participant. Fee includes round-trip transportation from UNCW to the N.C. Aquarium at Ft. Fisher, activities, field trips, and some supplies.

Musical Instruction. Individual instruction in piano, voice, violin, and other instruments with UNCW's distinguished faculty of artist/teachers. 30 or 60 minute lessons given weekly. Call for more information.

Springtime in London Trip. Visit this historic and world-class city. See all the famous landmarks; go on walking tours through London's architectural delights guided by Wilmington architectural historian Ed Turberg. April 17-25, $2,185. $250 deposit by Jan. 15 registration deadline with the balance due Feb. 25. Includes round-trip airfare, hotel, continental breakfast, tips, local taxes, guided tours, three full days of travel on London buses and underground trains, admission fees, and a voucher booklet. Call for a detailed brochure.

Violin Lessons. Lynda Rolfes, fine arts faculty member, is offering lessons through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. Violin and viola students of all ages are welcome. Suzuki method classes are being offered for pre-school and early elementary age children. Older students will learn by the traditional method. Call for more information or fees.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 21 January 7, 1992

Air pollution to be focus of talk by Hugh Morton

Wilmington native Hugh Morton - photographer, environmentalist, owner of Grandfather Mountain, father of the N.C. Azalea Festival and the Battleship North Carolina - will present a slide lecture on "The Effects of Air Pollution on Forests, Streams, and Human Health," at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 13, in Cameron Auditorium. The program is free, and the public is invited to attend.

For the last several years, Morton has traveled the Southeast with his photographs and slide projector bringing a message about the devastation of acid rain on Appalachian forests. He also shows how air pollution has damaged Eastern Europe, and how air pollution travels the world with no consideration to political boundaries, wreaking environmental destruction and damaging human health.

Hugh Morton

Morton's slide presentation will feature Mt. Mitchell and scenes from other high peaks of North Carolina, Eastern Europe (in particular the former Czechoslovakia), and New England.

"I think the people of Eastern Europe let air pollution go way too far because of pressure by Communist dictators to have production at all costs," Morton said. "We in the United States are far better off than they are, yet we're drifting in that direction."

Morton has worked with NC State University's acid rain expert, Dr. Robert Bruck, to document how acid rain turns evergreens into sticks. Using an acidity scale developed by Bruck with 1 for battery acid ranging to 5.5 for pure water, Morton shows a slide measuring the acidity level of fog on Mount Mitchell. The reading is 2.5, or the acidity of lemon juice.

Morton reports another disturbing Bruck finding about a reading of rime ice (clouds frozen in trees) that measured 2.1 - moving closer to battery acid.

Through his slide lectures, a public television documentary that will feature Walter Cronkite as narrator, and other activism as a conservationist, Morton is doing his part to turn the situation around before it's too late.

Jazz Ensembles hold 1993 auditions

The UNCW Jazz Ensembles, directed by Dr. Frank J. Bongiorno, will hold auditions from 5 to 7 p.m., Jan. 13, in Kenan Hall room 109-C.

Performing groups include a large jazz ensemble, jazz combos, and a jazz fusion group, which perform several concerts throughout the year with a final guest artist festival concert each spring.

Auditions are open to UNCW students and members of the Wilmington community. Previous jazz experience not required. Audition appointments can be made by calling ext. 3390.

UNCW commemorates King birthday

UNCW will commemorate the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. with programs Jan. 12 and 13, one featuring Wilmington pastor Johnny R. Calhoun and the other featuring Stanford University history professor and leading King authority Dr. Clayborne Carson.

"Dr. Martin L. King Jr. - Remembered" will be the topic of UNCW's 10th annual program of commemoration with keynote speaker The Rev. Johnny R. Calhoun, pastor of Wilmington's St. Stephen A.M.E. Church, at 3:30 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 12, in the UC Ballroom. The event is free and the public is invited to attend.

"Hopefully, the community will rally around the effort and use it as a motivating vehicle to go even beyond the dreams and hopes of this great individual we are commemorating," said Ralph Parker, director of the Office of Minority Affairs, program sponsor.

In addition to the keynote speech, special music is planned.

Dr. Clayborne Carson, professor of history, Stanford University, will present "Martin Luther King Jr. in Retrospect" at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 13, in the University Center Ballroom. A leading authority on King, Carson is editor of the King Papers, and author of two major books: In Struggle: SNCC and the Black Awakening of the 1960s and Malcolm X: The FBI File.

The event is co-sponsored by the Department of History, the Department of Political Science, the Black Student Leadership Network, and the Office of Minority Affairs.

Catta, Muller, and Wilson win 1993 Albert Schweitzer prizes

Winners of the 1993 Albert Schweitzer International Prizes, presented every four years on the campus of UNCW, were announced at a recent press conference. The international slate represents Costa Rica, England, and Senegal.

Prize winner for music is Father Dominique Catta, a Benedictine monk who has been instrumental in creating a new tradition of religious music in West Africa that blends African melodies with the Gregorian chant, lending potency and meaning to Christian liturgy in predominantly Moslem Senegal. A native of France, Catta joined the Benedictine order in 1946 at the age of 20.

Prize winner for humanities is Robert Muller, the "philosopher of the United Nations" and first chancellor of the United Nations-established University for Peace in Costa Rica, who has spent his life advocating a peaceful world without borders. He joined the United Nations Secretariat in 1948. In 38 years of service at the UN, Muller rose to the rank of Assistant Secretary-General and worked directly with U Thant, Kurt Waldheim, and Javier Perez de Cuellar helping coordinate the work of dozens of UN agencies.

Prize winner for medicine is Sir John Wilson, whose work has been instrumental in the founding of world agencies for the prevention of avoidable blindness and other disabilities. Born in 1919, Wilson was blinded at the age of 12 in a school chemistry lab accident. After earning degrees in law and sociology at Oxford University, he joined the staff of the Royal National Institute for the Blind in London.

As part of his work there, he made the first of many journeys to third-world countries to collect information on blindness. This led to the founding of the Royal Commonwealth Society for the Blind, which he directed from 1950-83.

In 1983, as a result of his work, the United Nations, World Health Organization, and UNICEF joined forces to establish IMPACT, an international initiative against avoidable disablement. Knighted in 1975, Wilson lives in Brighton, Sussex, England.

The three prize recipients will each be present to receive a bronze medal and a check for $7,500 in ceremonies at 8 p.m., Thursday, March 18, 1993, in Kenan Auditorium on the campus of UNCW.

The prizes are awarded every four years by the N. C. Educational, Historical and Scientific Foundation, Inc., to individuals worldwide who reflect Albert Schweitzer's philosophy of "Reverence for Life." The prizes recognize excellence in medicine, music, and the humanities, the three areas in which Schweitzer excelled.

Recipients are chosen by a secret selection committee.

Schweitzer Prizes Events

all events are free and open to the public

Sunday, March 14

Reception to open Schweitzer Memorabilia Exhibit, 3:30 p.m., Randall Library
Organ Concert with John Jordan
5 p.m., First Presbyterian Church

Monday, March 15

Lecture featuring Dr. James R. Leutze
Presentation of Essay Award Prize Winners
7:30 p.m., Cameron Hall Auditorium

Tuesday, March 16

One Act Play about Mrs. Albert Schweitzer
"I Am His Wife" with Lilly Lessing
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium

Wednesday, March 17

Pianist Roya Weyerhaeuser and the Wilmington Symphony, Dr. Steven Errante, conducting, 8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium

Thursday, March 18

Schweitzer International Prize Ceremony
8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium
Reception following, Wagoner Hall

Technology classroom unveiled

AT&T has granted $135,000 in computer equipment to UNCW which has allowed the university to develop its first "Technology Classroom." Equipment arrived in mid-November and has been installed in Bear Hall room 103 for use by faculty and students.

AT&T's gift of computer equipment was part of $19.5 million granted to 90 colleges and universities announced in September 1992. UNCW was one of four higher education institutions to receive a share of $1.22 million awarded in North Carolina.

The grant to UNCW was made on a competitive basis. AT&T selected 59 universities and colleges to receive equipment donations from among more than 158 proposals. George Quinn, director of computing and information systems, coordinated UNCW's proposal working with the faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences.

The donated equipment consists of 20 student station microcomputers connected by a local area network called StarLan to a master microcomputer. The master microcomputer, also known as a fileserver, holds all the programs to be used at the professor's direction.

Scheduling priority will be given to mathematical science, computer science, biology, sociology and anthropology, but other academic areas may use the facility when the schedule permits.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

CPR/STANDARD FIRST AID

The Safety Department will offer CPR/Standard First Aid training on the following dates:

Jan. 20 and 21 - 8 a.m. to noon
Feb. 2 and 3 - noon to 4 p.m.
Feb. 15 and 16 - 8 a.m. to noon
March 9 and 10 - noon to 4 p.m.
March 18 and 19 - 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.
March 30 and April 1 - 8 a.m. to noon

The cost is $18.50. Call ext. 3057 for reservations/questions.

TRUSTEE MEETINGS

The regular quarterly committee meetings of the Board of Trustees of UNCW are listed below.

Please note that these meetings are being held prior to the full board meeting scheduled for 1 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 13, in Wagoner Hall's Madeline Suite.

Committee meetings

Student Affairs Committee: 1 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 12, UC Conference Room, UC 104. Academic Affairs Committee: 3 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 12, Alderman Hall, Room 215. Business Affairs Committee: 7:30 a.m., Wednesday, Jan. 13, Hawk's Nest Glass Room. University Advancement Committee: 10 a.m., Wednesday, Jan. 13, University Center Conference Room, UC 104.

YOGA

The LivWELL Center for Health Promotion and the Student Development Center are co-sponsoring an eight-week yoga series with instructor Nancy Hayes.

Classes begin Jan. 27 and end March 24. They will be held in Westside Hall's student development training room from noon to 1 p.m. Wednesdays. Class size is limited.

The cost is $24 for the eight-week series, $12 for students. Call 350-4137 to pre-register or get more information.

ROOM SIGN-UP

1993-94 returning students' room reservation sign-up will be held during the month of February.

Students must pay a $100 housing deposit to Auxiliary Services before reserving a room. Deposits are now being accepted, and students must present receipts when signing up for a room.

For more information, contact Auxiliary Services at ext. 3241.

SEANC

The State Employees Association of N.C. will sponsor a legislative breakfast, 9 to 10:30 a.m., Saturday, Jan. 16, in the Madeline Suite. Tickets are $5. For more information, call Gloria Sasser, ext. 3338. All state employees are invited to attend.

SEANC will sponsor "State Employees Appreciation Night" Jan. 16 in Trask Coliseum when the Seahawks host George Mason. Members of SEANC may purchase tickets for $3 from Gloria Sasser, ext. 3338.

COMMUNIQUE ON VIDEOTEX

To access the Communique on VIDEOTEX, select service to the VAX and login to Username: INFO or type INFO at the $ prompt and select item 10, news and publications.

MEETING SPACES

The University Center has a variety of meeting spaces available including a conference room, large ballroom, and smaller meeting areas to accommodate meetings from 6 to 600. Special lighting and audio/visual equipment are also available. For reservations, contact Heather Smith at ext. 3833.

The deadline for Campus Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

CRUISE

The UNCW Alumni Association is sponsoring a week-long cruise to the Caribbean, set for the week of May 23, aboard Carnival Cruise Line's newest ship, the Ecstasy. The cruise begins in Miami and sails to Cozumel and Playa del Carmen, Grand Caymen, and Ocho Rios, Jamaica.

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to join in on the cruise. A portion of each fare will benefit the Alumni Association. For more information, call Carol King Choplin at ext. 3616.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

University Advancement is seeking faculty and staff volunteers to act as ambassadors for guests of the university. People willing to give tours of the university and the Wilmington area, or participate in a hobby they have in common with a university guest, such as golf, tennis, or hunting are needed. Contact Margaret Robison at ext. 3879 for more information.

RECYCLE UNCW

Last year, an average of 1,024,255 sheets of paper passed through printing services each month. That figure includes all of the paper used by the print shop and in copy machines.

The chancellor's office urges faculty and staff to recycle paper and envelopes, reduce use of colored paper, and utilize E-Mail and the Campus Communique to communicate with others on campus.

LOST & FOUND

UNCW's lost and found is located in the Union information center. If you have misplaced a personal item on campus, call the center at ext. 3841.

POSTAL SERVICES

Postal Services offers a paper shredding service. Call Doris Moore at ext. 3734 for details.

Public Service and Extended Education

Faculty and Staff

CPA Review Course. For candidates preparing to take the May 1993 Uniform CPA Examination. 6-10 p.m., Feb. 2-April 22. Tuition discount before Jan. 1. Call for more information or to register.

Wild Wild Water. Marine study program for children on teacher work days. 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., rain or shine. Program dates are Jan. 22, March 8, and April 26. Fee is $16 per day per participant. Fee includes round-trip transportation from UNCW to the NC Aquarium at Ft. Fisher, activities, field trips, and some supplies.

Musical Instruction. Individual instruction in piano, voice, violin, and other instruments with UNCW's distinguished faculty of artist/teachers. 30- or 60-minute lessons given weekly. Call for more information.

Springtime in London Trip. Visit this historic and world-class city. See all the famous landmarks; go on walking tours through London's architectural delights guided by Wilmington architectural historian Ed Turberg. April 17-25, $2,185. $250 deposit by January 15 registration deadline with balance due February 25. Includes round-trip airfare, hotel, continental breakfasts, tips, local taxes, guided tours, three full days of travel on London buses and underground trains, admission fees, and a voucher booklet. Call for a detailed brochure.

Violin Lessons. Lynda Rolfes, fine arts faculty member, is offering lessons through the Division for Public Service and Extended Education. Violin and viola students of all ages are welcome. Suzuki method classes are being offered for pre-school and early elementary age children. Older students will learn by the traditional method. Call for more information or fees.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Brooks Dodson, English, spent Dec. 9 to 13 in New Jersey reading and evaluating essays written by high school seniors as part of the English Composition Achievement Test, sponsored by the College Board. The test scores are used by colleges and universities in determining admission and scholarship awards. About 150 high school and college English teachers from around the U.S. participated, and each of about 80,000 essays was evaluated by at least two readers.

Scott Carpenter, Public Service and Extended Education, has received a $100,000 grant from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation to support the Southeastern Network for Economic Development. The period of the grant is from Nov. 1992 to Nov. 1994.

Dr. Jack Baker, accountancy and business law, has been appointed to the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Association of CPAs (NCACPA). He is also serving as the president of the Cape Fear Chapter of NCACPA.

Dr. David M. Andrews, School of Education, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Association for the Education of Teachers of Science (AETS), and has been nominated for the office of division director for teacher education for the National Science Teachers Association (NSTA).

Events Calendar

January 7 - 14

Monday, January 11

Classes begin

Tuesday, January 12

"Dr. Martin L. King - Remembered" with Johnny R. Calhoun
3:30 p.m., UC Ballroom, free

Women's basketball vs. Campbell
7:30 p.m., Trask Coliseum

Wednesday, January 13

"The Effects of Air Pollution on Forests, Streams, and Human Health" with Hugh Morton
8 p.m., Cameron Auditorium, free

"Martin Luther King Junior in Retrospect" with Dr. Clayborne Carson
8 p.m., UC Ballroom, free

Thursday, January 14

Men's basketball vs. Sacramento State
7:30 p.m., Trask Coliseum

*For a more complete events listing, check the events calendar
on VAX by typing EVENTS at the $ prompt*

Official Announcements

SPA forms

Forms for processing SPA classifications, including job descriptions (clerical PDOSS 91 and all other PD102Rs), request for recruitment (Form HR 1.10), and request for EPA/SPA position actions (HR 3.30) are now available through Central Forms.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 22 January 14, 1993

Rockness named dean of Cameron School;

Joanne Rockness named Cameron professor of accounting

The Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina have approved the appointment of Dr. Howard Rockness, business professor at UNC-Chapel Hill, to be the second dean of the Cameron School of Business Administration.

His appointment, which includes tenure in the Department of Accountancy and Business Law, is effective July 1, 1993, culminating a search that began in March 1992.

In separate action, the governors approved the appointment of Dr. Joanne Rockness to the tenured position of Cameron Professor of Accountancy within the UNCW business school effective Aug. 9, 1993. She currently holds the position of professor of accounting and associate dean of the College of Management at NC State University in Raleigh where she has taught since 1983.

"Howard received the MBA Outstanding Teaching Award from Chapel Hill in 1984, and Joanne received the College of Humanities and Social Sciences Outstanding Teaching Award at NC State in the spring of 1991."

Leutze in particular highlighted Howard Rockness' achievements between 1988 and 1992 when he was associate dean for the master of business administration program of the Kenan-Flagler Business School. During his tenure, the MBA program consistently ranked among the top in the country.

The chaired Cameron Professor of Accountancy that Dr. Joanne Rockness will occupy was made possible by a special grant provided by the North Carolina General Assembly for the Distinguished Professor Endowed Trust Fund. She becomes the first person to hold the first such chair established at UNCW. The necessary matching funds were provided through the generosity of the families of Bruce B. Cameron Jr. and Daniel D. Cameron of Wilmington.

Rockness comes to UNCW following a distinguished career in higher education which began as an assistant professor of accounting at NC A&T State University in 1975. She became an assistant professor of accounting at NC State in 1983, was promoted to associate professor in 1986, and was named professor of accounting and associate dean in 1992.

Grove to discuss "Earth in Crisis"

Noel Grove, senior assistant editor and writer for National Geographic Magazine, will discuss "Earth in Crisis" at 3:30 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 28, in the UC Ballroom. The presentation is free, and the public is invited to attend. Attendance vouchers will be available to students.

Grove currently heads National Geographic's department on the environment, and, from June to December, 1992 wrote the environmental column "Earth Almanac" for the magazine. He joined the organization as a caption writer in 1969 and since then has written 19 by-lined articles and three book chapters for National Geographic book divisions.

Grove's articles cover a variety of subjects, and hands-on research has taken him all over the world. He spent three weeks beside an erupting volcano in Iceland, hunted with Stone Age Indians in the Jungles of Venezuela, and sailed down the Mississippi River on a homemade raft for a story about Mark Twain. In 1980, he investigated illegal trade of wildlife around the world; his article on the subject was reprinted in the Congressional Record, and he was asked to testify before a senate subcommittee.

For his book Wild Lands for Wild Life, which has sold more than 425,000 copies, Grove wrestled alligators in Louisiana to help tag them, participated in a buffalo roundup on horseback in Nebraska, and was air-dropped in the Brooks Range of Alaska and picked up 10 days later.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

COPY CENTER MOVES

The Copy Center has moved to Westside Hall. Its entrance is on the north side of the building facing the library. Two parking spaces in lot E are available for Copy Center users.

Requests for supplies and service for copier machines should be directed to Rhonda Franklin, ext. 3083.

RECYCLING

Due to the efforts of the faculty, staff, and students, Recycling Services has removed 57,429.75 pounds of waste from our waste stream. This makes almost 30 tons of garbage that has been recycled since June 30, 1992.

Anyone who does not have a recycling desk top box should contact Towana Moore at ext. 3051. She will also be happy to assist you with any recycling questions or suggestions you may have.

Departments with cardboard they would like to recycle should contact Moore.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES MOVES

The offices of the Department of Communication Studies have moved from Kenan Hall to the Burney Student Support Center. All phone numbers remain the same.

OPERATOR SERVICES

Changes in locations or extension numbers and additions of new faculty or staff, etc. that occurred after the faculty and staff directory was distributed should be forwarded to Operator Services to update the PhoneBook database. Information relating to established schedules or activities should also be sent.

STUDENT TIME SHEETS

Student time sheets for January are due to the Payroll Office by 3 p.m., Friday, Jan. 29. Student time sheets for February are due by 3 p.m., Friday, Feb. 26. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 with questions.

KAYAKING CLINIC

The Discover Outdoor Leadership Program of Campus Recreation and Intramurals, the Office of Diving and Water Safety, and the Department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation are sponsoring a sea kayaking clinic at Trask Swimming Pool from noon to 4 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 31. The clinic will be presented by Scott Hornesby of Prijon Kayaks and will feature the latest kayaks, paddling techniques, and kayaking equipment. Registrants will be allowed hands-on tryouts.

Experienced and novice paddlers are invited and may register at the Discover Center, UC room 138. For more information, contact Brock Snyder at the Discover Center, ext. 4052.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Jan. 14 -- Seahawks vs. Sacramento State. Tarheel Photo/Atlantic Coast Cellular Night. The "Little Seahawks" basketball ball team will perform at halftime, a cellular phone will be given away, and free 8X10 color team photos will be given away at the door.

Jan. 16 -- Seahawks vs. George Mason. Coca-Cola T-Shirt Night. The UNCW Dance Team will perform, and 2,500 free Coca-Cola T-shirts will be given away. It will also be State Employees Appreciation Night, and members of SEANC will purchase tickets for $3 from Gloria Sasser at ext. 3338.

Jan. 18 -- Seahawks vs. American. Belk Beery/Nike Night. The "Little Seahawks" will perform at halftime, and Nike and Belk will hold giveaways at halftime.

All games will include a $500 half-time shootout and a Hawk's Nest giveaway and will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Trask Coliseum.

FOR SALE

For sale to UNCW departments: Digital Rainbow 100+ terminal, monitor, keyboard, and Digital LQP02 wide carriage letter quality printer. Any reasonable offer. Call Jan Lion at ext. 3227.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

On Oct. 17, 1992, Habitat for Humanity International officially recognized and acknowledged UNCW as a campus chapter of the organization. This recognition is a tribute to the hard work and dedication of the many students involved, past and present, at UNCW.

STUDENT TAX STATUS

Departments are responsible for notifying student employees wanting to claim or continue exempt tax status for 1993 that they must complete a new W-4 form. Forms are available at the Payroll Office and must be returned to payroll by Jan. 29. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 with questions.

STAR

STAR (Student Team Against Rape) is recruiting volunteer student peer educators for its sexual assault prevention program. STAR members assist in educational programs on sexual assault issues for UNCW students. No experience needed; men and minorities encouraged to apply. Refer interested students to University Union room 104 or call ext. 3577. The deadline for spring semester positions is Jan. 25. Recruitment for 1993-94 volunteers will be held in March.

STAR is sponsoring a "Take Back the Night" march from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, March 16, on the UNCW campus to draw attention to the needless tragedy of sexual violence. The involvement of concerned faculty and staff members is needed to help make the march a success. A planning meeting is scheduled for 5 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 20, in Union room 201. For more information, contact Diane Edwards at ext. 3577.

UNCW CLOSED MONDAY

UNCW will be closed on Monday, Jan. 18 in recognition of Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

SEXUAL ASSAULT ADVISORY BOARD

The Sexual Assault Advisory Board is looking for interested faculty members who would like to join the group. The next meeting will be held at 2 p.m., Jan. 25, in Union room 201. Call Diane Edwards at ext. 3577 or Chris Kaberline at ext. 3241 for more information.

THESIS DEFENSE

Biological Sciences will host a graduate thesis defense by Richard G. Harmon entitled "Sodium Concentration in Taxodium distichum Across an Ecological Gradient" at 2 p.m., Friday, Jan. 15, in Friday Hall room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

BACKPACKING TRIP

The Discover Outdoor Leadership Program's second annual Women's Backpacking Trip will be Jan. 23 and 24 to the Uwharrie National Forest. The cost for faculty and staff is $30 and includes transportation and equipment. For more information, contact the center, UC room 138, ext. 4052. The sign-up deadline is Jan. 19.

Margaret T. Robison, University Advancement, has been named director of university development. She will assist the vice chancellor for university advancement, William G. Anlyan, in the development and management of programs that lead to private gifts to the university. Robison formerly served as director of the Annual Fund.

Kathleen Halme, assistant professor of English, and Dr. Lori White, assistant professor of fine arts, have received 1992-93 Emerging Artist Program Grants from the Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear.

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama in the Fine Arts Department, will give a film/lecture on D.W. Griffith's

STUDENT HOURS

Students can meet with Chancellor Leutze in his office during the following hours:

3:30 to 5 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 14
3:30 to 5 p.m., Friday, Feb. 5
8:30 to 9:30 a.m., Monday, Feb. 22
3:30 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, March 10
3:30 to 4:30 p.m., Thursday, March 18
3:30 to 5 p.m., Monday, April 5
3:30 to 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 21
3:30 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, April 28
3:30 to 5 p.m., Tuesday, May 4
3:30 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, May 12

EAGLIN RESIGNS

Paul B. Eaglin, special assistant to the chancellor for legal affairs, has resigned to accept the position of associate counsel with the University of Alaska system. Eaglin anticipates beginning his new assignment in Fairbanks, Alaska, within the next month.

OPEN HOUSE

Printing Services invites you to an open house at the new Copy Center located in Westside Hall from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 21.

RUSSIAN COUPLE VISITS UNCW

Dr. Konstantine Burdin of Moscow State University, Russia, is joining Kimon Bird of CMSR for a nine-month collaborative effort in marine environmental research. They will work on heavy metal pollution and the role of marine algae in accumulating these toxins. His stay is funded by the U.S. National Academy of Science, and he will be here for nine months. His wife, Dr. Marina Efimova, of the Moscow Institute of Foreign Languages, is teaching a course in German literature this semester.

ART ON DISPLAY

Wilmington artist Brooks Pearce will exhibit her work in the Union living room Jan. 12 to Feb. 19. A meet the artist reception will be held from 4:30 to 6 p.m., Jan. 21. Pearce will sign copies of her 1993 educational habitat poster created for the North Carolina Non-game and Endangered Species Program. The theme of this year's poster is the beaver pond.

The deadline for *Campus
Communique* items is noon on Tuesdays.

Faculty and Staff

1919 Broken Blossoms at 2 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 17, at Brookgreen Gardens in Murrels Inlet, S.C.

In contrast to Griffith's spectacles of romantic melodramas, Broken Blossoms remains his most poignant, delicate work with a special plea for understanding between different races and beliefs. Lillian Gish, still performing today in her 90s, gives a superlative performance. The film/lecture is free. There is an admission charge to Brookgreen.

Mary Ellen Polson, Advancement, was among the winners in the 1993 Case District III Advancement Awards Competition. Polson, editor of UNCW Magazine, won an Award of Excellence in feature writing for a story that appeared in the Fall 1992 issue of UNCW magazine, "Wise House: A Great Lady Reveals Her Past." In October, Polson won second place in the 1992 American Association of Sunday and Feature Editors competition for a feature written for The Wilmington Morning Star.

Dr. Frank Bongiorno, Fine Arts/Music, has been invited to perform a concerto at the First National Symposium of the National Association of College Wind and Percussion Instructors at Auburn University on Jan. 16. He will perform the Fantasia Concertante by Bernard Heiden with the Auburn University Wind Ensemble.

Randall Library Workshops

Faculty are invited to arrange for spring semester library instruction sessions by calling Donna Gunter, bibliographic instruction coordinator and reference librarian, at ext. 3689.

Register for Workshops I or II at the reference desk on the first floor of the library or by calling ext. 3760.

Workshop I: Introduction to Randall Library. Includes an overview of the library, location and arrangement of its collections, and the services of various library departments. Dates and times:

Jan. 20 (W) - 2 p.m.
Jan. 21 (Th) - 9:30 a.m.
Feb. 8 (M) - 3 p.m.
Feb. 11 (Th) - 3:30 p.m.
Feb. 16 (T) - 9:30 a.m.

Workshop II: Introduction to the Online Public Access Catalog (OPAC). Includes how to search the OPAC for books and other materials, how to find books in the library, how to search the OPAC from terminals outside the library. Dates and times:

Jan. 14 (Th) - 2 p.m.
Jan. 19 (T) - 11 a.m.
Jan. 22 (F) - 10 a.m.
Feb. 9 (T) - 2 p.m.
Feb. 10 (W) - 11 a.m.
Feb. 17 (W) - 3 p.m.

Workshop III: Introduction to ERIC on CD-ROM. ERIC (an education index) workshops are offered in the Curriculum Materials Center (second floor) throughout the spring semester at the following times:

9 - 10 p.m. (MWF)
1 - 2 p.m. (T Th)

To attend one of these workshops, call the Curriculum Materials Center at ext. 3362.

Cut out this announcement and save it for future reference

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

SALWEN PERFORMS IN DEBUT WILMINGTON CONCERT

Pianist Barry David Salwen will present his first Wilmington concert at 8 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 16, in Kenan Auditorium. The program will include music of Schubert, Beethoven, Brahms, Sessions, and Schumann. Admission is free.

Salwen joined the UNCW music faculty this past fall. He is an international concert pianist who has performed in North and Central America, Europe, and Asia.

Next season, along with concert engagements, Salwen will be giving master classes at the Shanghai Conservatory of Music, in the People's Republic of China.

LETTERS FROM LEOKADIA

An original dramatic presentation, "Letters from Leokadia," will be presented by the Touring Theatre Ensemble of Greensboro at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 21, in Cameron Hall Auditorium.

The play, sponsored by the College of Arts and Sciences, is free and open to the public.

"Letters from Leokadia" tells the story of Leokadia, a Polish factory worker, who, on a November morning in 1942, heard an abandoned baby crying and suspected that the baby's parents were Jewish and had been captured by the Nazis.

Leokadia raised the child as her own, knowing all along that if authorities found out she was raising a Jewish child she and the baby would be killed.

The child's father returned from a Nazi prison camp after the war, and, afraid to stay in Poland, moved to Israel with the child. Twenty years later Leokadia wrote to the child, now a grown woman, about what life had been like for them during the war.

These letters came to the attention of Brenda Schleunes, director of the Touring Theatre Ensemble, while she was visiting Jerusalem in 1989. She adapted the letters for a stage performance.

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

All interested faculty, staff, and students are invited to the Feminist Colloquium, 3 to 4 p.m., Friday, Jan. 22, in UC room 104. The reading to be discussed, a selection from Backlash by Susan Faludi, is on reserve in the library.

BLOOD DRIVE

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive at UNCW from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 26, in the UC Ballroom. All blood types have been critically low during December and January, and the Red Cross hopes to reach its goal of 75 units for the day.

Donors must weigh at least 110 pounds and be in good health. Donations can be made every eight weeks.

The Quality Corner

Why has higher education taken a sudden interest in quality? That's a question that has generated discussion on campuses throughout the country. In the coming weeks, The Quality Corner will provide information about the quality movement and its potential to make improvements in university services.

Articles will focus on questions like "What is Total Quality?", "Why Total Quality at UNCW?", "Who is involved in Total Quality?", and "How does it work?", and define the role of the customer, present information on the changing leadership role, and propose some ways to incorporate Total Quality into existing activities.

The next article will focus on defining quality for higher education. For those interested in additional information, several books on Total Quality are on reserve in the Library. Contact Bob Fry at ext. 3520 if you have questions or want more information.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 23 January 21, 1993

Mullendore receives contribution award

Dr. Richard H. Mullendore, associate vice chancellor for student affairs, has been named the 1992 recipient of the Outstanding Professional Contribution Award from the North Carolina College Personnel Association.

At UNCW,

Mullendore has been responsible for the development of an exceptional and creative student and parent orientation program. His work with the program is known throughout the state and nation, and he just completed a two-year term as president of the National Orientation Directors Association.

In addition, he has presented numerous keynote addresses and presentations and has numerous publications to his credit. His latest publication is a book, co-edited by William A. Bryan, vice chancellor for student affairs at UNCW, titled Rights, Freedoms, and Responsibilities of Students. The publication is an outgrowth of Mullendore's leadership in updating the 1967 "Joint Statement on Rights and Freedoms of Students," a project involving the cooperation of 13 professional associations.

The Greek system selected him "Faculty Member of the Year" in 1987. In 1988, the UNCW graduating class presented Mullendore with the "UNCW Student Senior Class Leadership Award."

Marine trades program established

Chancellor James R. Leutze announced to the UNCW Board of Trustees last week that the North Carolina Marine Trades program, a new statewide initiative, will be based at UNCW effective immediately.

The program will incorporate the NC Marine Crescent, a five-year-old regional organization supporting marine trades, community marine programs, and research and development in the coastal counties of Brunswick, Onslow, Pender, Carteret, and New Hanover.

Current Marine Crescent Executive Director Mike Bradley will head the new program in a cooperative arrangement with the University of North Carolina's Small Business and Technology Development Center (SBTDC).

The SBTDC already has an office at

UNC
Wilmington under the direction of Ted Jans.

An extension of the statewide
SBTDC, the Marine Trades program will assist marine businesses

Mike Bradley

with start-up and operation, help with national and international marketing, and promote technology development and transfer within the state's marine businesses, community colleges, and research universities.

The Marine Trades Program will take over management of the newly formed North Carolina Marine Trade Association, which sponsors the annual NC Marine EXPO in October and assists marine businesses with marketing, marine-specific regulatory compliance issues, and purchase of insurance.

Marine Crescent Executive Director since December 1989, Mike Bradley holds a master's degree in Marine Science and was employed by Duke University and its Beaufort Marine Lab for 15 years where he held the positions of researcher, business manager, and assistant director for administration and development.

As executive director of the Marine Crescent, Bradley has worked closely with representatives from Coastal Carolina Community College, Carteret Community College, Brunswick Community College, and Cape Fear Community College. Bradley also worked closely with area marine trade and aquaculture businesses, environmental and economic development agencies, and several area county commissioners.

Farewell receptions for Choplin, Long planned

A farewell reception for Carol King Choplin, director of alumni affairs, will be held from 5 to 7 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 27, in the University Advancement offices, Alderman Hall room 108. Choplin is moving to Raleigh and has accepted the position of director of development at Peace College.

A farewell reception for David Long, director of ARA Services, will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. the same day in the UC ballroom. Faculty and staff are invited to attend both receptions.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

PURCHASING UPDATE

Effective Feb. 1, purchasing will add insurance to freight costs for repairs and returns of equipment exceeding $100 in value. The cost of the insurance is 30 cents per $100 in value.

Because of a recent loss of equipment by UPS, purchasing believes the insurance is worth the additional cost. When requisitioning a repair of equipment to be sent off campus by purchasing, include the cost of insurance or the value of the equipment.

BIOLOGY SEMINAR

Biological Sciences will host a seminar by Dr. Wei Feng, Department of Mathematical Sciences, titled "Co-existence and Permanence in Three-Species Ecological Models" at 2 p.m., Friday, Jan. 22, in Friday Hall room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

ENERGY CONSERVATION COMMITTEE

The mission statement for the Chancellor's Energy Conservation Committee is as follows:

UNCW is committed to the conservation of all natural resources. UNCW will take all reasonable measures to insure the effective, efficient, and economical use of its resources. To make this mission successful, the support of all students, faculty, and staff is needed.

Volunteers from each building are needed to assist in monitoring energy use and to serve as liaisons between the Chancellor's Office and the campus community. Call ext. 3169 if interested.

OPEN HOUSE

Printing Services invites you to an open house at the new Copy Center located in Westside Hall from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. today. Come take a look at the new facility and enjoy a coffee break at the Copy Center.

FACULTY SENATE

Dr. James McNab, foreign languages and literatures, has been elected president elect of the faculty senate. Dr. Eleanor McKenna and Dr. Daniel Noland, both of the English Department, have been nominated as candidates for the Faculty Assembly delegate.

HOMECOMING

The first event scheduled for homecoming will be a comedy show at 8 p.m., Feb. 15, in Kenan Auditorium. Scheduled to perform is James Stephens III, who can be seen on Fox's The Edge. Comedians Randy Kagan and Gonzo Raymond, who have appeared on MTV's 1/2 hour comedy show, will also perform. Tickets are $5 for students, faculty, and staff and will go on sale Jan. 25 at the Union information center.

ORIENTATION

The 1993 summer orientation programs for freshmen and their parents will be held June 13-14, 16-17, and 20-21. There will not be a summer orientation program for transfer students this year at the request of the academic deans.

All new transfer students will be oriented and advised Aug. 17. Departments that have materials for distribution should watch for information to follow in the Communique regarding dates and location of delivery of materials.

Approximately 975 new freshmen and 800 parents are expected for the three summer sessions.

On behalf of UNC Wilmington, condolences are extended to George Syles, Central Stores, whose wife, Janice Hall Syles, died after a hit-and-run accident Jan. 16. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Adkins-Drain Funeral Services.

STUDENT TIME SHEETS

Student time sheets for January are due to the Payroll Office by 3 p.m., Friday, Jan. 29. Student time sheets for February are due by 3 p.m., Friday, Feb. 26. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 with questions.

STUDENT TAX STATUS

Departments are responsible for notifying student employees wanting to claim or continue exempt tax status for 1993 that they must complete a new W-4 form. Forms are available at the Payroll Office and must be returned to payroll by Jan. 29. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 with questions.

CPR/STANDARD FIRST AID

The Safety Department is offering CPR/Standard First Aid training on the following dates:

Jan. 20 and 21 - 8 a.m. to noon
Feb. 2 and 3 - noon to 4 p.m.
Feb. 15 and 16 - 8 a.m. to noon
March 9 and 10 - noon to 4 p.m.
March 18 and 19 - 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.
March 30 and April 1 - 8 a.m. to noon

The cost is $18.50. Call ext. 3057 for reservations/questions. The CPR training schedule is now listed on the VAX info system.

COPY CENTER MOVES

The Copy Center has moved to Westside Hall. Its entrance is on the north side of the building facing the library. Do not use the Public Service and Extended Education entrance to the building. Two parking spaces in lot E are available for Copy Center users.

Requests for supplies and service for copier machines should be directed to Rhonda Franklin, ext. 3083.

The deadline for Campus Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The women's basketball team will face George Mason University at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 22 in Trask Coliseum for Seniors Appreciation Night.

The team will play American University at 3:30 p.m., Jan. 24 on Local Church Organization Day.

BLOOD DRIVE

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive at UNCW from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 26, in the UC Ballroom. All blood types have been critically low during December and January, and the Red Cross hopes to reach its goal of 75 units for the day.

Donors must weigh at least 110 pounds and be in good health.

SEARCH COMMITTEE FORMED

Jane S. Patterson has resigned her position as vice chancellor for public service and extended education in order to serve in the Hunt administration. While at UNCW, she was assisted by Dr. Everard Smith, who will continue to act as division head, as he has done since Nov. 17.

Members of the search committee for the next vice chancellor are: Dr. Denis Carter (chair), Academic Affairs; Dr. Frank Funk, former director of continuing education, Syracuse University; Dr. Lee Johnston, political science; Timothy Jordan, Business Affairs; Margaret Robison, University Advancement; Dr. Robert Tyndall, School of Education; and Dr. Lori White, fine arts.

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

All interested faculty, staff, and students are invited to the Feminist Colloquium, 3 to 4 p.m., Friday, Jan. 22, in UC room 104. The reading to be discussed, a selection from Backlash by Susan Faludi, is on reserve in the library.

LETTERS FROM LEOKADIA

An original dramatic presentation, "Letters from Leokadia," will be presented by the Touring Theatre Ensemble of Greensboro at 7:30 tonight in Cameron Hall Auditorium.

The play, sponsored by the College of Arts and Sciences, is free and open to the public.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Claude Farrell, professor of economics, and Dr. Edward Olszewski, professor of physics, have had their article, "Assessing Inefficiency in the S&P Futures Market," accepted for publication in the Journal of Forecasting.

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama in the Fine Arts Department, who hosted the American film premiere of The Rat Dec. 9, persuaded officials of the Cannes Film Festival to showcase the picture. Other leading film festivals have also expressed interest.

Dr. Ned H. Martin, professor of chemistry, presented a seminar to the Chemistry and Life Sciences Section of the Research Triangle Institute January 13 on his research "Dye-Sensitized Photo-Oxygenation of 1-Benzyl-3,4-Dihydroisoquinolines: Mechanism of Reaction of Enamines with Singlet Oxygen."

Seven members of the English faculty presented papers at the annual meeting of the Modern Language Association Dec. 28 in New York. Six participated in a session chaired by Dr. John Clifford on "Teaching the Multicultural Text: Theoretical Perspectives and Pedagogical Problems"; Dr. Lindsay Pentolfe-Aegerter, "Ambivalence and Coloniality in Teaching the Politics of Identity"; Dr. Angelyn Mitchell, "When the Subaltern Speaks, Who Listens?"; Dr. Keith Newlin, "Reaiming the Nineteenth-Century Canon"; Dr. William Atwill, "Locating the Reader in the Intercultural Text"; and Dr. Jo Ann Seiple, "On the Other Side of the Island: Diving into Caribbean Literature." In another session, Dr. Barbara Waxman presented a paper titled, "The Ethnic 'Storyed' Self and the American Authored Self in Ethnic Autobiography." Dr. Clifford also presided over a session arranged by the National Council of Teachers of English titled, "The Feminization of English Studies."

Pat Barker, Motor Fleet; Mary Browning, Bookstore; and Linda Ferrell, Purchasing Services, have passed the Certified Professional Secretary Exam. The 12-hour exam covers the areas of accounting, business law, economics and management, behavioral science in business, office technology, and office administration and communications. The CPS exam is given on campus twice a year, in May and November.

Dr. Frank Bongiorno, associate professor of music in the Fine Arts Department, was recently featured in a front cover interview in the January/February issue of Saxophone Journal. In the interview Bongiorno discusses his career as a performer and teacher and the current trends in saxophone performance.

Dr. Walter H. Conser, chairman of the Philosophy and Religion Department, has published a coedited anthology, Experience of the Sacred: Readings in the Phenomenology of Religion. The volume discusses the essential, typological, and hermeneutical approaches in the phenomenology of religion.

Dr. William Overman, professor of psychology, gave an invited address to participants of the International Winter Conference on Developmental Neurobiology in San Jose, Costa Rica, Jan. 7 to 11. The presentation was titled "Possible Neural Mechanisms Underlying the Development of Cognitive Abilities in Very Young Children." Participants in the invitational conference were from Europe and South, Central, and North America.

Official Announcements

Public Service and Extended Education

UNCW Connection

The UNCW Connection is a collaborative initiative between the New Hanover County School System and UNCW. Its purpose is to promote a shared, coordinated, systematic approach to introducing young minds to the "connection," between present studies and activities to future possibilities, opportunities, and choices, one of which might be attending a university.

The UNCW Connection involves three campus experiences for fifth grade students. The first experience is social - an invitation to a sports event. The second experience occurs when the same fifth graders advance to sixth grade - a half day tour of the campus with special emphasis on student activities, and the third experience occurs with the same students when they are seventh graders - another half day tour of the campus focusing on academic areas.

During October and November 1992, teams comprised of administrators, faculty, staff, and students visited the twenty elementary schools in New Hanover County, talked with approximately 1,700 fifth grade students about the "connection" their present studies have with future opportunities, and invited them to attend the Nov. 19 men's basketball exhibition game. Approximately 1,500 students, teachers, and parents represented fifth graders at the game.

Special thanks are extended to the following team members: Chancellor Leutze, Paul Eaglin, Paul Miller, John Haley, Frank Trimble, Becky Porterfield, Tom MacLennan, Kay Fryar, Pam Barnes, Margaret Beatty, Brenda Dineen, Di Kain, Heather Burkhardt, Mike Petin, John Spann, Keith Atkins, Tim Shaw, Drew Phillips, Reggie Venney, Melanie Canterbury, Bettie Duffie, Bonnie Carver, Joe Jones, Lisa Forbes, Reggie Ingram, Eric Carter, Holly Williams, and Jennifer Coyer.

Governor's Schools faculty and staff needed

The Board of Governors of the Governor's Schools and the State Department of Public Instruction are seeking highly competent faculty and staff for the 1993 session of the Governor's Schools.

Positions available include: instructors of art, dance, drama, choral music, instrumental music, English, Spanish, French, mathematics, natural science, social science, philosophy, and epistemology; accompanist for choral music, dance, and drama; and support staff including an AV specialist, bus driver/clerk, clerk typist, publicity director, recreation director, and residence counselor.

Application forms should be submitted to the Governor's Schools of North Carolina by Jan. 29. Forms are available in Human Resources.

Growing and Using Herbs with Dorothy Bonitz. Set up your own herb garden and learn how to grow fresh herbs in coastal Carolina's sandy soil. 7-8:30 p.m., Mondays, Feb. 8-March 1 (four sessions). Fee: $40 by Jan. 25; $45 after. Registration deadline: Feb. 1.

Drawing Fundamentals with Sibyl O'Thearling. This basic drawing course covers drawing realistically, making a quick sketch, seeing details, drawing shadows and drawing with perspective and composition. Class one: 7-9 p.m. Mondays, Feb. 8-April 5 (eight sessions). Fee: $50 for registrations received by Jan. 25; $55 after. Registration deadline: February 1. Class two: 7-9 p.m. Tuesdays, Feb. 9-April 6 (eight sessions). Fee: $50 for registrations received by Jan. 26; $55 after. Registration deadline: Feb. 2.

Introduction to Classical Music with Ernesto Ferreri. Want to know more about classical music? This course outlines its history and the historic currents that produced the pieces. Musical emphasis will be on the classical and romantic eras. No prerequisite or musical knowledge is necessary. 7-9 p.m., Tuesdays, Feb. 9-March 30 (eight sessions). Fee: $55 for registrations received by Jan. 26; $60 after. Registration deadline: Feb. 2.

Historic Architecture of the Cape Fear with Ed Turberg. This course investigates the historic architecture of the Cape Fear region and illustrates the important characteristics of various periods including Georgian, Federal, Greek Revival, Gothic Revival, Italianate, Queen Anne, and early 20th century. A walking tour of Wilmington's historic district is scheduled for March 28, 7-8 p.m., Tuesdays, Feb. 9-March 30 (eight sessions). 2-5 p.m. Sunday, March 28 (walking tour). Fee: $45 for registrations received by Jan. 26; $50 after. Registration deadline: Feb. 2.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Tree planting to be held Jan. 28

A tree planting, in recognition of UNCW's commitment to the environment, will be held at 2 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 28, along Chancellor's Walk near Wagoner Hall.

Following the tree planting, Noel Grove, senior assistant editor and writer for the National Geographic Magazine, will discuss "Earth in Crisis" at 3:30 p.m. in the University Center Ballroom. The presentation is free and the public is invited to attend.

This is the second in a series of programs on the environment sponsored by the Chancellor's Office. Co-sponsor of the program is the UNCW Ecology Club.

Grove currently heads National Geographic's department on the environment, and, from June to December 1992, he wrote the environmental column, "Earth Almanac" for the magazine. He joined the organization as a caption writer in 1969 and since then has written 19 by-lined articles and three book chapters for National Geographic book divisions.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 24 January 28, 1993

SEANC breakfast planned

Are you a member of SEANC? Do you know what SEANC stands for? The State Employees Association of North Carolina (SEANC) represents state employees in pursuit of increased salaries and benefits. There are now 60,000 members throughout the state. In Brunswick and New Hanover Counties over 1,100

Sasser members make up District 62.

The week of Feb. 1 to 5 has been declared Membership Week at UNC Wilmington, and to highlight the week, Gloria Sasser, District 62 membership chair, invites all potential members to a free drop-in breakfast from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m., Wednesday, Feb. 3, in UC ballroom four. Biscuits, danish, coffee, and juice will be served.

J.E. Skinner, SEANC staff member; Cleve Woolard, regional membership chair; and members of District 62's executive committee will be there to answer questions about SEANC and its purpose.

Chancellor Leutze is a member of SEANC and encourages participation in the organization. All campus employees, part-time or permanent, are invited to attend.

UNCW sponsors African-American student leadership conference

The UNCW Black Student Leadership Network is sponsoring the first North Carolina African-American Student Leadership Conference (NCAASLC) Feb. 5 to 7. The conference will feature workshops, panel discussions, and speakers.

The purpose of the conference is to help African-American students develop and strengthen leadership skills and to address problems African-Americans face as leaders, citizens, and students. Organizers expect 100 students from North Carolina to attend.

The keynote speaker is poet Nikki Giovanni of Cincinnati, Oh., who will speak during the closing banquet at 7 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 6, in the UC ballroom. Giovanni published her first book of poetry in 1968, which earned her the nickname "The Princess of Black Poetry." Since 1968, she has established herself as a popular literary figure with nearly 20 books, several records, many honorary degrees, and a movie to her credit.

Also included is a career session examining opportunities in medicine, accounting, law, public service, teaching, and engineering.

Cost for the conference is $55 for students, $65 for faculty advisors, and $10 for UNCW students. Tickets for the closing banquet are available to the community, faculty, and staff for $15.

For more information, contact Ruby Brown at the Leadership Center, at ext. 3877.

UNCW observes Black History Month

February is Black History Month, and UNC Wilmington will observe it with activities planned throughout the month.

This year's kickoff program will feature keynote speaker Kuumba Kazi-Ferrouillet, managing editor and production manager of

Kazi-Ferrouillet

The Black

Collegian magazine, at 8 p.m., Feb. 1, in the University Center ballroom. He has previously served as copy editor, associate editor and managing editor at the magazine.

While writing for The Black Collegian, Kazi-Ferrouillet has interviewed Rev. Jesse Jackson and former Atlanta Mayor Andrew Young. Kazi-Ferrouillet received two Unity Awards from Lincoln University of Missouri for "Reporting on Economics" and has been a featured speaker and panelist at several conferences.

Also featured during the kickoff program will be UNCW graduates Rudy and Cynthia Tyson. The Tysons will perform musical selections including spirituals, jazz, and modern selections.

Other events for Black History Month include the North Carolina African-American Student Leadership Conference, an anniversary concert by the UNCW Gospel Choir, and a financial aid workshop.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

COMPUTER WORKSHOPS

Academic Computing Services offers workshops for the VAX, PC, and Macintosh. The spring '93 schedule and workshop descriptions are on Videotex under the ACS menus. Workshops next week include: Jan. 28th — Internet & Bitnet. Five people need to be registered to hold a workshop.

POSTAL SERVICES

Elvis has been seen in the University Post Office. Don't let him get away before you purchase your "Elvis" stamps.

Postal services will shred your old printouts or any other outdated material that needs to be destroyed. Call Doris Moore at ext. 3734 for details.

Post office boxes are available for rent to any university employee, club, or organization. For more information, contact Betsy Stallard at ext. 3750.

LOYALTY FUND

University Advancement thanks the many faculty and staff who have submitted payroll deduction contributions totalling $3,400 and $3,575 respectively to the Loyalty Fund as of mid-January. Participation rates among members of the campus are important to the university's efforts to secure outside private funds. If you haven't done so, complete your payroll deduction form and send it to Human Resources.

CPR/STANDARD FIRST AID

The Safety Department is offering CPR/Standard First Aid training on the following dates:

Feb. 2 and 3 - noon to 4 p.m.
Feb. 15 and 16 - 8 a.m. to noon
March 9 and 10 - noon to 4 p.m.
March 18 and 19 - 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.
March 30 and April 1 - 8 a.m. to noon

The cost is $18.50. Call ext. 3057 to register. The CPR training schedule is now listed on the VAX info system.

BOOKSTORE

The bookstore is moving into the two trailers on the east side of the bookstore Feb. 15. On Friday, Jan. 29, the bookstore will hold a moving sale from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the UC Ballroom.

PARAKEET FOUND

A yellow parakeet wearing a leg band flew into a window of Alderman Hall Monday afternoon. If this lost parakeet belongs to you, contact Bill Vereen at ext. 3555.

ENERGY TIP

In the wintertime, close all drapery at night. During the daytime, close drapery on the shady side of your home, open drapery that lets in sunlight.

The preceding home energy conservation tip is offered courtesy of the Chancellor's Energy Conservation Committee.

CRUISE

Join Kevin and Wendy Eastman on the UNCW Alumni Association cruise to the Caribbean, set for the week of May 23, 1993, aboard Carnival Cruise Line's newest ship, the Ecstasy. The cruise begins in Miami and sails to Cozumel and Playa del Carmen, Grand Caymen and Ocho Rios, Jamaica.

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to join in on the cruise. A portion of each fare will benefit the Alumni Association. For more information, call Barbie Cowan at ext. 3004.

UMBRELLAS

The University Information Center, located in the Union, is offering a new service for faculty, staff, and students. Umbrellas are available for check-out. You must present a UNCW I.D. to borrow an umbrella.

The deadline for Campus Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

STUDENT TIME SHEETS

Student time sheets for January are due to the Payroll Office by 3 p.m., Friday, Jan. 29. Student time sheets for February are due by 3 p.m., Friday, Feb. 26. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 with any questions.

STUDENT TAX STATUS

Departments are responsible for notifying student employees wanting to claim or continue exempt tax status for 1993 that they must complete a new W-4 form. Forms are available at the Payroll Office and must be returned to payroll by Jan. 29. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 with questions.

STUDENT ABSENCES

The Office of the Dean of Students will contact instructors in cases of prolonged hospitalization, death in the family, or other severe circumstances preventing a student from contacting his or her instructors directly. Further, the dean's office only informs the instructors and can neither excuse absences nor verify excuses.

Students are encouraged to make contact with instructors on their own.

HUMAN RELATIONS HEROES

In honor of Human Relations Month, February, the New Hanover Human Relations Commission, the Greater Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, and the Friends of Human Relations are sponsoring prizes for "Human Relations Heroes."

UNCW faculty, staff, and students can be nominated for deeds that exemplify "human relations in action." by filling out a nomination form available from Pam Barnes in Human Resources. Forms must be turned in by Jan. 31.

Certificates of appreciation will be presented to human relations heroes at an awards ceremony at 6 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 18, on the campus of UNCW.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

THESIS DEFENSE

Biological Sciences will host a graduate thesis defense by Lisa Elliott-Lewis titled "The Structure and Vasculature of the Podobranch Gill Lamina of the Crayfish Procambarus Clarkii" at 2 p.m., Friday, Jan. 29, in Friday Hall room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

HOMECOMING

The first event scheduled for homecoming will be a comedy show at 8 p.m., Feb. 15, in Kenan Auditorium. Scheduled to perform is James Stephens III, who can be seen on Fox's The Edge. Comedians Randy Kagan and Gonzo Raymond, who have appeared on MTV's 1/2 hour comedy show will also perform. Tickets are $5 for students, faculty, and staff, and are for sale at the Union information center.

Dr. Steven M. Weiss, associate professor and chair of the Department of Communication Studies, has been named 'Boss of the Year' by the Wilmington Jaycees. Weiss received the award at the Jaycees annual Distinguished Service Awards banquet Jan. 23, which recognizes citizens who have contributed to the Wilmington community.

Dr. Bruce C. McKinney, assistant professor of communication studies, has had his article, "Mediator Listening, Dispute Reframing, and Mediation Outcome: a Pilot Study," accepted for publication in the Journal of the International Listening Association. The article was co-written with Dr. William Kimsey and Dr. Rex Fuller, both professors in the Department of Human Communication at James Madison University.

Dr. Rick Mathieu, assistant professor of information systems in the Department of Production and Decision

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The men's basketball team will face ECU at 2 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 30, in Trask Coliseum. It will be Travel Professional Internationals Day, and two airline tickets to anywhere in the continental U.S. will be given away at halftime. The UNCW Dance Team will also perform.

TAI CHI

A Tai Chi group is being formed for people who would like to practice Tai Chi regularly but need the encouragement and support of others who also enjoy this ancient form of martial art. The sessions will be held daily from 12:15 to 1:15 p.m. in the Union. All interested faculty, staff, and students are invited to join in. For more information, call ALTERNATIVES! at ext. 3610, or check the window of the ALTERNATIVES! office for room numbers of daily sessions.

FINK TO DISCUSS EASTERN EUROPE

Dr. Carole Fink, professor of history at Ohio State University, will discuss "Eastern Europe After the Fall of Communism" at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 4, in Cameron Auditorium.

Before going to Ohio State, Fink taught for 13 years in the Department of History at UNC Wilmington. She may be remembered in Wilmington for her weekly broadcasts, "A Historian's Commentary," on WAAV, and for her discussion of international news in the Wilmington Star.

Fink received her B.A. from Bard College and her M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Yale University. She has lectured widely in the U.S. and abroad and has recently participated in international conferences of historians in Moscow and Florence.

The event is sponsored by the Wilmington Area U.N. Association Chapter and the Department of History.

Faculty and Staff

Sciences, has recently had two articles accepted for publication. "A Methodology for Large-Scale R&D Planning Based on Cluster Analysis" will appear in IEEE Transactions on Engineering Management (with John E. Gibson), and "Bridging the Gap Between the University and the Local DPMA Chapter: the Case for Cooperative University/Industry Student Projects" will appear in the Journal of Information Systems Education.

Dr. Antonio Puente, professor of psychology, is the senior editor of the book, Teaching Psychology In America: a History, which was recently published by the American Psychological Association. In addition to writing introductory materials, Puente was the co-author of a chapter on ethnic minorities in teaching of psychology. The book's 22 chapters cover undergraduate, graduate, and professional education in psychology.

Dr. Kimon Bird presented a seminar at Virginia Polytechnic University, Blacksburg, on Jan. 21. The topic was "Marine Plant Biotechnology--Environmental Applications."

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama in the Fine Arts Department, recently had his film review of 1492 - Conquest of Paradise accepted by Salem Press. It is on line with PRODIGY and DIALOG databases.

Dr. John Clifford, professor of English, was recently elected to the executive committee of the Modern Language Association's division on nonfiction.

Dr. Janet Ellerby's name was omitted from the list of English faculty who presented papers on the teaching of multicultural texts at the December meeting of the Modern Language Association in New York. Ellerby's paper was titled, "When the Subaltern Accuses, Who Listens?"

Faculty and Staff (continued)

Charles Bey, motor pool, recently passed the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence's requirements for designation as a master automobile technician. In order to receive certification, Bey passed eight required tests in the areas of engine repair, automatic transmission/transaxle, manual drive train and axles, suspension and steering, heating and air conditioning, electrical systems, and engine performance.

Dr. Bob Toplin, History Department, edited the film review section of the Dec. 1992 issue of the Journal of American History and wrote a review essay on Oliver Stone's JFK for the issue.

Dr. Richard H. Mullendore and Dr. William Bryan have just finished editing a book for the New Directions for Student Services series (#59) of Jossey-Bass publishers. Its citation is Bryan, W.A., Mullendore, R.H. (editors) (1992). Rights, Freedoms, and Responsibilities of Students. San Francisco: Jossey-Bass.

The book is an outgrowth of a project initiated and chaired by Mullendore which involved representatives from 15 national associations. The group completed a studied and updated version of the 1967 "Joint Statement on Rights and Freedoms of Students."

Within the book, Mullendore wrote a chapter titled "The 'Joint Statement of Rights and Freedoms of Students': 25 Years Later." Bryan completed a chapter titled "Student Affairs," and Bryan and Mullendore co-wrote a chapter titled "Rights, Freedoms, and Responsibilities: a Continuing Agenda."

Dr. Joel J. Mintzes, professor of biological sciences, has been chosen as consultant to The Private Universe Project at the Harvard-Smithsonian Center for Astrophysics. The project, which is funded at $2.6 million by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, the National Science Foundation, and the Annenberg Foundation, will produce six half-hour PBS episodes focusing on conceptual development and cognitive processes in the natural sciences.

Dr. Tom MacLennan, director of the Writing Place, has been appointed to the Commission on English Education and English Studies of the Conference on English Education, a post within the National Council of Teachers of English.

Welcome

Eva Broughton/Printing Services; Melanie Kelley/Campus Police; Valeria Lane/VCUA; Faith Joyce, Kenneth Merck, Douglas Stanford/Physical Plant; Jane Scott/Financial Aid.

Official Announcements

Confidentiality of Personnel Records

State law provides that the university make the following information available on request about employees: name, department, current position, title, current salary, date and amount of most recent change in salary, age, and date of original employment. The university is required by policy to maintain a record of each disclosure and to notify an employee when public information is requested from his or her record.

Departments are reminded to refer requests for public information to Human Resources for SPA employees or the Provost's Office for EPA and faculty employees so a record of the disclosure may be made and the concerned employee notified. Personnel information maintained in departmental files (including applications for employment, performance evaluations, or salary information) should be maintained on a secure and confidential basis and should not be released directly to third parties.

Permitting access to confidential records by unauthorized persons is subject to the university's disciplinary policy and constitutes a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of up to $500.

Public Service and Extended Education

Beginning Creative Writing with Alyce Skelton. This course explores a variety of techniques that allow participants to access creativity using various exercises, projects, and explorations with the written word. 7-8 p.m., Tuesdays, Feb. 9 - March 30 (eight sessions). Fee: $55 for registrations received by Jan. 26; $60 after. Registration deadline: Feb. 2.

Italian I with Agnes Ille. This beginning level course emphasizes sentence structure, vocabulary, and simple verb usage to help you communicate and understand the language. The book is not included in the fee. 6-8 p.m. Tuesdays, Feb. 9 - March 30 (seven sessions; no class March 2). Fee: $60 for registrations received by Jan. 26; $65 after. Registration deadline: Feb. 2.

The Quality Corner

What is "quality?" UNCW uses quality-related terms six times in its mission statement. How is quality defined? What standards are used to know whether or not this is an accurate picture of the university?

Today, quality is increasingly defined as meeting or exceeding the needs and expectations of those who benefit from an organization's products and services. An organization that practices quality has made a commitment to constantly improve and is always seeking perfection.

The focus of quality is on problems in processes, not on problems with people. Quality does not come from assessing outcomes or final inspections, but is the result of process design that emphasizes quality at each step.

Quality is not a management program; it is a way of life in which everyone -- leaders, faculty, and staff -- participate in finding ways to improve the processes that are used to deliver products and services.

The next Quality Corner will focus on the beneficiary, also known as the customer.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 25 February 4, 1993

SENED Receives Z. Smith grant

The Southeastern Network for Economic Development (SENED) has received a $100,000 grant from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation. Effective Jan. 1, the funding will be used as part of the program's operating budget for 1993 and 1994.

The network, created by the Division for Public Service and Extended Education at the instruction of Chancellor Leutze, is working to improve and contribute to the economic development of the 16 counties that make up the region in which the university is situated.

Some of the work done by SENED in 1992 included: identifying the role of the university in regional economic development; forming preliminary goals in the areas of economic growth, education, environment, leadership, cultural resources, technology and infrastructure; developing a business resource directory of small business assistance centers, economic development specialists, area chambers of commerce, county planning agencies, and other state and local resources; and studying the possibilities of a major aquarium facility in Wilmington.

In 1993, SENED plans to concentrate on problem solving and specific economic development efforts. One of these efforts is enhancing and expanding the telecommunications infrastructure within the region. SENED also plans to serve the regional governing bodies by acting as a mediator, moderator, and facilitator between the university and other agencies. A goal that will also receive attention is supporting other development initiatives in the region and state. (con't on page 4)

Works by Kent Latimer on display at University Center

"Narratives," a sculpture exhibit by Kent Latimer, will be on display in the UC lobby from Feb. 8 to April 2. An opening reception will be held from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m., Monday, Feb. 8.

Latimer, of the "Latimer House" family fame, received a bachelor's degree in fine arts from University of North Carolina at Asheville in 1991. He lives in Asheville and does his work at the university's studio.

"Narratives" is a collection of sculptures Latimer made out of pieces of metal he collected. "My primary objective in presenting a body of work is to encourage the imagination of all viewers," Latimer said. "The ability to employ imagination is one of the greatest parts of our humanity."

Latimer was the winner of last year's UNC Asheville's Art Department Award. He has had two solo exhibitions at the Owen Gallery at UNCA and was awarded an Olgivie Foundation Scholarship in 1991.

Noel Grove, senior editor for National Geographic, and Dr. Joan Willey, professor of chemistry, plant a Darlington Oak along Chancellor's Walk near Wagoner Hall.

Grove visited UNCW last Thursday and spoke at University Center to a group of 250 about the environment and his adventures while working for National Geographic. His visit was sponsored by the Chancellor's Office and the UNCW Ecology Club.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

The School of Education will honor its alumni by hosting the Second Annual Alumni Recognition Dinner beginning at 6:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 19, in Wagoner Hall's Madeline Suite. Milton Meltzer, an award-winning author of children's literature, will be the guest speaker. The cost for the evening is $10. Call Dr. Brad Walker at ext. 3579 for more information.

PARKING OFFICE MOVES

Due to the bookstore's renovation, the Parking Office will move to the Union lobby in the room adjacent to the Information Center beginning Feb. 15. It is expected to stay in its temporary location for one month; phone extensions will remain the same. Call ext. 3537 with questions.

FINK TO DISCUSS EASTERN EUROPE

Dr. Carole Fink, professor of history at Ohio State University, will discuss "Eastern Europe After the Fall of Communism" at 7:30 p.m. tonight in Cameron Auditorium.

Before going to Ohio State, Fink taught for 13 years in the Department of History at UNC Wilmington.

"ROPES" COURSE DAY

The Discover Outdoor Program invites all faculty and staff to participate in a UNCW community day on the Challenge "Ropes" Course. It will take place from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 6. The cost of the program is $12 and includes lunch. Space is limited, so sign up today in the Discover Outdoor Center, UC room 138.

ART EXHIBITION

The Department of Fine Arts will hold an art exhibition of work by artist Vera Sprunt titled "EPIPHANIES"/lithographs in the Kenan Hall Art Gallery through March 5.

REGALIA

The Oak Hall academic regalia company will have a representative at the UNCW Bookstore trailer one Feb. 24, 25, and 26, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., to measure and take orders for faculty regalia. The bookstore will offer a 20 percent discount on all regalia purchases made these three days. Deposits of half the total price will be required when placing an order, and the balance will be due upon receipt of regalia. Cash, checks, and credit cards will be accepted. The regalia will arrive for May 15 graduation.

Call Jessiebeth Geddies at ext. 3054 to make an appointment for a fitting.

RAP CONTEST

The deadline for the ALTERNATIVES! Rap Contest is today. Bring your rap lyrics to Union room 104 by 5 p.m. today and you will have a chance to win the $50 first prize. Visit the office for details or call ext. 3683.

The contest entrants will perform at 7 p.m., Monday, Feb. 8, in the UC ballroom. Omega Artists will select the winners. DJ's from WLOZ, Coast 97.3, and Mixmasters entertainment will also be there. Food and prizes will be given away.

TALK BY FRED MCREE

"Drugs, Alcohol, Nicotine, AIDS, and the Black Community: Greed, Racism, or Capitalism?" Fred McRee will address these issues at 4 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 11, in the UC ballroom. Attendance vouchers will be available. For more information, call ALTERNATIVES! at ext. 3683.

FREE SCREENING

Free blood pressure screenings for students, faculty, and staff are being offered by the LivWell Center for Health Promotion from 10 to 11 a.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays through March 31. For more information call Deborah Haywood at ext. 4137.

TEACHING FELLOWS

The first annual UNCW Teaching Fellows Finalists Workshop for teaching Fellows Scholarship finalists and their parents will be held Saturday. It will feature panel discussions, campus tours, and other activities designed to introduce the high school students and their parents to the NC Teaching Fellows Program, the UNCW Fellows Program, and the university and will help finalists prepare for their final interviews.

Any faculty member interested in meeting these finalists should call Lora Lee Canter at ext. 4001.

THANK YOU

George Syles, central stores, wishes to thank members of the university community for their thoughts, prayers, and kindnesses following the death of his wife.

CPR/STANDARD FIRST AID

The Safety Department is offering CPR/Standard First Aid training on the following dates:

Feb. 15 and 16 - 8 a.m. to noon
March 9 and 10 - noon to 4 p.m.
March 18 and 19 - 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.
March 30 and April 1 - 8 a.m. to noon

The cost is $18.50. Call ext. 3057 for reservations/questions. The CPR training schedule is now listed on the VAX info system.

FOR SALE

For sale to UNCW departments: Tandy 3000 HL, 1 meg memory, 20 meg hard drive, EGM color monitor, 3-1/2" and 5-1/4" drives, mouse, communications port, Windows. $350 or best offer.

Tandy DPM 420 bi-directional dot printer, 132 column carriage, six ribbons, $75 or best offer. Tandy TRS-80 model 100 portable computer, 4K memory. $50 or best offer. Call Corliss Bradley at ext. 3810.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

BASKETBALL

Feb. 6 --Basketball Doubleheader. Women's Basketball vs. UNC-G at 5 p.m. Halftime: UNCW Dance Team will perform. Post-game: Regulation basketballs with Leroy Nieman artwork tossed out.

Men's Basketball vs. Richmond at 7:30 p.m. (Pizza Hut Mug Night). Pre-game: 4,000 insulated drink mugs given away at the door. Halftime: Halftime shootout; recognition of CAA scholar athletes. Post-game: Regulation basketballs with Leroy Nieman artwork tossed out.

Feb. 8 --Basketball Doubleheader. Women's Basketball vs. ECU at 5 p.m. Men's Basketball vs. James Madison at 7:30 p.m. (Merchants Association Night). Game Promotion: Special prizes given away by area merchants. Halftime: Halftime shootout; Hawk's Nest giveaway; UNCW Dance Team, drawing for Merchants Association $1000 savings bond

Feb. 11 --Men's basketball vs. Mt. Olive at 7:30 p.m. (Reed's Jeweler's, WWQQ Night). Promotion: The Great Diamond Giveaway. Halftime: Halftime Shootout; Hawk's Nest giveaway; Little Seahawks.

Dr. Michael S. Smith, Department of Earth Sciences, had the article "Petrogenesis of Archaean Malene Supracrustal Rocks, NW Buksefjorden Region, West Greenland: Geochemical Evidence for Highly Evolved Archaean Crust" published in Precambrian Research, v.57, 49-90. The article was co-written with Dr. Robert F. Dymek of Washington University and Dr. Brian Chadwick of the University of Exeter.

Dr. John Bennett, associate professor of HPER, gave personal wellness staff development training to the faculty and students of Carver Heights Elementary School in Goldsboro on Jan. 5; Johnson Elementary School in New Hanover County Public School System on Jan. 8; and Estes Elementary School in the Buncombe County Public School System on Jan. 15.

JAZZ NIGHT

The Friday night "Jazz Night" at the Center Stage Cafe kicks off at 8 p.m., Friday, Feb. 5, with jazz pianist Rudy Tyson and jazz vocalist Cynthia Tyson. Admission is $2 and UNCW students will be admitted free with I.D.

NEW COMPUTER LAB

The Union is home to a new computer lab located in the old study lounge off the living room. The lab, which recently moved from Trask Coliseum, has 13 MacIntosh and two IBM-compatible computers. It is open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fridays, 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. Saturdays, and 4 to 10 p.m. Sundays. The lab's phone number is ext. 4002.

THESIS DEFENSE

Biological sciences will host a graduate thesis defense by Brad Jenkins titled "Release of 45-Calcium From Chick Calvariae in an Organ Perfusion System" at 2 p.m., Friday, Feb. 5, in Friday Hall room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

NEW SAFETY SYSTEM

A new communication system was recently installed on campus. The "Talking Patrolman Callbox" is a two-way communications system that allows faculty, staff, students, and visitors to the university to talk directly to the campus police. The talking patrolman is an extension of the police department's current communications system.

Fifteen call boxes have been installed on campus in locations including residence halls, parking lots, academic areas, and athletic facilities. The red call boxes are mounted on poles which have a blue light on top of them.

The callbox remote units are equipped with an identification system that allows the user to call for help even if they are unable to speak. The system operates 24 hours a day.

Some of the services the system will provide include: improving safety on campus; shortening response time to emergency requests; providing informational assistance; and giving the campus police a flexible communications method during special events on campus.

Faculty and Staff

Bennett also had his article, "Movement Education Is Developmentally Appropriate," published in the Sept./Oct. 1992 issue of Movement Today. Bennett has been appointed to the editorial board of the Journal of Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance.

Dr. Helen Faller, associate professor in the School of Nursing, Pam Graham-Wilson, and Marlene Howlett have published "The McDenver at McDonalds" in the Journal of Nursing Education, Jan. 1993, Vol. 32, Number 1.

Deborah Haywood, LivWELL Center for Health Promotion, was recently elected to serve on the Division Board for Professional Development of the National Commission for Health Education Credentialing.

Dr. Brooks Dodson, English, recently spoke at a meeting of the American Business Women's Association on the topic "Sex and Laughter in Victorian England."

"Auden and Opera: The Poet's Magic Flute," an article by Dr. Kathy Rugoff, assistant professor of English, was published in the fall issue of Ars Lyrica, the journal of the Society for Word-Music Relations.

Dr. Judith A. Hayn, assistant professor, curricular studies, has received the School of Education Faculty Scholarship Award for 1992-93. Hayn plans to use the award to study the effects of using prewriting strategies to teach composition and its implications for English education.

UNCW Celebrates Homecoming

"Changes in Attitudes, Changes in Latitudes" is the theme for the UNCW's 1993 Homecoming celebration, to be held Feb. 15-20. Festivities include a comedy show, a five-kilometer homecoming run, Seahawk men's basketball against Colonial Athletic Association rival William & Mary, and the homecoming dance, featuring the music of Captain Cook and the Coconutz.

The university will also honor Ronald C. Choate, James C. Fugate, and NFL football great Roman Gabriel.

Choate and Fugate will both be recognized as Distinguished Alumni 1993. A native of Jacksonville and 1972 graduate of UNCW, Choate owns C & S Paint in Jacksonville. Fugate, an eighth-grade social studies teacher, who also lives in Jacksonville, graduated from UNCW in 1971.

Choate and Fugate were instrumental in the expansion of UNCW Alumni Association activities and helped spearhead the development of alumni chapters in Onslow County, the Research Triangle, and Triad areas.

Wilmington native Roman Gabriel will be recognized as Distinguished Citizen 1993. After graduating from North Carolina State University in 1962, Gabriel was chosen as the Los Angeles Rams' No. 1 draft pick. Three times named the Ram's Most Valuable Player in an 11-year career in Los Angeles, the quarterback went on to play five seasons for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Since his retirement, Gabriel has directed celebrity golf tournaments to benefit the handicapped, youth organizations, and senior citizens in North Carolina, South Carolina, and Arizona.

Homecoming schedule of events

Monday, February 15

Comedy Show featuring James Stephens III, Randy Kagan, and Gonzo Raymond 8 p.m., Kenan Auditorium, Tickets $5 - students, faculty, and staff,
$7- general public

Friday, February 19

Exhibition Alumni Basketball Game
7:30 p.m., Trask Coliseum- free

Saturday, February 20

UNCW Bookstore Open 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.,
Register to win the door prize to be given at halftime of the basketball game.

Homecoming Run
11 a.m., Wagoner Drive in front of Trask
Coliseum

$12 on or before Feb. 19 or $14 on the day of the race

Check in 8 a.m.-10 a.m. Entry forms available in Hanover Gym #202

Homecoming Parade on Campus
1 p.m., begins at Wagoner Hall, ends at Trask Coliseum

Pre-game Social*
1 to 2:30 p.m., Hawk's Nest advance reservations required

Men's Basketball Game
UNCW vs. William & Mary
3:30 p.m., Trask Coliseum Halftime
Crowning of the Homecoming
King & Queen

Homecoming Dance*
9 p.m. to 1 a.m., Wagoner Hall
"Captain Cook and the Coconutz"
Tickets $15 per person
Hors d'oeuvres,
cash bar, and door prizes

For more information and tickets, call ext. 3616.*

Z. Smith (con't from page 1)

The Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation was established in 1936 as a memorial to the youngest son of the founder of the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. The foundation has granted more than $291 million to North Carolina recipients. Of those funds, the majority goes to universities, health programs, teachers, economic programs, and children's services.

The grant, $50,000 a year for the next two years, is in addition to a previous grant of $75,000 from the foundation.

Official Notices

Gross Salary

Gross salary for 1992 does not appear on an employee's W-2 form (wage and tax statement) but can be found on December pay check stubs on line 3, year-to-date gross pay. To verify the information on your W-2, subtract total health insurance premiums from 1992 gross pay to get Social Security wages (W-2 box 12); then subtract retirement contributions (6 percent of gross pay) and tax-sheltered annuities (listed in W-2 box 17) to get federal and state taxable wages (W-2 boxes 10 and 25). Call the payroll office at ext. 3163 with questions about W-2 forms.

Purchasing

Anyone who picks up merchandise from a department purchase order should send the receipt/invoice, with the purchase order number written on it, to Accounts Payable.

Public Service and Extended Education

Beginning Conversational Japanese with Mebane Boyd. The Japanese language, culture, and writings will be introduced, and spoken skills will be strongly emphasized. Grammar card is not included in the fee. 7-8:30 p.m., Thursdays, Feb. 11-March 18 (six sessions). Fee: $50 by Feb. 4.

Introduction to Chinese Art, Writing, Language, and Culture with Daniel Nie. Major works of art will be studied from aesthetic, sociological, historical, and technical perspectives. Participants will learn a brief history of Chinese civilization and have a 'hands-on' opportunity to study the techniques of Chinese painting and writing. A background in Chinese art and language is not required. 7-9 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 11-April 1 (eight sessions). Fee: $55 by Feb. 4.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 26 February 11, 1993

Buchanan speaks as part of Alumni Lecture Series

Dr. Ray A. Buchanan, a distinguished graduate of UNC Wilmington, will speak at 8 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 11, in Cameron Auditorium, as part of UNC Wilmington's Alumni Lecture Series. Buchanan will discuss "The Society of St. Andrew: Vision and Reality."

Admission is free, and the public is invited to attend.

A 1972 graduate of UNCW with a degree in philosophy and religion, Buchanan also attended

Duke Divinity School and Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, where he received a master of divinity degree in 1976. Buchanan received his doctor of divinity degree from Shenandoah College and Conservatory.

Buchanan is an ordained United Methodist minister who pastored for eight years in Virginia before founding the Society of St. Andrew, a community for Christian living which he co-directs. The Society of St. Andrew's Potato Project salvages unwanted potatoes and produce and delivers them to the needy. Since its inception in 1983, the program has distributed more than 140 million pounds of food in 47 states.

Another program that is part of the society's hunger relief effort is the Harvest of Hope, a project that involves gleaned fields, studying hunger, and worshipping together.

Because of his work with the society, Buchanan has received several awards, including a Distinguished Alumni Award from UNCW in 1985. Buchanan was also named a winner in "Search for 100 Heroes" by Maxwell House Coffee.

Buchanan speaks as part of an Alumni Lecture series coordinated by Dr. Gerald Shinn, one of his favorite professors from his time at UNCW. There have been two speakers as a part of the program, and Shinn hopes to make the program a monthly one.

as well as arrangements recorded by Maynard Ferguson and Buddy Rich's big bands, Caught In the Current by George Stone and Time Check by Don Menza. Other compositions include Minor Bird by Matt Harris, dedicated to the late great jazz saxophonist Charlie "Bird" Parker, and the Latin-American styled composition Latin Import by John Fedchock.

UNCW Theatre production features Woyzeck

UNCW University Theatre's first production of the spring semester is Woyzeck, directed by Dr. W. Terry Rogers, associate professor, fine arts-drama. The play is scheduled for nine performances--Wednesday, Feb. 17, through Thursday, Feb. 25, in Kenan Hall's S.R.O Theatre. Sunday's performance will be a matinee starting at 2 p.m. All other performances will be at 8 p.m.

Woyzeck, by Georg Buchner, is a unique production using nine actors to portray about 30 characters. The play is centered on Woyzeck, a man who suffers from an uncontrollable force that pushes and pulls him from one experience to another. He feels the changes in his life but has no understanding of the forces that are affecting him.

Tickets for Woyzeck are available at the box office in Kenan Auditorium 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. For phone reservations with VISA or Mastercard, call 791-9695. Ticket prices are $6 and free for students with a valid UNCW I.D. Tickets are also available at the door in Kenan Hall, one hour before the performance.

UNCW 7 O'Clock Jazz Ensemble to perform

The UNCW 7 O'clock Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Frank Bongiorno, will present its first concert of the spring semester at 8 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 18, in Kenan Auditorium. General admission $3, $2 for senior citizens.

The 20-member big band will perform arrangements of well-known standards, Tenderly by Walter Gross and My Romance by Rogers and Hart,

UNCW observes Financial Aid Awareness Week

As part of Financial Aid Awareness Month, UNC Wilmington is observing Financial Aid Awareness Week Feb. 15-19. Events during the week include a TV phone-a-thon, co-sponsored by WWAY TV-3, scheduled from 5:30 until 8 p.m. in the UNCW Financial Aid office in James Hall. (Con't on page 4)

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MUSEUM OF WORLD CULTURES SPONSORS TRIP

Australia, New Zealand, and Fiji are the destinations for the second international tour sponsored by the UNCW Museum of World Cultures.

The tour begins in Sydney and moves on to Melbourne, the Great Barrier Reef, Brisbane, New Zealand's Canterbury Plains and Queenstown, and finishes with visits to Nadi and the Coral Coast of Fiji, with many other stops along the way.

The tour starts June 26 and ends July 17. The cost per person (excluding some meals) is $4040 with round-trip airfare to and from Wilmington. A $100 deposit is due March 1, with final payment due May 10. Eight people must sign up to make the tour possible.

For more information, call Jerry Shinn or Jo Strobush at ext. 4007.

CRUISE

Join Kevin and Wendy Eastman on the UNCW Alumni Association cruise to the Caribbean, set for the week of May 23, 1993, aboard Carnival CruiseLine's newest ship, the Ecstasy. The cruise begins in Miami and sails to Cozumel and Playa del Carmen, Grand Caymen and Ocho Rios, Jamaica.

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to join in on the cruise. A portion of each fare will benefit the Alumni Association. A video about the cruise is available for check-out from Barbie Cowan, ext. 3004.

MOVIE TICKETS

Discount movie tickets can be purchased by faculty, staff, and students at the Information Center for $3. They can be used only at local Carmike Theaters for selected Sunday through Thursday movies. Tickets can be purchased during the center's operating hours, Monday to Thursday 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Friday 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday noon to 5, and Sunday 4 to 10 p.m.

Be sure to read the back page section, Official Notices, for information that could affect your job.

ASIAN AMERICAN FACULTY ASSOCIATION

The Asian American members of the UNCW faculty, who constitute about 4.5 percent of the total faculty, recently formed the Asian American Faculty Association (AAFA). The AAFA, formed for professional and cultural reasons, seeks to promote greater understanding among different cultures as UNCW becomes increasingly diversified. The association plans to sponsor social and cultural events in the community and to make its members available as guest lecturers to local schools, social groups, and organizations.

The following were elected as officers to serve for two years: president: Dr. Paz I. Bartolome, professor, Department of Curricular Studies; vice president: Dr. Robert George, professor, Department of Biological Sciences; and secretary/treasurer: Dr. Joseph Yan, assistant professor, Department of Mathematical Sciences.

Officers-at-large: Dr. Jon Huer, associate professor, Department of Sociology and Anthropology; and Dr. Hana Noor Al-Deen, associate professor, Department of Communication Studies.

Call Dr. Paz I. Bartolome at ext. 3355, or Dr. Robert George at ext. 3611, for more information.

RETIREMENT CONFERENCE

The State Retirement Systems Division will conduct a conference for members planning for retirement from 9:30 a.m. to noon March 3 in Cameron Hall room 105.

Employees who are age 60 or older, or who are otherwise eligible to retire, will find this conference particularly beneficial. Complete information on eligibility for retirement, selection of optional payment arrangements, designation of beneficiaries, eligibility requirements for Social Security benefits, hospital/medical coverage, and other issues will be provided. For more information, call Marsha Hinson at ext. 3006.

SEANC BREAKFAST

Gloria Sasser, SEANC membership chair for District 62, is ecstatic about the results of SEANC week at UNCW. More than 30 new members enrolled, and more are joining every day. She wishes to express her thanks to Dr. Leutze, faculty and staff, and especially ARA for providing the breakfast that everyone enjoyed. Sasser can be reached at ext. 3338 and is available to talk with faculty or staff at any time.

The Quality Corner

The last Quality Corner defined quality in terms of process improvement and discussed exceeding the needs and expectations of those individuals who benefit from the services provided.

Who are these beneficiaries? They come in many shapes and sizes, and they may be known by many names. Externally, they range from the freshman applicant to members of the General Assembly. Each individual or group has certain expectations about the quality of the service they receive.

Internally, faculty and staff benefit from services provided by others in the campus community. Enrolled students continually benefit from campus services. An early introduction comes through the admissions process, quickly followed by registration and advising.

It doesn't matter whether the beneficiary is external or internal, faculty, staff, or student. Each can provide valuable information about how a process has or has not met his or her needs. The Total Quality approach puts that information to work supporting quality improvement efforts.

Process is constantly associated with quality. What is a process and what makes it critical? This will be the focus of the next Quality Corner.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES UPDATE

The following update to the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual is now available on the VAX:

AUX 2.10 - University Catering Services. This revised procedure describes catering services and includes special provisions regarding the use of alcoholic beverages for university-related activities and events. All catered events held on university property must be provided by University Catering Services. All university-related activities held off university property where food and/or alcoholic beverages are served must be approved by the director of auxiliary services.

The Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual can be accessed through either VXA, VXB, or VXC on the VAX by typing INFO at the username prompt. Administrative procedures can also be accessed through SNBALLEXP and through FRS and SIS menus.

REGALIA

Anyone needing to rent regalia for May 15 graduation must contact Jessiebeth Geddies at ext. 3054 before Feb. 27. If you have a card on file in the bookstore, call Geddies to place your order and send a check via campus mail to pay for the rental. The regalia will be in the bookstore trailer one for pickup the week of May 10 and must be returned to the bookstore before 2 p.m. May 15. Regalia prices are as follows:

doctor gown, cap and tassel $15.00
doctor hood $15.00
master gown, cap and tassel $13.00
master hood $13.00
bachelor gown, cap and tassel $12.25
bachelor hood $12.25

TAKE BACK THE NIGHT

Musicians interested in donating their talent to the "Take Back the Night March," to be held on campus March 16, should call Peggy Thompson at ext. 5107 or Lisa Picklesimer at ext. 5106 or call ALTERNATIVES! at ext. 3577. The best time to reach Thompson or Picklesimer is after 6 or 7 p.m.

RESEARCH SOCIETY

Faculty interested in being nominated or in nominating someone for membership in Sigma Xi, the Scientific Research Society, should contact Kate Bruce, psychology, at ext. 3374 for application forms. Graduate students may also be nominated. All applicants must demonstrate research aptitude evidenced by independent investigation. There will be an induction ceremony later this semester.

RETIREMENT MIGRATION

Dr. Charles F. Longino, Jr, director of the Reynolda Gerontology Program at Wake Forest University, will speak on "Retirement Migration in the US" at 5 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 25, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium.

The talk is sponsored by the College of Arts and Sciences and the Departments of Sociology, Psychology, and Political Science.

BASKETBALL

Feb. 11 - Men's basketball vs. Mt. Olive at 7:30 p.m. (Reeds Jewelers, WWQQ Night). Promotion: The Great Diamond Giveaway. Halftime: Half-time Shootout; Hawk's Nest giveaway; Little Seahawks.

Feb. 12 - Women's Basketball vs. Richmond at 7:30 p.m. Girl Scout Night Halftime: The Great Scout Cookie Munch-out - local celebrities participate in a Girl Scout cookie munch off.

Feb. 14 - UNCW Women's Basketball vs. James Madison at 3 p.m. Alumni and Elementary School Day. Pre-Game: Alumni Game at 12:30 p.m., Social at 1:45 p.m. Halftime: Little Seahawk Drill Team.

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

All interested faculty, staff, and students are invited to attend the Feminist Colloquium, 3 to 4 p.m., Friday, Feb. 19, in UC room 104. The reading to be discussed, "Women Who Run With Wolves," is on reserve in the library.

THESIS DEFENSE

Biological Sciences will host a thesis defense by Robert Lee Marlowe titled "Lectin Binding by Crustacean Cuticle: The Cuticle of Callinectes sapidus throughout the molt, and the intermolt cuticle of Procambarus clarkii and Ocypode quadrata" at 2 p.m., Friday, Feb. 12, in Friday Hall room 151. Everyone is invited; refreshments will be served.

COFFEE HOUSE

"Lunch With Clothes On," will be held at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 13 in the Center Stage Cafe. A free evening of funny and serious poems set to jazz featuring Barry Salwen and Frank Bongiorno. Call Sandra Kalom at ext. 3749 for more information.

CHARTING THE CURRENTS OF CHANGE

1992-93 Loyalty Fund Update

Congratulations to the staff of Human Resources, who found a creative way to support the UNCW loyalty fund. William Calloway, assistant vice chancellor for human resources, and Sam Connally, director of human resources, jointly promised to match donations made by the rest of the staff in order to reach a total contribution goal of $1,000, which would allow the staff of human resources to join the Chancellor's Club, the Loyalty Fund's highest giving level.

The staff came through with 100 percent participation, and over $1300 was raised.

Departments on campus interested in creating their own Loyalty Fund challenges should call Margaret Robison at ext. 3879.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Edna H. Mory, assistant professor of instructional technology in the Department of Educational Design and Management, was awarded the Association for Educational Communications and Technology (AECT) 1993 Robert M. Gagne Award for outstanding graduate student research in instructional technology for her dissertation titled "The Effects of Adaptive Feedback on Student Performance, Feedback Study Time, and Lesson Efficiency in Computer-Based Instruction." The award was presented to her at the annual meeting of AECT, held in New Orleans in January.

Dr. Brooks Dodson, English, has reviewed Shillingsburg's Pegasus in Harness: Victorian Publishing and W.M. Thackeray in the February issue of Choice.

Dr. Kate Bruce, psychology, co-wrote the paper, "Interruption of and Harassment During Copulation by Stumptail Macaques, Macaca Arctoides," which appeared in the latest issue of Animal Behaviour. The research was conducted at the Yerkes Primate Center and was supported in part by a Cahill Award for Faculty Research and Development.

Dr. Donnalee Frega, assistant professor of English, published a review essay on Clyde Edgerton's In Memory of Junior in the Southern Quarterly. She also will present the paper, "Recognizing Hunger as Learned Discourse: the Case of Clarissa" at the De Bartolo Conference on Eighteenth Century Studies in Tampa, Florida, Feb. 18 to 21.

Dr. John L. Stokes recently presented the paper "The Qualified Belief of John Berryman" at the South Central Conference on Christianity and Literature held in New Orleans Feb. 4 to 6.

Lana Taylor, reference & special collections librarian, has assumed the duties of university records officer formerly held by Sue Cody, head of reference services. For guidance in retention and disposition of your office records, call Taylor at ext. 3276 or ext. 3760.

Official Notices

General Fund appropriations

On Feb. 1, Governor Hunt requested that all state agencies, community colleges, and universities conduct reviews of 1993-95 continuation budget requests and identify reductions in general fund appropriations of one and two percent.

Thus, UNCW was instructed by UNC General Administration to identify cuts for each year of the biennium of $342,612 (one percent) and $685,224 (two percent). The chancellor and all vice chancellors have identified reductions in proportion to the percentage of state appropriations within each division of the university.

Given that additional cuts may be required later, an additional two percent reduction was also identified. The university will know the actual size of the cuts when continuation budgets are approved by the General Assembly, probably in late June or early July.

Leonard interim affirmative action officer

Subsequent to Paul Eaglin's resignation, Pat Leonard has been named UNCW's interim affirmative action officer. All correspondence to her in that capacity should be sent to Alderman Hall room 110.

Move to Internet ADDRESSING

Everyone is encouraged to begin moving from BITNET addressing to Internet addressing for off-campus data communications. UNCW plans to end its connection with BITNET by July 1, 1994.

financial aid (con't from page 1)

During the phone-a-thon parents and students can call the Financial Aid Office at UNCW with questions about financial aid forms, federal funding and general information. Parents or students should call ext. 3177 or a toll-free number to be aired the night of the event.

Also offered through the week are Financial Aid workshops, scheduled

NCSU was the BITNET Hub for North Carolina for several years, which meant that all electronic messages/files sent or received by North Carolina passed through a NCSU computer system. NCSU will no longer be able to continue this service to the state. UNC Charlotte and East Carolina University have assumed the BITNET Hub responsibility, but are requiring a reduced traffic load, and will eventually phase out of BITNET. Being a BITNET hub can consume a significant amount of disk storage space, processing time on the hub computer, and staff support time.

A BITNET address is in the format:

Username@UNCWIL.BITNET

or:

Username@UNCWIL

An Internet address is in the format:

Username@VXC.UNCWIL.EDU

or you can use:

Username@UNCWIL.EDU

Internet is faster and more powerful, flexible, and efficient than BITNET. The Microelectronics Center for North Carolina (MCNC) in Research Triangle Park is North Carolina's gateway to Internet and will continue this service indefinitely.

Please start using your Internet address for all off-campus messages. Un-subscribe your BITNET address on LISTSERVERS and re-subscribe using your Internet address; change to Internet address on business cards and any other printed correspondence with a data communications address.

If you have any questions or need more information, call George Quinn at ext. 3888.

for 7 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 11 and Tuesday, Feb. 16 in University Center Ballroom 1.

February was proclaimed Financial Aid Awareness Month by Governor James B. Hunt so that citizens and students can learn more about applying for financial assistance in order to have the opportunity to further their education in North Carolina.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 27 February 18, 1993

UNCW junior named nursing student of the year

For the second time in six years, a UNCW student has been named nursing student of the year by the North Carolina Association of Nursing Students.

The 1993 winner is Lisa M. McIntosh, a junior from Fayetteville. She will serve a one-year term representing all nursing students in the state. The award also carries a $1500 scholarship sponsored by the state association.

McIntosh was selected based on her grade point average, extra curricular activities, leadership role in the local association of nursing students, and her essay titled "Shaping the Future of Nursing in Unity." The selection was also based on interviews and recommendations of the dean and nursing faculty.

Dr. Marlene Rosenkoetter, dean of the School of Nursing, said "the fact that Lisa was chosen for this award from among all the nursing students in the state is a credit to her and to our nursing program. We are thrilled to have had two state winners in the six years since our program achieved baccalaureate status."

McIntosh is the daughter of Preston and Ellen McIntosh of Fayetteville.

Alumni Association offers scholarships

The UNCW Alumni Association will offer a total of 10 scholarships to undergraduate and graduate students who will attend UNCW for the 1993-94 academic year. The awards cover in-state tuition and fees.

The scholarship awards are based on academic achievement (3.0 is the minimum grade point average accepted) and demonstrated financial need. Students may reapply each year, and previous recipients are also eligible. Winners will be selected by the UNCW Alumni Association Board of Directors.

Candidates should pick up or request an application from the Alumni Association office, Alderman Hall room 108. In addition to the application form, certified high school or university transcripts are required. Candidates must also submit two recommendations, to be completed on forms provided in the application package.

The deadline for applications and all supporting materials is March 15, 1993. For more information, contact Barbie Cowan, UNCW Alumni Association, at ext. 3004.

Flute/piano duo to perform

The Cole Hersh Duo, featuring flute and piano, will be heard in concert at 8 p.m., Thursday, March 25, in Kenan Auditorium. Sponsored by the UNCW Department of Fine Arts, Music Division, the concert is free, and the public is invited to attend.

The program will include sonatas by Sergei Prokofiev and Aaron Copland as well as shorter works by Gluck and Honegger. Also on the program is the Concertino by Cecile Chaminade, one of the most popular pieces in the flute repertoire.

Gordon Cole, flute, and Alan Hersh, piano, are both members of the music faculty at the University of Kentucky. Each is an accomplished soloist as well as chamber musician. The duo has appeared extensively throughout the southeastern United States.

Concert Choir and Chamber Singers perform

The Concert Choir and Chamber Singers of UNCW will present The St. John Passion by Johann Sebastian Bach, at 3 p.m., Sunday, March 28, in the sanctuary of First Presbyterian Church. The choir will be accompanied by members of the Wilmington Symphony Orchestra, with Dr. Joe Hickman, associate professor of music, conducting. Admission to the concert is free, and the public is invited to attend.

Soloists for the Passion include Finley Woolston, Evangelist; Chris Beaver, Jesus; Dan Sonnenberg, Pilate; and aria soloists Beth Marshburn Bell, Tamara Mix, Michael Rallis, Dan Sonnenberg, and Chris Beaver. Woolston, Beaver, Sonnenberg, and Mix are former students of the UNCW Division of Music and former members of the Concert Choir and Chamber Singers.

Black History Month

Three members of the Chancellor's Human Relations Advisory Committee will discuss "Studies of Race: a Review of Recent Literature" at 8 p.m., Monday, Feb. 22, in the UC Ballroom. Presenting will be Sylvia Polgar, Sociology Department; Lana Taylor, Randall Library; and Jim Megivern, Philosophy and Religion Department.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SENIOR SEMINAR

The Chemistry Department's CHM 495 Senior Seminar series will sponsor a lecture by Dr. Alvin L. Crumbliss, chair of the Chemistry Department at Duke University, at 2 p.m., Friday, Feb. 19, in DeLoach Hall room 114. The title of the seminar is "Some Aspects of the Biochemistry of Iron." Everyone is invited.

MISSING VIDEO

Faculty and staff are asked to check their book shelves and/or desktops for a copy of the video, "Drink Sells the Dream," which covers the marketing of alcohol. If found, return it to ALTERNATIVES!, Union room 104.

CHEMISTRY ON FILM

From the darkest, dustiest corners of the UNCW chemistry labs, old pieces of chemistry laboratory glassware have been loaned to the film studio to recreate a 1958-era chemistry lab for the filming of "The Hudsucker Proxy," a spoof about the invention of the hula-hoop starring Paul Newman. A bit of lighter news for the week!

UNCW DISCOVERY

Full-time faculty members are invited to submit abstracts describing their research that has appeared in peer-reviewed professional media. The UNCW Discovery editorial board will select five or six for expansion into 1200-word articles for the fall issue of Discovery. Submit 10 copies of each abstract to the Graduate School by April 15 on one-page forms available from department chairs or the Graduate School. For questions, call ext. 3135.

CONGRATULATIONS

The Department of Philosophy and Religion wishes to congratulate John Lemos, visiting lecturer in the department, upon the successful defense of his Ph.D. dissertation at Duke University Feb. 1.

SOCGER LEAGUE

An adult co-ed low impact soccer league is now forming. No experience is necessary, and faculty and staff are invited to participate. For more information and registration, contact Jackie Blackmore, HPER Department, at ext. 3044.

SPORTS MEDICINE CLINIC

A free sports medicine clinic for students with a Board Certified orthopedic specialist, is held from 8 to 10 a.m., Wednesdays, at the Student Health and Wellness Center, Westside Hall. Call ext. 3280 for an appointment.

CRUISE

The UNCW Alumni Association cruise to the Caribbean is set for the week of May 23, 1993, aboard Carnival Cruise Line's newest ship, the Ecstasy. The cruise begins in Miami and sails to Cozumel and Playa del Carmen, Grand Caymen and Ocho Rios, Jamaica. Diet and exercise guru Richard Simmons will be on board.

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to join in on the cruise. Cabins are still available, and a portion of each fare will benefit the Alumni Association. Call Barbie Cowan at ext. 3004 for more information.

TAI CHI

A Tai Chi group is being formed for people who would like to practice Tai Chi regularly but need the encouragement and support of others who also enjoy this ancient form of martial art. The sessions will be held daily from 12:15 to 1:15 p.m. in the Union. All interested faculty, staff, and students are invited to join in. For more information, call ALTERNATIVES! at ext. 3610, or check the window of the ALTERNATIVES! office for room numbers of daily sessions.

Send Communique items to BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn Busse, c/o Campus Communique

STUDENT HOURS

The chancellor's student hours scheduled for 3:30 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, March 10, have been canceled.

LIVWELL

The LivWELL Center for Health Promotion is sponsoring the third series of speakers and programs concerning HIV and sexual health issues.

LovWELL 93 - Sexual Choices, Challenges, and Changes is scheduled for February 11 - 23 and will feature campus resources and guest speakers. Faculty are asked to announce the following presentation to students. Validation forms for attendance verification will be available at each presentation if needed.

Lisa Haire will discuss "Alcohol and AIDS...Consider the Connections" at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 23, in the UC Ballroom. Students don't always see the link between alcohol, AIDS, and risky sexual behaviors. This presentation will focus on making these connections for healthier choices in the 90s.

RETIREMENT CONFERENCE

The State Retirement Systems Division will conduct a conference for members planning to retire from 9:30 a.m. to noon March 3 in Cameron Hall room 105.

Employees who are age 60 or older, or who are otherwise eligible to retire, will find this conference particularly beneficial. Complete information on eligibility for retirement, selection of optional payment arrangements, designation of beneficiaries, eligibility requirements for Social Security benefits, hospital/medical coverage, and other issues will be provided. For more information, call Marsha Hinson at ext. 3006.

VENDING REFUNDS

You can receive refunds for money lost in vending machines (up to $1 per day) at the Union Info. Center.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

ART ON DISPLAY

An art exhibit by Gladys Villegas-Escobar titled "Famous Recyclables" will be on display in the lobby and living room of the Union Feb. 20 through April 10. A Meet the Artist reception will be held from 4:30 to 6 p.m., Monday, March 8, in the Union living room. The public is invited to attend.

This collection of Villegas-Escobar's work is an example of a new form of expression in the visual arts combining elements of painting and relief. She uses collage, recyclable materials, sequins, glitter, etc., to create an infinity of textures which alter the impression of a two-dimensional painting.

Villegas-Escobar received her B.A. in fine arts from the Empire State College of New York State University in 1986. Following that she did individualized study in France, Spain, and Holland. In 1991, she did a book cover design for Workers Against Work (University of California Press), chosen by U.C. Press to advertise books in the New York Review of Books and other national publications.

Lu Huntley-Johnston, doctoral candidate at NC State and lecturer in the English Department, has co-written an article that will appear in an upcoming issue of the Journal of Reading. "Developing a Critical Stance with Text Through Reading, Writing, and Speaking," is co-written with Hiller Spires and Lois Huffman of NC State.

Dr. P.J. Lapaire, foreign languages and literatures, has published "Un Style Polarise: Elements de la Binarite Stylistique Chez Albert Camus" in the March issue of The French Review.

Dr. Stephanie Richardson, visiting assistant professor of English, and Ms. Granetta Richardson, instructor of English, presented papers at Florida State University's 18th Annual Conference on Literature and Film in Tallahassee, Fl., Jan. 28-30. Dr.

B. FRANK HALL LECTURE

The 1993 B. Frank Hall Memorial Lecture will feature Dr. Orlo C. Strunk, Jr., professor emeritus of Boston University and managing editor and book editor of The Journal of Pastoral Care. He will discuss "Personal Religious Values and the Contemporary Mental Health Movement" at 8 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 25, in Cameron Auditorium.

Hall founded the Philosophy and Religion Department in 1963 and served as its chair until 1975. He was the first recipient of the Board of Trustees Teaching Excellence Award in 1978. Hall continued to teach part-time until his 80th birthday in 1988. He died June 30, 1991.

FREE SCREENING

Free blood pressure screenings for students, faculty, and staff are being offered at the LivWell Center for Health Promotion from 10 to 11 a.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays through March 31. For more information, call ext. 4137.

VISITATION DAY

Between 1200-1500 prospective students and their parents are expected to attend visitation day from 1 - 5 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 20, in Trask Coliseum.

To date, 5,620 students have applied for the 1993 freshman class, and 3,271 have been accepted.

REGALIA

Anyone needing to rent regalia for May 15 graduation must contact Jessiebeth Geddie at ext. 3054 before Feb. 27. If you have a card on file in the bookstore, call Geddie to place your order and send a check via campus mail to pay for the order. The regalia will be in the bookstore trailer one for pickup the week of May 10 and must be returned to the bookstore before 2 p.m. May 15.

The Oak Hall academic regalia company will have a representative at the UNCW Bookstore trailer one from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Feb. 24, 25, and 26, to measure and take orders for faculty regalia. Call Geddie to make an appointment for a fitting.

Faculty and Staff

Richardson's paper was titled "The Invisible Woman: the Disappearance of the Black-Female Character in Summer Films, 1992." Ms. Richardson's paper was titled "Controversy Lost: Ideology Regained."

Dr. Moorad Alexanian, professor of physics, has had his article, "A Nonlocal Relativistic Quantum Field Theory of Extended Objects," accepted for publication in Il Nuovo Cimento, the international journal of the Italian Society of Physics.

Dr. Luther D. Lawson, associate professor of economics in the Cameron School of Business Administration, was elected program chairman and president-elect of the Midsouth Academy of Economics and Finance at its 1993 meeting in Hot Springs, Ak., Feb. 11 to 13. As program chairman,

Lawson will be responsible for the program of the 1994 meeting in Nashville, Tn. The Midsouth Academy of Economics and Finance is an organization with 400 members from 33 states, the District of Columbia, and four foreign countries. At the meeting, Lawson presented a paper titled "Do Economics Education Courses at the Secondary Level Affect the College Student's Level of Economic Literacy?"

On Feb. 9, Dr. Brooks Dodson, English, spoke to the Wrightsville Beach Lions Club on the topic of change in the English language.

Pam Barnes, assistant director of employment services, is the president of the Lower Cape Fear Personnel Association for 1993, an elected position.

Official Notices

Maternity Leave

Employees who anticipate needing maternity leave should contact Human Resources regarding continued benefits and eligibility for shared leave donations. Call Elizabeth or Dale at ext. 3161 for more information.

Temporary Time sheets

Temporary time sheets are due to Human Resources by 10 a.m. March 1.

Community Items

Jaycees

The Wilmington Jaycees will host a membership drive party at 7 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 27, at shelter number four, Hugh MacRae Park. The party is free and open to the public. The Jaycees are open to anyone aged 21 to 39. Contact Bruce McKinney at ext. 3396 for more information.

Cape Fear Careers

The Cape Fear Careers committee of the Greater Wilmington Chamber of Commerce is updating its community directory and is seeking individuals willing to share information about their own careers or their career fields with students in the New Hanover School System. Volunteers will be used in classroom or career day presentations.

Contact Dr. Carolyn Dunn at ext. 3479 or Sandra Harkin at ext. 3174 to volunteer or for more information.

Human Relations Month

The Southport Sea Chantey Singers will perform at 3 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 20, at the Cape Fear Museum.

Public Service and Extended Education

Weather and Climate. From hurricanes and tornadoes to 70 degrees and sunny. Learn the bows and whys of coastal Carolina's changing weather. When: 7-8:30 p.m., Thursdays, Feb. 25-April 8. Fee: $45 by today.

Biofeedback and Imagery. Biofeedback uses electronic instruments to measure how your body responds to thoughts and feelings. See a demonstration of the instruments and then experience your own imagery reading. When: 6:30-9:30 p.m., Monday, March 1; and individual appointments on Wednesday and Thursday, March 3 and 4. Fee: $40 by Feb. 22.

Underwater Archaeology in North Carolina. Discover the excitement and mystery of the underwater explorations by the NC Underwater Archaeology Program at Fort Fisher. When: 7-9 p.m., Tuesdays, March 2-23; field trip from 2-6 p.m., Saturday, March 27. Fee: $45 by Feb. 23.

Common Sense Investing II. This advanced course covers portfolio analysis and design, methods for performance monitoring, and securities selection. Common Sense Investing I or equivalent course is a prerequisite. When: 7-9 p.m., March 4-April 8. Fee: $40 by today; $45 after. Registration deadline: Feb. 25.

Understanding Microcomputer Systems. This introductory course is designed for people who want to learn about IBM or IBM-compatible microcomputer systems. When: 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Monday, March 1. Fee: $85 by Feb. 22.

Using WordPerfect 5.1 Graphics. This intermediate-level course is designed for people who want to increase their working knowledge of desktop publishing with WordPerfect 5.1. Learn how to produce flyers, newsletters, and short documents that include art images and graphics. Book included in fee. When: 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Tuesday, March 2. Fee: $95 by Feb. 23.

Using WordPerfect 5.1 for Macros. This advanced-level course is designed to teach students how to automate some of the more mundane word processing tasks by using WordPerfect 5.1 macros. Students will work on several projects that will develop and save WordPerfect 5.1 macros for future use. Book included in fee. When: 8 a.m.-5 p.m., March 3. Fee: $95 by Feb. 24.

Using LOTUS 1-2-3. This introductory two-day course will teach you how to create and print spreadsheets and associate graphics using LOTUS 1-2-3. Book included in fee. When: 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Thursday and Friday, March 4 and 5. Fee: $145 by Feb. 25.

Broadcasting's Laughable Lines and Bodacious Bloopers. Chris Watkins's experience as host of WAAV Talk Radio's early morning call-in show and in several television productions provides her with many funny stories, strange requests, weird questions, and hilarious bloopers. When: noon-1:30 p.m., March 2. Fee: $9. Registration deadline: Feb. 23.

Birds of Southeastern North Carolina. Noted UNCW ornithologist Dr. James Parnell will discuss the relationship between birds and their coastal habitats; special, rare, and endangered species; local specialties; and places to see birds. When: noon-1:30 p.m., March 30. Fee: $9. Registration deadline: March 23.

Decline and Fall of the English Language. Dr. Brooks Dodson, member of the English faculty at UNCW, will explore the changes in the English language and how change is often interpreted as a decline in elegance and expressiveness. When: noon-1:30 p.m., April 13. Fee: $9. Registration deadline: April 6.

Liturgical Dance. Mary Lee Hawes and Ann Goodrum, who have participated and conducted several liturgical dance workshops, will trace its history and beginnings from early Biblical times and then demonstrate how dance is used in liturgical celebrations today. When: noon-1:30 p.m., April 27. Fee: $9. Registration deadline: April 20.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 28 February 25, 1993

Teaching excellence award nominees sought

Letters of nomination for the Board of Trustees Teaching Excellence Award will be accepted until March 31.

The $1500 cash award will specify a member of the faculty as a person of excellence, and it will call upon him or her to share that excellence with colleagues and students.

A nominee for the Teaching Excellence Award must be a current member of the UNCW faculty teaching at least half-time for five semesters or more, must have demonstrated a mastery of and enthusiasm for the subject taught, resoluteness in maintaining high academic standards, a genuine interest in each student's intellectual and creative development, and an ability to foster respect for diverse points of view and an openness to learning.

Nominations may be submitted by any member of the faculty, currently enrolled students, alumni, or persons in the larger community served by the university.

Letters of nomination must be limited to one page and must be received no later than Wednesday, March 31, by the Chancellor's Nomination Committee, Alderman Hall.

The chancellor, after consultation with the chair of the Faculty Senate, will designate members of the Chancellor's Nomination Committee. After reviewing the nominations, the committee will make its recommendation to the chancellor. He will present the recipient of the 1993 Board of Trustees Teaching Excellence Award to the Board of Trustees in July 1993.

The Board of Trustees Teaching Excellence Award is designed to exemplify UNCW's commitment to teaching excellence. Recipients of the award manifest excellence as persons who have made and continue to make significant contributions to higher education through their dedication and service to students.

Longino to discuss retirement migration

Dr. Charles F. Longino, Jr., director of the Reynolda Gerontology Program at Wake Forest University, will discuss "Retirement Migration in the U.S." at 5 p.m. tonight in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium.

The talk is sponsored by the College of Arts and Sciences and the Departments of Sociology, Psychology, and Political Science.

Jazz concert this weekend

Saxophonist Frank Bongiorno will perform two jazz concerts with his quartet, Feb. 26 and 27 at Gentleman Jim's in downtown Wilmington. Other musicians include Herman Burney on bass, drummer Greg Eavey, and UNCW alumnus Rudy Tyson on piano. For more information, call 251-0330.

Info center closed

The Union information center will be closed during spring break. It will close at 7 p.m., Friday, Feb. 26, and reopen at 4 p.m., Sunday, March 7.

CAA Tournament next weekend

The CAA Basketball Tournament, set for March 6 to 8 in Richmond, Va., is fast approaching.

The Alumni Association and the Seahawk Club invite alumni, faculty, staff, and students traveling to Richmond to a brunch, to be held from 10 to 11:30 a.m., Saturday, March 6, at the Seahawk Headquarters, the Richmond Omni. The hospitality suite will be located on the third floor.

UNCW has designated seating in section 18, so if you are going to purchase single game tickets once you get to Richmond, request seating in sections 17-18-19 or 20, so all the Seahawks can sit in the same area. Ticket information in Richmond is available at (804) 272-1616.

If you have any questions or need more information, call Barbie Cowan at ext. 3004.

LIBRARY SCHEDULE

The spring break library schedule is as follows:

Saturday, Feb. 27 - 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Sunday, Feb. 28 - closed

Monday to Friday, March 1 to 5 - 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Saturday, March 6 - 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Sunday, March 7 - 3 p.m. to midnight

ANNOUNCEMENTS

BIOLOGY SEMINAR

Biological sciences will host a seminar by Dr. David O'Malley, Department of Forestry, NCSU, titled "Population Comparison of Genomic Maps in Pines" at 2 p.m., Friday, Feb. 26, in Friday Hall room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

MEETING AND CONVENTION FARES RETURN

Since April 9, 1992, we've missed the convenience of meeting and convention discounted airfares. Most major carriers have now reinstated these fares, which provide savings from 5 to 40 percent off all published fares for groups of 10 or more passengers traveling to the same destination. Call AAA Travel Agency, 763-9520, or Mary in Purchasing, ext. 3154, with questions.

MACINTOSH USERS

Dr. Rudi Kiefer, Earth Science Department, has developed Hypercard-based software for making multiple choice tests. The program stores an unlimited number of questions and is used to compile exams that can be printed by any word processor. It also prints a key and keeps track of when a question was last used. The program is available free of charge to UNCW faculty. Call ext. 3495 or e-mail KIEFER.

CHEMISTRY SEMINAR

The Chemistry Department's Chemistry 495 Senior Seminar series will sponsor a lecture by Dr. Louis G. Daignault, University of North Carolina at Charlotte, at 3:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 26, in DeLoach Hall Room 114. The title of the seminar is "Ion-Interaction Chromatography: Distribution of Ion-Pairing Reagents on Reversed Phase Columns."

PORCELAIN ON DISPLAY

Hand-painted porcelain by Jeanne Davies, UNCW graduate and historian of the University Women, is on display at Randall Library until Feb. 28. Works of two of her students, Joan Fry and Sharon Harris, are included in the display.

PROGRAM CHANGE

Notice to faculty members: the spring 1993 sexual assault education program "Profile of the Rapist and Child Molester" has been changed from March 15 to March 22. For more information, contact Diane Edwards at ext. 3577.

BOOKSTORE

The bookstore's binding machine has been repaired, and the bookstore can bind reports for departments and students.

The store is well supplied for Easter with new spring jackets, UNCW trolls, Easter bunny trolls, and Easter balloons.

Send Campus Communique items to BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn Busse, c/o University Relations. The deadline for Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS/POSTERS

Abstracts are now being accepted from students, faculty, and staff for oral or poster presentations for the UNCW Health Research Forum to be held from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Wednesday, April 15, in the UC Ballroom.

Abstracts may describe completed research in any discipline represented at UNCW that is related to the theme "Health in the 90's: Issues and Approaches."

Abstracts should be approximately 300 words and should specify for paper presentation, poster presentation, or either.

They will be reviewed according to the following criteria: 1) purpose of the study, 2) soundness of the implementation and evaluation process, and 3) relevance to the theme "Health in the 90's: Issues and Approaches."

Send abstracts to Dr. P. Howard Cummings or Adrienne Jackson, School of Nursing, by March 25.

DEGREE AUDIT TRAINING

The Registrar's Office will offer degree audit training sessions at 8 a.m., 9:30 a.m., 2 p.m., and 3:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 16, for interested faculty advisors. Call Terri at ext. 3036 to register.

The Quality Corner

Each day members of the university community undertake a variety of tasks including admitting applicants, advising students, fixing heating units, updating computer records, and filling out forms.

Each member of the community is involved in a process designed to meet the needs of individuals from inside or outside of the university. In meeting these needs, work flows from one person or one activity to another in the form of a process.

The university's mission of teaching, research, and public service can only be fulfilled if each process produces the desired results. Some processes, termed critical, are more important than others.

Their failure threatens the very survival of the organization. Critical processes at UNCW include admissions/recruiting, registration, facilities/maintenance, information management, and personnel hiring.

Total Quality focuses on ways to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of processes by involving "process owners" who use input from "process beneficiaries." Notice that Total Quality does not seek to change the content of a process, but rather focuses on improving the approach taken to provide a needed service. The Quality Corner will introduce the participants in Total Quality next time.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

RETIREMENT CONFERENCE

The State Retirement Systems Division will conduct a conference for members planning for retirement from 9:30 a.m. to noon March 3 in Cameron Hall room 105.

Employees who are age 60 or older, or who are otherwise eligible to retire, will find this conference particularly beneficial. Complete information on eligibility for retirement, selection of optional payment arrangements, designation of beneficiaries, eligibility requirements for Social Security benefits, hospital/medical coverage, and other issues will be provided. For more information, call Marsha Hinson at ext. 3006.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Rudi Kiefer, Earth Science Department, presented a slide show to three classes at Alderman Elementary School on Feb. 16. The talk was titled "How Landforms Develop: Volcanoes, Caves, and Canyons."

Joseph V. Capell, director of financial aid, has been asked to serve a two-year term as a member of the Board of Governors Dental Scholarship (BGDS) Selection Committee for UNC Chapel Hill.

Dr. Michael A. Mallin, biological sciences, has published "Contributions of Benthic Microalgae to Coastal Fishery Yield" in Transactions of the American Fisheries Society, Vol. 121 p. 691 to 695. The article was co-written with Dr. JoAnn Burkholder of N.C. State and Dr. Michael Sullivan of Mississippi State University.

Celeste Millen, Ron Johnson, and Joanna Wright, librarians, have co-authored a document titled, "Outline of Standards for Migration to Integrated Online System." It was published as ERIC Document 349 009 by ERIC Clearinghouse on Information Resources.

Henri Ellis, accounts assistant for the Science and Mathematics Education

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

UNCW vs. William and Mary, 7:30 p.m., Feb. 26, Trask Coliseum.

UNCW vs. Old Dominion, 3 p.m., Feb. 28, Trask Coliseum. Parks and Recreation Day and UNCW seniors' last home game.

SCHOLARSHIP GRANTED

McKim & Creed, a Wilmington engineering firm, recently awarded $1,000 to UNCW as part of "McKim & Creed Scholarship for Excellence," a statewide scholarship program established to celebrate the firm's 15th anniversary. UNCW will award the scholarship to a second-year local student who excels in the field of his or her choice.

Center and the Center for Teaching Excellence, has been selected to serve on the New Hanover/Brunswick County ASSIST Coalition. Project ASSIST (The American Stop Smoking Intervention Study) is a seven-year, statewide campaign to reduce illness, disability, and premature death associated with tobacco use.

Charles Maimone, director of Auxiliary Services, has been appointed by the Board of Directors of the State Employees Credit Union to serve on their Wilmington Advisory Board. If you have any comments or suggestions that you would like conveyed to the Board, send them to Maimone, Auxiliary Services Office, Wagoner Hall.

David Bejou and Dr. Cem Canel, Cameron School of Business Administration, have had their articles, "International Facilities Location: A Competitive Marketing Strategy for Multinational Enterprises" and "An Application of Global Marketing via International Locations," accepted for presentation at the Sixth World Marketing Congress to be held in Istanbul, Turkey, July 15 to 19. Dr. B. Khumawala of the University of Houston is co-author of the article.

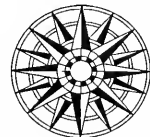

CENTER STAGE

The Center Stage Cafe offers a pizza buffet and live music every Wednesday at noon. Becky Lamb, guitarist/folk singer will perform March 10.

Faculty Members - Consider the Center Stage as a venue for student performances such as speeches, music, and theater. The Center Stage houses state of the art sound and light systems and is staffed with trained technicians. Call ext. 3285 for reservations.

UNCW DISCOVERY

Full-time faculty members are invited to submit abstracts describing their research that has appeared in peer-reviewed professional media. The UNCW Discovery editorial board will select five or six for expansion into 1200-word articles for the fall issue of Discovery. Submit 10 copies of each abstract to the Graduate School by April 15 on one-page forms available from department chairs or the Graduate School. Call ext. 3135 with questions.

CHARTING THE CURRENTS OF CHANGE
1992-93 Loyalty Fund Update

Let's Come Clean

The Division for University Advancement challenges all other offices to participate in the Loyalty Fund. Here's the challenge: when your office reaches 90 percent participation, with no less than $25 from each donor, the staff of University Advancement will wash all of the donors' cars. That's right, Bill, Ty, Mimi, Margaret, right on down the line.

The first to get their cars washed will be the staff of Human Resources. Who will be next?

Official Notices

Personnel Records

Pursuant to a ruling by the Attorney General's office, the following information has been provided to the Raleigh News and Observer for UNCW employees and other state employees paid through the Central Payroll office in Raleigh:

- Employee name
- Position number
- 1992 total compensation
- Compensation detail (base pay, overtime, longevity, etc.)
- Work county code number

Also, UNCW recently received a request from the New Hanover County Tax Office for information on employees residing in New Hanover County. UNC General Administration, following consultation with the Attorney General's office, has advised us that we are required under statute to release employee names and home addresses.

By March 1, 1993, a list showing UNCW employees with home addresses in New Hanover County will be provided to the tax office.

If you have questions regarding the release of information, call Kay Fryar at ext. 3698.

SPA reviews

Interim performance reviews for SPA employees on a fiscal year performance cycle should be performed now. No documentation needs to be sent to Human Resources. Work plans should be initiated and dated to indicate that a meeting was held and current performance was discussed. Call ext. 3160 for more information.

Faculty and Staff (con't)

Dr. Dick Engdahl, Cameron School of Business Administration, will present "Prevention of the Post-TQM Blues," at the Southern Organizational Development Conference.

Dr. Randy Hanson, Cameron School of Business Administration, has had the article "Social Host Liability," accepted for publication in the North Carolina Bar Quarterly.

Student Time Sheets

Student time sheets for February are due to the Payroll Office no later than 3 p.m., Friday, Feb. 26. Call Tina Wilson, ext. 3752, with questions.

Shared Leave request

Don Mintz, Physical Plant, has requested 107 hours of shared leave to avoid leave without pay for absence due to surgery and recuperation.

Effective Immediately

If a purchase costing between $100 and $500 upgrades a previously tagged piece of equipment, the charges should be coded to the 5X50 object code. Upgrades include purchases that increase the physical size or operating capabilities of an asset. Purchases of replacement parts are not included. The UNCW/FAS number(s) of the equipment should be included on the requisition. (Administrative Procedure-ACG. 2.60:C-13).

Software packages costing between $100 and $500 are still coded 5210, and any expenditure less than $100 should be coded 2XXX.

Call ext. 3875 if you have questions.

Fall Break

The dates for Fall Break '93 have been revised. The correct beginning of the break is 10:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 8; the end of the break is 8 a.m., Monday, Oct. 18.

Dr. Tammy Hunt, Cameron School of Business Administration, and N. Maddox, R. Boozer, and W. Wheatley will present a symposium panel on "The Fine Art of Climate Creation: A Delphi Comparison of Academic and Practitioner Perspectives," at the National Association of Business' Stimulation and Experiential Learning (ABSEL) Conference, to be held in April in Savannah, Ga.

Soar with the

SEAHAWKS!

Here's your chance to sport the Seahawk logo and support the UNCW Alumni Association. For the same cost as a personalized plate, you can honor the Seahawks by owning an official Seahawk license plate.

In addition to the regular annual motor vehicle registration fee, pay only $25 annually for the UNCW license plate. Fifteen dollars of that money comes back to the university.

UNCW must send the names of 300 people interested in purchasing (but not obligated to buy) license plates to the Department of Motor Vehicles. Once the DMV has 300 names, they will commit to making the tags and will send each person who signed up an application for a UNCW license plate.

If you are interested in signing up, stop by the Alumni Office, Alderman room 108, or call Barbie Cowan at ext. 3004.

Community Items

Camellia Show

A Camellia Show by the Tidewater Camellia Club will be held from 1 to 9 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 27, and from 1 to 6 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 28, at Independence Mall. The event is free.

Human Relations Month

An exhibition titled "More Than Education, the Black Learning Experience in New Hanover County" will be held from 2 to 5 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 28, at the Cape Fear Museum.

C a - LANA DONALDSON TAYLOR REFERENCE LIBRARIAN LIBRARY SERVICES C o m m u n i q u e

the official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 29 March 4, 1993

Salwen, Bongiorno, Nathanson perform in free recital

The UNCW Department of Fine Arts will present faculty members Barry David Salwen, Frank Bongiorno, and Robert Nathanson in concert at 8 p.m., Friday, March 12, in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is free.

Bongiorno and Nathanson will perform a new piece written for alto saxophone and guitar, In The Dragon's Garden, composed by former UNCW faculty member David Kechley.

Kechley will give a pre-concert talk about his new work in the Randall Library Auditorium at 7 p.m. The public is invited.

Salwen will perform solo piano works by contemporary Austrian composers Gerhard Suss, Friedrich Keil, and Maximilian Kreuz. These pieces, and Dr. Kechley's work, are being played for the first time in the Southeast.

Guest presenter shows professional stage design; holds master class

Stage designer Gary C. Eckhart will give a guest presentation titled, "Contemporary Stage Design, a Presentation of Original Designs for Opera, Theatre, and Musicals," at 8 p.m., Thursday, March 11, in Kenan Hall room 121.

The presentation will be geared to a general audience, and the public is invited to attend. Admission is free.

Eckhart's designs for the stage are represented in watercolor renderings and scaled presentation models. Slides of realized productions will be shown. The presentation will also cover developing artistic concepts and working with directors.

Eckhart is a professor of theatre arts at the State University of New York, College at Fredonia, and is the resident designer for Tri-Cities Opera, Binghamton, NY.

He received his Master of Fine Arts Degree (with honors) from Yale University, School of Drama where he also served as assistant to Donald Oenslager, one of the great names in American Theatre.

Eckhart has designed for the Cleveland Playhouse, where he won the Cleveland Critics Circle Award for his design for the U. S. Premiere of Arthur Miller's The Archbishop's Ceiling. He has also designed for the Chautauqua Opera Co., Champlain Shakespeare Festival, (Buffalo) Studio Arena Theatre, Pennsylvania Stage Co., Stage One (Louisville, KY), Idaho Repertory Theatre, and Players Theatre (Columbus, OH).

Eckhart will also conduct a master class in rendering for UNCW theatre design and technical majors on Friday, March 12.

The College of Arts and Sciences and the Fine Arts Department, Division of Drama, will host Eckhart's visit.

Mark your calendar

Albert Schweitzer

The Albert Schweitzer International Prizes will be held on the campus of UNCW March 14 to 18.

See next week's Communique for a full listing of events.

Comedian Tony Woods to perform

Comedian Tony Woods will perform at 8 p.m., Monday, March 22, UC ballroom. Tickets for the show are $5 for the general public and $3 for students and can be purchased at the University Union information center or at the door the evening of the event.

Woods has appeared on television in Deaf Comedy Jam, Carolina's Comedy Hour, Showtime at the Apollo, Showtime Presents the National Lampoon Comedy Playoffs, and in feature spots on BET (Black Entertainment Television).

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MINI-CONFERENCE ON STATISTICS

A mini-conference on the "Teaching and Learning of Introductory Statistics" will be held Friday, March 19, in the Union glass room. The event is sponsored by the UNCW Center for Teaching Excellence.

The program will begin at noon with a luncheon presentation by Dr. Joan Garfield, University of Minnesota. Garfield is one of the nation's leading experts on the teaching and learning of statistical concepts.

The schedule of events is:

noon to 2 p.m.

Luncheon and presentation
by Dr. Garfield

2 to 2:30 p.m.

Question and answer session

2:30 to 4 p.m.

UNCW resources for teaching statistics.

The mini-conference is free to all UNCW faculty and graduate teaching assistants. Call the CTE at ext. 3034 to register.

ADMINISTRATIVE CAREERS

The Office of Personnel Management will offer Administrative Careers With America groups 3 to 6 testing at 8 a.m., 10 a.m., 1 p.m., and 3 p.m., March 27, in Social Behavioral Building room 212. Visit the Career Planning and Placement Center to fill out a card to take the test. The deadline to fill out a card is March 15. Call ext. 3174 for more information.

ELECTRIC STAPLERS

Some of the electric staplers on campus are equipped with a metal key used to remove jammed staples. The key is attached to the power plug and is able to slide between the power plug and the wall outlet. This may result in sparks. Remove the keys and store elsewhere.

ENERGY TIP

Keep your thermostat at the lowest comfortable setting during the winter. Lowering the thermostat from 73 to 68 degrees day and night can save up to 20 percent on fuel.

The preceding home energy conservation tip is offered courtesy of the Chancellor's Energy Conservation Committee.

MARCH TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

Supervision for Administrative Supervisors:

March 3, 10, 17, 18, 24, 25, 31 and
April 1 - 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

EEO/AA Workshop:

March 15 - 10 a.m. to noon
March 16 - 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.
March 19 - 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Valuing Diversity:

March 16 - 9 to 11 a.m.
March 22 - 3 to 5 p.m.

CPS Behavioral Science in Business Review Course:

March 17, 24, 31 - 6 to 9 p.m.

Do's & Don'ts of Employment Interviewing:

March 19 - 9 a.m. to noon.

Career Development Strategies:

March 23, 30, April 8, 15
(4-day workshop) - 3 to 4 p.m.

Call Human Resources at ext. 3160 to register.

COMPUTER CLASSES

HyperCard:

March 9 - 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Intro to VAX

March 9 - 3 to 5 p.m.

Intro to Internet

March 10 - 3 to 5 p.m.

Microsoft Word, Intermediate

March 11 - 3 to 5 p.m.

Call Dana Ward at ext. 3805 to register.

SENIOR LEADERSHIP AWARD

Applications are now being accepted for the Senior Leadership Award, sponsored by the Office of Dean of Students and the Division of Student Affairs. Applications and two letters of recommendation are due April 2. The award will be given to a senior who has fulfilled the following criteria:

- A cumulative GPA of 3.0
- Outstanding leadership experience on campus and/or community while attending UNCW
- A senior graduating between May and December 1993

The winner will receive a cash stipend of $400, a personal plaque, and his/her name will be placed on the roster plaque displayed in The Leadership Center. For more information, contact The Leadership Center, Union room 212, ext. 3877.

FOR SALE

Regalia for sale to UNCW faculty members: cap w/tassel, size 7 3/8, and gown with master's hood. $100. Call ext. 3239.

TRAFFIC SAFETY

Cyclists, pedestrians, motorists — what is your opinion about traffic safety on campus? Attend the Open Forum to discuss your concerns about right-of-way conflicts, problems in crosswalks, bicycle paths, and future planning with campus administrators. It will be held at 7:30 p.m., Monday, March 15, in UC ballroom 1. For more information call Deborah Haywood at 4137.

FREE BINDERS

OCIS has over 50 binders, approximately 10" x 10" (some smaller), free for the taking in Hoggard Hall room 205.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

STUDENT HOURS

Students can meet with Chancellor Leutze in his office during the following hours:

3:30 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, March 10
3:30 to 4:30 p.m., Thursday, March 18
3:30 to 5 p.m., Monday, April 5
3:30 to 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 21
3:30 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, April 28
3:30 to 5 p.m., Tuesday, May 4
3:30 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, May 12

OUR DAILY BREAD

The film Our Daily Bread will be shown at 7 p.m., Wednesday, March 10, in Randall Library Auditorium. Dr. Kristin Szylvian, assistant professor of history at UNCW, will introduce the film.

The event is sponsored by the Phi Alpha Theta, the history honor society, and is free and open to the public.

CPR/STANDARD FIRST AID

The Safety Department is offering CPR/Standard First Aid training on the following dates:

March 9 and 10 - noon to 4 p.m.
March 18 and 19 - 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.
March 30 and April 1 - 8 a.m. to noon

The cost is $18.50. Call ext. 3057 for reservations/questions. The CPR training schedule is now listed on the VAX info system.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Judy Peel, assistant professor in the HPER Department, presented a program titled "Exercise and Aging" at the February meeting of the American Association for Retired Persons at the New Hanover County Senior Center.

Dr. Randy LaGrange, sociology and anthropology, has had his book Policing American Society published. The college-level textbook was recently released by Nelson-Hall.

Dr. Andrew F. Clark, assistant professor of history, has published the article "The Challenges of Cross-Cultural Oral History: Pulsar Traditions on Slavery From Bundu, Senegambia" (West Africa) in the current issue of the Oral History Review (fall/winter, 1992). Clark's work was partially funded by a 1992 UNCW Summer Initiatives Grant.

Dr. John Marts, Cameron School of Business Administration, has had "Foreign Currency Exchange Gains and Losses in the People's Republic of China's Joint Venture Accounting System" accepted for presentation at the Southwest American Accounting Association Meeting.

Dr. P. Howard Cummings, associate professor in nursing, presented two Career breakout sessions at the South Carolina Student Nurses' Association 1993 Annual State Convention in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. He presented "Alternatives in Nursing: Operating Room Nursing," and "Alternatives in Nursing: Flight Nursing."

Dr. Mary Ann Zakutney represented the UNCW School of Nursing at the Eastern Region Association of Public Health Nursing Administrators quarterly meeting in Greenville Oct. 15. She presented programs in nursing and research agendas in progress.

Dr. Sally Cummings, assistant professor in the School of Nursing, presented "Socialization to Nursing: the Effect of a Summer Nurse Externship Program on the Role Conception of Baccalaureate Nursing Students" at the Seventh Annual Southern Nursing Research Society Conference in Birmingham, Al. Feb. 18 to 21. She also presented "Health Professions: Socialization, Mentoring, and Transitions" at the Medical Assistants Association Feb. 23 in Wilmington.

Dr. P. Howard Cummings, associate professor of nursing, has just completed his certification in Pediatric Advanced Life Support and has just successfully completed his North Carolina Emergency Medical Technicians training. He was also recently certified in Advanced Cardiac Life Support.

Dr. Tammy Hunt, Cameron School of Business Administration, has had her article "The Changing Structure of Hospital Management: Paid Medical Director vs. Volunteer/Elected Chief of Staff" accepted for publication in the Proceedings of the Southwest Decision Sciences Institute. The article was co-written with L. Roberts.

Dr. Tammy Hunt, Dr. Becky Porterfield, and T. Zalewski have had their article "The Modified Focus Factory: A Mechanism for Product Diversity," accepted for publication in the Proceedings of the Southwest Decision Sciences Institute.

Dr. Rick Mathieu, Cameron School of Business Administration, and John E. Gibson have had their article "A Methodology for Large-Scale R&D Planning Based on Cluster Analysis" accepted for publication in IEBE Transactions on Engineering Management. Mathieu has had his article "The Case for Cooperative University/ Industry Student Projects" accepted for publication in the Journal of Information Systems Education.

Dr. Judy Siguaw, Cameron School of Business Administration, has had the article "An Examination of Adaptive Selling: Antecedents and Outcomes" accepted for publication in the Proceedings of the 1993 Academy of Marketing Science Conference.

Dr. Mary Ann Zakutney represented UNCW at the Governor's Task Force Conference on Health Objectives for the Year 2000 at Research Triangle Park Nov. 18 to 19.

Dr. Mary Ann Zakutney spoke on "Transcultural Nursing: Problems and Solutions in Caring for Patients From Different Cultures" at the North Carolina Nurses Association monthly meeting Jan. 21 at New Hanover Regional Medical Center AHEC.

Public Service and Extended Education

How to Play Blues and Boogie-Woogie Piano. Learn how to make the blues happen for you. Fee includes cassette and workbook. 6:30-9:30 p.m., Thursday, March 11. Fee is $65 by March 4.

Astronomy: An Introduction to the Night Sky. Explore the solar system, constellations, stars, and the latest discoveries. 8-9:30 p.m., Thursdays, March 18 - April 29. Fee is $40 by March 4; $45 after. Registration deadline: March 11.

Keys to a Happy, Healthy Retirement. Learn the pitfalls of retirement and simple strategies for improving physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual health. 7-8 p.m., Thursday, March 18. Fee is $22 by March 4; $27 after. Registration deadline: March 11.

Wild Water (for ages 7 to 11). Marine study program for children. 8 a.m.-4:45 p.m., rain or shine. Monday, March 8. Fee is $16 per day per participant. Fee includes round-trip transportation from UNCW to the NC Aquarium at Ft. Fisher, activities, field trips, and some supplies.

Thomas Jefferson's Virginia. Visit Monticello for a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to see Jefferson's estate as it was when he lived there. Other historical stops include Charlottesville, Staunton, and Richmond with Wilmington restoration consultant Ed Turberg. May 11-13. Fee: $288 for registrations received by March 19; $300 after. If you want single accommodations, add $50. Registration deadline: April 2. Call for brochure.

Predicting the Future - a special lecture series on educational issues. March 11, Superintendent/School Board Relations: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow; March 16, Your Instructional Technology Needs; March 18, The Need for a State Policy on the Young Child; March 22, Federal Government Schools—Department of Defense Schools: Their Strengths and Weaknesses; March 24, Total Quality Management: Catch Phrase or Framework for Change?; March 30, School Reform: Rhetoric or Substance; April 12, OBE, HOTS and Technology: a Joint Accountability Venture; April 20, The Comprehensive High School: Managing the Complexity of the 90s; April 22, The State Department of Public Instruction, Mission and Governance. Programs will be held from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. Fee: $10 per session. Registration deadline: Two days before session begins.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Official Notices

EEO/AA Workshop

The EEO/AA Open Forum Advisory Committee and Human Resources will jointly sponsor an open forum on the university's EEO/AA policy and recruitment procedures for staff positions from 10 a.m. to noon, March 15 and 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., March 16 and 19.

All sessions will be held in the Human Resources Training Room. Seating is limited. Call ext. 3160 for reservations.

Correction

Last week's Communique listed the wrong starting date for this year's fall break. The break begins at 10 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 13, and ends at 8 a.m., Monday, Oct. 18.

Effective Immediately

If a purchase costing between $100 and $500 upgrades a previously tagged piece of equipment, the charges should be coded to the 5X50 object code. Upgrades include purchases that increase the physical size or operating capabilities of an asset. Purchases of replacement parts are not included. The UNCW/FAS number(s) of the equipment should be included on the requisition. (Administrative Procedure-ACG. 2.60:C-13).

Software packages costing between $100 and $500 are still coded 5210, and any expenditure less than $100 should be coded 2XXX.

Call ext. 3875 if you have questions.

SPEAKERS NEEDED

Speakers are need for the "Take Back the Night" rally. The rally committee is looking for faculty and/or staff members who would like to speak briefly in support of ending sexual violence at the March 16 rally. Survivors are also invited to speak. To volunteer, call Diane Edwards at ext. 3577.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS (CON'T)

TAKE BACK THE NIGHT

Faculty and staff are urged to participate in the "Take Back the Night" march and rally scheduled for March 16 on the UNCW campus. Assemble at 7:30 p.m. in front of Randall Library; the rally will follow at 8:30 p.m. at the gazebo. Organizers ask faculty and staff to show students their commitment to ending sexual violence against all people by attending the rally. Call ext. 3577 for more information.

Volunteers are needed to help at the rally on March 16. To volunteer, call ext. 3610.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE ON CAMPUS

Faculty and staff are invited to the program: "Sexual Violence on Today's Campus: What Can We Do?" at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, March 11, in the UC ballroom. Speaker Gary Bonas, associate director of student activities at Villanova University and active member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, will use an interactive style to allow the audience to explore the issues, facts, and myths surrounding sexual violence and sexual behaviors of college students. Please urge students to attend. For more information, call ext. 3577.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 30 March 11, 1993

United Carolina Bank makes $500,000 commitment to UNCW and alumni

UNCW Chancellor James R. Leutze announced a $100,000 gift from United Carolina Bank yesterday. The contribution, part of the university's five-year, $15 million Capital Campaign, will fund two endowed scholarships, each established with a $50,000 contribution.

One scholarship will be awarded to a minority undergraduate who is pursuing a career in business; the other will be awarded to an entering freshman who lives in North Carolina and has demonstrated excellence in his or her high school career.

In acknowledging the major gift from UCB, Chancellor Leutze commented that as we near the end of this decade, "the university has recognized the critical need to build its endowment before we enter the next century. UCB continues to play a leadership role in meeting that critical need."

In addition to the $100,000 gift, UCB will team up with the Alumni Association to renovate Wise House, a Neoclassical Revival mansion donated to the university in 1969 by the heirs of Jessie Kenan Wise. UCB has authorized a loan of $400,000 to the Alumni Association to complete major renovation work to the house.

When officials from UCB visited the mansion at 1713 Market Street, "they were just as excited as the rest of us about the potential of that house for the alumni and the university," Vice Chancellor for Advancement William G. Anlyan told the Alumni Association Board of Directors at its Feb. 20 meeting.

"After visiting the Wise House, Wilmington City Executive Jerry Wilkins told me, 'the question is not whether we can afford to finance the renovation, the question is, can we afford not to?'" said Rhone Sasser, chairman and chief executive officer of United Carolina Bank. "I agreed with him."

The mansion will be used by the Department of Alumni Affairs and the advancement division, and will be available for university and community functions.

Wise House was built in 1909 by Delgado Cotton Mills President Edwin C. Holt and his wife, Dolores. Jessie Kenan Wise bought the house in 1916, and it was her primary residence until she died in 1968. Her grandson Lawrence Lewis Jr., and granddaughter, Mrs. James L. Wiley, donated the house to UNC Wilmington a year later. It is in the same block as Kenan House, official residence of the chancellor, and the former home of Sarah Graham Kenan, sister of Jessie Kenan Wise. Kenan House was also donated to the university by the Kenan family, including Frank Kenan, who maintains strong ties with Wilmington.

"The UNCW Alumni Association is honored to be a part of the Wise House restoration," said John Baldwin, chair of the UNCW Alumni Association. "We call upon our students, friends, faculty, staff, and supporters of the university to join us as we work to return this house to its once splendid grandeur."

"United Carolina Bank, UNC Wilmington, and the UNCW Alumni Association have entered into an important partnership today," said Chancellor Leutze. "It is a partnership that will give educational opportunities to future students of the university and will provide a home for past, present, and future alumni."

Wise House

ANNOUNCEMENTS

HELP NEEDED

Staff member Helen Washington was left homeless after a Feb. 27 fire destroyed the house she was renting. Donations of clothes, furnishings, or money will be greatly appreciated.

Please contact Towana Moore at ext. 3051 for more information.

LOST & FOUND

UNCW's lost and found is located in the Union information center. If you have misplaced a personal item on campus, call the center at ext. 3841.

BIOLOGY SEMINAR

Biological Sciences will host a seminar by Dr. Roger Rulifson, associate professor of biology at ECU, titled "Survivorship of Young Striped Bass in Albemarle Sound: Genetic or Environmental Control?" at 2 p.m., Friday, March 12, in Friday Hall room 151. All are welcome; refreshments will be served.

UNCW DISCOVERY

Full-time faculty members are invited to submit abstracts describing their research that has appeared in peer-reviewed professional media. The UNCW Discovery editorial board will select five or six for expansion into 1200-word articles for the fall issue of Discovery. Submit 10 copies of each abstract to the Graduate School by April 15 on one-page forms available from department chairs or the Graduate School. Call ext. 3135 with questions.

CPR/STANDARD FIRST AID

The Safety Department is offering CPR/Standard First Aid training on the following dates:

March 18 and 19 - 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.
March 30 and April 1 - 8 a.m. to noon

The cost is $18.50. Call ext. 3057 for reservations/questions.

TEACHING EXCELLENCE AWARD

Letters of nomination for the Board of Trustees Teaching Excellence Award will be accepted until March 31.

The $1500 cash award will specify a member of the faculty as a person of excellence, and it will call upon him or her to share that excellence with colleagues and students.

Nominations may be submitted by any member of the faculty, currently enrolled students, alumni, or persons in the larger community served by the university.

All letters of nomination must be limited to one page and must be received no later than Wednesday, March 31, by the Chancellor's Nomination Committee, Alderman Hall.

DEGREE AUDIT TRAINING

The Registrar's Office will offer degree audit training sessions at 8 a.m., 9:30 a.m., 2 p.m., and 3:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 16, for interested faculty advisors. Call Terri at ext. 3036 to register.

TAKE BACK THE NIGHT

Faculty and staff are urged to participate in the "Take Back the Night" march and rally scheduled for March 16 on the UNCW campus. Assemble at 7:30 p.m. in front of Randall Library; the rally will follow at 8:30 p.m. at the gazebo. Organizers ask faculty and staff to attend and to show students their commitment to ending sexual violence against all people. Call ext. 3577 for more information.

SPEAKERS NEEDED

Speakers are needed for the "Take Back the Night" rally. The rally committee is looking for faculty and/or staff members who would like to speak briefly in support of ending sexual violence at the March 16 rally. Survivors are also invited to speak. To volunteer, call Diane Edwards at ext. 3577.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Volunteers are needed to help at the "Take Back the Night" march and rally March 16. To volunteer, call ext. 3610.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE ON CAMPUS

Faculty and staff are invited to the program: "Sexual Violence on Today's Campus: What Can We Do?" at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the UC ballroom. Speaker Gary Bonas, associate director of student activities at Villanova University and active member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, will use an interactive style to allow the audience to explore the issues, facts, and myths surrounding sexual violence and sexual behaviors of college students. Please urge students to attend. For more information, call ext. 3577.

SENIOR LEADERSHIP AWARD

Applications are now being accepted for the Senior Leadership Award, sponsored by the Office of Dean of Students and the Division of Student Affairs. For more information, call the Leadership Center at ext. 3877.

TRAFFIC SAFETY

Cyclists, pedestrians, motorists — what is your opinion about traffic safety on campus? Attend the Open Forum to discuss your concerns about right-of-way conflicts, problems in crosswalks, bicycle paths, and future planning with campus administrators. It will be held at 7:30 p.m., Monday, March 15, in UC ballroom 1. Attendance forms will be available. For more information, call Deborah Haywood at 4137.

FACULTY RECITAL

The UNCW Department of Fine Arts will present faculty members Barry David Salwen, Frank Bongiorno, and Robert Nathanson in concert at 8 p.m., Friday, March 12, in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is free.

Albert Schweitzer

Plan to attend all of the events surrounding the

1993 ALBERT SCHWEITZER INTERNATIONAL PRIZES

Sunday, March 14	3:30 p.m.	Opening of the Schweitzer Display Randall Library
	5 p.m.	Organ Concert performed by John Jordan First Presbyterian Church, 125 South 3rd Street
Monday, March 15	8 p.m.	"Albert Schweitzer: Yesterday's Man for Today's World" Dr. James R. Leutze, Chancellor High School Schweitzer Essay Awards Cameron Auditorium
Tuesday, March 16	8 p.m.	One Act, One Woman Play I Am His Wife about Mrs. Helene Schweitzer Performed by Lilly Lessing Kenan Auditorium
Wednesday, March 17	8 p.m.	Wilmington Symphony Orchestra Concert with guest soloist, Roya Weyerhauser, pianist Kenan Auditorium
Thursday, March 18	8 p.m.	Schweitzer International Prizes Ceremony Kenan Auditorium Public Reception following the Ceremony Wagoner Hall

Events are free and open to the public.

The Albert Schweitzer International Prizes are awarded every four years at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington by the North Carolina Educational, Historical, and Scientific Foundation, Inc. The prizes are awarded to individuals worldwide who reflect Dr. Schweitzer's philosophy of "reverence for life." The prizes recognize excellence in medicine, music, and the humanities, the three areas in which Schweitzer excelled. The award winners are chosen by a secret committee and are each given $7,500 and a bronze medal. The prizes are the only kind in the world, and the only international prizes given in North Carolina.

1993 ALBERT SCHWEITZER INTERNATIONAL PRIZE RECIPIENTS

BROTHER DOMINIQUE CATTÀ

Brother Cattà is a Benedictine monk and has served at the Monastery of Keur Moussa, Senegal, for 30 years. He has worked with monks at the monastery, including several who are Senegalese, in creating religious music which integrates African values and musical traditions with the rich Christian heritage of old Europe. For example, Cattà has adapted Catholic rituals such as the Ordinary of the Mass to include hymns and prayers that he composed to be played on the kora (the African harp) and the tamtam (a form of gong). Through Cattà's use of these familiar African instruments, the liturgy of Christianity became meaningful in a Moslem country, and Cattà achieved his goal of creating something that both cultures could understand and enjoy.

ROBERT MULLER

Robert Muller, the "philosopher of the United Nations," has spent his career advocating a peaceful world without borders. After joining the French Resistance during World War II, Muller returned to his homeland of Alsace-Lorraine, a European region on the German and French border, and devoted his life to peace. He won a United Nations essay contest on world government and later joined the United Nations Secretariat. In Muller's 38 years of service at the U.N., he has rose to the rank of assistant secretary-general, helped coordinate the work of several U.N. agencies, launched several world conferences, and delivered hundreds of speeches on world peace. Muller, also known as the father of global education, has written many books that have been published in many different languages. Now in active retirement, he works for the U.N. offices in New York and Geneva and is chancellor emeritus of the U.N. University for Peace in Costa Rica.

SIR JOHN WILSON

Sir John Wilson, blinded at the age of 12 in a school, chemistry accident, has been instrumental in the founding of several world agencies for the prevention of avoidable blindness and other disabilities. As a staff member of the Royal National Institute for the Blind, he conducted research that took him on journeys throughout the world. Sir John and his wife, Jean, traveled throughout Africa, Asia, Europe, and the Americas to establish organizations for the blind and to help in blindness prevention. On a journey to West Africa they discovered entire villages stricken with ocular onchocerciasis, a type of blindness that they termed "river blindness." In addition, they created a river blindness control program in West Africa and helped to establish cataract surgeries in India. Through his work with the Royal National Institute for the Blind in London and the United Nations' sanctioned organization, IMPACT, an organization for people with preventable injuries, Sir John has made an indelible mark on society.

WINNERS' AND SPECIAL GUESTS' AVAILABLE TIMES TO MEET WITH STUDENTS

Tuesday, March 16

9 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

University Union

Room 201	Brother Dominique Cattà
Room 206	Robert Muller
Room 207	Sir John Wilson
Room 210	Rhena Schweitzer Miller (daughter of the Schweitzers)

Wednesday, March 17

10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

University Union

Room 201	Brother Dominique Cattà
Room 203	Dr. Djiby Djop
Room 206	Robert Muller
Room 207	Sir John Wilson
Room 210	Rhena Schweitzer Miller

(break for lunch with students in the Hawk's Nest)

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

All interested faculty, staff, and students are invited to the Feminist Colloquium, 3 to 4 p.m., Friday, March 19, in the Faculty Common, Morton Hall. The reading is a selection from Carol Gilligan's Making Connections, and is on reserve in the library (Sponsored by Ben & Jerry's).

Please note place change.

CHEMISTRY SEMINAR

The Chemistry Department's Chemistry 495 Senior Seminar series will sponsor a lecture by Dr. Chia-yu Li, chair of the Chemistry Department at East Carolina University, at 3:30 p.m., Friday, March 12, in DeLoach Hall room 114. The title of the seminar is "Using Square-Wave Voltammetry for Kinetic and Quantitative Measurements of Redox Systems." Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

DISCOVER CENTER

Discover Outdoor Programs will sponsor "Games, Games, Games, and More Games: a Workshop," from 2:30 to 4 p.m., Thursday, March 18, on Brooks Field. The hands-on program will introduce participants to ice-breaker and team building activities. For more information or to sign up, visit the center, UC room 138, or call ext. 4052.

SATELLITE PROGRAM

A satellite video program "Molecular Modeling in the Design of New Drugs: Success Stories" will be presented from noon to 3 p.m., Tuesday, March 16, in Randall Library Auditorium. The program was produced by the American Chemical Society; its showing at UNCW was arranged by the department of chemistry. Admission is free. Contact Ned Martin, ext. 3453, for more details.

SCIENCE AND MATH FAIR

The North Carolina Southeastern Regional Science and Mathematics Fair will be held Saturday, March 13, in Trask Coliseum. The fair will be open to the public from 1 to 2 p.m. Awards will be presented at 2 p.m.

Over 200 students from grades 6 to 12 hailing from 15 counties will display projects. Scientists and engineers from the university and regional industries will select award winners in ten categories.

First and second place winners will go on to compete at the state level in Greensboro April 16. Special awards will be presented by such organizations as the Sierra Club, the NC Biotechnology Center, and the Military Services.

The event is sponsored by UNCW's Science and Mathematics Education Center and the North Carolina Science and Mathematics Alliance.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Ann Lockledge, associate professor in the Department of Curricular Studies, and Brad Moore, Department of Educational Design and Management graduate student, made a joint presentation at the annual conference of the North Carolina Council for the Social Studies March 4. Their multimedia presentation was titled "Europe on the Move: A Look at Economic Unity."

On March 5, Dr. Brooks Dodson, English, addressed the Wilmington Sertoma Club on the subject of change in the English language.

Richard Veit, professor of English, was the luncheon speaker at the "Focus on Literacy" conference for area teachers, held Feb. 19 at the Wilmington Hilton. He spoke on "Teaching Writing, Teaching Grammar."

On March 6 he gave a presentation, "Theory in the Academy, Practice in the Schoolhouse: Designing the English Syntax Course," at the annual meeting of the North and South Carolina Association of Linguists held at Catawba College in Salisbury.

Dr. Joseph Pawlik, biological sciences, has had his review article titled "Chemical Ecology of the Settlement of Benthic Marine Invertebrates" published in Oceanography and Marine Biology: An Annual Review, Volume 30 pp. 273-335.

A research paper by Dr. Wei Feng in Mathematical Sciences and Xin Lu at North Carolina State University, titled "Dynamics and Numerical Simulations in a Three Species Food Chain Model," has been accepted for presentation March 19 at Mississippi State Annual Conference on Differential Equations and Computational Simulations. The paper will also be published in the preceding of the conference, a special issue of the Journal of Computational and Applied Mathematics.

Dr. John Bennett, associate professor in the HPER Department, was the sole presenter in Salina, Kansas for the statewide Kansas Alliance of Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance winter workshop held Feb. 20. His topic was "Effective Teaching Techniques for Developmentally Appropriate Physical Education."

Dr. Eric G. Bolen, dean of the Graduate School, was elected to the Executive Board of the Conference on Southern Graduate Schools at the recent CSGS meeting in Jackson, Ms. More than 210 institutions in 15 states and the District of Columbia are members of CSGS.

Dr. Kemille Moore, assistant professor of fine arts, has contributed the chapter "Lithography from 1875 to the 1920s" to the volume British Printmakers 1855-1955, recently published by Garton and Company in association with Scholar Press, London.

The Quality Corner

For Total Quality to be a success, we must all be involved in, and responsible for, quality improvement. How do we each make a difference? Let's explore the roles each of us plays in Total Quality.

Someone must be the "Sparkplug" - constantly spreading the word about Total Quality and helping the organization identify quality improvement opportunities. This person is the "Champion."

For each critical process there is a "Sponsor" - the person responsible for translating the organization's mission into activity and allocating resources.

The "Team Leader" manages activities on a day-to-day basis to produce the services required to fulfill the mission.

The "Facilitator" is trained in a systematic approach to quality improvement and problem-solving. This individual helps team members communicate with one another, negotiates conflict, and uses various Total Quality tools to find solutions to process problems.

The "Team Member" is one of many owners of the critical process. He or she has direct involvement with the process and is in a better position to study, evaluate, and recommend improvements.

The success of Total Quality is dependent on the commitment and participation of each of these individuals. Next time we'll begin to look at the roles each of these individuals play in the process to improve quality.

Official Notices

University Time

The university receives periodic reports of employees using university time or property for personal gain (typing papers for students for a fee, using office computers for outside work, or selling merchandise on campus). University employees are reminded that the use of university time or resources for personal gain is prohibited and may result in disciplinary action.

Student time sheets

Student time sheets for March are due to the Payroll Office no later than 3 p.m., Wednesday, March 31. The deadline for April time sheets will be 3 p.m., Friday, April 30.

Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 with questions.

Inaccurate student time sheets could delay pay

Payroll has encountered the following errors on student time sheets: missing or incorrect social security numbers, pay rates, account numbers, and signatures. To assure that students' time sheets are processed timely and accurately, this data must be verified before being sent to the Payroll Office. Incorrect time sheets will be returned, which could result in delaying the student's payment. Call Tina at ext. 3752 with questions.

Community Item

Fortiori will present a benefit fashion production for AmFAR (American Foundation for AIDS Research) at 8:30 p.m., Friday, March 26, at the Coastline Convention Center. Tickets can be purchased from Judy Lewis in the HPER Department. Call ext. 3254 for more information.

Public Service and Extended Education

Making the Most of Mind and Memory. Learn how to improve cognitive skills, memory, and learning abilities regardless of age. 7-8 p.m., Thursday, March 25. Fee is $22 by March 11; $27 after. Registration deadline: March 18.

Travel and Adventure Film Series. Greece — a land of sunshine, beauty, and spirit offers the visitor warmth and hospitality. 7:30 p.m., Monday, March 15, in Kenan Auditorium. Tickets are $7 and sold only at the door.

Oakdale: Wilmington's Picturesque Cemetery. Discover the beauty and treasures of this historic cemetery. 7:30-8:30 p.m., Thursday, April 8 (class session) and 10 a.m.-noon, Saturday, April 10 (walking tour). Fee is $15 by March 25; $20 after. Registration deadline: April 1.

OceanLab Hawaii. Students will learn as they study coral reef ecosystems, marine mammals, rain and cloud forests, and inactive volcanoes in Maui, Hawaii during this one-week educational experience. The trip is scheduled for July 17-24 and is open to high school students age 14-17 years who are academically-gifted or who have attended Coast Trek or other MarineQuest programs. All participants must have good to excellent swimming ability. The all-inclusive fee of $2,050 includes round-trip airfare from Raleigh, N.C., to Maui, Hawaii, accommodations at Lihlihi Cottages, all meals, program activities, instruction, ground and water transportation, and admission fees. A non-refundable deposit of $800 is due April 17 with balance due by June 1.

Adult Scholars Luncheon Program-The Decline and Fall of the English Language with Dr. Brooks Dodson. Explore the changes in the English language and how change is often interpreted as a decline in elegance and expressiveness. Noon-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 13. Fee is $9 including lunch. Registration deadline: April 6.

Brunch with the Schweitzer Winners. This special brunch will provide a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to meet and speak informally with the international winners of the Schweitzer Prizes. 9:30-11:30 a.m., Friday, March 19. Fee is $10 including meal. Deadline: March 12.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 31 March 18, 1993

Cameron School observes Business Week '93

The Cameron School of Business Administration will host Business Week '93 Monday, March 22, through Friday, March 26. The theme for the week will be "Preparing for Tomorrow Today," and the events are designed as a supplement to classroom instruction.

Admission to all events is free.

Business School Majors and Career Opportunities

The Business School Majors and Career Opportunities session will be held at noon, Monday, March 22, in Cameron Hall room 105. The event will be an open house for the School of Business. Faculty members and administrators will be on hand to answer questions from students who may wish to major in the field of business.

Commerce Cup Challenge

The Commerce Cup Challenge kicks off Business Week '93 with students demonstrating what they have learned in the classroom. Based on the College Bowl format, the Commerce Cup Challenge gives students a chance to compete in an enjoyable and competitive atmosphere. Quarterfinals will take place from 4 to 6:30 p.m., Monday, March 22, and semifinals and finals will take place from 4 to 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 23, in Cameron Hall room 105.

Business Leaders Speak

Approximately 40 representatives will be on hand in Cameron Hall to talk about issues pertaining to their businesses from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m., Wednesday, March 24, and from 9:30 a.m. until 3 p.m., Thursday, March 19.

A wide range of sectors will be represented to include manufacturing, sales, health care, marketing, local government administrations, and public hospitals. More than 45 sessions are scheduled throughout the two days with topics ranging from "A Day in the Life of a Hospital" to "Telecommunications in the 21st Century."

The Cameron School of Business Administration has dismissed classes on March 24 and 25 so students and faculty can take full advantage of talks being given in the areas of accounting, economics, finance, management, marketing, and production concerns. Other interested UNCW students are welcome to participate as are members of the public on a space available basis.

Keynote Address

Michael D. Donahue, executive vice president and executive management director of Saatchi & Saatchi Advertising, New York City, will be the keynote speaker of Business Week in a free lecture at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 18, at Kenan Auditorium. Students and the public are invited to hear him discuss "Advertising: If It Entertains, Can It Sell? If It Sells, Can It Entertain?" Donahue also serves as executive management director of the Fresh Air Fund and Florida Department of Citrus.

(cont'n on page 4)

UNCW hosts jazz festival

The Eleventh Annual UNCW Guest Artist Jazz Festival will be held March 26 to 28 in Kenan Auditorium and the University Center. This year's guest artist will be trumpeter Dominic Spera, whose contributions to music have gained international recognition in the jazz curriculum area as well as the performing arts.

Events include high school and college jazz band performances with clinics in the University Center Ballroom from noon to 5 p.m., Friday, March 26. Friday evening the UNCW Septet will perform at 8 p.m. in the Center Stage Cafe. Saturday performances and clinics will continue in Kenan Auditorium from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday evening at 8, Dominic Spera will perform with the 7 O'clock Jazz Ensemble at Kenan Auditorium.

Albert Schweitzer

The Albert Schweitzer International Prizes will be presented at 8 p.m. tonight in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is free; everyone is invited.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

YARDS RAKED

The UNCW Global Volunteers are trying to raise the remaining funds needed for their Barbados Service Project in May. They will be available to rake yards Saturday, March 20, and Saturday, March 27. If you would like your yard cleaned of storm fall-out, call the Leadership Center, ext. 3877, to arrange a time. Yards will be raked on a first-come, first-served basis.

FACULTY COMPUTING EXPO

Academic Computing Services will host the 1993 Faculty Computing Expo from 1 to 4 p.m., March 31, in UC ballroom one. This year's focus is on computing tools that faculty can take advantage of.

Faculty members will demonstrate a variety of computing technologies including color printing, hypercard based training, textbook, and statistical and multimedia applications.

Academic Computing staff will give software demos in areas such as mathematics and statistics, integrated programs, graphics, simulations, multimedia, and other programs.

TAX BITE TOO BIG?

John Pezzoni, UNCW's VALIC 403(B) Tax Deferred Annuity (TDA) representative, will be on campus Tuesday, March 23. TDAs allow you to save money on federal and state taxes now while saving for retirement. If you would like to speak privately with Pezzoni, call Marsha Hinson at ext. 3006 to schedule an appointment.

CAMPUS MINISTRY

"Lift Jesus Higher" will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Wednesday, March 24, on the Union north lawn. Events will include preaching, music, sing-alongs, and drama.

The event is sponsored by Overcomers' Campus Ministry of the Lord's Church. Call 675-9457 or 791-2267 for more information.

GEOGRAPHIC INFO SYSTEMS

Staff from the North Carolina Center for Geographic Information and Analysis, or CGIA, will present an overview of the state's activities associated with the development and use of geographic information systems (GIS) technology at 2 p.m., Monday, March 29, in Friday Hall room 252.

Many state and local government agencies are beginning to use GIS technology in arenas such as natural resource management, environmental planning and regulation, marine fisheries management, municipal infrastructure management, tax administration, facility siting, and emergency management. A tremendous amount of GIS growth has occurred in the past several years.

The presentation will consist of an overview of CGIA, the state's lead GIS agency since 1977, discussion about several user applications, and an on-line user demonstration of a sub-set of the corporate database.

JUST DO IT

The second session of the smoking cessation program, SMOKE STOPPERS, is being planned. In five one-hour sessions, you will be ready to stop smoking. The cost is $80 (with incentives for reimbursements), and payroll deduction is available. Contact Marsha Hinson at ext. 3006 for details.

RECEPTION FOR BILL CALLOWAY

The vice chancellor for business affairs and the staff of human resources invite the university community to a retirement reception to honor William R. Calloway, assistant vice chancellor for human resources, from 4 to 6 p.m., Wednesday, March 31, in the Union living room.

Send Communique items to BUSSEC on VAX or to C. Busse, University Relations. The deadline for Communique items is noon on Tuesdays.

CHRISTIAN RIGHT

Dr. Kenneth Wald, professor and chair of the Department of Political Science at the University of Florida, Gainesville, will discuss "The Christian Right, Requiem or Resurrection" at 7 p.m., Monday, March 22, in Cameron auditorium. Dr. Wald is the author of Religion and Politics in the United States and many other works on religion and politics.

The event is sponsored by the Political Science Department in conjunction with the Philosophy and Religion Department. It is the first in a series of lectures sponsored by the Political Science Department.

Soar with the

SEAHAWKS!

Here's your chance to sport the Seahawk logo and support the UNCW Alumni Association. For the same cost as a personalized plate, you can honor the Seahawks by owning an official Seahawk license plate.

In addition to the regular annual motor vehicle registration fee, pay only $25 annually for the UNCW license plate. Fifteen dollars of that money comes back to the university.

UNCW must send the names of 300 people interested in purchasing (but not obligated to buy) license plates to the Department of Motor Vehicles. Once the DMV has 300 names, they will commit to making the tags and will send each person who signed up an application for a UNCW license plate.

If you are interested in signing up, stop by the Alumni Office, Alderman room 108, or call Barbie Cowan at ext. 3004.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

AMATEUR RADIO

The UNCW Math and Computer Science Club will sponsor a packet radio meeting of the Wilmington VHF Association at 7 p.m., Tuesday, March 23, in Bear Hall Room 208.

Two packet radio systems will be set up and tutorials will be given. One packet radio will run at 9600 baud, the other will run at 1200.

Everyone is invited. You do not need to have an amateur radio license to attend. If you would like to get your ham license, please attend; information on how to become a licensed ham will be available.

UNCW students who would like to start a ham radio club at the university are also invited.

AAUP MEETING MARCH 19 AND 20

The spring meeting of the North Carolina chapter of the American Association of University Professors will be held at UNCW Saturday, March 20.

The topic for discussion will be faculty governance. Cost of the meeting, which includes continental breakfast and luncheon, is $30. The cost is $10 if you wish to attend the discussions only.

All faculty are invited to a free wine and cheese reception (compliments of the Provost's Office), at 8 p.m., Friday, March 19, in the Madeline suite. Call Jimmy Reeves for details.

AUSTRIAN GUITARIST IN CONCERT

The UNCW Department of Fine Arts and The Golden Gallery will present Austrian guitarist Helmut Jasbar in concert at 8 p.m., Monday, March 22, in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is $5. UNCW students with valid I.D. will be admitted free.

Jasbar is a young Viennese guitarist and composer whose international career started with a tour of the Netherlands in 1984. A series of concerts the following three years was highlighted by his New York debut at Lincoln Center, Avery Fisher Hall, in 1990.

The concert will include music by J.S. Bach as well as several of Jasbar's own compositions.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Judith Hayn, assistant professor, School of Education, and Barbara McAllister, graduate student in Reading Education, presented a workshop titled "Fables, Fairies, and Folklore: Reading and Writing Connections" at the National Conference on Writing and Literature at Overland Park, Kans., on Saturday, March 6.

A book review by Dr. Barbara Frey Waxman, associate professor of English, has been published in Papers on Language and Literature 29, 1 (Winter 1993): 114-22. The review is titled "Dickens's Women and the Language of Subversion" and discusses Patricia Ingham's Dickens, Women, and Language.

Dr. Janet Ellerby, assistant professor of English, has had her article titled "A Theater of Responses: Using a Computer Bulletin Board to Enhance Interpretation" published in the current issue of Reader: Essays in Reader-Oriented Theory, Criticism, and Pedagogy.

Dr. Frank Bongiorno's arrangement of Bachianas Brasileiras No. 5 (Aria) for solo saxophone and saxophone quartet by Heitor Villa-Lobos has been published by G. Schirmer Inc. and was recently released for distribution by Hal Leonard Publishing Corporation.

Dr. Lewis E. Nance, professor of chemistry, co-wrote a paper with Dr. Art A. Rodriguez and graduate student Tim Davis, both of ECU, titled "Carbon-13 Relaxation Mechanisms and Motional Studies in Selected Halomethane Molecules" recently published in the Bulletin of Magnetic Resonance, 14: No. 1-4, pp. 139-143.

Dr. Roger Lowery, professor of political science, and Sue Cody, head of reference services, have had their book Political Science: Illustrated Search Strategy and Source, With an Introduction to Legal Research for Undergraduates published by Pierian Press of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Dr. Bob Buerger, associate professor in the HPER Department, recently presented "Observing Behavior in Wilderness Settings: What You See May Not Be What You Get" at the fifth annual Wilderness Education Association national conference held Feb. 19 to 21 in Pikeville, Tenn. He also presented "Adirondack Park Residents' Perceptions of Development and the Forest Products Industry in the Adirondack Park" at the 1993 Southeastern Recreation Research Conference, held Feb. 10 to 12 in Helen, Ga.

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama in the Fine Arts Department, submitted the article "Censorship and the American Cinema" to the North Carolina Humanities Journal. The piece examines more than nine decades of attempts to censor the American film and the steps taken by the movie industry to resist such efforts by imposing self-regulation instead.

Dr. Ele McKenna, assistant professor, English Department, and Dr. Judith Hayn, assistant professor, School of Education, organized and coordinated a day-long conference titled, "Focus on Literacy: Holistic Teaching and Assessment," on Feb. 19. Over 200 educators from southeastern North Carolina, national authorities in holistic teaching and assessment, graduates of the Cape Fear Writing Project, and an award-winning children's author participated.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

UNCW DISCOVERY

Full-time faculty members are invited to submit abstracts describing their research that has appeared in peer-reviewed professional media. The UNCW Discovery editorial board will select five or six for expansion into 1200-word articles for the fall issue of Discovery. Submit 10 copies of each abstract to the Graduate School by April 15 on one-page forms available from department chairs or the Graduate School. Call ext. 3135 with questions.

CPR/STANDARD FIRST AID

The Safety Department is offering CPR/Standard First Aid training on the following dates:

March 18 and 19 - 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.
March 30 and April 1 - 8 a.m. to noon

The cost is $18.50. Call ext. 3057 for reservations/questions. The CPR training schedule is now listed on the VAX info system.

STUDENT HOURS

Students can meet with Chancellor Leutze in his office during the following hours:

3:30 to 4:30 p.m., Thursday, March 18
3:30 to 5 p.m., Monday, April 5
3:30 to 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 21
3:30 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, April 28
3:30 to 5 p.m., Tuesday, May 4
3:30 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, May 12

TEACHING AWARD

Letters of nomination for the Board of Trustees Teaching Excellence Award will be accepted until March 31.

The $1500 cash award will specify a member of the faculty as a person of excellence, and it will call upon him or her to share that excellence with colleagues and students.

All letters of nomination must be limited to one page and must be received no later than Wednesday, March 31, by the Chancellor's Nomination Committee, Alderman Hall.

SERVICE AWARDS BANQUET

It's time to mark your calendar for the 1993 Annual Service Awards Banquet, set for noon to 2 p.m., Wednesday, June 24, at Wagoner Hall. Faculty and staff are invited to attend.

L.E.A.D. CONSULTANTS

L.E.A.D. Consultants, a student organization that gives workshops, plans conferences, and receives ongoing training, is looking for new student members.

If you know of any students interested in gaining leadership and organizational skills, please have them contact the Leadership Center, Union room 212, or ext. 3877, before April 1.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE FORUM

A forum on academic excellence will be held from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday, March 22, at the Wilmington Hilton. The forum will focus on academic excellence with SAT scores as one indicator and will describe community efforts to improve student achievement. The UNC Wilmington School of Education, the Consortium for the Advancement of Public Education, and the Southeast Technical Assistance Center will co-sponsor the forum.

The forum begins at 9 a.m. with an address by Chancellor Dr. James R. Leutze. He will discuss the importance of academic excellence and the university's role in responding to the challenge of increasing admission standards while meeting the needs of students in the southeastern region. Dr. Robert Tyndall, dean of the School of Education, will discuss the service mission of the School of Education and CAPE in relation to school reform efforts and academic excellence initiatives.

Other featured speakers will include Larry Matthews, associate director of admissions and guidance services, College Board Regional Office, Atlanta.

Official Notices

Effective Immediately

If a purchase costing between $100 and $500 upgrades a previously tagged piece of equipment, the charges should be coded to the 5X50 object code. Upgrades include purchases that increase the physical size or operating capabilities of an asset. Purchases of replacement parts are not included. The UNCW/FAS number(s) of the equipment should be included on the requisition. (Administrative Procedure-ACG. 2.60:C-13).

Software packages costing between $100 and $500 are still coded 5210, and any expenditure less than $100 should be coded 2XXX.

Call ext. 3875 if you have questions.

Shared Leave Request

Don Mintz, Physical Plant, has requested 107 hours of shared leave to avoid leave without pay for absence due to surgery and recuperation.

Business Week (cont)

MBA Address

Estell Lee, president of The Lee Company in Wilmington, will address the Master of Business Administration classes and interested students and faculty at 6 p.m., Thursday, March 25, at Kenan Auditorium. She will discuss "Economic Development in North Carolina. Lee, a graduate of Wilmington College, was formerly president and owner of Almont Shipping and served as the secretary of the Department of Economic and Community Development for the state of North Carolina during the Jim Martin administration.

Student/Faculty Softball Game

The traditional student/faculty softball game that marks the conclusion of Business Week will be held at 3 p.m., Friday, March 26, at the Athletic Field. The students of Sigma Alpha Beta business fraternity will challenge the business faculty in this annual event.

C

LANA DONALDSON TAYLOR
REFERENCE LIBRARIAN
LIBRARY SERVICES

The official bulletin
of UNCW

C

ommunique

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 32 March 25, 1993

UNCW gets funds to deploy Aquarius; Science mission begins in September

The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration announced Monday a grant of about $750,000 to UNCW to deploy the undersea research station Aquarius to the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary and begin start-up operations.

This latest award from NOAA is part of a larger $3.57 million annual grant to UNCW for the National Undersea Research Center. The center carries out numerous scientific investigations each year focused on the marine and coastal environment of the Southeastern United States.

Aquarius, the world's most advanced underwater scientific research station, will be moved in mid-April from Miami, Fla., to Conch Reef in the Florida Keys Sanctuary.

Aquarius is the centerpiece of a comprehensive NOAA-UNCW environmental research program in the Florida

Keys. The program is aimed at better understanding and preserving the health of the United States' only coral reef ecosystem, which is dying from human and other factors. Research already underway by UNCW includes an extensive program of surface-supported dive missions and manned submersible and remotely operated vehicle operations at the Conch Reef site.

The science station is owned by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and managed by the National Undersea Research Center at UNCW. The barrel-shaped Aquarius provides living quarters for six aquanaut-scientists. From the laboratory, diving scientists can conduct extensive underwater research for up to 30 days at a time.

Aquarius was deployed off St. Croix from November 1987 until September 1989, when its scientific missions were interrupted by Hurricane Hugo. It was brought to Wilmington in December 1990, and in a year-long rebuilding and re-engineering project was redesigned from a shore-based, shore-supported system to a self-sustaining, self-supporting sea-based program.

Wachovia pledges $250,000 to UNCW

Chancellor James R. Leutze announced yesterday a corporate gift of $250,000 from Wachovia Bank to UNCW to establish the Wachovia Initiatives in Excellence Fund.

Presenting the initial check for $50,000 to the university were James C. Cherry, Wachovia Wilmington area executive, and Will B. Spence, Wachovia regional executive.

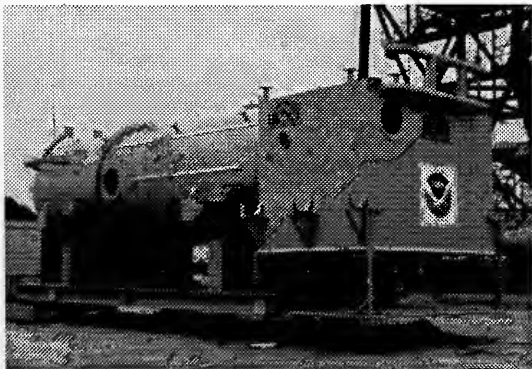

To visually illustrate the size of just half of the initial check, approximately 25,000 pine cones spelled out UNCW and Wachovia on the lawn in front of Hoggard Hall. The UNCW Ambassadors, a student service organization that assists in special events and public relations activities, gathered the pine cones from millions showered on campus during the "Storm of the Century" March 13 and 14.

This major contribution to UNCW's five-year, $15 million Capital Campaign brings the total pledged and contributed to date to $5.9 million. Wachovia's pledge will be $50,000 a year for five years.

At a press conference announcing the gift, Leutze explained that this fund has been set up in such a way that the unrestricted endowment will grow quickly over time. Once the amount reaches near the quarter-million dollar level, the chancellor will begin spending some of the earnings for new programs and activities.

"The Wachovia Initiatives in Excellence Fund will assist UNCW in developing new programs to support our commitment to excellence in teaching, research, artistic achievement, and service to local and global

(cont. on p. 2)

Aquarius undersea research facility

Colwell to discuss marine biotechnology

Dr. Rita Colwell, president of the Marine Biotechnology Institute at the University of Maryland, will discuss "Recent Developments and Future Prospects in Marine Biotechnology" at 7 p.m., Friday, March 26, in Cameron Hall Auditorium. The talk is free and the public is invited to attend.

Colwell is a microbiologist and marine scientist who is active in national and international research and teaching. She has focused much of her research on marine biotechnology and the molecular genetics of marine and estuarine bacteria, and on the microbiology of the Chesapeake Bay, coastal recreational waters, and the deep ocean.

Under her leadership as a professor of microbiology at the University of Maryland, College Park, the university's Sea Grant Program was designated a National Sea Grant College in 1983. She is currently president of the Maryland Biotechnology Institute, a major research campus of the University of Maryland System.

Colwell is the former president of the American Society for Microbiology and is the author of 16 books and 409 scientific publications.

UNCW holds environmental forum

How would a major oil spill affect the North Carolina Coast? That will be the topic of an environmental forum at 7 p.m., Wednesday, March 31, in Cameron Hall Auditorium on the campus of UNC Wilmington.

Chancellor James R. Leutze will open the forum with his remarks on environmental initiatives at UNCW. Dr. Leutze's advocacy for the environment in well known, particularly through the television series Globe Watch, which he hosts. Provost Marvin K. Moss will moderate the environmental forum which will look at potential damages to North Carolina's coast from an accidental oil spill. Moss is a noted expert on the global environment and marine science issues.

Participants in the forum will include: Professor Robert George, who will discuss oceanographic perspectives with an emphasis on what the Gulf Stream does to our shores; Professor Larry Cahoon, who will speak on the biological oceanographic overview of a potential oil spill in Onslow Bay, known for its high productivity, recreation, and commercial fisheries; Professor William W. Hall, Jr., who will present an economic overview of the impact of a spill, with an emphasis on tourism; Captain William Caster, former captain of the Coast Guard icebreaker, "Northwind," and presently New Hanover County Commissioner, will speak on the issue; and Mr. Robert Jamieson, director of the N.C. Regional Center for Environmental Health and Natural Resources at Wilmington will discuss the state's perspectives.

The forum was organized in response to the recent near-accident when the ship Lyra almost ran aground near Frying Pan Shoals. A potential oil spill of 370,000 gallons could have occurred. This event heightened awareness of concerned scientists and citizens. The Coast Guard is currently developing a regional plan to manage such emergencies. The university plans a follow-up forum when the plans are ready, probably in June.

SGA inauguration set

The UNCW Student Government Association will hold its inauguration and awards ceremony at 7:30 p.m., Monday, March 29, at the Union courtyard. (Rain location is the UC ballroom.)

The incoming student body president, vice president, attorney general, student services coordinator, representatives at large, and class officers for the 1993-94 school year will be installed. Awards will also be presented to the past year's officers.

Keynote speaker for the evening will be Representative Karen Gottovi, (D)-

New Hanover County. Gottovi will speak on her experience as a freshman representative in the North Carolina General Assembly. Chancellor James R. Leutze is also scheduled to speak.

The honorable Jacqueline Morris-Goodson, district court judge, will install the new student body president as a member of the Board of Trustees. The president of the student body serves as an ex-officio member of the board to address student concerns.

UNCW students and the general public are invited to attend.

CHARTING THE CURRENTS OF CHANGE

1992-93 Loyalty Fund Update

The First Annual Chancellor's Club Reception will be hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Leutze on March 30 at Kenan House. The reception will be held to honor individuals who have donated $1000 or more to the Loyalty Fund this fiscal year.

Wachovia (cont. from p. 1)

communities," Leutze said. "At this time, I anticipate that every three to five years, earnings from the Wachovia endowment will supply funds for a new initiative."

The gift has also been set up in such a way that up to 10 percent of the earnings may be used every year to fund the Loyalty Fund, which meets annual needs of the university such as scholarships, lectures, and other activities.

Among Wachovia's prior gifts was a $100,000 to the Cameron School of Business in 1983 to endow the Wachovia Fund for Excellence.

Wachovia Bank of North Carolina is a statewide banking institution with 222 branches in 97 cities. Since the late 19th century, the bank has been a leader in meeting the financial needs and public interests of communities throughout the state.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

COMPUTING EXPO

Academic Computing will host the 1993 Faculty Computing Expo from 1 to 4 p.m., March 31, in UC ballroom one. This year's focus is on computing tools faculty can take advantage of.

Faculty members will demonstrate a variety of computing technologies including color printing, hypercard based training, textbook, and statistical and multimedia applications.

Academic Computing staff will give software demos in areas such as mathematics and statistics, integrated programs, graphics, simulations, and multimedia.

ALCOHOL AND DRUG USE

"Alcohol and Drug Use in the 90s: Myths and Realities" will be presented by Dr. Cathy Sdao-Jarvie at noon, Friday, March 26, in Union room 100.

Sdao-Jarvie is director of research and evaluation at the Governor's Institute for Alcohol and Substance Abuse. She will also present "Prevention of Relapse in the Addictions" to faculty at 3:30 p.m. the same day in Social and Behavioral Sciences building room 114.

CHANCELLOR'S FORUM

Dr. D'Ann Campbell, author of Women at War with America: Private Lives in a Patriotic Era, will discuss "Women in the Military" at 2 p.m., Monday, April 5, in Morton Hall room 201. Co-sponsored by the Chancellor's Office, the History Department, and Public Service and Extended Education, the event is free and open to the public.

Campbell is dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Austin Peay State University in Clarksville, Tenn. She specializes in the World War II era and is the author of numerous articles on the role of women in the military.

Faculty and Staff

Dee Hamilton, coordinator of substance abuse counseling services, Student Development Center, was invited to teach an advanced track for higher education professionals at the South Carolina Conference on Alcohol and Other Drugs in Higher Education. The two-day session titled "Our Highest-Risk Students: Children of Alcoholics" was presented Feb. 3 to 5 in Charleston, S.C.

Dr. Paul Johnston, director, Student Development Center, also presented the session "Early Intervention through Discipline Referrals" at the same conference.

Dr. Saul Bachner, School of Education, conducted a session at the North Carolina Reading Association state conference March 4 in Charlotte. He reviewed the sports literature course being team-taught at North Brunswick High School and its implications for the improvement of reading skills.

Dr. Janet Ellerby, assistant professor of English, has had her review of Feminism without Illusions by Elizabeth Fox-Genovese and Power Trips and Other Journeys by Jean Bethke Elshtain published in the current issue of Signs: Journal of Women in Culture and Society.

Dr. Michael Mallin, biological sciences, has published an article titled "Regulation of Estuarine Primary Production by Watershed Rainfall and River Flow" in Marine Ecology Progress Series, vol. 93, pp. 199-203. His co-authors are H.W. Paerl, J. Rudek, and P.W. Bates, all of the UNC Institute for Marine Sciences in Morehead City.

Brigette Craft, graduate student, English, has had "Tillie Olson Reviews and Criticisms, 1934-1991: A Bibliography" accepted for publication in the Bulletin of Bibliography.

Patricia Leonard, dean of students, will be awarded the honorary degree of doctor of public administration at the 67th commencement of College Misericordia in Dallas, Penn., May 15. Leonard received her bachelor's degree from Misericordia.

An article by Dr. Carolyn George, Cameron School of Business, titled "Educational Preparation of Auditors, Promotion Time, and Turnover: A Survival Analysis," published in Advances in Accounting, Vol. 10, 1992, pp. 61-76. (Co-authors were J. David Spiceland and Philip H. Siegel).

An article by Dr. Earl Honeycutt and Dr. Judy Siguaw, both of the Cameron School of Business, titled "The Impact of Manufacturing Flexibility and the Implications for Marketing Managers" has been published in AMA Winter Educator's Proceedings.

Dr. Robert W. Smith, assistant professor, School of Education, presented a workshop on "Addressing Racism and Prejudice in Our Schools" at the North Carolina Social Studies Annual Conference, held March 4 and 5 in Greensboro.

An article by Dr. Earl Honeycutt and Dr. Vince Howe, both of the Cameron School of Business, titled "Self-Paced Video Enhanced Training: A Case Study," has been published in the Journal of Personal Selling & Sales Management, XII: 1, Winter, 73-79.

Dr. Richard Engdahl, Cameron School of Business, has had the article "Complexity and Richness: Inversely Related Information Structure Variables With Implications for Improved Communications and Research on Problem Formulation" accepted for publication in the Organization Development Journal.

Dr. Steve Robinson, Cameron School of Business, presented "Teaching Techniques for the Principles of Economics Class," at the Teaching Economics: Instruction & Classroom Based Research Conference held in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Public Service and Extended Education

Oakdale: Wilmington's Picturesque Cemetery. Discover the beauty and treasures of this historic cemetery. 7:30-8:30 p.m., Thursday, April 8 (class session) and 10 a.m.-noon, Saturday, April 10 (walking tour). Fee is $15 by March 25; $20 after. Registration deadline: April 1.

Adult Scholars Luncheon Program-The Decline and Fall of the English Language with Dr. Brooks Dodson. Explore the changes in the English language and how change is often interpreted as a decline in elegance and expressiveness. Noon-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 13. Fee is $9 including lunch. Registration deadline: April 6.

Courthouse Graffiti. Look at the light side of the law with retired Chief District Court Judge Gil Burnett whose judicial career covered 23 years. Bring your sense of humor and be prepared for an entertaining evening. 6 p.m. dinner, 7 p.m. program, Friday, April 23. Fee is $16 with meal; $10 program only. Registration deadline: April 16.

...

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Dr. Earl Honeycutt, Cameron School of Business, has had the article "A Cross-Cultural Comparison of Business Students' Perceptions of Sex Role Portrayals in Advertising" accepted for publication in the Academy of Marketing Science World Marketing Congress Proceedings, Istanbul, May 1993, with John Ford, Michael Latour, Joseph Mathew, Pat Voli, and Jennifer Jobs.

Dr. Kristen Howell, Cameron School of Business, has had "The Effects of Various Sources of Lending

Dept. of Labor audits UNCW

The U.S. Department of Labor recently completed its on-site investigation of UNCW, part of a routine audit of all 16 UNC System institutions. To date, UNC Greensboro, the School of the Arts, and UNC Charlotte have been audited by the Labor Department's Employment Standards Administration, Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs.

Chancellor James R. Leutze asked Communique to inform the campus community that the on-site portion of the investigation has been completed. The final audit report is expected in the next several weeks.

"Because of the enormous complexity and diversity of state and federal procedures, I welcome this audit, and I expect it to offer several helpful recommendations where we can make improvements in processes and procedures," said Leutze.

"I am satisfied that our university has cooperated fully during the audit, and we will, of course, comply fully with all recommendations."

Student time sheets

Student time sheets for March are due to the Payroll Office no later than 3 p.m., Wednesday, March 31. Deadline for April time sheets is 3 p.m., Friday, April 30.

to Developing Countries," accepted for presentation at the 1993 Western Economics Association International Conference to be held in Lake Tahoe in June.

Howell has also been elected to board of directors of the Midsouth Academy of Economics and Finance.

Four students of James Hunt, Cameron School of Business Administration, have received recognition for their advertising entries in a national contest sponsored by the American Academy of Advertising and the Newspaper Association of

Official Notices

Shared leave

Barbara Troy, Athletics, has requested 240 hours of shared leave to avoid leave without pay as a result of her surgery and recuperation.

Mary Corcoran, Library, has recovered from surgery, but still needs 115 hours to avoid leave without pay.

Don Mintz, Physical Plant, has requested 107 hours of shared leave to avoid leave without pay for absence due to surgery and recuperation.

Each of us at UNCW has the ability to help others in a significant and positive way by sharing our vacation leave. Please be generous. Call Dale, Human Resources, at ext. 3161, with questions.

Inaccurate student time sheets could delay pay

Payroll has encountered the following errors on student time sheets: missing or incorrect social security numbers, pay rates, account numbers, and signatures.

To assure that students' time sheets are processed timely and accurately, this data must be verified prior to being sent to the Payroll Office. Incorrect time sheets will be returned, which could result in delaying the student's payment. Call Tina at ext. 3752 with questions.

America Foundation. The competition focused on the problem of child abuse. The students are: Rhonda Ezzell, second place in region; Donnell Sharpe, honorable mention; Camilla Patrick, honorable mention; and Kenneth Carter, honorable mention.

Marilyn Howe (formerly of the Athletic Department) and Dr. Vince Howe (interim chair, Cameron School of Business) have announced the birth of their daughter, Elle Catherine Howe (9lbs. 5ozs.), on March 12.

Faculty and Staff (cont.)

Calloway retires; Reception March 31

William R. Calloway, assistant vice chancellor for human resources, will retire April 1 after 33 years of state service. Calloway began his tenure as a state employee at UNC Chapel Hill working as a library assistant for seven years while completing a bachelor's degree in political science.

His first "real world" job came in 1965 at the office of state personnel, determining proper classification and salary ranges for selected positions in state government while earning the princely sum of $5,484 per year.

After five years, Calloway was selected as the assistant personnel director at North Carolina State University in Raleigh - a position he held from 1970 to 1973 - at which time he was appointed director of personnel. During the ensuing ten years at NCSU prior to transferring to UNC Wilmington in 1984, Calloway completed a master's degree in public administration while discharging responsibilities encompassing the full range of professional personnel functions including position management, employment training and staff development, employee relations, and records management.

The UNCW human resources department, under Bill's guidance, has implemented a number of innovative programs which have achieved regional and national recognition - including an in-house temporary employment program, an employee assistance program, a voluntary shared leave program, a staff development fund, an employee exchange program, and most recently a career development strategies program.

Calloway has been active professionally in a number of organizations including founding and leadership roles in the North Carolina chapters of the college and university personnel association and the international personnel management association.

The vice chancellor for business affairs and the staff of the Human Resources Department invite members of the university community to a reception in Calloway's honor from 4 to 6 p.m., Wednesday, March 31, in the Union living room. Refreshments will be served.

Please help them wish Bill and Betty the very best.

Bill Calloway and his grandson "B.J."

UNCW hosts N.C. Academy of Sciences Meeting

The 1993 meeting of the North Carolina Academy of Sciences will be held Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27, on the campus of UNC Wilmington. The meeting will be hosted by the College of Arts and Sciences. Out of 124 presentations scheduled, 24 will be given by UNCW faculty, graduate students, and/or undergraduate students.

The central part of the two-day program will be a panel discussion covering the problems with science and math education and possible solutions, particularly measures that the academy can take. The panel discussion will be held from 10 a.m. to noon, Saturday, March 27, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium.

The panel will be moderated by Dr. Paul Lutz (Biology Dept., UNC-Greensboro, NCAS president-elect). The panelists will include Linda Stroud

Johnetta Cole keynotes Women's History Month

Dr. Johnetta Cole, president of Spelman College in Atlanta, Ga., will be the keynote speaker for the eleventh annual observance of National Women's History Month at UNCW. Cole's speech, "Women Hold Up Half the Sky," is scheduled for 8 p.m., Tuesday, March 30, at Cameron Auditorium.

Cole became president of Spelman in 1987. She is the first African-American woman to head the historically black college for women. During her tenure at Spelman, she has initiated several new programs, including the Spelman Corporate Women's Roundtable. She has coordinated student volunteer outreach and established faculty exchanges with major research institutions.

She has been honored as a Woman of Distinction by the National Association for Women Deans, Administrators and Counselors; has received the Achievement Award from the American Association of University Women; and has been named one of the most influential people in Georgia, receiving an award as Outstanding Citizen of the State of Georgia from the Georgia State Senate.

Cole's speech is free and open to the public. A reception outside Cameron Auditorium will follow.

(president, N.C. Science Teachers Association), Dr. William Spooner (N.C. Dept. of Public Instruction), Dr. Vallie Guthrie (director, Greensboro Area Math and Science Education Center), Dr. Thomas Bohlinger (principal, Paisley Middle School, Winston-Salem), and Dr. Claudia Mclear (Dept. of Science Education, East Carolina University).

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SUMMER RESEARCH

Proposals for summer research stipends are due to the Graduate School by April 1. Up to five $1,000 awards will be made to graduate students for projects conducted jointly with a member of the faculty from any department. Guidelines are available from department chairs or from the Graduate School.

BIOLOGY SEMINARS

Biological sciences will host a departmental seminar featuring Dr. Maureen Krause, Duke University Marine Laboratory, Beaufort, N.C. She will present "Phenotypic expression of glucose-6-phosphate isomerase genotype in the bay scallop (Argopecten irradians)" at 11 a.m. today in Friday Hall room 151. Krause is a candidate for a faculty position in the department. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

A second seminar by Dr. Jonathan Geller, Hopkins Marine Station, Stanford University, Pacific Grove, Calif., titled: "Biogeography of mitochondrial DNA in marine mussels: Latitudinal patterns of invasion and introgression" will be held at noon, Wednesday, March 31, in Friday Hall room 151. Geller is a candidate for a faculty position in the department. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

THANK YOU; TAKE BACK THE NIGHT

The Office of the Dean of Students wishes to thank all those who made possible the successful "Take Back the Night" March and Rally March 16. Over 350 people took part in what will be an annual campus event.

Everyone who participated in or supported the "Take Back the Night" March and Rally are invited to a final meeting to be held from 5 to 6 p.m. Thursday, April 1, in Room 207 of the Union to discuss the march and help layout groundwork for the 1993-94 march. Please bring any comments or suggestions you may have.

RECEPTION

Faculty and staff are invited to a reception at 3 p.m., Tuesday, March 30, in the Union living room. It will feature an exhibit of negative ads concerning alcohol and related issues. The original ads were developed by UNCW students and are part of a contest for which awards will be given during the reception. For more information call Alternatives! at ext. 3683.

SPEAKIN' GREEK

Speakin' Greek will hold its last presentation at 7 p.m., Tuesday, March 30, in the library auditorium. The session is called "B.Y.O.B.: Booze Effects Your Other Brothers" and will be presented by guest speaker Dee Hamilton. The Greek organization with the best attendance will win a $20 gift certificate and will automatically compete for the overall best attendance, a $40 prize. This series is sponsored by Alternatives!, LivWell, and the Student Development Center.

JUST DO IT

The second session of the smoking cessation program, SMOKE STOPPERS, is being planned. In five one-hour sessions, you will be ready to stop smoking. The cost is $80 (with incentives for reimbursements), and payroll deduction is available. Contact Marsha Hinson at ext. 3006 for details.

SERVICE AWARDS BANQUET

It's time to mark your calendar for the 1993 Annual Service Awards Banquet, set for noon to 2 p.m., Thursday, June 24, at Wagoner Hall. Faculty and staff are invited to attend.

YARD RAKING

The UNCW Global Volunteers are trying to raise money for their Barbados Service Project in May. They will be available to rake yards Saturday, March 27. If you would like your yard raked, call the Leadership Center at ext. 3877.

FRESHMEN MENTORS

A small number of faculty and staff served as freshman mentors this academic year. There are plans for the program to continue for 1993-94 freshmen, and David Miller, enrollment manager, hopes to provide all of this fall's entering freshmen with a mentor.

Mentors do not replace General College advisors, but instead help students adjust to the university. The mentors are expected to initiate contact with the freshmen, and faculty and staff do not have to use the same contact methods or arrangements to meet with the students.

Office appointments, lunch appointments, visits to the mentor's home, group meetings with all of the mentor's assigned freshmen, and attendance of university activities are a few examples of opportunities for mentors and students to get together.

Other colleges and universities are using similar programs to aid in retention efforts. In addition, Miller is asking returning students to serve as peer advisors for freshmen.

If you want to serve as a mentor for three to five freshmen, call ext. 3540, or send your name, campus phone number, and campus address to David Miller's office. If you would like to know more about the program, please call or visit Miller. A meeting of all mentors will be held in April.

SUMMER JOBS ON CAMPUS

The Union and University Center will hire students for the summer and fall. Applications can be picked up at the Career Planning and Placement Center or the Information Center until April 5.

Informational meetings about the job opportunities will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, March 30, in UC Ballroom 1, and at 12:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 31, in Union room 103. Please inform students about these employment opportunities.

Send Campus Communique items to BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn Busse, c/o University Relations

Campus Community

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 33 April 1, 1993

UNCW presents first Kabuki production

The UNCW Drama Department will present its first dramatic production of Kabuki theatre with The Love Suicides at Sonezaki, performed complete with Kabuki costumes, sets, and acting style in an attempt to recreate the sights and sounds one would experience at the Kabuki Za in Tokyo. The play is still popular in Japan and is performed in the classical Kabuki theatre. It was written in 1703 by Chickamatsu Monzaemon and will be directed by Dr. Gerald Honaker at UNCW.

The Love Suicides at Sonezaki is a Japanese love story. Romance has always been dangerous, but never so dangerous as in ancient Japan, where going against your parents' wishes could be punishable by death. In the play, Tokubei, a shop clerk in love with Ohatsu, a prostitute, refuses to marry the girl chosen for him by his uncle. He must therefore return the dowry money his mother accepted when she agreed to the arranged marriage.

Tokubei secures the money from his mother with difficulty, but is persuaded by his friend, Kuheiji, to lend it to him for a few days. Kuheiji turns out to be no friend, for he tricks Tokubei out of the money. Tokubei and Ohatsu see only one way to remove themselves from the consequences of the situation.

Performances are at 8 p.m., April 14 to 18 and 21 to 25, in SRO Theatre, Kenan Hall. Tickets are available by calling the Kenan Auditorium box office or at the door on performance nights.

Bryan receives graduate award

William A. Bryan, vice chancellor for student affairs, is the 1993 recipient of the Elizabeth A. Greenleaf Award from Indiana University.

The award, named for a former I.U. faculty member, honors Bryan for his exemplary professional leadership and commitment.

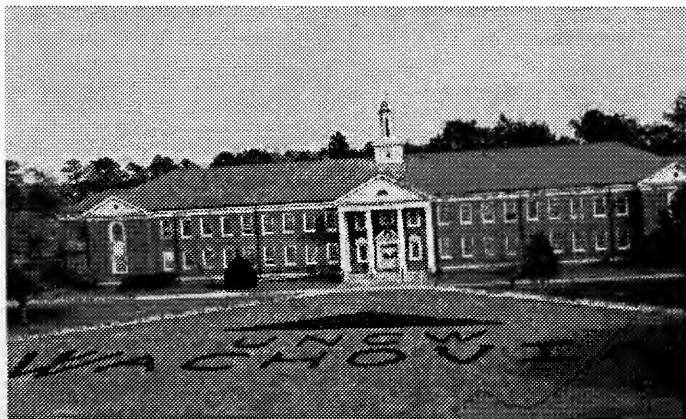

Bryan received his master's degree in guidance and student personnel at Indiana University.

Concert Band to perform

The UNCW Concert Band will present its spring concert at 8 p.m., Monday, April 5, in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is $4: UNCW students will be admitted free with I.D.

The concert band directed by Harry McLamb will include the William Tell Overture by Gioacchino Rossini, Irish Tune from County Derry, and Shepherd's Hey by Percy Grainger. Benny Hill, alto saxophone, will be the soloist for Flight of the Bumblebee.

Laurie Muirhead, harpist and guest soloist, will perform Nocturne for Harp with the concert band. Muirhead is a native of Minneapolis, Minn. and a graduate of Evangel College in Springfield, Mo. where she received a bachelor of arts in music education. Muirhead has performed nationally in recital and with numerous symphonies, including the St. Louis Youth Symphony and the Springfield Symphony.

The staff of University Advancement and the UNCW Ambassadors used 25,000 pine cones to spell out 'UNCW' and 'Wachovia' last week on the lawn in front of Hogard Hall. Wachovia has pledged $250,000 to the university's Capital Campaign to establish the Wachovia Initiatives in Excellence Fund.

Announcements

NEW GERMANY

Konrad H. Jarausch, Lurcy professor of history at UNC Chapel Hill, will discuss "After Unity: Social Strains and Xenophobia in the New Germany" at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 7, in Cameron Auditorium.

The lecture is sponsored by the Department of History and the College of Arts and Sciences.

EASTER LIBRARY HOURS

Randall Library will be open the following hours during Easter break:

Thursday, April 8 - 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Friday, April 9 - 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Saturday, April 10 - 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Sunday, April 11 - 3 p.m. to midnight

SENIOR LEADERSHIP AWARD

The Leadership Center in conjunction with the Alumni Association is sponsoring the Senior Leadership Award for the fifth consecutive year.

The award is given to a senior graduating between May and December 1993 with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 who has demonstrated outstanding leadership on campus and/or in the community. Candidates can be self-nominated or nominated by a member of the UNCW community.

For more information, nomination forms, or applications, contact the Leadership Center, Union room 212, ext. 3877. Applications and two letters of recommendation are due tomorrow.

UNCW DISCOVERY

Full-time faculty members are invited to submit abstracts describing their research that has appeared in peer-reviewed professional media. The UNCW Discovery editorial board will select five or six for expansion into 1200-word articles for the fall issue of Discovery. Submit 10 copies of each abstract to the Graduate School by April 15 on one-page forms available from department chairs or the Graduate School.

ORIENTATION

Departments that have information for distribution at orientation may deliver their materials to Alderman Hall room 101 during the week of May 3 to 7. Storage space is limited, so please do not deliver materials before or after these dates. Please mark your items for "freshmen only," or "freshmen and parents," etc.

Approximately 1000 freshmen and 750 parents are expected. For more information, call Dick Mullendore at ext. 3089.

BLOOD DRIVE

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive at UNCW from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 14, in the UC Ballroom.

Donors must weigh at least 110 pounds and be in good health. Donations can be made every eight weeks.

NAME CHANGE

The Security Department of UNCW has been renamed University Police, a change better reflects the function of the department. Please correct mailing labels to reflect the change.

CENTER STAGE

Wednesday Live at Center Stage Cafe will feature Bruce Miller, guitarist/singer from noon to 1 p.m., April 7. Brant Vanhoy, classical guitarist, will perform at the same time, April 14.

STUDENT HOURS CHANGE

Chancellor Leutze's hours to meet with students April 5 has been moved to 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m., April 8, in his office.

JUST DO IT

The second session of the smoking cessation program, SMOKE STOPPERS, is being planned. Contact Marsha Hinson at ext. 3006 for details.

ENERGY TIP

Have your furnace cleaned in the fall and your air conditioner checked in the spring. Check air filters monthly; replace or clean them as needed.

The preceding energy tip is provided courtesy of the Chancellor's Energy Conservation Committee.

DIRECTORY ASSISTANCE CHANGE

State Telecommunications has changed the procedure for dialing directory assistance. All long-distance directory assistance calls should be dialed on the DAIN (8) line. Dial 8 + area code + 555-1212.

AZALEA PARADE PARKING

Parking for the Azalea Festival Parade will be available at the corners of Seventh and Chestnut Streets in downtown Wilmington for $5.

The proceeds will benefit the UNCW Global Volunteers.

CHARTING THE CURRENTS OF CHANGE 1992-93 Loyalty Fund Update

The Division for University Advancement challenges all other offices to participate in the Loyalty Fund. Here's the challenge: when your office reaches 90 percent participation, with no less than $25 from each donor, the staff of University Advancement will wash all of the donors' cars. We've had an overwhelming response to this challenge - so be sure to jump on the bandwagon!

Help us celebrate the conclusion of our first successful Loyalty Fund Drive on June 2.

Campus Happenings

CHANCELLOR'S FORUM

Dr. D'Ann Campbell, author of Women at War with America: Private Lives in a Patriotic Era, will discuss "Women in the Military" at 2 p.m., Monday, April 5, in Morton Hall room 201. Co-sponsored by the Chancellor's Office, the History Department, and Public Service and Extended Education, the event is free and open to the public.

Campbell is dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Austin Peay State University in Clarksville, Tenn.

CAMPUS TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

As part of the continuing effort to promote a greater sense of community among faculty, staff, and students on the UNCW campus, the offices of Student Affairs, Telecommunications, and Human Resources will work jointly in the production of a single campus telephone directory. Student Affairs will have primary responsibility.

The first edition of this faculty/staff/student directory will be published during the 1993-94 academic year.

OPEN HOUSE

Faculty and staff are invited to tour the UNCW athletic and recreational facilities from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 13. Continuous guided tours will be held, beginning at the fitness center in Hanover Gymnasium. Stops will include the aerobic room, Trask Natatorium, the locker/basket room, the sports medicine center, and Trask Coliseum.

Information on scheduled hours for faculty/staff use of the facilities will be available; refreshments will be served.

Faculty and Staff

University Police specialized training officers Shawn Thomas, Tracy Yates, Rebecca Marshburn, Meshell Horne, and Sheila Wuske have recently completed specialized training in sexual assault investigations. The training was conducted at the North Carolina Justice Academy. All patrol officers will undergo this training due to a recently approved training program designed to meet the university community's needs in law enforcement. If you have questions about the program or suggestions for the department's training, contact Chief Billy Dawson or Major Bob Riley at ext. 3184.

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama in the Fine Arts Department, was recently notified that his review of the film "American Me" was selected for inclusion in the encyclopedic work Magill's Cinema Annual, 1993.

On Saturday, March 20, the Spanish section of the Department of Foreign Languages hosted 102 Spanish students from high schools in New Hanover and Onslow counties for the 1993 National Spanish Examinations sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese. The competition is an annual event, and awards are made at both state and national levels.

Hispania, the Journal of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese, has published "Levels of Meaning: Grains, Bread, and Bread Making as Informative Images in Berceo" by Dr. Terry Mount, associate professor of Spanish, in its March 1993 issue.

Dr. Paula K. Kamenish of English and Dr. Andrea W. Deagon of foreign languages and literatures were guest presenters at the spring meeting of the Southern Atlantic States Association for Asian and African Studies (SASASAAS) and the Southeast Regional Seminar for African Studies (SERSAS), held March 19 to 20 in Greensboro. Kamenish was elected chair of the SASASAAS Faculty Development Committee, which is responsible for organizing two faculty seminars each year for 30 member institutions.

Dr. William McCarthy, assistant professor of history, recently presented "The Carreira da India: Routes and Wrecks of the Portuguese East Indiamen" to the joint meeting of the North American Society for Oceanic History (NASOH) and the Council of American Maritime Museums (CAMM), held March 17 to 21 in Bermuda.

McCarthy also participated in the March 26 to 27 symposium, "1493," sponsored by the Center for Medieval and Renaissance Studies, Duke University.

Dr. Bob Toplin of the History Department recently served as sponsored speaker for a national conference held by the National Parks and Conservation Association in Washington, D.C. Toplin addressed the directors of presidential homes, birthplaces, and libraries on the subject of "Videos for Presidential Sites."

Toplin has also received a contract from the University of Illinois Press for his book titled The Cinematic Historian: Hollywood Interprets America. Pamela Hurley, lecturer, English, has had her article, "Ezra Pound's 'Yeux Glauques'" accepted for publication in the journal Paideuma.

Patricia L. Leonard, dean of students, presented the workshop "A University's Response to Violence on Campus" at the seventh annual conference of the N.C. Victim's Assistance Network. The conference was held in Raleigh March 24 to 26. Its theme was "Victims' Rights: the Future is Now."

Welcome

Jane Bailey/Physical Plant Administration; Jermaine Willis/Athletics.

The Quality Corner

Why has UNCW spent so much time and energy on planning recently? The university has expanded its emphasis on planning, not just in response to an accrediting mandate, but also to emphasize our commitment to expanding and enhancing our services.

To date, the focus has been on developing a planning process that involves everyone, defines a common language, and helps the community think about UNCW's future.

Our campus-wide goals provide a framework for planning and tell others what we value and consider to be important. Take time to review these goals as you look at your own departmental and divisional plans.

How does this link to quality improvement? First, goals are established to meet some need or expectation. Secondly, goals are reached through creating and maintaining effective processes. Lastly, assessment provides information on whether needs and expectations have been met.

If our goals are to enhance, increase, and expand our efforts then our plans should include information about the needs and expectations of our beneficiaries/customers and the effectiveness of our service delivery systems. These are determined through outcome and process assessment. Total Quality provides an opportunity for focusing our planning and assessment activities.

The Quality Corner will look at the Total Quality Team concept and process next.

Official Notices

Shared leave

Barbara Troy, Athletics, has requested 240 hours shared leave to avoid leave without pay as a result of her surgery and recuperation. Mary Corcoran, Library, has recovered from surgery, but still needs 115 hours to avoid leave without pay.

To donate vacation hours, submit a vacation leave request form through your department's normal route and indicate "shared leave donation to (name)." Then send the form to Human Resources. Call Dale at ext. 3161 if you have questions.

Faculty and Staff (cont.)

Dr. William Overman, professor of psychology, has had "A Comparison of Children's Performance on Two Recognition Tasks" accepted for publication in the journal Developmental Psychobiology. The paper was co-written by UNCW psychology majors Frank Sewell and Jana Drew and Dr. Jocelyne Bachevalier of the University of Texas at Houston.

He has been invited to deliver an address at the Behavioral Toxicology Society national convention in May.

Recent research by Overman and his students has focused on developing novel tests of learning and memory in children, the procedures and results of which can be compared to tests traditionally used for animal subjects. This line of research yields a basis for species comparisons in a number of areas, including behavioral toxicology.

Dr. John M. Anderson, associate professor of management information systems in the Cameron School of Business, has had his article titled "Jargon Convergence as a Measure of Alignment in Understanding Between Management and Information Systems Professionals" published in the Winter 1993 issue of the International Business Schools Computing Quarterly.

Public Service and Extended Education

Oakdale: Wilmington's Picturesque Cemetery. Discover the beauty and treasures of this historic cemetery. 7:30-8:30 p.m., Thursday, April 8 (class session) and 10 a.m.-noon, Saturday, April 10 (walking tour). Fee is $15 by March 25; $20 after. Registration deadline: April 1.

OceanLab Hawaii. Students will learn as they study coral reef ecosystems, marine mammals, rain and cloud forests and inactive volcanoes in Maui, Hawaii during this one-week educational experience. The trip is scheduled for July 17-24 and is open to high school students age 14-17 years who are academically-gifted or who have attended Coast Trek or other MarineQuest programs. All participants must have good to excellent swimming ability. The all-inclusive fee of $2,050 includes round-trip airfare from Raleigh to Maui, Hawaii, accommodations at Lihi Kai Cottages, all meals, program activities, instruction, ground and water transportation and admission fees. A non-refundable deposit of $800 is due April 17 with balance due by June 1.

Adult Scholars Luncheon Program-The Decline and Fall of the English Language with Dr. Brooks Dodson. Explore the changes in the English language and how change is often interpreted as a decline in elegance and expressiveness. Noon-1:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 13. Fee is $9 including lunch. Registration deadline: April 6.

Courthouse Graffiti. Look at the light side of the law with retired Chief District Court Judge Gil Burnett whose judicial career covered 23 years. Bring your sense of humor and be prepared for an entertaining evening. 6 p.m. dinner, 7 p.m. program, Friday, April 23. Fee is $16 with meal; $10 program only. Registration deadline: April 16.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 34 April 8, 1993

Saxophone Ensemble to perform

The UNCW Saxophone Ensemble, under the direction of Frank Bongiorno, will present a chamber music concert at 8 p.m., Friday, April 16, in Kenan Auditorium. Admission is free.

Comprised of students studying saxophone with Dr. Bongiorno at UNCW, the Saxophone Ensemble consists of eight members including Benny Hill, soprano saxophone; Brad Davis, Raylee Stevens, Cindy Joyner on alto saxophone; Brian Lanier and Shelley Nixon, tenor saxophone; and Jon Diggs and Rich Hanser, baritone saxophone. The ensemble will present a varied program which will include transcriptions, such as Chorale Preludes by Bach and Scheidt, as well as an original composition by Edward Moritz.

The concert will conclude with a transcription of selections from Mussorgsky's Pictures at an Exhibition.

Trustees meet next week

The regular quarterly committee meetings of the Board of Trustees are listed below with selected agenda items. These meetings are being held prior to the full board meeting scheduled for 1 p.m., Wednesday, April 14, in the Madeline Suite. The state auditor will make a brief presentation just prior to the board meeting.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Student Affairs Committee - 2:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 13, University Center Conference Room. Selected agenda items:

- * Sexual Assault Program
- * Career Planning & Placement Center: graduate employment outlook
- * On-Campus Housing: future directions

University Advancement Committee - 4 p.m., Tuesday, April 13, UC Ballroom Two.

Business Affairs Committee - 7:30 a.m., Wednesday, April 14, Glass Room, Hawk's Nest. Selected agenda item:

- * Capital Improvement Projects Progress Report

Long Range Planning Committee - 9 a.m., Wednesday, April 14, Chancellor's Conference Room.

Academic Affairs Committee - 10:30 a.m., Wednesday, April 14, Alderman Hall, Room 215.

Arts Council benefit to held Saturday

Organizations and individuals of the local arts community have organized a marathon of events as a benefit for the Arts Council of Lower Cape Fear. The "Arts Day" benefit is scheduled for Saturday, April 10, at several locations on the campus of UNCW.

Arts Day includes over 15 hours of classical music, barbershop harmony, gospel, rhythm and blues, jazz, and theatrics and will feature the talents of 21 organizations and soloists.

Tickets are available for a suggested minimum donation of $10.50 per event at the Kenan Auditorium box office. Proceeds will go to the Arts Council of the Lower Cape Fear.

Dunk-a-Cop April 20

The University Police Department will sponsor "Dunk-A-Cop" from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Tuesday, April 20, in front of the University Center. For $1 you get three chances to dunk your favorite cop.

The event will take place in conjunction with the Special Olympics, and all proceeds will go to the Special Olympics.

Special Olympics T-shirts are available for a donation of $12 or more from university police officers or at the department during normal operating hours, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday to Friday.

Leutze appears on N.C. People

Chancellor James R. Leutze will appear on North Carolina People, hosted by Bill Friday, at 5:30 p.m., Sunday, April 11, on North Carolina Public Television, channel 39 in Wilmington (13 on cable).

University closed tomorrow

UNC Wilmington will be closed tomorrow for the Good Friday holiday.

Announcements

HOUSING NEEDED

John Lemos, philosophy and religion, needs a house or apartment to sub-let or house-sit for this summer. Call him at ext. 3397 if interested.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT TICKETS AVAILABLE

The information center is selling tickets to the 1993 Pro Tennis Tournament to be held at Landfall Sports Center April 16 to 18. Half-price tickets will be available to faculty, staff, and students and will benefit the Wilmington Cardiovascular Rehabilitation Foundation. Ticket prices are $2, $3, and $4.

ITO PRINT AVAILABLE

Uta 74, a four-color original lithograph by Japanese artist Handoku Ito, is now available for purchase. Ito created the work while on campus last fall as an artist in residence. The 15" x 20" image was printed by Ito and UNCW art faculty member Donald Furst, who organized the visit. Eight of the edition's 22 impressions are still available at $200 to members of the university community. This discounted price expires May 1, when print sales will be opened to the public at a price of $250. Sale proceeds will help fund future visits by distinguished lecturers.

For more information, call the Fine Arts Office at ext. 3440 or Donald Furst at ext. 3404.

OPEN HOUSE

Faculty and staff are invited to tour the UNCW athletic and recreational facilities from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 13. Continuous guided tours, beginning at the fitness center in Hanover Gymnasium, will be held. Stops will include the aerobic room, Trask Natatorium, the locker/basket room, the sports medicine center, and Trask Coliseum.

Information on scheduled hours for faculty/staff use of the facilities will be available; refreshments will be served.

PHI KAPPA PHI INITIATION

The UNCW chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, the university's only interdisciplinary honor society for upperclassmen and graduate students, will hold its Spring Initiation Ceremony at 4 p.m., Wednesday, April 14, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium. The speaker will be Dr. Wendell McKenzie, alumni distinguished professor of genetics at N.C. State University. He will discuss "Genetics and the Future...A Time for Excellence."

All members of the campus community are invited to attend.

JUST DO IT

The second session of the smoking cessation program, SMOKE STOPPERS, is being planned. In five one-hour sessions, you will be ready to stop smoking. The cost is $80 (with incentives for reimbursements), and payroll deduction is available. Contact Marsha Hinson at ext. 3006 for details.

FREE SCREENING

Free oral screenings for student, faculty, and staff users of smokeless tobacco - Dr. David McDaniel, New Hanover County Health Department Dental Program, will conduct free, walk-in clinics from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Wednesday, April 14, and Tuesday, April 20, in the Student Health and Wellness Center, Westside Hall.

Each screening will take approximately 15 minutes. Appointments are available, but walk-ins are welcome. This service is sponsored by the LivWELL Center for Health Promotion. For more information, call Deborah Haywood at ext. 4137.

EASTER LIBRARY HOURS

Randall Library will be open the following hours during Easter break:

Thursday, April 8 - 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Friday, April 9 - 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Saturday, April 10 - 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Sunday, April 11 - 3 p.m. to midnight

UPCOMING TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

You Make the Difference

3 to 5 p.m., Wednesday, April 14, or 9 to 11 a.m., Tuesday, April 20, HR training room. This diversity workshop deals with working well with people different from oneself. Dramas and interviews explore the issues of sabotage, stereotypes, cultural differences, teamwork, and environments that promote productivity.

Communicating Effectively - The Key Ingredients

9 a.m. to noon, Thursday, April 22, Union room 100, Cost - $40.

Dr. Anne Matthews, a nationally known motivational speaker and consultant, will present this workshop to celebrate and highlight the unique contributions UNCW secretaries and support staff provide the campus. Topics will include introspection, communication skills, professionalism, and coping techniques for stressful situations, and behavior patterns, power, and leadership styles.

Secretarial/Office Support Quarterly Meeting

3 to 5 p.m., Thursday, April 29, Union room 100. Guest Speakers: Bob Fry, assistant to the chancellor for institutional research and Dr. Drew Rosen, assistant professor of production and decision sciences. Topic: The Total Quality University (TQU) and You!

Call ext. 3160 to register for training opportunities listed above

UNCW PRESENTS RIPPY EXHIBIT

"A Wayfarer's Composite," an art exhibit by Wilmington artist Jodie Wrenn Rippy, will be on display in the UNCW University Center Lobby from April 16 through May 21. A Meet the Artist Reception will be held on Sunday, April 25, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Send Campus Communique items to BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn Busse, c/o University Relations

Campus Happenings

FEMINIST COLLOQUIUM

All interested faculty, staff, and students are invited to the Feminist Colloquium, 3 p.m., Friday, April 16, in the Faculty Common of Morton Hall. The reading is "The Writer On, and At, Her Work" by Ursula K. LeQuin, and the discussion will be led by Dr. Paula Kamenish. The selection is on reserve in the library.

DRUG SEMINAR

"When Drugs Talk, Money Walks" will be presented by Drug Enforcement Agent Mike Grimes at 4 p.m., Thursday, April 15, in the UC Ballroom. For more information, call ALTERNATIVES! at ext. 3683. Attendance vouchers will be provided.

LEUTZE SUPPORTS SEAHAWK SEARCH

Chancellor Leutze has issued this statement regarding the upcoming Seahawk Search:

In our continuing efforts to emphasize the fact that we are "One University, One Team and have One Goal," we have decided to try something new. To encourage people to break down barriers and participate in an activity that will be fun, but which will also serve a useful purpose, we have inaugurated the "Seahawk Search."

The fun and rewards will be obvious, but the serious purpose is to emphasize the importance of people getting to know each other and learn more about their university. I think this is a good idea and encourage everyone to participate.

BIOLOGY SEMINAR

The Department of Biological Sciences will host a seminar by Dr. C. Scott Baker, Pacific Biomedical Research Center, University of Hawaii, titled "Migrating Molecules: Tracking Oceanic Gene Flow from the Individual to the Species" at 11 a.m., Thursday, April 8, in Friday Hall room 151.

Baker is a candidate for a position in the department. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

BLOOD DRIVE

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive at UNCW from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 14, in the University Center Ballroom.

Faculty and Staff

Donna Jeffers-Brown, HPER Department, presented "Consolidation of Municipal and County Parks and Recreation Departments: A Future Trend?" at the 1993 National Recreation and Park Association Southern Regional Conference, held March 28 to 29 in Myrtle Beach.

At the recent American Counseling Association convention, Phillip Sharp, Student Development Center, co-presented: "Conceptualizing Differentially in Developmental Career Counseling: the Diamond Model."

Lawrence B. Cahoon, associate professor of biological sciences, was elected president of the North Carolina Academy of Sciences at the academy's annual meeting held at UNCW Saturday, March 27. Cahoon will serve one year as president-elect and assume the duties of president in 1994.

Dr. Joseph Yan, Mathematical Sciences Department, recently attended a workshop on data visualization at the North Carolina Supercomputing Center. Yan is available to assist faculty and students in producing graphical output from numerical data or sampling data, either with AVS or other facilities. A complete manual and detailed information about Application Visualization Systems are available.

Victoria Parker, lecturer of parks and recreation management in the HPER Department, has been awarded the Outstanding Therapeutic Recreation Instructor for 1993 in the State of North Carolina. This is the second consecutive year Parker has received the award. It is given by the Therapeutic Recreation Division of the N.C. Recreation and Park Society.

Dr. Ned H. Martin, professor of chemistry, presented a poster paper at the American Chemical Society Meeting in Denver last week on "The Three R's of Resource Management in the Undergraduate Organic Chemistry Laboratory" which was co-written by UNCW environmental studies major Fred Waldman. The paper was selected as one of about 3 percent of the 4900 papers presented at the meeting to be presented a second time at an evening mixer session.

The paper details the chemistry department's efforts at reducing chemical waste by Reducing the scale of experiments, Reusing (Recycling) chemicals, and Rendering unusable waste environmentally acceptable for disposal. The same two authors presented a paper at the North Carolina Academy of Science Meeting March 26 at UNCW on "The Three R's of Resource Management in the Introductory Chemistry Laboratory," which dealt with similar efforts in other courses.

Dr. Robert Mark Spaulding, assistant professor of history, recently presented "Exploring West German Business Strategies for the Soviet Market in the 1950s" to the Sixth Biennial Conference on Eastern Europe, Russia and the Soviet Union, hosted by New College, USF, in Sarasota Fla., March 25 to 28.

Dr. Marlene M. Rosenkoetter, dean and professor, has had a chapter titled "Pets and Life Patterns in the Home" published in Readings in Family Nursing, J. P. Lippincott, 1993, by Gail Wegner and Rinda Alexander.

The Quality Corner

The last Quality Corner focused on incorporating quality concepts into the existing planning and assessment process. The question still remains, "How does this all work?"

The success of TQ depends on the formation of knowledgeable study and action teams around critical processes. These teams begin their work by identifying process beneficiaries or customers and collecting information about their needs and perceptions.

From these data, teams identify causes of process problems. This is the most important and time-consuming step in the team process. TQ teams do not work to identify the problem or the solution but rather recognize that processes often have numerous problems and each of these may have many solutions.

The team effort is to find the most significant problem - the one that, if corrected, will result in the greatest process improvement. Once identified, teams turn their attention to generating a list of possible solutions. Each in this list is compared against known constraints (time, budget, etc.) and one or more are chosen for testing. When the team is satisfied with test results, the team recommends that the sponsor fully implement the modified process.

Although it appears that the team's work is complete, it is important to remember that 1) only the most significant problems have been addressed and 2) beneficiary or customers needs and perceptions are constantly changing.

In adopting the concept of continuous improvement, the pledge is to always seek higher levels of institutional effectiveness and efficiency. Our next article will focus on one of the TQ tools that is currently being used at UNCW.

Official Notices

1993 Summer Work Schedule

The university will again adopt a 4 1/2 day work week during the summer months. UNCW's official operating hours will be 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 7:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Fridays. This schedule will be in effect May 17 to August 6.

- All departments must be open during the university's official operating hours.

- Employees electing to take half-hour lunches will work these hours.

- Employees electing to take hour lunches will work 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 7:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Fridays. This will include a half-hour beyond the university's official operating hours Monday through Thursday.

Some departments will need to establish alternative schedules including remaining open on Friday afternoons in order to meet fundamental commitments to students during summer sessions, operational requirements, or the needs of external constituents.

Alternative work schedules (other than the university's official operating schedule) must be approved by the respective division vice chancellor and a copy should be forwarded to Human Resources. Departments are encouraged to plan to accommodate any special needs and notify external constituents of summer operating hours as early as possible.

Questions concerning individual work schedules for employees should be directed to Kay Fryar at ext. 3698. Questions concerning facilities or HVAC requirements outside of regular operating hours should be directed to James Mathis at ext. 3104.

Shared leave

Barbara Troy, Athletics, needs 240 hours shared leave as a result of surgery and recuperation. Mary Corcoran, Library, has recovered from surgery, but still needs 115 hours of shared leave.

Celebrate the Seahawk Spirit and join the Seahawk Search

April 19 - 22, 1993

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to participate in the "Seahawk Search" beginning April 19. Twenty individual pieces of the Seahawk puzzle will be hidden with official "puzzle pieces keepers" working in offices around campus. No two pieces of the puzzle are hidden in the same building. Individuals (or team up with a friend) must go in person (no phone calls allowed) to buildings and specifically ask staff members "are you the puzzle pieces keeper?" If you find a puzzle pieces keeper, you will be rewarded with a piece of the puzzle. Once you have located all 20 pieces, go to the Chancellor's Office with your UNCW ID to claim your choice of over 40 great prizes.

Campus Softball Game Friday, April 23 · 3:30 p.m. · Brooks Field

Sign up individually or as a team (5 men/5 women) by April 21 in the Office of Recreation and Intramural Programs in Hanover Gym. Drop-ins on game day are welcome. Refreshments of hot dogs and drinks will be available and Surf 107 and Coast 97.3 will be on hand.

Organized by the Seahawk Spirit Committee. See next week's Communique or Seahawk for more detailed information.

Campus Community

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 35 April 15, 1993

UNCW announces $1 million gift to campaign

UNCW Trustee Chair Robert F. Warwick and Chancellor James R. Leutze yesterday announced that the university has received a gift of real property with an estimated value of between $1 and $1.2 million.

Making the outstanding contribution to the university's $15 million capital campaign were Donald R. Watson and Carl Brown, long-time Wilmington residents and partners during their ownership of the Wilmington Pepsi Bottling operation.

Warwick and Leutze announced the latest campaign donation at the regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Trustees. Leutze explained that the real estate will be sold as soon as practical. Using the proceeds, UNCW will seek matching funding from the UNC Board of Governors Distinguished Professors Endowment Trust Fund to establish two endowed chairs of $500,000 each. This program matches $167,000 state monies with $333,000 private.

Don Watson will endow a chair in the School of Education and Carl and Janice Brown will endow a chair in marine sciences.

In announcing the donation, Leutze thanked both the donors and the state legislature. He commented that in establishing the Distinguished Professors Endowment Trust Fund in 1985, the North Carolina General Assembly showed its "wisdom and vision in creating a public/private partnership."

When the endowment was begun, UNCW received approval to establish a chair in marine science and one in accountancy, contingent on the availability of funds. Leutze has requested similar approval from UNC President C. D. Spangler Jr. for the chair in education.

Regarding the state match, the General Assembly is currently considering a bill to put additional money into the trust fund. According to Leutze, its passage looks hopeful. "UNCW plans to take full advantage of this opportunity as soon as we can," Leutze said.

Austrian scientist to discuss Lorenz

Dr. Kurt Kotrschal, noted Austrian scientist and animal behaviorist, will present two lectures on Konrad Lorenz at the UNCW. The first lecture will be at 3:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 20, in the Madeline Suite. The second lecture will take place at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 21, at Cameron Auditorium.

Kotrschal's lectures will focus on Lorenz, the world's most widely known animal behaviorist and Nobel Prize recipient for his work with a flock of greylag geese. Lorenz studied the behavior of the newborn geese and raised them to adulthood as his own children.

The first lecture, titled "The Greylag Geese of Konrad Lorenz: Their Relevance for Animal Behavior Research," will be sponsored by the Departments of Biological Sciences and Psychology.

The second lecture, titled "The Passion of a Lifetime: The Ethology of Konrad Lorenz," will be geared toward the general public and the UNCW community.

NAACP leader to speak

Kelly Alexander, Jr., prominent leader in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), will speak at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 20, in Cameron Auditorium. Alexander will deliver a speech titled "The Political Economy and Black America."

Alexander serves as NAACP national vice president and as president of the North Carolina State Conference of Branches, which is parallel to state level governance for the organization. He is also a member of several committees including budget, legal, and executive.

Discussion on environment planned

A panel discussion titled "How to Promote Effective Environmental Stewardship in the Projected Development of the UNC Wilmington Campus" will be held from 3:30 to 5 p.m., Thursday, April 22, in Morton Hall's Bryan Auditorium.

The panel members will include: Dr. Joan Willey, Chemistry Department; Dr. Martin Posey, Biology Department; Andy Wood, president, Earth Day Alliance; Kathy Taylor, biology undergraduate student; a representative of the Chancellor's Office; a representative of the Business Affairs Department; and a representative of McKim and Creed. The facilitator will be Camilla Herlevich, environmental lawyer, and formerly of the Nature Conservancy.

Announcements

DEPARTMENTAL SEMINAR

Biological sciences will host a Departmental Seminar featuring Dr. Janice Thompson, CalBioMarine Technologies, Inc., Leucadia, Calif., who will present "Culture of marine organisms for the production of pharmaceuticals" at 2 p.m., Friday, April 23, in Friday hall room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

NEW EMPLOYEE

Kay Robinson from the University of Rochester has accepted the position of assistant vice chancellor for human resources effective June 1. Sam Connolly will become the university's affirmative action officer reporting to the chancellor.

THESIS DEFENSE

Biological sciences will host a graduate thesis defense by Lawrence R. Settle titled "Spatial and Temporal Variability in the Distribution and Abundance of Larval and Juvenile Fishes Associated with Pelagic Sargassum" at 10 a.m., Friday, April 23, in Friday Hall room 301. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

THANK YOU

Helen Washington, Bookstore, wishes to extend gratitude and thanks to those who donated money, clothes, and furniture after a recent fire gutted her home. She hopes one day to thank everyone individually.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

The following Graduate School information can now be viewed on Videotex under info item number seven, academic information: 1) by-laws of the graduate faculty, 2) graduate faculty criteria, 3) graduate school procedures, 4) graduate council meeting minutes, 5) 1993-94 graduate catalog, and 6) graduate school newsletter.

SECRETARIAL LUNCHEON

The Cape Fear Chapter of Professional Secretaries International will present a luncheon and seminar for office professionals April 21. The buffet luncheon will be held at the Madeline Suite. The cost is $8 for lunch, $10 for the seminar, and $15 for lunch and the seminar, which is titled "It's Not My Fault" and will offer .2 CEU points and 2 recertification points for CPS's.

Please call Mary Browning at ext. 3188 or Beth Roberts at ext. 3487 for more information.

FRESHMAN MENTORS

A small number of faculty and staff served as freshman mentors this academic year. There are plans for the program to continue for 1993-94 freshmen, and David Miller, enrollment manager, hopes to provide all of this fall's entering freshmen with a mentor.

Mentors do not replace General College advisors, but instead help students adjust to the university. The mentors are expected to initiate contact with the freshmen, and faculty and staff do not have to use the same contact methods or arrangements to meet with the freshmen.

Office appointments, lunch appointments, visits to the mentor's home, group meetings with all of the mentor's assigned freshmen, and attendance of university activities are a few examples of opportunities for mentors and students to get together.

Other colleges and universities are using similar programs to aid in retention efforts. In addition, Miller is asking returning students to serve as peer advisors for freshmen.

If you want to serve as a mentor for three to five freshmen, call ext. 3540, or send your name, campus phone number, and campus address to David Miller's office. If you would like to know more about the program, please call or visit Miller. A meeting of all mentors will be held in April.

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK IS APRIL 18 - 24

"My library was dukedom large enough."
Prospero in The Tempest I.ii.109

The modern library contains much more than books, and those who have been on this campus for several years have watched with pride the growth of Randall Library to its present holdings of approximately 1,451,960 documents.

We all appreciate the physical surroundings, but a good university library is more than a quiet "study hall," a collection of books, periodicals, microforms, films, etc. An efficient, knowledgeable, and "user-friendly" staff is crucial for all users, undergraduate and graduate students, faculty, staff, and members of the community.

We can be justifiably proud of the facility and the collection, but we are especially proud of the 35 staff members who have helped us in so many ways that to list them would fill the Communique. The Library Committee, on behalf of the faculty, wishes to express its gratitude to the library staff for all their invaluable help.

FALL CONVOCATION

The Fall Convocation ceremony will be held at 10:30 a.m., Wednesday, September 8, in Trask Coliseum. Other activities for the day are being planned and will be announced soon. The events are designed to set the tone for our academic year by bringing the university community together for a common purpose.

Classes at 10 and 11 a.m. will be canceled to provide each student and faculty member the opportunity to attend. Since this is an important event for our campus, faculty and staff are strongly encouraged to attend. Details concerning regalia rental and schedules for other activities will be published at a later date.

Chancellor Leutze's student hours for April 21 have been changed to 2 to 3:30 p.m.

Celebrate the Seahawk Spirit and join the

Seahawk Search

April 19 - 22, 1993

Faculty, staff, and students are invited to participate in the "Seahawk Search" beginning April 19. Twenty individual pieces of the Seahawk puzzle will be hidden with official "puzzle pieces keepers" working in offices around campus. No two pieces of the puzzle are hidden in the same building. Individuals (or team up with a friend!) must go in person (no phone calls accepted) to buildings and specifically ask a staff member "are you the puzzle pieces keeper?" If you have found a puzzle pieces keeper, you will be rewarded with a piece of the puzzle. Once you have all 20 pieces, go to the Chancellor's Office with your UNCW ID to claim your choice of over 40 great prizes:

- Ten $50 cash prizes
- $100 UNCW Bookstore Gift Certificate
- One Set of Season Basketball Tickets
- Free Scuba Lessons from Aquatic Safari
- Restaurant Gift Certificates from Eddie Romanelli's, Katy's Great Eats, Charlie Rivenbark's, P.T.'s, Domino's Pizza, and Golden Corral
- Cash credit of $10/month on ID PLUS
- Mikasa Volleyball
- T-shirt from Hot Wax Surf Shop and UNCW Bookstore
- Free Movie Passes
- One Set of Tickets to Comedy Show "Carrot Top"

Prizes will be given away on a first come, first win basis. Only one prize per completed puzzle/per person. Completed puzzles must be turned in to the Chancellor's Office by 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, April 22. All entrants will be included in a final grand prize drawing at the Campus Softball Game.

GRAND PRIZE: Four Golf Passes to Porter's Neck
Drawing will be held during Campus Softball Game on April 23!

Celebrate the Seahawk Spirit and sign up for the Campus
Softball Game

Friday, April 23 • 3:30 p.m.

Brooks Field

(RAIN LOCATION: HANOVER GYM FOR VOLLEYBALL)

Faculty, staff, and students are encouraged to wear their favorite UNCW or Earth Day t-shirt all day on April 23 to show their SEAHAWK SPIRIT!

Sign up yourself or your team (5 men/5 women) by April 21 in the Office of Recreation and Intramural Programs, located in Hanover Gym. Drop-in's on game day are welcome. Please bring your own glove. Hot dogs and soft drinks will be available for 50 cents each (ID PLUS cards may be used). Grand prize drawing will be held at 4:30 p.m. You need not be present to win.

Surf 107 and Coast 97.3
will be on hand during the game.

◆ The Seahawk and UNCW Cheerleaders will be around, too! ◆

Organized by the Seahawk Spirit Committee. Call 3827 or 3174 for more information.

Campus Happenings

CAA TOURNAMENT

UNCW will host the 1993 Colonial Athletic Association Baseball Tournament at Brooks Field May 18 to 22. Tournament passes good for all games are $15. Single day passes will also be available on game days for $5. Children age 12 and under will be admitted free when accompanied by a paying adult.

For more information, call the Athletic Department at ext. 3580.

CHARLESTON TRIP SET

Discover Outdoor Programs is sponsoring a sight seeing and kayaking trip to Charleston, S.C., April 24 to 25. The cost is $50, which includes transportation, lodging, three meals, and kayak instruction and rentals. The deadline to sign up is April 21 in the Discover Outdoor Center, UC room 138, or call ext. 4025.

DRUG SEMINAR

"When Drugs Talk, Money Walks" will be presented by Drug Enforcement Agent Mike Grimes at 4 p.m., Thursday, April 15, in the UC Ballroom. For more information, call ALTERNATIVES! at ext. 3683. Attendance vouchers will be provided.

NYSP SUMMER CAMP

The National Youth Sports Program (NYSP) combines sports instruction with exciting educational programs for youth ages 10 to 16. Enrollment is free and open to all youngsters in the community whose parent(s) or guardian(s) meet Department of Health and Human Services income guidelines. The program begins June 21 and ends July 30. For more information, call Brenda Dineen at ext. 3712. The deadline for applications is April 30.

MARCH FOR PARKS

The National Parks and Conservation Association will sponsor March for Parks 1993 April 17 in conjunction with Earth Day. The walk will start at 10 a.m. in front of Kenan Auditorium and will end at 11 a.m. at Burnt Mill Pond on Randall Parkway. Call 341-7855 for more information.

A park dedication will be held at 11 a.m. Mayor Don Betz will name the park in honor of Dr. Ann McCrary, professor emeritus of the Department of Biological Sciences. Please join McCrary, friends, and former students for the event.

ART ON DISPLAY

Wilmington artist Jacque McKnight Williams will exhibit her work in the UNCW University Union from April 13 through May 28. A "Meet the Artist" reception will be held from 2 to 4 p.m., Sunday, April 25.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. James Johnson, associate professor of psychology, was chosen to be a visiting scholar at the recent meeting of the Southeastern Psychological Association. The association will fund Johnson's invited presentations of his research to various universities. In addition, Johnson was the research sponsor for Heather MacQueen, who won first place in the association's Excellence in Student Research competition. Her paper was titled, "William Kennedy Smith Revisited: The Effect of Inadmissible Information Regarding a Rape Victim."

Dr. Kathleen Kowal of psychology served on a Southern Association Reaffirmation Committee to Maryville College, Tenn. This is Kowal's sixth SACS reaccreditation visit.

Dr. Karan Smith of the Mathematical Sciences Department recently presented at the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics (NCTM) Regional Conference held in Columbus, Ga., March 11 to 13. Her talk was titled "The Use of Computer Algebra for the Teaching of Mathematics." At the national NCTM meeting in Seattle, Wash., held March 31 to April 3, she presided at the session "Images of the Future: Themes in Using Technology Tomorrow to Teach Math."

Dr. Walter Conser, chair of the Department of Philosophy and Religion, recently presented the paper, "Political Rhetoric, Religious Sensibilities, and the Southern Discourse on Slavery," to the American Society of Church History meetings held at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va.

Dr. Kimon Bird recently published a paper with former undergraduate Brian Cody, M.E. Kane of the University of Florida, and J. Jewett-Smith of the University of Tampa. "Salinity effects on Ruppia maritima cultured in vitro" appeared in Botanica Marina 36: 23-28.

Dr. Andrew F. Clark, assistant professor of history, has been selected to participate in an NEH Summer Seminar for College Teachers at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md. The seminar topic is "Slavery and the Atlantic Plantation Complex, 1450-1890" and will be directed by Dr. Philip Curtin.

Dr. James C. Dixon, professor of political science, delivered the paper "The Supreme Court, the First Amendment and the Constitutionality of Hate Crime Statutes," at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Political Science Association held at N.C. Central University April 2 to 3.

Dr. Janet Ellerby and English graduate student Mary Ann Browder Brock presented a paper on liberation pedagogy titled "Out of Control: My Most Important Lessons" at the Conference on College Composition and Communication, held April 1 to 3 in San Diego.

Faculty and Staff (cont.)

Drs. David E. Blake, William J. Cleary, James A. Dockal, Jack C. Hall, W. Burleigh Harris, Michael S. Smith, and Victor A. Zullo, all of the Department of Earth Sciences, recently attended the 1993 Southeast Geological Society of America regional meeting in Tallahassee, Fla. Papers presented included "Sequence stratigraphic analysis of Paleocene and Eocene strata,

Long Bay, North Carolina" by W. Burleigh Harris, Victor A. Zullo, and Richard A. Laws; "Re-calibration of the apparent 25,000 to 35,000 YBP sea level high stand: Just a moment in time some 55,000 to 70,000 years ago" by James A. Dockal; "Barrier/lagoon and shoreface Holocene stratigraphy: Masonboro Island, N.C." by William J. Cleary; "Unusual examples of serial growth and succession in Pliocene and Pleistocene coral-inhabiting barnacles" by Victor A. Zullo; and "The Crabtree Pluton: A deformed mid-Paleozoic (?) stitching pluton on the west flank of the Raleigh Metamorphic Belt" by David E. Blake and E. F. Stoddard. Other presentations included "Metamorphism of Triassic sediments from the Dunbarton Basin, South Carolina" by Paul Thayer, A. Smits, and M. Harris; and "Shoreface sedimentation on a replenished beach, Wrightsville Beach, N.C." by R. Theiler, William J. Cleary, and S. Riggs.

Presentations were also made by graduate and undergraduate students of the Department of Earth Sciences.

Carolyn C. Kelth (with Jack C. Hall) presented "Conodont age determination of the uppermost Martinsburg (Ordovician), Orthorhynchula and equivalent beds, Valley and Ridge Province, Tennessee to Pennsylvania" and "Estuarine evolution in response to sea level rise, Coastal Plain, southeastern North Carolina" was presented by Julia K. Berger (with William J. Cleary). Undergraduate Brett T. McLaurin presented "Stratigraphic analysis of the Paleocene Beaufort Formation, Lenoir and Craven counties, North Carolina" and the "Conodont biostratigraphy of the Ordovician - Silurian boundary in the central Appalachian Valley and Ridge Province" was presented by P. Lee Phillips, Jr. (with Jack C. Hall).

Dr. Frank Bongiorno and Robert Nathanson performed In the Dragon's Garden by David Kechley at Bennington College, Vt., Wednesday, April 7. In addition, Nathanson conducted masterclasses on the baroque guitar, and Bongiorno conducted a masterclass on saxophone performance.

Dr. William Overman, professor of psychology, has been awarded a three-year research grant from the National Institutes of Mental Health for approximately $180,000. The grant is supported by the Basic Behavioral and Cognitive Sciences Branch of NIMH. The research project is a multi-phased study designed to investigate gender differences in cognitive behavior of very young children.

Official Notices

Upcoming holidays at UNCW

Holiday	1993	1994	1995
New Year's	Fri. Jan. 1	Fri. Dec. 31 '93	Mon. Jan. 2
M.L. King Birthday	Mon. Jan. 18	Mon. Jan. 17	Mon. Jan. 16
Good Friday	Fri. Apr. 9	Fri. Apr. 1	Fri. Apr. 14
Independence Day	Mon. July 5	Mon. July 4	Tue. July 4
Labor Day	Mon. Sep. 6	Mon. Sep. 5	Mon. Sep. 4
Thanksgiving	Th.-F. Nov. 25-26	Th.-F. Nov. 24-25	Th.-F. Nov. 23-24
Christmas	F.-F. Dec. 24-31	F.-M. Dec. 23 - Jan. 2	M.-M. Dec. 25 - Jan 1
	Dec. 30 will be a scheduled vacation day. Dec. 31 will be taken off as New Year's 1994. Total break - 10 days.	Dec. 29 and 30 will be scheduled vacation days. Total break - 11 days.	Dec. 29 will be a scheduled vacation day. Total break - 10 days.

When a holiday falls on Saturday, the university recognizes the holiday the preceding Friday; when a holiday falls on Sunday, UNCW recognizes the holiday the following Monday.

Two of the holidays listed above (Good Friday and Christmas Day) are regarded as religious holidays. An employee wishing to observe different religious holidays may request a "holiday exchange." If operational requirements permit, the employee may work on the holiday observed by the university in exchange for a day off to accommodate a religious holiday of the employee's preference. If operations do not permit working on the holiday observed by the university, the employee may take vacation leave on religious holidays of preference. For additional information, call Kay Fryar at ext. 3698.

student mailing ends

April 23 is the last day mass department mailings will be accepted for distribution to student boxes. Summer mail delivery will resume May 24. Departments are reminded that nonresident students are not required to have summer boxes.

Clerical study

Recommendations to the vice chancellors regarding the clerical study will be made the week of May 3. Changes are subject to approval by vice chancellors and the Office of State Personnel.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 36 April 22, 1993

Business school receives accreditation

The Cameron School of Business joined the ranks of the top business schools in the country when the university announced Tuesday that it has been accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business at the organization's annual meeting, April 18-21. Accredited universities in North Carolina include UNC Chapel Hill's Kenan-Flagler Business School and Duke University's Fuqua School of Business.

Approximately 1,200 colleges and universities in the U.S. offer undergraduate business degrees, but only 287 are accredited by AACSB. Of the more than 600 master's programs, 268 are AACSB accredited.

The accreditation "affirms the quality of students and faculty at the Cameron School of Business and with that, it allows us to move ahead with an already strong program," noted Chancellor James Leutze. "It admits the Cameron School of Business to a collection of schools that comprise the top 20 percent of business schools in the country. We are very pleased that this prestigious organization has recognized the quality of our institution."

To achieve accreditation, a business school must meet a wide range of quality standards relating to curriculum, faculty resources, admissions, degree requirements, library and computer facilities, financial resources, and intellectual climate. During the accreditation process, UNC Wilmington was visited and evaluated by business school deans, accounting educators, and corporate representatives with detailed knowledge of management education, applying standards widely accepted in the educational community.

AACSB is a not-for-profit organization consisting of more than 800 educational organizations and corporations devoted to the improvement of higher education in business administration and management. Headquartered in St. Louis, it is recognized by the Council of Postsecondary Accreditation as the sole accrediting agency for bachelor's and master's degree programs in business administration and accounting. AACSB is also recognized as an accrediting agency by the U.S. Department of Education.

Earth Day concert to be held Saturday

An Earth Day Seaside Revival Concert to benefit the Nature Conservancy will be held from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday, April 24, at Brooks Field. The rain date for the event will be Sunday, April 25.

The concert will feature the most exciting upcoming local bands: Pandora's Lunchbox, Citizen X, Tunnel Vision, Wretched Sun, and Emily's Porch. Booths by campus and community organizations, food and beverages, and door prizes will round out the day.

Tickets, $5 for adults, $4 for students with I.D., and free for children under age 12, are for sale at School Kids Video and Music, the information center, and at the gate.

Fashion show to fund scholarships

The University Women of UNCW will present "All That Jazz," a lively dinner and fashion show to raise money for scholarships, at 7 p.m., Thursday, April 29, in the University Center Ballroom. Among those modeling will be Chancellor James R. Leutze and Basketball Coach Kevin Eastman.

Thirteen area merchants will provide the latest in men's and women's spring fashions. Tickets are $12 from the Information Center (ext. 3833) or visit participating merchants which include Country Vogue, The Wonder Shop, Sondra's Boutique, Fleishman's Fine Clothiers, Neuwirth's Men's Wear, Island Passage, Henri's Boutique, and The Quarter of Chandler's Wharf.

UNCW to honor Minority Award recipients

The Eighth Annual Awards Program for Minority Students will be held at 8 p.m., Monday, April 26, in the ballroom of the University Center.

Katherine B. Moore, a 1973 UNCW graduate, will be the guest speaker. Moore was honored as one of five Women of Enterprise in the nation in 1990 by the Small Business Administration and Avon.

There will be 178 academic and 35 leadership awards presented to qualified minority students. Special music will be provided, and a reception will follow the program. The public is invited to attend.

Announcements

CAMPUS SOFTBALL GAME

Chancellor Leutze urges the university community to participate in or cheer on tomorrow's softball game, which starts at 3:30 p.m. at Brooks Field. Departments are asked to keep their offices running with a skeleton staff until 5 p.m. or to piggyback phone lines with neighboring departments. The game will continue after 5 p.m.

FAR EAST INVESTMENT

Nineteen of Dr. Ronald E. Copley's finance students enrolled in an investment management course at UNCW will analyze the international dimension of investment management markets, specifically in the Orient, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 28, in Cameron Auditorium.

The students will analyze the economic growth as well as the culture of the region to help predict and suggest the best methods of investing within foreign markets. Countries to be discussed include China, Hong Kong, Japan, Vietnam, and Indonesia. Everyone is invited.

SUMMER RESERVES

Faculty teaching courses during Summer Sessions I and II should submit reserve reading lists before May 7. Faculty are also requested to submit lists for fall 1993 before leaving for the summer.

Reserve reading lists may be sent via campus mail to Carolyn Andrews or on VAX mail to ANDREWSC. Previous list may be renewed by calling the reserve desk in Randall Library at ext. 3790.

CHANGE

Central Stores has made the following change: L/O correction tape is now listed as correction L/O tape.

Send Campus Communique Items to BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn
Busse, c/o University Relations.

HEALTH CARE IN CRISIS

Dr. Ronald E. Fox, president-elect of the American Psychological Association, will discuss "The National Health Care Crisis and Its Implication for Psychology Practice" at 3 p.m., Friday, April 23, in King Hall Auditorium. The talk is sponsored by Psi Chi and the Department of Psychology.

DEMPSEY WINS AWARD

Wilmington resident Line Dempsey was recently honored as Outstanding Physical Education Major of the Year from UNCW by the National Association for Sport and Physical Education.

INTERNATIONAL SURVEY

University Advancement is conducting a survey of faculty and staff to determine the international scope of UNCW. The results will be compiled into a booklet that will be sent to area media and members of the UNCW community.

The deadline to return the survey has been extended to April 28. If you did not receive a survey and would like to participate, call Carole Mehle at ext. 3017 or Carolyn Busse at ext. 4082.

SEANC

Gloria Sasser, district membership chair and secretary in the English Department, has $1 raffle tickets for the truck and trip mentioned in the Reporter. The raffle is sponsored by the scholarship program, which raises approximately $30,000 each year which is given to children of SEANC members. If you are interested in joining SEANC, call ext. 3338.

RESEARCH AWARDS

The Graduate School is pleased to announce that the following students have been awarded $1,000 summer research stipends: Yaqi Yang (math), Daniel Kline (earth sciences), Brian Chanas (biology), and Valerie Melvin (math).

SEPTET WINS AWARD

The UNC-Wilmington Jazz Septet, under the direction of Dr. Frank Bongiorno, received "superior" ratings from judges last weekend at the UNC-Greensboro Jazz Festival and was invited to perform on the Saturday evening concert with the festival's guest artist. In addition, three students (Benny Hill, James Brown, and Doug Irving) received "Outstanding Soloist" awards for their improvisations during the festival.

RECEPTION HONORING STOKES

The College of Arts and Sciences and the General College Advising Center invite the university community to a reception honoring Dr. John L. Stokes. It will be held from 3 to 5 p.m., Thursday, April 29, in the Union living room.

CAMPUS TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

As part of the continuing effort to promote a better sense of community among faculty, staff, and students at UNCW, the offices of Student Affairs, Telecommunications, and Human Resources will work jointly to produce a single campus telephone directory. Student Affairs will have primary responsibility.

The first edition of this faculty/staff/student directory will be published during the 1993-94 academic year.

RESIDENT ASSISTANTS

The Office of Housing and Residence Life still needs approximately five more resident assistants for the 1993-94 academic year. If you know of any students who would be strong candidates for the position, please refer them to the Office of Housing and Residence Life. Applications are due to the office by April 29. Call Chris Kaberline at ext. 3241 if you have a referral or need more information.

Campus Happenings

CHEMISTRY SEMINAR

Students involved in DIS and honors research in chemistry will present a summary of their results at 3 p.m., Friday, April 23, in DeLoach Hall Room 114. The public is invited to attend.

SPRING JAZZ CONCERT

The UNC Wilmington Jazz Ensembles, directed by Frank Bongiorno, will present their final concert of the spring semester at 8 p.m., Friday, April 23, in Kenan Auditorium. General admission is $2 and free for UNCW students with I.D.

The Jazz Septet will open the concert with selections such as Straight No Chaser by Thelonius Monk and El Toro by Wayne Shorter. Featured soloists will include Benny Hill, alto saxophone, and Andy Whittington, piano.

Big band jazz with the 7 O'clock Jazz Ensemble will conclude the concert with a performance by guest trombonist Ken Foberg.

THESIS DEFENSE

Biological sciences will host a Graduate Thesis Defense by Craig Andrew Harper titled "Artificial blackwater impoundments: Their role as wood duck habitat" at 2 p.m., Friday, April 30, in Friday Hall Room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

ACE PRESENTS CARROT TOP

The Association for Campus Entertainment will present comedian Carrot Top in performance at 9 p.m., Monday, April 26, in Kenan Auditorium. Tickets for this event are $3 and can be purchased at the University Information Center and at the door.

He has appeared on A&E's Evening at the Improv, Comedy on the Road, Star Search, and MTV's Half Hour Comedy Hour.

WRITERS AND READERS SERIES

The Writers and Readers Series at UNCW will present Michael McFee and Karen McCullough reading from their work at 7 p.m., Thursday, April 22, in King Auditorium on the campus of UNC Wilmington. The event is part of the spring 1992 Blumenthal Writers & Readers Series. Philip Gerard, director of the Professional and Creative Writing Program at UNCW, will serve as moderator.

SCHOLARSHIPS ESTABLISHED

The Hanover Lions Club has announced that it will fund three $1000 scholarships to freshmen attending UNCW. A scholarship will be awarded to one incoming freshman from each of the three public high schools in New Hanover County.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Michael Brophy, assistant professor of French, presented a paper titled "Difficult Crossings: Bernard Noel and Art" at the 1993 North Eastern Modern Language Association Conference, held in Philadelphia, March 25 to 27. His review of Parole Tenuë by the Quebec poet Yves Precontaine appeared in The French Review, vol. 66, no. 5, April 1993.

Dr. Hana Noor Al-Deen, of the Communication Studies Department, presented three papers at the Joint Annual Convention of the Southern States Communication Association and the Central States Communication Association in Lexington, Ky. (April 14-18). The papers were titled "The Impact of Mass Media on a Mass Culture: A Case Study," "Cultural Diversity Among Arab Women," and "Cross Cultural Analysis of Communication between Generations: A Study of the Near East."

Dr. Terry Mount, associate professor of Spanish, presented the paper "The Great Jacobean Miracle in the Milagros de Nuestra Senora and the Milagros de Santiago" at the twentieth annual Sewanee Medieval Colloquium (University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn.), held April 2 to 3.

Dr. Maurice Stanley, instructor in the Philosophy and Religion Department, presented the paper "Bradley on Thought and Reality" at the F.H. Bradley Centenary Colloquium, April 3, at Merton College, Oxford University, England.

Dr. Joe Kishton, psychology; Dr. Sue Combs, chair, HPER; and psychology students Ashley Dixon and Deana Trull presented research results at the annual meeting of the Southeastern Psychological Association held in Atlanta. The presentation was titled,

"Self-Perception Changes Among Sports Camp Participants." Related research by Dr. Kishton and Ashley Dixon was presented at the Carolinas Psychology Conference in Raleigh.

Dr. Patricia Comeaux, assistant professor of communication studies, presented "Interactive Fiber Optic Networks: The Vision Carolina Project" April 15 at the regional Southern States Communication Conference.

UNCW fine arts/music part time faculty member John Jordan, organ instructor, has been awarded the Frank Huntington Beebe Fellowship for study in England as assistant organist at Bristol Cathedral for the 1993-94 academic year. The fund is administered by trustees of the New England Conservatory in Boston, Mass. and is named for Frank Huntington Beebe, arts and music philanthropist who died in 1932.

Official Notices

Employee opinion survey

Human Resources will soon conduct an employee opinion survey of all full-time faculty and staff. To better serve you, the department needs to know your feelings concerning your benefits, your job, and human resources programs. As an integral part of the university community, your opinions are important.

The survey booklets will be sent by the end of April. Everyone is encouraged to complete the survey.

Shared leave

Mary Browning, Bookstore, will need approximately 90 hours to avoid leave without pay after the birth of her baby in May.

Mary Ladner Corcoran, Library, has recovered from surgery, but still needs 35 more hours to avoid leave without pay.

Barbara Troy, Athletics, still needs 200 hours shared leave to avoid leave without pay due to surgery and recuperation.

To donate vacation hours, send an approved vacation leave form to Human Resources. Call Dale at ext. 3161 if you have questions.

Student time sheets

Student time sheets for April are due to the Payroll Office no later than 3 p.m., Friday, April 30. Time sheets for May are due by 3 p.m., Monday, May 31.

Orientation

Departments that have information for distribution at orientation may deliver their materials to Alderman Hall room 101 during the week of May 3 to 7. Storage space is limited, so please do not deliver materials before or after these dates. Mark your items for "freshmen only," or "freshmen and parents," etc.

Approximately 1,000 new freshmen and 750 parents are expected. For more information, call Dick Mullen-dore at ext. 3089.

Faculty and Staff (cont.)

Dr. Robert Mark Spaulding, Jr., assistant professor of history, presented "Determinants of German Commercial Success in the Soviet Market in the Interwar and Postwar Period" at the spring meeting of the Association of Historians of North Carolina, hosted by Elon College April 2.

Dr. Brooks Dodson, English, recently addressed a meeting of the university's Adult Scholars Enrichment Series; his topic was "The Decline and Fall of the English Language?"

Dr. P.J. Lapalre, associate professor of French, has published the article "Aspects de la dualité du discours motherlantien" (A study of binary stylistic techniques in Montherlant's works) in Dalhousie French Studies (in Nova Scotia, Can.).

English Department members Dr. Bill Atwill, Dr. Donna Frega, Dr. Paula Kamenish, Dr. Ele McKenna, Dr. Lindsay Pentolfe-Aegarter, and Dr. Brooks Dodson each read a paper at the annual national meeting of the College English Association held in Charlotte April 2 to 3.

As we move towards total quality, how do we know that the changes we are initiating are truly making a difference? How can we determine what areas require improvement? There are many ways to assess operational effectiveness and progress.

Benchmarking provides one way to compare our processes with those at other institutions. Through the use of clearly defined performance measures, institutional effectiveness can be analyzed and possible ineffective processes identified. This information provides valuable assistance to those areas just initiating Total Quality. It also provides input for those already involved in the team process of identifying improvement opportunities and moving forward to

Public Service and Extended Education

Reading and Writing Multicultural Text. Two-day seminar for educators that focuses on teaching the multicultural text. Application has been made to the N.C. Department of Public Instruction for 1.0 units of Teacher Renewal Credit. 4:30-9 p.m., Friday, May 7 and 9 a.m.-4 p.m., Saturday, May 8. Fee: $48 Student Fee: $40 (must have valid student I.D.) Register by April 30.

UNCW Oceanside Writers' Conference. A five-day intensive workshop designed to help participants, whether novice or experienced, become better writers. Sessions include Fiction with Philip Gerard, director of the Professional and Creative Writing Program at UNCW; Poetry with Kathleen Halme, assistant professor of creative writing at UNCW; and Nonfiction with Richard Hill, who teaches magazine writing, fiction writing and screenwriting at UNCW. June 13 to June 18. Fee: $405 for resident students (includes reception, workshops, handouts, housing and all meals) or $305 for commuters (includes workshops, handouts and five lunches). Register by June 6.

The Quality Corner

find solutions to process problems.

UNCW and 120 other educational institutions recently participated in a pilot benchmarking project sponsored by NACUBO (National Association of College and University Business Officers). Many campus offices provided data for this project and are awaiting the results, which are due in late May.

This project provides an excellent opportunity for comparing our performance levels with others during the beginning phases of our TQ efforts. Additional information will be provided to the campus when it becomes available.

The next Quality Corner will focus on leadership's role in a Total Quality environment.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 36, April 29, 1993

Master's of Psychology approved

The UNC Board of Governors has authorized the University of North Carolina at Wilmington to offer a Master of Arts Degree in Psychology beginning in the fall semester of 1994.

The course of study will offer two concentrations: pre-doctoral and substance abuse counseling. The North Carolina Department of Human Resources has identified graduate training of substance abuse counselors as among the state's most critical mental health needs.

The first concentration will be a general one with a goal of preparing students for entry into doctoral programs in applied or experimental psychology. The second is an applied concentration with a specific focus on therapy for substance abuse problems.

Students completing their degree in the applied concentration would be prepared to apply for the Psychological Associate License in North Carolina and will have completed all academic requirements necessary to be certified as a substance abuse counselor in North Carolina.

Requirements for admission to the program are a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and a strong academic record with an average of "B" or better in at least 18 hours of psychology courses, including a research methods course. In addition, satisfactory scores on the Graduate Record Examination and three letters of recommendation from former educators are required.

Applications are scheduled to be accepted beginning this fall.

Student Leadership Awards granted

UNCW held its annual Student Leadership Awards Banquet April 18. The winners of the five awards were the Environmental Concerns Organization for Outstanding Student Organization, "Take Back the Night" for Outstanding Educational Program, Annual Diversity Retreat for Outstanding Multicultural Program, Spring Fest '92 for Outstanding Social Program, Student Leadership Conference for Outstanding Publicity Campaign, and a tie between LivWELL Assistants and ALTERNATIVES! Peer Educators for Outstanding Peer Educators and Learners.

Who's Who recipients were also recognized at the banquet. Edith Steele, nursing lecturer, won Advisor of the Year. The five senior leader finalists were also recognized. They are Kelli Shafer, Jessica Bullard, Shelia Walker, Kimberly Smith, and Leslie Looper.

Commencement to be held May 15

UNCW will award approximately 888 degrees at its 46th commencement exercises at 10 a.m., Saturday, May 15, in Trask Coliseum. Some 831 will receive bachelor's degrees; 57 will be awarded graduate degrees.

Commencement speaker will be Dr. John Hope Franklin, Duke University history professor. Born in Rentiesville, Okla., and a graduate of Fisk University in Tennessee, he earned master's and doctoral degrees in history from Harvard.

At the age of 24, while completing his dissertation, he came to North Carolina. For the next seven years, he taught in the state, first at St. Augustine's College in Raleigh and then at North Carolina College, known today as North Carolina Central University. It was in Durham that he wrote his acclaimed history of black Americans, From Slavery to Freedom, which is now used in translation around the world.

Franklin has also held teaching positions at Fisk, Howard University, Brooklyn College, and the University of Chicago. In 1982 he was named James B. Duke Professor of History at Duke University; since his "retirement" in 1985, he has continued to teach courses in legal history in Duke's law school. More than 90 colleges and universities, including six UNC campuses, have awarded him honorary degrees.

During the ceremonies, he will be awarded the honorary doctor of letters.

Recycle phone books, magazines

Recycling Services will pick up last year's telephone books for recycling between May 10 and June 11. Take old books to the nearest vending machine for pick-up after new books have been delivered by telecommunications.

Old textbooks, magazines, or ad slicks will also be accepted for recycling. Call Towana Moore at ext. 3051 to schedule a pick-up time for these items.

June 11 is the final day to recycle these items.

Announcements

DIAL-A-SAILOR

Once again the Royal Navy will be in town when HMS ENDURANCE arrives at Wilmington's Riverfront Park at 10 a.m., Friday, May 7. Area residents have the opportunity to host British sailors for meals, shopping, or other recreational activities. Starting April 28, the popular Dial-A-Sailor number will begin taking reservations. To invite a member of the British Navy to be your guest for some enjoyable activities, call 799-4254 through May 7, or call the ship at 763-5261 after it arrives.

HMS ENDURANCE

Once again the Royal Navy will be in town when HMS ENDURANCE arrives at Wilmington's Riverfront Park at 10 a.m., Friday, May 7. Area residents have the opportunity to tour the modern Ice Patrol Ship, but only with advance reservations. Tours will be available weekdays from 10 to 11 a.m., Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and Sundays from 1 to 3 p.m. To make arrangements, call the Dial-A-Sailor Number, 799-4254, through May 7, or call the ship directly at 763-5261 after it arrives.

COMPUTING SURVEY

Please complete and return your response to the Computing and Information Systems "User Satisfaction Survey" to Institutional Research, Hoggard Hall Room 210, by May 1. Your response to the survey is important.

THESIS DEFENSE

Biological Sciences will host a graduate thesis defense by Catherine Songer titled "Understanding Cellular Respiration" at 9 a.m., Monday, May 3, in Friday Hall Room 123. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

Send Campus Communique items to
BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn
Busse, c/o University Relations

HOUSING NEEDED

Some participants in an NEH Summer Seminar for School Teachers to be held July 4 to 31 at UNCW are in need of furnished housing, especially two bedroom units. Up to four of the participants would like to bring spouses and children; none of the participants has more than two children. Faculty or staff members who have a home or apartment that they would like to sublet should contact Dr. Melton McLaurin, History Department, at ext. 3310.

CHEMISTRY AWARD

Phillip N. Meeks received the first annual Outstanding Chemistry Graduate Teaching Award from the Department of Chemistry at the department's awards banquet last Friday. In addition to receiving a certificate and a check for $150, the recipient's name is engraved on a plaque which will be displayed in the lobby of DeLoach Hall.

Congratulations to Phil Meeks.

RECEPTION FOR DINEEN

Brenda Dineen, assistant director for training and development, will resign as of April 30 to pursue graduate education and other interests. The staff of the Human Resources Department invites the university community to attend a reception to wish her the best in her new endeavors. It will be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m., Friday, April 30, in the Human Resources Training Room in the University Center.

FRESHMEN MENTORS

All volunteers for the fall 1992 and fall 1993 mentor program are asked to attend a meeting at 3 p.m., Wednesday, May 5, in Alderman Hall Room 215.

REMINDER

Reminder to department chairs: the names of the Bookstore Scholarship recipients are due to the bookstore by May 14.

HOUSE SITTER NEEDED

House sitter needed from June 25 to Aug. 21. Call ext. 3764 or 251-8300 for details.

HOUSING NEEDED

John Lemos, philosophy and religion, needs a house or apartment to house-sit for this summer. Call him at ext. 3397 if you are interested.

RECEPTION HONORING STOKES

The College of Arts and Sciences and the General College Advising Center invite the university community to a reception honoring Dr. John L. Stokes. It will be held from 3 to 5 p.m., Thursday, April 29, in the Union living room.

THESIS DEFENSE

Biological sciences will host a Graduate Thesis Defense by Craig Andrew Harper titled "Artificial blackwater impoundments: Their role as wood duck habitat" at 2 p.m., Friday, April 30, in Friday Hall Room 151. Everyone is welcome; refreshments will be served.

FASHION SHOW

The University Women of UNCW will present "All That Jazz," a lively dinner and fashion show to raise money for scholarships, at 7 p.m., Thursday, April 29, in the University Center Ballroom. Among those modeling will be Chancellor James R. Leutze and Basketball Coach Kevin Eastman.

Thirteen area merchants will provide the latest in men's and women's spring fashions. Tickets are $12 from the Information Center (ext. 3833) or visit participating merchants which include Country Vogue, The Wonder Shop, Sondra's Boutique, Fleishman's Fine Clothiers, Newwirth's Men's Wear, Island Passage, Henri's Boutique, and The Quarter of Chandler's Wharf.

Faculty and Staff

Dr. Tammy Hunt, Cameron School of Business, presented "The Fine Art of Climate Creation: A Delphi Study Comparison of Academic and Practitioner Perspectives," at the 1993 Association for Business Simulation and Experiential Learning Meeting in Savannah, Ga., held March 31 to April 2. She presented "Strategies for Dual Career Families," to the American Business Women's Association, Carolina Beach, on March 23.

Dr. John Marts, Cameron School of Business, presented "The CPA Exam: 1994 and Beyond," to the accounting faculty and students of East Carolina University March 24.

Dr. Drew Rosen, Cameron School of Business, presented "Total Quality Management: Myths and Reality" to the Financial Reporting Systems (FRS) Users Group Conference for the UNC System.

Dr. Fara Elikal, Cameron School of Business, has had "The Impact of Current Cost Information on Investment Decisions: An Empirical Assessment" accepted for publication in The Journal of Accounting, Auditing, and Finance. His co-authors are S. Moriarity and F.L. Ayers.

Dr. Doug Hoffman, Cameron School of Business, has had his panel proposal "Integrating Services into the Marketing Curriculum" accepted for presentation at the 1993 American Marketing Association Summer Educators' Meeting, to be held in August in Boston. His co-panelists will be William George, Ray Fisk, and Steve Grove.

Dr. Earl Honeycutt, Cameron School of Business, has had "A Comparison of Ethical Practices and Attitudes Between Automobile Salespersons in New Zealand and the U.S.," accepted for presentation at the Academy of International Business - Southeast Asia Conference, to be held in Hong Kong in June. His co-authors are John Ford and Suzanne Morgan. He has also had "Perceptions of Sex Role Portrayals in Advertising: A Comparison of Australia and New Zealand Students," accepted for presentation at the same conference. His co-authors are John Ford, Mike LaTour, Mathew Joseph, Pat Voli, and Jennifer Jobs.

Dr. Hana Noor Al-Deen of the Communication Studies Department was elected to officiate in the following capacities for the Southern States Communication Association, 1993-94: chair of the Intercultural Communication Division, chair of the Constitutional Committee, and vice-chair and program planner for the Mass Communication Division.

Dr. Vince Howe and Dr. Doug Hoffman, Cameron School of Business, have had "The Relationship Between Ethical and Customer-Oriented Service Provider Behaviors," accepted for publication in the Journal of Business Ethics. The article was co-written by Don Hardigree of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas.

Dr. Drew Rosen and Dr. Art Gowan, Cameron School of Business, successfully presented a proposal to the Southeast Decision Sciences Institute officers to have the Cameron School of Business host the 1995 Annual SEDSI in Wilmington.

Dr. Bob Toplin, History Department, will speak in Boston this week at a national conference on television and history. He will discuss the impact of the television series The Civil War with Ken Burns, producer of the series, and with James N. McPherson of Princeton University, the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of a history of the Civil War. The conference is sponsored by the New England Foundation for the Humanities.

Henry Miller is Not Dead, a psychobiographical documentary film produced and directed by Dr. Joe Kishton of the Psychology Department, was a silver medal winner in the art and cultural film category at the Houston International Film Festival. The award was announced at an awards dinner held April 24 in Houston.

Kimberly M. Markham and Dr. Joel Mintzes, biological sciences, with Dr. M. Gail Jones, School of Education, UNC-Chapel Hill, presented papers at the National Association of Research in Science Teaching 1993 Annual Meeting held in Atlanta April 15 to 19. Their paper set was titled "The structure and use of biological knowledge about mammals in novice and experienced students."

Dr. Paula Kamenish, English Department, has had the article "Carrier's French and English: 'Yoked by Violence Together'" published in Studies in Canadian Literature 17.2:92-108.

Dr. Frank Bongiorno's article "Musical Expression and Interpretation" has been published in the March/April 1993 issue of The Saxophone Journal. The article discusses approaches to musical enhancement as well as the development of air control and balance in wind instrument playing.

Andrew N. Shepard, science director of NURC/UNCW, recently presented "Relationship of Benthic Infauna and Slope Angle on the Continental Slope off Cape Hatteras, N.C." at the 1993 Benthic Ecology Meeting in Mobile, Ala. Another paper presented by NURC/UNCW staff was "Quantification of Algae Cover from Long-Term Monitoring Stations at Hard Bottom Reefs in Onslow Bay, N.C." by C. Lipfert, C. Donaldson, B. Spudich, A. Shepard, and A. Hulbert. Carol Lee Donaldson and Tom Potts, assistant science directors at the center, presented the poster "The National Undersea Research Center at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington: Florida Keys Science Program."

Dr. Patricia Comeaux, assistant professor of communication studies, was invited to present a teaching seminar for the faculty of Anson Community College in Polkton, N.C., on April 29. The title of her seminar was "Alternative Teaching Methods: Understanding the Relationship between Effective Communication and Learning."

Faculty and Staff (cont.)

Drs. Terry Theodore and Lori White, Fine Arts Department, presented the lecture/musical program "Roll of the Drum: Confederate Theatre and Drama" last Sunday at Brookgreen Gardens. The program explored playwrights and drama, actors and audiences, and included patriotic Confederate (and several Yankee) songs and ballads.

Dr. Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion, has had the article "Philosophical Foundations of Respect for Autonomy" published in the March issue of The Kennedy Institute of Ethics Journal.

Dr. Dick Engdahl, Cameron School of Business, has published "Quality Management in the Information Age: A Look at the Basic Role of Information in Particular Management Programs" in the Proceedings of Southwestern Division of the Academy of Management.

Dr. Randy Hansen, Cameron School of Business, presented "A First Look at Social Host Liability," at the Western Academy for Legal Studies in Business Meeting, held in Monterey, Calif., April 2.

Dr. Stephanie A. Richardson, visiting assistant professor of English, Granetta L. Richardson, instructor of English, and Dr. Kathy Rugoff, assistant professor of English, presented papers at the Popular Culture Association conference held in New Orleans, La., April 7 to 10. Dr. Richardson's paper was titled "Manager of the Performance: Voicing Techniques in Thackeray and Wolfe." Ms. Richardson presented "The Puritan Legacy of Self-Reflection in the Literature About the Vietnam War." Dr. Rugoff's paper was titled "Women and Metaphor in Adrienne Rich's Poetry." Dr. Richardson also chaired a session of papers on the works of Leslie Marmon Silko.

WELCOME

Willie Gibbs/Physical Plant; Sherry King/Accountancy and Business Law.

Official Notices

Student time sheets

Student time sheets for April are due to the Payroll Office no later than 3 p.m., Friday, April 30. Time sheets for May are due by 3 p.m., Monday, May 31.

Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 if you have questions.

Survey

Did you know that 26 percent of your total compensation is in the form of benefits?

Human Resources is distributing a survey this week to determine if employees understand their current benefits, if they are satisfied with their benefits, and how they would like to see the benefit programs changed.

Please take time to carefully complete the survey. Your input will provide important information to Human Resources in areas such as the expansion of the optional deduction programs and will give needed input to the State Health Plan, the Physicians Health Plan, and the State Retirement System.

Temporary time sheets

Temporary time sheets for April are due to Human Resources by noon, Monday, May 3.

Summer Temps

When hiring a summer temp, remember to complete form HR.130. Attach it, form I-9, and form W-4 to the application and send all of the forms to Human Resources.

Shared leave

Mary Browning needs shared leave for her upcoming maternity leave. Call Dale at ext. 3161 if you have questions.

Public Service and Extended Education

Adult Scholars Luncheon Programs-Rebel Belles and Rebel Beaux with Dr. Everard Smith. Take a lighthearted look at courtship and romance during the Civil War through actual letters and diaries of the war period. Noon-1:30 p.m., May 11. Fee is $9 including lunch. Registration deadline: May 4.

Summer Science-by-the-Sea Day Camp for Students ages 7-11. This week-long camp introduces the mysteries of our coastal environment through hands-on experiences. Activities include animal and plant studies, natural crafts and creative self-expression and outdoor exploration. Students may attend camp for one or more weeks although activities and experiences are similar each week. Fee includes round-trip transportation from UNCW to the NC Aquarium at Fort Fisher, supplies, activities, field trips and a T-shirt. Regular fee is $79 per student per week. If you register by May 14, fee will be discounted to $69 per student per week. Camp dates are available beginning June 14 through August 13. Call for specifics.

Community Item

Citizen of the Year nominees sought

The Wilmington Rotary Club is seeking nominations for its annual Citizen of the Year award. The person nominated must live or work in New Hanover County and must be someone who has made significant contributions to the community by his or her efforts as a volunteer or someone who has gone way "beyond the call of duty" for others.

Nominations should be sent to: The Awards and Scholarship Committee, Wilmington Rotary Club, 2001 S. 17th St., Wilmington, NC 28401. Nominations must be received by May 15.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 37 May 6, 1993

Yow named women's basketball coach

North Carolina native Susan Yow, who has directed the cage fortunes at Kansas State University the last three seasons, has been named the sixth women's basketball coach in the 21-year history of the UNC Wilmington program.

Yow, 38, was selected from a field of 60 applicants and five finalists and assumes the helm of the program following the resignation of Sherri Tynes on March 22. Tynes coached the Lady Seahawks to a 14-68 record in three seasons.

"This was the strongest pool of applicants I've had for any position in my administrative career," said Paul Miller, UNC Wilmington's athletic director. "We're just so excited about acquiring a name like Susan Yow."

Yow will be starting her fourth head coaching assignment after stints at East Tennessee State, Drake, and Kansas State.

"I'm very excited about the opportunity," said Yow. "It's just a great situation and I enjoy having the challenge of building a program. I'm returning back to my home state. It's been a long time since I've been back.

Yow, younger sister of N.C. State women's basketball coach Kay Yow, features an impressive playing and coaching background. A native of Gibsonville, N.C., Yow played three seasons at Elon College and wrapped up her collegiate career with the Wolfpack in Raleigh.

At N.C. State, Yow averaged 19.4 ppg and 11.9 rebounds in leading the Wolfpack to a 19-7 record in 1975-76. She still holds the school record with 27 rebounds in a single contest.

Along with her college duties, Yow served as an assistant coach on the 1988 United States Olympic women's basketball team that brought home the gold medal from Seoul, South Korea. She has also coached two gold-medal-winning U.S. Olympic Festival teams in 1981 and 1989.

Yow has been successful on the academic front as well. Every player in her 15-year head coaching stint has graduated with the exception of one former standout who played professionally overseas.

Summer Shakespeare festival planned

The Bard is coming to the Cape Fear this summer. Dr. Stan Norman, assistant professor in UNCW's Department of Fine Arts, has received grants from the city and private industry to establish a summer Shakespeare Festival in Wilmington.

Admission to performances held at Riverfront Park and Greenfield Lake

Amphitheatre will be free and the emphasis will be on fun and entertainment for the entire family in a festival, picnic-like atmosphere.

Performances this summer are scheduled for Friday and Saturday, June 25 and 26 and Friday and Saturday, July 2 and 3, for alternating performances of As You Like It and A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Cabinet approves Total Quality

The Administrative Cabinet approved the Interim Quality Council transition plan for Total Quality during its April 29 meeting. The action clears the way for training and team activities to begin this fall.

Sam Connally, newly appointed assistant to the chancellor for EEO/AA and quality management, will coordinate campus TQ efforts. He will work with the chancellor and vice chancellors during the next few months to identify critical processes, assist in team formation, and coordinate training for team leaders, facilitators, and team members.

Bob Fry, IQC chair, emphasized that "training is the key to a successful transition to TQ, and special care must be taken in choosing materials and trainers. Since training is critical, it too will be subjected to a review process and improved as needed.

"In approving this plan, the cabinet recognizes that this transition will take time and that some groups will need to continue to study TQ concepts and language as it applies to current quality improvement efforts," he said. "In other areas, TQ concepts will be incorporated more quickly, and teams will be formed to work on processes."

Most of the initial TQ efforts will focus on administrative processes while a group of faculty members continue their study of TQ and prepare a report for presentation next fall.

Reports on campus quality improvement activities will be included in future editions of the Communique.

Announcements

SPRING CLEANING

Recycling Services will accept old textbooks, magazines, or ad slicks in conjunction with telephone book recycling between May 10 and June 11. Call Towana Moore at ext. 3051 to schedule a pick-up time for these items.

Old telephone books will be picked up as soon as new ones are delivered by telecommunications. Take old telephone books to the nearest vending machine for pick-up.

ART DONATED

A collection of 60 paintings, drawings, and sculpture by Samuel Bissette titled The Universe According to Earth has been donated to UNCW by the artist. It is currently on display at Randall Library and will be through October.

The 60 works are a coordinated sampling of some of the objects, ideas, and phenomena that make up the universe. Bissette, a resident of Wilmington, created the artworks after an in-depth study of astronomy.

Bissette's career as an artist began late in life. Born in Wilson, N.C., in 1921, he worked in the thrift and banking industry for more than 50 years and served as president and chairman of the board of Peoples Federal Savings Bank of Wilmington. Bissette first became interested in painting in 1970 and sought instruction at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington and with John Pike of Woodstock, N.Y., noted watercolorist and illustrator.

Today, Bissette's paintings are widely distributed in private, corporate, and public collections in this and other countries. In 1976 he was commissioned by Wachovia Bank to paint A Portrait of North Carolina and in 1983 completed North Carolina Circa 1900. Both collections each toured North Carolina for several years. In 1979 he created the concept and original art for nine mosaic murals for the exterior of Belk Beery's Independence Mall store in Wilmington, believed to be the second largest mosaic tile murals in the United States at the time.

MESSAGE FROM SPIRIT COMMITTEE

The Seahawk Spirit Committee wishes to thank everyone who participated in the Seahawk Search. We hope everyone had a chance to attend the softball game. We proved that we are "One University, One Team, and have One Goal" in celebrating Seahawk Spirit. Thanks again for your support and participation.

Seahawk Search puzzle winners $50 cash prize winners

Michael McMillan	Students
Willie Verner	Nathaniel Hill
Moving Services	Kim Lucas
Eloise Andrews	Trevor Fittsall
Henry Batts	Roger Hyman
Central Stores	Jim Clark
Sherri Batson and	Grand prize winner
Marcia James	Lisa Troy
Accounting	Golfing Package

Other winners

Mathew Johnson	Robin Marschall
Lisa Troy	Allison Chancer
Ike Mitchell	Stacy Johnson
Alton Mitchell	Cynthia Bland
Jeff Gorkin	University
Mary Taylor	Advancement
Sam Cuthrell	Angela Hudson
Brian Barrett ($100 bookstore gift certificate)
Jeff Jolly (2 seasons passes to basketball)
Damian Tucker ($10/month I.D. plus card)
Jennifer Hoskins (Scuba Lessons)

Softball Teams

DIVISION A	DIVISION B
Athletics	Academic Athletics
Free Agents	Advancement
Housing &	Cone Heads
Residence Life	Human Resources
James Hall All-Stars	Recreation
Par-Players	SOIM
Purchasing	Terminators
WINNERS IN	WINNERS IN
DIVISION A	DIVISION B
Par-Players	Recreation
2nd place - Athletics	2nd place -
	Terminators
CHAMPIONSHIP GAME: Par-Players (8)	Recreation (6)

PUZZLE PIECES KEEPERS

Building	Keeper
Behav. Sci.	Ruth Lawrence
Friday Hall	Lori Leitch
Hoggard	Peggy Segars
King	Mary Schuette
Printing	Ann Greene
Wagoner Hall	Claire Fillion
Cameron	Janet King
Morton	Deborah Gaye
Univ. Ctr.	Willina Mitchell
Central Stores	Eloise Andrews
Deloach	Shearon Appleton
Housing	Linda MacRae
Kenan Hall	Peggy Chance
Police	Annie Holloway
Purchasing	Uta Lovas
Univ. Union	Rhonda LaMarsh
Alderman	Nikki Howard
Bear Hall	Donna Lamont
Safety	John Geddy
Westside Hall	Edwinna Johnson

Seahawk Spirit committee members

Diane Billings	Patsy Larrick
Frances Carr	Sandy Moore
Brenda Dineen	Elaine Penn
Ann Freeman	Frank Tascone
Lynne Goodspeed

CHARTING THE CURRENTS OF CHANGE

1992-93 Loyalty Fund Update

The Division for University Advancement challenges all other offices to participate in the Loyalty Fund. Here's the challenge: when your office reaches 90 percent participation, with no less than $25 from each donor, the staff of University Advancement will wash all of the donors' cars. We've had an overwhelming response to this challenge - so be sure to jump on the bandwagon!

Help us celebrate the conclusion of our first successful Loyalty Fund Drive on June 2.

Faculty and Staff

Pat Neuwirth, UNCW class of '72, has been named director of alumni relations for UNCW. She currently holds the position of traffic injury prevention program manager at New Hanover Regional Medical Center.

John Bennett, Ed.D., associate professor in the HPER Department, recently represented UNCW at the Sixth Annual International Intercollegiate Ballroom Festival in Weymouth, Dorset, England, April 4 to 9. He assisted with American style dance instruction, served as a liaison between the festival organizers and the dance teachers attending, earned four second place rankings in dance competitions, and participated in a variety of ballroom dance training sessions by the world's best teachers.

Dr. William A. Bryan and Dr. Richard H. Mullendore have recently had a chapter published in the Handbook of Student Affairs Administration by Jossey-Bass Publishers. The chapter is included in part 5, the Administrative Challenges for the Future and is titled, "Applying Professional Standards in Student Affairs Programs."

Frank P. Trimble of the Department of Communication Studies recently presented a paper titled "Video as Character: The Use of Video Technology in Theatrical Productions" at the Joint Annual Convention of the Southern and Central States Speech Communication Associations, held in Lexington, Ky., April 14 to 18.

Wayne Hanson, N.C. Science and Mathematics Alliance, was the UNCW on-site coordinator for "Mapping the Future of Humanity: Taking the Right Road," an interactive video symposium held April 17. A presentation by Dr. Francis Collins, newly named Director of the Center for Human Genome Research, NIH, was followed by a panel discussion at the UNC Chapel Hill site and questions from five other sites across the state. Dr. Tom Shafer, Biological Sciences Department, was the major participant from UNCW. A symposium video tape will be available at a later date.

Dr. Stephen Pullum, Department of Communication Studies, presented two papers at the joint Southern-Central States Communication Association Convention in Lexington, Ky., April 16 to 18: "Teaching Research Methods to Undergraduates in Communication Studies" and "Where Did We Come From?: A Communication Analysis of the Creation-Evolution Controversy as Depicted in Time, Newsweek, and U.S. News and World Report."

Dr. Joseph Yan, mathematical sciences, presented his current research in a mathematics seminar at Duke University April 26. The title of his talk was "Mathematical Modelling of Phenomena in Developmental Biology and its Applications."

Brooks Dodson's (English) review of Phillip A. Scott's "The Medical Research Novel in English and German, 1900-1950" has appeared in the April 1993 issue of Choice.

Dr. Kimon Bird has received word that his U.S. patent has been awarded a patent in the Philippines. The new patent is Philippine patent No. 27059. It is for a seaweed strain he developed at the Harbor Branch Oceanographic Institution prior to coming to UNCW.

Dr. Katia Campbell, assistant professor of French, presented a paper titled "Judaic and Christian Remotivation on a Classical Theme: the Thamouz - Pan Episode in Rabelais's Fourth Book (28)" at the 1993 KFLC held at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, April 22 to 24.

A proposal by Dr. Ned Martin, Dr. Sybil Burgess, Dr. Charles Cahill, and Dr. Pamela Seaton, all of the Chemistry Department, and Dr. Diane Levy, sociology and anthropology, titled "Integrating Molecular Modeling Into the Chemistry Curriculum" has been funded $27,704 for the period of May 1, 1993, to October 31, 1995.

Campus Happenings

PRIZE WINNERS

Congratulations to the winners of the "Type" Contest sponsored by ALTERNATIVES! in this year's issues of HIGHlights. Winners and their prizes include:

Barry Salwen	Dinner at Wally's
Mary Lee	Lunch at Bennigan's
Lori Leitch	Lunch at Center Stage

RENTAL REGALIA

All faculty who need to order rental regalia for fall convocation, to be held Sept. 8, must place orders with the bookstore prior to May 14 to guarantee on-time delivery. If you have a card on file, call Jessiebeth Geddie at ext. 3054 to place your order.

Doctor gown, cap, and tassel	$15
Doctor hood	$15
Master gown, cap, and tassel	$13
Master hood	$13
Bachelor gown, cap, and tassel	$12.25
Bachelor hood	$12.25

LIBRARY HOURS

Randall Library will be open the following hours during the intersession, May 9 to May 23.

Sunday, May 9	- closed
May 10 to 14	- 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
May 15 to 16	- closed
May 17 to 21	- 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
May 22 to 23	- closed
May 24	- begin summer schedule

FRC OPEN HOUSE

Academic Computing Services will hold an open house in its Faculty Resource Center from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday, May 10, in ACS's suite of offices on the second floor of Hoggard Hall. There will be demonstrations of academic software, multimedia products, photo CD, and text and graphics scanning. Coffee and donuts will be available during the early hours of the open house, and staff are welcome.

Faculty and Staff (cont.)

Dr. Art Gowan, Cameron School of Business, has published "Dynamic Policy Capturing: A Proposed GDSS Feedback Mechanism" in the Proceedings of Southeastern Decision Science Institute, held in Chattanooga, Tenn. Gowan presented "Video Conferencing Human-Machine Interface: A Field Study," at the Proceedings of the Teleconferencing Systems Conference: Modeling and Analysis, held in Nashville, Tenn. His co-author was James Downs of General Electric.

Dr. Rudl Klefer of the Earth Science Department presented a talk titled "Soil carbon dioxide and limestone weathering" to students and faculty of the Department of Geography and Planning at East Carolina University April 15.

Dr. Norm Kaylor, Cameron School of Business, presented "Changes in Education for Accounting," April 30 at the Carolina Council, Institute of Management Accounting held in Myrtle Beach.

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of drama in the Fine Arts Department, has had the article "Sanctuary and Serenity" published in the May issue of the Low Country Companion. The piece profiles the history and people who live, pray, and work at Mepkin Abbey, a Cistercian-Trappist monastery founded by Thomas Merton and located in South Carolina.

Dr. Earl Honeycutt, Cameron School of Business, has had "Sales Training: A Status Report," reprinted in The Best of Sales and Marketing Training, Vol. 2, American Society For Training and Development, Alexandria, Va.

PUBLIC SERVICE AND EXTENDED EDUCATION

WET: Water Education for Teachers. An interdisciplinary supplementary water education program for K-12 teachers. Application has been made to the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction for 2.0 units of teacher renewal credit. Jointly sponsored by the Soil and Water Conservation Districts of Brunswick, New Hanover, and Pender counties. 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., June 21 to 24. $30 fee includes handout material. Registration deadline: June 11.

How to Prepare for the SAT. Discover drills and strategies to make the SAT less formidable and increase your score. 8:30-11:30 a.m., Monday-Thursday, June 21-24. Fee: $75 including book. Registration deadline: June 7.

UNCW Oceanside Writers' Conference. A five-day intensive workshop designed to help participants, whether novice or experienced, become better writers. Sessions include Fiction with Philip Gerard, director of the Professional and Creative Writing Program at UNCW; Poetry with Kathleen Halme, assistant professor of creative writing at UNCW; and Nonfiction with Richard Hill, who teaches magazine writing, fiction writing, and screenwriting at UNCW. June 13 to June 18. Fee: $405 for resident students (includes reception, workshops, handouts, housing and all meals) or $305 for commuters (includes workshops, handouts and five lunches). Register by June 6.

Coast Trek. A marine-science summer residence camp for academically-gifted students ages 11 to 14. Field trips, plant and animal collection, and laboratory studies. Call for available camp dates and a brochure.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

Official Notices

Accounting

Due to office renovation, the Accounting Department will not print checks Friday, May 21, and Monday, May 24. Please plan accordingly.

Letterhead, area code changes

UNCW will adopt recycled formal letterhead, envelope, and business card papers beginning July 1. The change will be made in conjunction with the change of the 919 area code to 910, which will take effect Nov. 14.

Departments should begin phasing in the new paper as soon as possible and should not use the current grey letterhead after Dec. 31, 1993.

The state contract white letterhead and envelopes will remain the same.

Survey

Did you know that 26 percent of your total compensation is in the form of benefits? Human Resources is distributing a survey this week to determine if employees understand their current benefits, if they are satisfied with their benefits, and how they would like to see the benefit programs changed.

Please take time to carefully complete the survey. Your input will provide important information to Human Resources in areas such as the expansion of the optional deduction programs and will give needed input to the State Health Plan, the Physicians Health Plan, and the State Retirement System.

Student time sheets

Student time sheets for May are due by 3 p.m., Monday, May 31.

Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 if you have questions.

Send Campus Communique items to BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn Busse, c/o University Relations

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

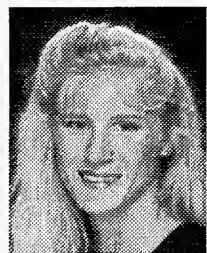

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 38 May 13, 1993

Biology student wins national scholarship

Katharine "Katie" Laing, a senior at UNCW, has won the Our World-Underwater Scholarship. Laing, who is majoring in biology with an emphasis in marine science and a minor in chemistry, was chosen as the sole recipient for this prestigious national award.

The award entitles her to a $10,000 scholarship to use for travel and research expenses around the world. In addition, Laing will receive diving gear, wet and dry suits, underwater photography training and equipment, and a Rolex diving watch.

Laing was chosen for the award for her outstanding academic achievement, personal achievement, extracurricular educational activities, leadership ability, maturity, and SCUBA diving experience. Laing will graduate cum laude on May 15 with a cumulative grade point average of 3.56.

While at UNC Wilmington, Laing has been a member of the UNCW Swim Team, Biology Club, and Phi Kappa Phi, a national honor society.

In addition to Laing's academic achievement and extracurricular activities, she has proven success as a researcher at UNCW. She has conducted research ranging from marine algal genetics to ecological studies in estuaries and coastal environments. Laing has already been accepted to graduate school at Florida Institute of Technology's biological oceanography program, a step she will postpone until after her year as a OW-U scholar.

The scholarship will entitle Katie to travel extensively to conduct research with world-class diving scientists such as Dr. Sylvia Earle and Dr. Eugenie Clark. Previous recipients have worked with such organizations as The Cousteau Society, National Geographic, The Smithsonian Institute, NOAA, Navy Seal Teams, and the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute.

Brooks inducted into N.C. Hall of Fame

Former athletic director William J. (Bill) Brooks was one of 15 well-known figures inducted into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame Thursday, May 6, becoming the first-ever representative of UNCW to earn the prestigious honor.

Brooks, who still lives in Wilmington, concluded a 40-year career at UNCW in June 1991 and was one of the most respected coaches and administrators in the country throughout his career.

A native of Wilson, N.C., Brooks was a three-sport star at Charles L. Coon High School. After serving in World War II, he was an outstanding athlete at Atlantic Christian College (now Barton College) and completed his bachelor's degree in 1948.

After playing professional baseball with the New York Giants farm system and a brief stint in high school coaching, Brooks began his career at Wilmington College in 1951 as athletic director, head basketball coach, head baseball coach and chairman of the health and physical education department.

Brooks enjoyed his greatest success on the baseball diamond, where he directed the Seahawks to three top-five finishes in the national junior college baseball championship, including a pair of national titles in 1961 and 1963.

Brooks garnered a host of honors for his baseball success. He was named NAIA National Coach-of-the-Year in 1975, received the Raleigh Hot Stove League's "Will Wynne Award" and "Governor's Award," and was inducted into the National Junior College Baseball Coaches Hall of Fame

UNCW named to safety belt honor roll

UNCW has been named to the 1993 National Safety Belt Honor Roll.

The Governor's Highway Safety Program, in cooperation with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, presented a certificate to Crime Prevention Officer Chris Slater and the UNCW University Police in a letter last week.

To qualify for the honor roll, UNCW had to demonstrate that at least 70 percent of a target group (all vehicular traffic on campus) uses safety belts on a daily basis. Unannounced surveys are conducted to analyze seat belt use.

The National Safety Belt Honor Roll Program is open to businesses, schools, organizations, and public entities.

Announcements

POST OFFICE WINDOW SUMMER HOURS

Monday - Thursday
7:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Friday
7:45 to 11:15 a.m.

Shredding service is available in Postal Services. Call Doris Moore at ext. 3734 for details.

FRIENDS DONATE ITEMS

The Friends of UNCW recently donated nearly $7,900 to 12 departments at the UNCW. The gifts were announced at the organization's annual meeting, held recently at the university. Departments receiving gifts were:

Department of Communication Studies: Macintosh computer

Department of Chemistry: software and an electronic camera

School of Nursing: partial funding for series of three videotapes

Museum of World Cultures: partial funding for display enclosure

Department of Fine Arts: partial funding for audio tape recording machine

University Union: lockout system for the College Bowl, trip for one volunteer for Barbados service project

Public Service and Extended education: line printer

Department of Curricular Studies: two lamps, end table

Office of the Dean of Students: three videos

Randall Library: The New Paul Graves Dictionary of Money and Finance

Department of Psychology: video disk player, connecting cables

Department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation: training equipment

A group of local citizens created the Friends of UNCW in 1963. The organization's initial goal was to raise money to purchase books for the university's library.

PLAY AUDITIONS

Auditions for the Oceanside ArtsFest musical, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, will be held from 7 to 10 p.m., May 20 and 21 in the S.R.O. Theatre in Kenan Hall.

Parts are available for eight women and seven men, and an undetermined number in the chorus. Solo singing skills are required for principal parts and chorus singing for all. Women, especially, should have dance skills.

A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, scheduled for 8 p.m., June 23-26 in Kenan Auditorium, will be the last event in the 1993 Oceanside ArtsFest celebration. For audition information, call the Department of Fine Arts at ext. 3440.

SEANC

The SEANC District 62 Annual Meeting will be held at 7 p.m., Tuesday, May 25, in UC Ballroom 4. A social hour, starting at 6:30, will precede the meeting.

New officers will be elected and benefits for the new year, and the organization's annual convention (to be held in September) will be discussed. Gloria Sasser, district membership chair, invites you to come vote, ask questions, and contribute to the conversation.

ADDRESS CHANGE

Dianne Matthews' address has changed to 4143-C Spirea Drive, Wilmington, 28403.

OPERATOR SERVICES

To all departments that plan coverage on Friday afternoons this summer: if you plan to use Operator Services for back-up, send a memo requesting their services by Wednesday afternoon each week that you will need them.

Include information that Operator Services will need to properly handle your calls. Departments that change their operating schedules on Friday should notify Operator Services.

STUDENT DEVELOPMENT CENTER ACCREDITED

The Student Development Center has been accredited by the International Association of Counseling Services, Inc. (IACS), an Alexandria, Va.-based organization of U.S. and Canadian counseling agencies.

The center was evaluated by IACS against high standards of counseling practice and was found to offer competent and reliable professional services to its clients. Approval by IACS is also dependent upon evidence of continuing professional development as well as demonstration of excellence in counseling performance.

The center is directed by Dr. Paul J. Johnston and provides confidential individual and group counseling for personal, social, career, or educational concerns.

LIBRARY HOURS

Randall Library will be open the following hours during the intersession, which lasts until May 23.

May 13 to 14 - 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

May 15 to 16 - closed

May 17 to 21 - 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

May 22 to 23 - closed

May 24 - begin summer schedule

RENTAL REGALIA

All faculty who need to order rental regalia for fall convocation, to be held Sept. 8, must place orders with the bookstore by tomorrow to guarantee on-time delivery. If you have a card on file, call Jessiebeth Geddie at ext. 3054 to place your order.

Doctor gown, cap, and tassel - $15

Doctor hood - $15

Master gown, cap, and tassel - $13

Master hood - $13

Bachelor gown, cap, and tassel - $12.25

Bachelor hood - $12.25

Send Campus Communique items to
BUSSEC on VAX or to Carolyn
Busse, c/o University Relations

Campus Happenings

RADFORD WINS AWARD

Dawn Evans Radford of Wilmington, a graduate student and teaching assistant in the English Department, is the recipient of a Sherwood Anderson Scholarship from the Sherwood Anderson Foundation, Richmond, Va. She won a prize of $3000 for her short story, "Uncle Jim."

The nationally recognized scholarship is awarded annually to a graduate English or writing student according to scholastic achievement, writing ability, and faculty recommendations. Norman Mailer and Studs Terkel are among the prestigious members of the Board of Trustees of the foundation.

STATE FUNDED ORDERS

Although the date for ordering equipment has passed, any special equipment needs may be addressed with the appropriate purchasing agent on an individual basis.

Supply requisitions should be submitted prior to May 21. Purchasing's date guidelines are critical to completing delivery and invoicing before June 30.

Any goods received after June 30 will be carried over to next fiscal year's budget and paid out of the 93-94 state funds. Call Mary, ext. 3154, if you have any comments or questions.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE

If you are concerned about sexual violence on our campus, get involved by serving on the Sexual Violence Advisory Board. Faculty and staff involvement is important. For information or to volunteer or nominate someone, call Diane Edwards at ext. 3577.

HOUSING NEEDED

A single visiting professor of chemistry is looking for an apartment or house to sublet or housesit during the second summer session. Call (919) 277-1911, (919) 277-8293, or leave a message with Ned Martin, Department of Chemistry, at ext. 3453.

Faculty and Staff

A novel by Dr. Richard Hill, assistant professor of English, titled Kill the Hundredth Monkey is under contract with Countryman and the University of Georgia Press has made an offer to publish his novel Riding Solo with the Golden Horde. This year he has also published the short stories "The Ungodly Are Not So" in Kenyon Review and "Spring Training" in the sports issue of Witness. He has had another short story, "The Old Man and the Park," chosen for the upcoming humor issue of Witness, and he sold "Blackout" for publication in Hardboiled. His essay "I Dreamed I Saw Joe Hill Last Night" appeared in Pig Iron, and "A Fable of Little Red Hen, Inc." was collected in Contemporary American Satire 2. Another essay, "Confessions of a 'Rockford Files'-Phile," was published in America in The Third Degree and in Britain in The Modern Review. His essay "That Crist For His Grete Mercy Foryeve Me the Synne," commissioned by The New York Times Book Review, will appear in America in North Carolina Humanities Review and in Britain in Millions. Another essay, "Places with Purpose," will appear in The World and I. A screenplay, "Neon Warrior," was recently commissioned and optioned.

Another screenplay, "The One to Beat: The Joe Lewis Story," was also commissioned, and a treatment for a third screenplay, "Greenface, Jr.," was also commissioned.

Dr. Marlene M. Rosenkoetter, dean and professor, and Dr. Betty J. Reynolds, associate dean and associate professor, have been awarded a grant for $34,050 from the Helene Fuld Health Trust of New York. The grant will be used to fund the Learning Resource Center at UNCW and the extension at the Barbados Community College.

Dr. Jim Mc Nab, Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, is editor of the journal of criticism Degré Second: Studies in French Literature. Volume 13, with articles from Germany, England, and throughout the U.S.A., has just appeared.

The YWCA recently granted awards to six UNCW faculty and staff members. Dr. Grace Burton, School of Education, received the Women of Achievement Award for Education.

Doretha M. Stone, School of Nursing, received the award in professions. The YWCA Cape Fear Women of Achievement awarded Certificates of Recognition to Celestine Jones, Cathy Birmingham, Maggie St. Ledger, and Margaret Robison. The women, who were nominated by their peers, were granted the awards for their exceptional involvement in the university and the community.

A research article by Dr. Wel Feng, mathematical sciences, titled "Permanence Effect in a Three Species Food Chain Model," has been accepted for publication in Applicable Analysis, an international journal. The paper discusses the condition for long-term coexistence in a partial differential equation system modelling the three-species food chain interactions in ecology.

An article by Dr. Robert Mark Spaulding, Jr., assistant professor in the Department of History, titled "Eisenhower and the Revision of American Export Control Policy" appears in the current issue of Diplomatic History, vol. 17, No. 2 (spring 1993).

WELCOME

Vernadine Allen/University Police;
Charles Strickland/Physical Plant.

Official Notices

Summer work schedule

UNCW's summer work schedule begins Monday, May 17. Official university operating hours will be 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday to Thursday and 7:30 to 11:30 a.m. Fridays. Employees with supervisory approval may adjust their schedules to accommodate half-hour or one hour lunch breaks as operational requirements permit.

Survey

Please take a few minutes to complete survey distributed by Human Resources two weeks ago. Your input is important to Human Resources in areas such as the expansion of the optional deduction programs and will give needed input to the State Health Plan, the Physicians Health Plan (PHP), and the State Retirement System.

Clerical study

Due to staff changes in Human Resources and the Office of State Personnel, the clerical study has been delayed. Human Resources expects the study to be completed by early September.

Letterhead, area code changes

UNCW will adopt recycled formal letterhead, envelope, and business card papers beginning July 1. The change will be made in conjunction with the change of the 919 area code to 910, which will take effect Nov. 14.

Departments should begin phasing in the new paper as soon as possible and should not use the current grey letterhead after Dec. 31, 1993.

The state contract white letterhead and envelopes will remain the same.

Accounting

Due to office renovation, the Accounting Department will not print checks Friday, May 21, and Monday, May 24. Please plan accordingly.

Performance evaluations

Performance evaluations for SPA employees on a fiscal year evaluation period are due July 15. Employees evaluated on other cycles must have an evaluation on file covering a performance period which ended in the current fiscal year (after July 1, 1992).

Computer Operations

From May 21 through August 6, Computer Operations will close at 5 p.m. on Fridays. FRS, HRS, and ADS will shut down for batch processing at 1:30 p.m. on Fridays and SIS will close at 4 p.m.

The Quality Corner

As we wrap-up this spring's Total Quality series, it is important to note that several important elements must be in place if improvements are to occur. Central to these elements is leadership commitment. Without demonstrated support from leadership, Total Quality dies a sudden death. As the TQ literature puts it, leaders must walk the walk if they are going to talk the talk.

In TQ leaders are not seen as managers but as facilitators who adhere to the accepted quality improvement concepts, supply what is needed to see that improvements occur, assist and encourage individuals to meet quality requirements, and recognize those that make the effort to improve quality.

Leaders participate in training and provide time for others to receive training and be involved in team activities. Leaders trust others to make decisions, are trusted by others, are responsive to people's needs, and don't use fear to as a management tool. Most importantly, leaders listen to two important groups - those they work with and those who use the services their department, division, or the university provides.

In summary, Total Quality is based on the following assumptions: 1) quality can be defined, 2) those receiving services know when their needs are or are not being met, 3) organizations establish processes in order to provide services or products, 4) since no process is perfect, there are always opportunities for improvement, 5) the overwhelming majority of employees are committed to doing the very best they can, 6) those closest to the process have a better understanding of how the process works and where it can be improved, 7) no single individual has all the answers, 8) more can be accomplished by working in collaboration with others, 9) change in any organization takes time, and 10) quality improvement takes leadership commitment and your involvement.

CHARTING THE CURRENTS OF CHANGE

1992-93 Loyalty Fund Update

Faculty and staff contributions to this year's Loyalty Fund have been wonderful. A faculty and staff honor roll will be printed in August.

Four offices have met University Advancement's challenge to match its 87 percent participation rate (with no less than $25 from each donor) and will have their cars washed June 2; many other offices are close.

Mark June 2 on your calendar as a day to bring your lunch and come out to watch University Advancement's staff wash the cars of staff members of Human Resources, Internal Audit, Financial Reporting, and the Chemistry Department.

Please call if we have left your office out. Thanks for your support of the Loyalty Fund.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 39 May 27, 1993

UNC Wilmington welcomes freshmen and parents

UNC Wilmington will welcome approximately 350 incoming freshmen students and their parents to each of three summer orientations. The first session will be held June 13-14 on campus. The second and third sessions are scheduled for June 16-17 and June 20-21. Orientation at UNCW is designed to assist students in their academic and social integration into the university and to help parents through the many transitions they will experience.

Orientation begins at 8:30 a.m., Sunday, June 13, with orientation check-in in the University Center lobby. At 9:40, incoming freshmen will meet with their assigned orientation leaders in small groups for get-acquainted sessions.

At 10:30 a.m. students will take math placement tests, and at 11:30 they will provide writing samples to determine class placement. Following a break for lunch, students who wish to do so may take foreign language placement tests. Academic pre-advising will begin at 2:35 p.m. From 4:30 to approximately 6:30 p.m. students will enjoy dinner and relaxation at Wrightsville Beach. The rest of the evening is left free so that students can attend recreational events.

The second day of orientation will be devoted primarily to academic advising, pre-registration, and information sessions.

The simultaneous, separate parents' program will include informational sessions dealing with academic programs, housing, safety, and topics such as "Reality 101," "The Wilmington Community," and "Student Perspectives."

Orientation sessions scheduled for June 16-17 and June 20-21 will follow the same time schedule of events as the first session. Orientation will be coordinated by the office of the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs.

CHARTING THE CURRENTS OF CHANGE 1992-93 Loyalty Fund Update

Now's your last chance to get in on University Advancement's Loyalty Fund challenge -- if your office meets Advancement's 87 percent participation rate (with no less than $25 from each donor) the staff of Advancement will wash all donors' cars.

Four offices have met University Advancement's challenge and will have their cars washed between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., Wednesday, June 2; many other offices are close.

Mark June 2 on your calendar as a day to bring your lunch and come out to watch Advancement's staff wash the cars of staff members of Human Resources, Internal Audit, Financial Reporting, and the Chemistry Department.

Please call if we have left your office out. Thanks for supporting the Loyalty Fund.

Fashion show a success

Annie Aldrich, president of the University Women of UNCW, wishes to thank the campus community for participating in and supporting the successful fund raising fashion show held recently at UNCW.

Special recognition goes to announcer Jean Willard (formerly with a local TV station) who devoted many hours of supervision to the cast; Kathy Leutze, fund raising chair, who coordinated the dinner menu with Tom Williamson, manager of ARA; Elaine Anlyan, fund raising co-chair, who designed the posters and programs; Mimi Cunningham, chair of publicity, who arranged media coverage; Allison Rankin of University Advancement and her husband, John, who provided music; Brenda Dineen of Human Resources, chair of staging, who worked with Lee Pridgen to provide lighting and stage effects; Patsy Odom of Communication Studies, chair of ticket sales and distribution; Ann Freeman of the Chancellor's Office, chair, backstage; Karen Smith (wife of Dr. Doug Smith, Mathematical Sciences), Wendy Eastman (wife of Coach Kevin Eastman), and Sandra Harkin (Career Planning and Placement), store coordinators; and Judy Thomas and Nancy Maready (Public Service), who handled the gift certificates. (cont. on p. 2)

Announcements

YEAR-END PURCHASES

A primary purpose of the Purchasing Department during the month of June is to expedite outstanding orders with preference given to state-funded orders.

General fund or state fund orders must be received and invoiced prior to June 30 to be paid in the current fiscal year. Purchasing requests that you check in your received goods, verify details, and forward receiving paperwork to Purchasing. Call Tina at ext. 3156 if you have any problems.

Soar with the

SEAHAWKS!

Here's your chance to sport the Seahawk logo and support the UNCW Alumni Association. For the same cost as a personalized plate, you can honor the Seahawks by owning an official Seahawk license plate.

In addition to the regular annual motor vehicle registration fee, pay only $25 annually for the UNCW license plate. Fifteen dollars of that money comes back to the university.

UNCW must send the names of 300 people interested in purchasing (but not obligated to buy) license plates to the Department of Motor Vehicles. Once the DMV has 300 names, they will commit to making the tags and will send each person who signed up an application for a UNCW license plate.

If you are interested in signing up, stop by the Alumni Office, Alderman room 108, or call Pat Neuwirth, director of alumni relations, at ext. 3616.

SERVICE AWARDS LUNCHEON

This year's Service Awards Luncheon will be held from noon to 2 p.m., Thursday, June 24, in Wagoner Hall. Lunch service will begin at 11:45 a.m. Kay Robinson, assistant vice chancellor for human resources, will be the mistress of ceremonies. Tickets are on sale in the bookstore until June 21.

HOUSING NEEDED

Some participants in an NEH Summer Seminar for School Teachers to be held July 4 to 31 at UNCW are in need of furnished housing, especially two bedroom units. Up to four of the participants would like to bring spouses and children; none of the participants has more than two children. Faculty or staff members who have a home or apartment that they would like to sublet should contact Dr. Melton McLaurin, History Department, at ext. 3310.

RECEPTION FOR DEVANEY

Anne Devaney, University Union, has accepted a position at Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis. She will be scheduling manager at the Alumni Memorial Union starting July 13. Her last day at UNCW is May 28.

Everyone is invited to a farewell reception for Devaney, which will be held from 3:30 to 5 p.m. today in the Union Living Room.

THANK YOU

Physical Plant's Administration wants to thank everyone in their department who contributed to the success of spring commencement. Physical Plant employees do a great deal of work before and after the big day, and it shows in the condition of the campus and its buildings. The Physical Plant also wishes to thank all of the departments for their cooperation and assistance for this very important part of the academic year.

HUMAN RESOURCES

The staff of the Human Resources Department invites you to join them for coffee between 9 and 10:30 a.m., Friday, May 28, to show appreciation to Sam Connolly for his work in the Human Resources Department and to wish him well in his new role as assistant to the chancellor for EEO/AA and Quality Management.

SEANC

If you would like information about SEANC or would like to join, call Gloria at ext. 3338.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE

If you are concerned about sexual violence on our campus, get involved by serving on the Sexual Violence Advisory Board. Faculty and staff involvement is important. For information or to volunteer or nominate someone, call Diane Edwards at ext. 3577.

HOUSING NEEDED

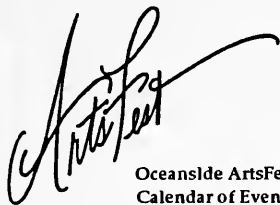

A single visiting professor of chemistry is looking for an apartment or house to sublet/housesit for the second summer session. Call (919) 277-1911, (919) 277-8293, or leave a message with Ned Martin at ext. 3453.

Fashion show (cont. from p. 1)

Aldrich attributes the success of the event to the large number of faculty, staff, retirees, students, and merchants who took the time and interest to participate in, contribute to, and support the event and to the excellent service of ARA and Center Stage Cafe, which were under the supervision of Lee Pridgen. All proceeds and donations will go towards the tuition of needy students.

Donations to the scholarship fund may be sent to Avis Edmundson, treasurer, P. O. Box 20005 UNCW Station.

Campus Happenings

Oceanside ArtsFest
Calendar of Events

May 24-June 30

Juried Photography Exhibit -
FREE, Kenan Hall

May 27

Photography Reception and Awards Ceremony - FREE
Kenan Hall - 7-9 p.m.

June 6

"Popular Light Classics" The N.C.
Symphony with Conductor Michael
Jinbo, Kenan Auditorium - 8 p.m.

June 12

Big Band Dance featuring UNCW's
7 O'Clock Jazz Ensemble
University Center Ballroom - 8 p.m.

June 19

Say Amen Gospel Jubilee
Kenan Auditorium - 8 p.m.

June 20

Ensemble Courant plays chamber music on period instruments
Thalian Hall Ballroom - 8 p.m.

June 24

Bach Cantatas by the Ensemble
Courant featuring Lori White
and Festival Chorus
Thalian Hall Ballroom - 8 p.m.

June 23-June 26

A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum
Kenan Auditorium - 8 p.m.

A group rate of $5 each has been established for UNCW faculty and staff. Faculty and staff may purchase two tickets at this discounted price. Call the Kenan Auditorium Box Office at 791-9695 for ticket information.

Faculty and Staff

An article titled "Evidence of a Charged Intermediate in the Dye Sensitized Photo-Oxygenation of Substituted alpha-Anilino-4,4'-dinitrostilbenes" by Dr. Ned H. Martin and former students John T. Cooney, Alan W. Denney, Fran S. Saunders, and Daniel J. Thompson was published in the Journal of Photochemistry and Photobiology A, Vol. 71, 1993. Two of the four UNCW chemistry graduates now hold Ph.D. degrees in chemistry, one from Duke and one from Florida. The work spans six years and incorporates two honors projects.

Dr. Joe Wilson, associate professor of philosophy and religion, presented a paper titled "Text and Discourse in Buddhist Translations" to the faculty and students of the East Asia program at Cornell University April 29. He also led a two-day workshop on Tibetan syntax at the Namgyal Institute of Buddhist Studies (an institute for the study of Tibetan Buddhism and Tibetan language located in Ithaca).

Effective July 1, Heather Smith, services area coordinator, University Union, will be promoted to the position of assistant director for operations.

Dr. Helen Fallor, associate professor, School of Nursing, has published "Sibling Visitation: How Far Should the Pendulum Swing?" in the Journal of Pediatric Nursing, 8(2) April 93. Fallor also received a gift from Dennis Anderson and McDonald's for $486 to update the School of Nursing's developmental screening kits and manuals used to teach the Denver II. She completed the Denver II Training Program in Denver in Nov. 1992 and recently received certification as a master instructor for the revised screening test.

Towana Moore, director of administrative services, and James Young, postal services manager, recently attended the College and University Mail Services Association annual meeting in Harrisonburg, Va. Young presented a workshop on student services titled "Turning a Negative into a Positive."

Dr. Kristln Szylyvian, assistant professor of history, presented a paper titled "World War II Defense Housing and the Mutual Home Ownership Plan" at the April 1993 meeting of the Organization of American Historians held in Anaheim, Ca.

Dr. Howard Cummings, associate professor in the School of Nursing, visited Barbados, West Indies, the last week of March for orientation to the health care delivery system. He will teach a nursing course there during Summer Session II.

Cummings presented the following to the staff of Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Barbados Community College, Sir Winston Scott Polyclinic, the Ministry of Health, and the Medical Division of the Barbados Army, Barbados, West Indies: a seminar titled "Mechanism of Injury and Stabilization of the Traumatized Client"; a consultation titled "Hospital Disaster Planning Strategies"; and a research presentation titled "The Development of a Theoretical Construct for Delayed Occupational Choice of Men in Nursing in North Carolina (USA)."

WELCOME

Bobby Batts and Troy Kelly Jr./
Physical Plant; Karen Simmons/
Public Service; Viola Simmons/
Psychology.

Student time sheets

Student time sheets for May are due by 3 p.m., Monday, May 31. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 if you have questions.

Reminder

Departmental inventory printouts are due to Fixed Assets by Monday, May 31. Call Sondra Reark at ext. 3875 for more information.

Travel procedures

Beginning July 1, travel procedures will be revised. New forms, instructions, and requisitioning procedures have been prepared.

Individuals who handle travel authorization requests should attend one of two upcoming workshops: 9 a.m., Tuesday, June 1, or 2:30 p.m., Tuesday, June 8. Both sessions will be held in the Cameron Hall Auditorium and will last approximately two hours.

Call Betty Mills at ext. 3149 to reserve your place. The workshop will be conducted jointly by Accounting, Systems and Procedures, and Purchasing.

Summer dress

Along with summer operating hours, relaxed dress is permitted.

Temporary employee time sheets

Temporary employee time sheets are due to Human Resources by noon, Tuesday, June 1. Please do not mail them.

Work study students

Career Planning & Placement is now handling the placement of work study students. If your department has work study allocations for summer, you must complete a Job Order (IIR 1.62) and submit to CP&P immediately. Call Frances Carr at ext. 3174 if you have questions.

Shared leave

Employees requesting leave without pay for maternity reasons are now eligible to apply for shared leave. For information about shared leave, call Dale at ext. 3161.

New disaster service volunteer policy

Certified Disaster Service Volunteers of the American Red Cross may be granted up to 15 days leave with pay to participate in disaster relief services in North Carolina with the approval of their department heads.

Reminder from the Physical Plant

Any digging or excavation on campus must be authorized by the physical plant director. This also applies to the erection of tents and the installation of signs.

A written digging and excavation request and area sketch must be sent to the director of the physical plant at least three working days in advance to allow time for investigation and clearance. Your cooperation will help prevent power outages and damage to utilities.

Letterhead, area code changes

UNCW will adopt recycled formal letterhead, envelope, and business card papers beginning July 1. The change will be made in conjunction with the change of the 919 area code to 910, which will take effect Nov. 14.

Departments should begin phasing in the new paper as soon as possible and should not use the current grey letterhead after Dec. 31, 1993.

The state contract white letterhead and envelopes will remain the same.

The next Campus Communique will be distributed June 10. Send items to Carolyn Busse, U. Relations, or to BUSSEC on VAX.

25" Zenith television set. Striking console, excellent condition. $150. Call 791-4914.

School year (Sept. to May) 2BR, 2BA fully furnished condo rental at Carolina Beach. Pool, AC, deck, and many extras. Special rate for UNCW faculty or staff member is $365 per month. Call (215) 399-8950 and ask for UNCW winter 93/94 brochure.

Furnished 2BR, 2BA duplex on 1/4 acre lot. Fireplace, covered deck, fenced back yard. Near Ogden School on Middlesound Loop Road. Available June 5 for $500/mo. Referenced required. Call 686-4002 or 686-9421.

Vacation at Peppertree by the Sea, North Myrtle Beach, from Oct. 10 to 17. Sleeps six. Full kitchen, living area, one private bedroom. $550. Call 791-5026 or ext. 3540. Ask for Patricia.

For Sale: 1989 Ford Aereostar Van with conversion package. 62,000 miles, VCR, 9" color TV, swivel/reclining captain's chairs. Cassette player with AM/FM radio, $9250. Call Gloria at ext. 3338.

PUBLIC SERVICE AND EXTENDED EDUCATION

Coast Trek. A marine-science summer residence camp for academically-gifted students ages 11 to 14. Field trips, plant and animal collection, and laboratory studies. Call for available camp dates and a brochure.

How to Prepare for the SAT. Discover drills and strategies to make the SAT less formidable and increase your score. 8:30-11:30 a.m., Monday - Thursday, June 21-24. Fee: $75 including book. Registration deadline: June 7.

For information about programs listed above, or to register by credit card, call ext. 3195.

C HILDA S TYNDALL
LIBRARY TECHNICAL ASSISTANT
LIBRARY SERVICES

The official bulletin
of UNCW

Communique

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 40 June 10, 1993

Advancement car wash a success

(l - r) Margaret Robison, Carolyn Busse, Barbie Cowan, and Pat Neuwirth wash donors' cars.

Members of the staff of University Advancement last week washed the cars of faculty and staff members whose departments met Advancement's 87 percent participation rate in this year's Loyalty Fund. Right - Barbie Cowan and Neesha Allen wash Alice Maile's van.

Writers Roundtable set for summer

Some of the South's and nation's best-known authors will be in Wilmington this summer to serve as staff for the 1993 Writers Roundtable, held July 31 to August 1 at UNCW. The event is being co-sponsored by the Professional and Creative Writing Program at UNCW.

The Writers Roundtable, expanded to two days this year, will feature workshops by notable authors. Workshops will cover a wide selection of genres from southern fiction to poetry and nonfiction. A panel of editors, agents, and publishers will also be on hand to discuss their part in the writing industry.

The event will be held in Cameron Hall on the campus of UNCW, with workshops running from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. both days. The Writers Roundtable is a low-cost writer's conference designed to provide unpublished writers a chance to learn from successful authors some of the things that make the craft of writing run smoother for the novice.

Attending staff includes: Tim McLaurin, Bob Reiss, Dewey Lambdin, Lisa Cantrell, William R. Trotter, Richard Hill, C.H. Scott, Philip Gerard, Scott Whisnant, Michael Chitwood, Mary Lambeth Moore, Rick Boyer, Vivian Knight-Jenkins, C. David Perry, Irene Kraas, Denise Vitola, and Walter Taylor.

The cost of the roundtable will be $30. For more information, call 763-9573.

Announcements

RESEARCHERS

Researchers who have proposals for summertime research using human subjects to be approved by the University IRB should send proposals to the IRB chairperson, Candace Gauthier, philosophy and religion, by June 18. Please allow several weeks for research review once that date has passed because the IRS will have difficulty arranging meetings during the second summer session.

Soar with the

SEAHAWKS!

Here's your chance to sport the Seahawk logo and support the UNCW Alumni Association. For the same cost as a personalized plate, you can honor the Seahawks by owning an official Seahawk license plate.

In addition to the regular annual motor vehicle registration fee, pay only $25 annually for the UNCW license plate. Fifteen dollars of that money comes back to the university.

UNCW must send the names of 300 people interested in purchasing (but not obligated to buy) license plates to the Department of Motor Vehicles. Once the DMV has 300 names, they will commit to making the tags and will send each person who signed up an application for a UNCW license plate.

If you are interested in signing up, stop by the Alumni Office, Alderman room 108, or call Pat Neuwirth, director of alumni relations, at ext. 3616.

HUMAN RESOURCES ASSISTANT V.C. WANTS YOU!

Kay Robinson, assistant vice chancellor of Human Resources, is now on board and wants to meet faculty and staff. She will be calling various people and departments to schedule visits. "I'd like to meet as many people as possible in the next few months, and find out how Human Resources is viewed and your ideas for making it better," she said.

If your department holds regular staff meetings and you would like to schedule Kay on the agenda, call her direct extension, 3274.

SERVICE AWARDS LUNCHEON

This year's Service Awards Luncheon will be held from noon to 2 p.m., Thursday, June 24, in Wagoner Hall. Lunch service will begin at 11:45 a.m. Kay Robinson, assistant vice chancellor for human resources, will be the mistress of ceremonies. Tickets are on sale in the bookstore until June 21.

Summer Ads

6 ft. custom-built Bay River Skiff, fiberglass, teak wood trim and seats. Tilt trailer, anchor, etc. Needs motor. $1500 firm. Call ext. 3456 or 395-4374, ask for Jimmy.

Yard Sale (moving): 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, June 12, 109 Coral Dr., Wrightsville Beach. Household items, camping equipment, bike, and miscellaneous.

For Sale: 7.5 cu. ft. chest-type freezer, excellent condition. $150. Call 256-3674.

CAMPUS RAPE

One out of six women will be sexually assaulted this year. "Campus Rape: Issues and Personal Safety Precautions" will be presented by the Rape Crisis Center from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 16, at New Hanover County Public Library's second floor conference room. The event is free and open to the public.

A video, Campus Rape with Susan Dey and Corbin Bernsen, will explore the issues and impact of sexual assault on university campuses. Personal precautions will be discussed - precautions that can help college women become less vulnerable to attack.

A rape crisis counselor will be available during the program.

Official Notices

Welcome Week

The Student Activities Office is preparing a schedule of events for Welcome Week 1993, to be held Aug. 14 to 21. The schedule will be included in July's student bills.

Offices and departments that would like to have a list of their events, activities, or deadlines included in the schedule should contact the Student Activities Office, ext. 3827 or E-Mail ROSEK or HANSONL, by June 28.

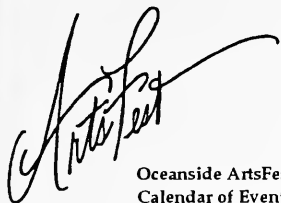

Please send dates of events, etc. occurring Aug. 14 to 21 only.

Inventory

Central Stores will conduct inventory June 28 to 30.

Since electronic ordering will be unavailable during those days, emergency orders must be hand carried to Central Stores.

Campus Happenings

Oceanside ArtsFest
Calendar of Events

May 24-June 30

Juried Photography Exhibit -
FREE, Kenan Hall

June 12

Big Band Dance featuring UNCW's
7 O'Clock Jazz Ensemble
University Center Ballroom - 8 p.m.

June 19

Say Amen Gospel Jubilee featuring In God's Name Mission Choir, the Voices of Union, and Jerri Holiday & Grace and the Gospel Music Workshop of America -Wilmington chapter
Kenan Auditorium - 8 p.m.

June 20

Ensemble Courant plays chamber music on period instruments
Thalian Hall Ballroom - 8 p.m.

June 24

Bach Cantatas by the Ensemble
Courant featuring Lori White
and Festival Chorus
Thalian Hall Ballroom - 8 p.m.

June 23-June 26

A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum
Kenan Auditorium - 8 p.m.

June 1-July 1

"Art from Afar: Nine International Artists," Randall Library

A group rate of $5 each has been established for UNCW faculty and staff. Faculty and staff may purchase two tickets at this discounted price. Call the Kenan Auditorium Box Office at 791-9695 for ticket information.

THANK YOU

Kathy Brooks would like to thank those who sponsored her during the April 1993 M.S. Walk for Multiple Sclerosis. She raised $632.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE

If you are concerned about sexual violence on our campus, get involved by serving on the Sexual Violence Advisory Board. Faculty and staff involvement is important. For information or to volunteer or nominate someone, call
Diane Edwards at ext. 3577.

The next Campus Communique will be distributed June 24. The deadline to submit items is noon on Tuesday, June 22. Personal ads are welcomed during the summer months.

Faculty and Staff

E. Cartier Esham and Ron Sizemore made a presentation titled "Evaluation of Membrane Filtration and Chromosomal DNA Analysis of Escherichia Coli for Determining Sources of Fecal Pollution" at the annual meeting of the American Society for Microbiology held in Atlanta.

Dr. Howard Cummings, associate professor in the School of Nursing, has just authored a book titled Drugs and Protocols Common to Prehospital and Emergency Care published by Jones &
Bartlett Pub. Co. It is available at the UNCW Bookstore.

Cummings has been appointed for a four-year term to the Board of Directors of the Wilmington Yahweh Center for abused and neglected children.

Evelyn Evans of Postal Services was recently presented an award from the JROTC Parent's Association in recognition of her performance as chairperson in charge of fund raising.

A proposal by Dr. Martin Posey, assistant professor of biology, titled
"Marsh Plants and Benthic Invertebrate
Communities Associated with a Created Marsh Island in Winyah Bay, S.C.," has been funded $18,670 by the Army Corps of Engineers. The period of the grant is from May to September 1993.

Dr. Kathleen Jewell, director of the Student Health and Wellness Center, has been appointed to the New Hanover County Year 2000 Health Objectives
Committee. The purpose of the committee is to develop and implement strategies to meet health objectives for the year
2000 as outlined in the Governor's Task
Force publication Healthy Carolinians 2000.

Jewell and Deborah Haywood, MS,
CHES, assistant director of the LivWELL
Center for Health Promotion, presented a poster session on the Bicycle Helmet Safety Project recently conducted on campus at the American College Health Association conference in Baltimore, held May 29 to June 1.

Dr. Joe Kishton of the psychology department has been awarded a certificate of merit in the documentary film category by the jurors at the North Carolina Film Festival. The psychobiographical film, Henry Miller is Not Dead, will be screened June 26 at the Cape Fear Regional Theatre as part of the festival.

Dr. Ann Lockledge, associate professor in the Department of Curricular Studies, had a research article,
"Movies, Malls, and Messin' Around:
the Social Life of Young Adolescents," published in the latest issue of The League Journal. In the same issue she edited the "Books and Media" column, which included reviews from School of Education professors Dr. Richard Huber and Dr. Judith Hayn on books of interest to middle level teachers.

WELCOME

Kimberly Best-Tuten, Human Resources.

Official Notices (cont.)

Legislative Update

At this time, it appears that the legislature will approve a 2 percent across-the-board salary increase in July for employees subject to the State Personnel Act, with a 1 percent bonus, not added to base pay, to be paid later in the year.

Tentative medical insurance premium rates have been provided to us from the State Health Plan for September 1993 through August 1994. Please note that the legislature is still in session and these rates are subject to change.

State Health Plan

	Current	Proposed
Employee only	$0	$0
Employee & children	90.12	90.12
Employee & family	216.18	216.18

Physicians' Health Plan

Employee only	$19.50	$24.50
Employee & children	127.30	135.20
Employee & family	267.40	279.60

The state's contribution is projected to remain constant at $144.60 regardless of the plan or category of coverage you select. You may note that currently there is no increase anticipated in the State Health Plan rates. PHP has projected an overall 3 percent increase; however, since the employer's share of the premium is not increasing, the employee will bear the full increase amount.

The annual enrollment period will be August 1-31. Enrollment materials will be mailed to home addresses. Representatives from both plans will be on campus in August. Date, time, and place will be posted in the Campus Communique when finalized.

Accounting

June payroll for permanent employees will be paid July 1.

Shared Leave

Lela Dorsey-Coleman, Housekeeping, has requested 120 hours of shared leave to avoid leave without pay due to surgery and recuperation. Reminder: employees requesting maternity leave are eligible to apply for shared leave. Call Dale at ext. 3161 for information.

Financial Aid

On May 27, the University Financial Aid Office converted telephone operations to incorporate a voice mail feature. This will allow the office to communicate more efficiently with callers on routine and/or basic information, as well as provide callers the opportunity to leave requests for basic information and forms. Departments can call individual financial aid employees using the campus directory extension. All outside calls must be transferred to the main financial aid number, ext. 3177.

Student time sheets

Student time sheets for June are due no later than 10 a.m., Wednesday, June 30. Please note the time change that is necessary because of the upcoming holiday. Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 if you have questions.

Year end

During the week June 23 to 30, Purchasing will process emergency orders only. Receiving goods and solving any related problems will be Purchasing's concentration the last week of June. Please check in goods you receive, verify all details, and send necessary paperwork to purchasing as soon as possible. Call if you have questions.

Check requests

Check requests to be paid from the 1992-93 budget should be sent to Accounting by June 25. Direct questions to Tammy Blizzard at ext. 3143 or Jan Lion at ext. 3227.

Leave Reports due

All leave-earning employees must complete time sheets or leave earnings records by June 30. Human Resources will provide listings of employees to departments by June 25. The department should fill in both vacation and sick balances for each employee, have the department head or director sign the report, and forward it to Human Resources by July 5. If you have questions regarding the leave balances report, call Alice Maile, ext. 3392.

Library internet address changes

The Internet address for the Randall Library computer has been changed. The new address is: 152.4.1.202.

If you have difficulty connecting to the library computer, contact Ron Johnson at ext. 3690.

Faculty payroll

First session summer school faculty payroll checks will be available Wednesday, June 30, and can be picked up at the Cashier's Office between 7:45 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Proper identification is required.

Interdepartmental invoices

All interdepartmental invoices to be paid in the 1992-93 fiscal year must be processed and forwarded to accounting by 10 a.m., July 1.

Direct questions to Sharon Polley at ext. 3150.

Travel reimbursements

All travel reimbursements to be paid from this fiscal year's budget should be sent to accounting by June 25. All travel advances must be satisfied before June 30. If you have questions concerning year-end procedures, call Tammy Blizzard at ext. 3143.

Campus Communique

The official bulletin
of UNCW

University Advancement

Carolyn Busse, editor

Vol. XXII, No. 41 June 24, 1993

Vice chancellor candidates selected

The top five candidates for the position of vice chancellor for public service and extended education are in the midst of campus visits. Each will meet with the selection committee, Chancellor Leutze, trustees and community representatives, and other university officials.

The first candidate to visit was Suzan Howard Schafer, dean of the Division of Continuing Studies, Pittsburg State University, Pittsburg, Kan., who has served in that capacity since 1984. Her educational background includes a Bachelor of Design degree, a Master of Education degree, and a Doctor of Education Degree, all from the University of Florida.

Schafer was brought into her position at Pittsburg State as the first dean of continuing studies. In that capacity, she administers and coordinates the off-campus credit programs, all non-credit activities, generates grants, administers the Visiting International Scholars program, maintains six outreach centers, and works cooperatively with regional community colleges and school districts.

The second candidate to visit was Michelle R. Howard-Vital, associate vice president for academic programs and dean of university college, Edinboro University of Pennsylvania, Edinboro, Pa., a position she has held since July 1991. Her educational background includes a Bachelor of Arts and a Master of Arts in Teaching in English Literature and Language from the University of Chicago and a Doctor of Philosophy in Public Policy Analysis: Education from the University of Illinois at Chicago.

In her present position, Howard-Vital is responsible for developing and implementing academic programs, policy, and curricula; working closely with academic deans in developing and monitoring operational budgets for academic affairs; recruiting and hiring new faculty; and coordinating a variety of academic support activities including tutoring, freshman orientation, and a program designed for students who haven't decided on an academic major.

Arthur Padilla, assistant to the chancellor at North Carolina State University, is completing his visit today. His educational background includes bachelor's and master's degrees from N.C. State and a doctorate in economics from UNC Chapel Hill. He has also served as a senior fellow in employment policy at The Brookings Institution, Washington, D.C., in 1980-81.

In his present position, Padilla assists the chancellor with specific projects and works with the NCSU Board of Visitors and Board of Trustees. In his work at NCSU, he established a process to bring academic issues and accomplishments directly to trustees during their meetings. Padilla has also been actively involved in several programs to foster a better understanding of NCSU's mission and educational programs among the African-American community.

Visiting today and Friday, June 25, is Linda C. Winner, professor of organizational studies and public policy at the

(cont. on p. 2)

And the Show Goes On...

An original musical revue that takes a 'loving jab at the fables and foibles of life upon the wicked stage' will close 1993's Oceanside ArtsFest. Compiled, directed, and choreographed by guest director Janet DeRuvo, And The Show Goes On will be presented at 8 p.m. tonight through Saturday, June 26, in Kenan Auditorium. The production replaces A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum.

"The revue, with songs compiled from dozens of Broadway musicals, was written to shed light on that old statement, 'the show must go on,'" said DeRuvo. "Our cast of six will take the audience through the trials and joys that Mickey and Judy never told you about putting on a show."

Musical selections include 'Doors,' 'Small Craft Warnings,' and 'The Art of Waiting' as well as a medley of favorites.

Ms. DeRuvo is a professional instructor, director, and choreographer in the Washington, D.C. area. The musical director is Greg Bell, and Toni Bratton designed the costumes. Both are UNCW faculty members.

Cast members include Lee Dominick, Julia Dominick, Marla Trobaugh, Mark Ruggiero, Wendy Laursen, and Bob Garell.

Tickets are $11 in advance and $12 the day of performance. UNCW faculty and staff can buy two tickets at a discounted price of $5; UNCW students are admitted free with valid I.D.

Call 791-9695 to place a ticket order.

Announcements

CONDOLENCES

The employees of the Physical Plant Department wish to extend their deepest sympathies to Peggy Hendrix and her family following the recent death of her husband, Roger.

PARKING LOT CLOSED

Parking Lot E (located between the University Center and King Hall) is closed for resurfacing. The lot will be closed for approximately two weeks depending on the weather. Administrative Services apologizes for any inconvenience this may cause. Direct questions to Towana Moore, ext. 3051.

MCKIM & CREED SCHOLARSHIPS

McKim & Creed engineering firm has awarded a $1,000 scholarship to William C. Sudduth, a rising sophomore at UNCW, and two $500 scholarships to Cape Fear Community College students.

Candidates (cont. from p. 1)

Federal Executive Institute, U.S. Office of Personnel Management, in Charlottesville, Va. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Social Studies Education, a Master of Arts in Teaching in American History, and a Doctor of Philosophy in Educational Leadership with an emphasis in Adult and Higher Education, all from UNC Chapel Hill.

In her present position, Winner develops and teaches courses for senior government executives in the areas of executive leadership, total quality management, team effectiveness, organizational issues, and executive career development. She also holds a leadership role in curriculum revision and design.

Visiting June 29-30 will be Dolores (Doe) Hentschel, dean of extended and continuing education and associate professor of educational leadership at the University of Connecticut, Storrs,

LIBRARY HOURS

Randall Library will be open the following hours between summer sessions:

June 24-25 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

June 26-27 closed

June 28 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The library will be closed July 4 and will be open from 4 to 11 p.m. July 5.

DEPARTMENTS MOVE

The Office of Enrollment Management and the Graduate School have moved to James Hall, second floor, formerly the College of Arts and Sciences. The College of Arts and Sciences is now located in Bear Hall room 146.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Joe and Mary Browning would like to announce the birth of their first child, Hayley Elizabeth, on May 10. The Brownings wish to extend their thanks to everyone for their kindness.

BLOOD DRIVE

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive at UNCW from noon to 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, July 7, in the UC Ballroom. Donors must weigh at least 110 pounds and be in good health. Donations can be made every eight weeks.

PHONE NUMBER CHANGE

Barbara McDowell's phone number has changed to 350-3924.

CHEMISTRY SEMINAR

Kimberly Jones will present her master's research on bioactive marine natural products at 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 30, in DeLoach Hall room 114.

Gloria Sasser, secretary in the English department, has been selected the 1993 Member of the Year for SEANC, District 62. The award is given to the district member who has shown outstanding leadership, dedication, and enthusiasm in pursuit of SEANC and district goals.

Sasser is the current membership chair, and under her leadership several membership records have been broken. Her record will be compared with other winners across the state for Member of the Year at the SEANC Award Convention in September.

Faculty and Staff

Lt. Charlie Willis, University Police lead investigator, has been awarded an advanced law enforcement certificate from the N. C. Criminal Justice Training and Standards Commission. The award is the highest professional certificate available to law enforcement officers in the state. The Law Enforcement Officers Professional Certificate program was created to recognize achievement based on education, professional training, and experience. Willis joins Chief Billy Dawson and Sgt. Wayne Howell, who also hold the certificate.

Christie F. Prentice, English Department, was awarded a certificate in recognition of outstanding achievement as an honor student and received her associate in applied science degree in business administration from Cape Fear Community College May 28.

Dr. Eleanor B. Wright, chair, curricular studies, has been appointed a life member of the American Association of Mental Retardation. She was granted the appointment after 30 years of membership in the organization.

Dr. Howard Cummings, associate professor of nursing, has been awarded $441 by Calgon Vestal Laboratories for the project "A Pilot Study of the Difference in Microbial Growth on Hands Following Specified Handwashing Techniques With an Alcohol Foam Agent Versus Liquid Soap."

Dr. Terry Theodore, professor of theatre, Fine Arts Department, gave a lecture/film presentation on Charlie Chaplin's The Gold Rush at Brookgreen Gardens June 20. Chaplin's personal favorite, the comic film covers the adventures of the Little Tramp in the Klondike.

An article by Dr. Earl Honeycutt, Cameron School of Business, and John Ford, Michael LaTour, Mathew Joseph, Pat Voli, and Jenifer Jobs titled "A Comparison of American and New Zealand Consumer Perceptions of Sex Role Portrayals in Advertising," has been published in Developments in Marketing Science.

GOVERNOR'S AWARD OF EXCELLENCE NOMINEES

Frances Carr, Career Planning and Placement
Diane Edwards, Dean of Students Office
Douglas L. Johnson, Admissions
Celestine J. Jones, Financial Aid
Nancy B. Jones, Chemistry
Terry L. Middlesworth, Athletics
Don Norris, Physical Plant
Margaret Sheridan, General College
Diane B. Talley, Public Service and Extended Education
Pamela B. Whitlock, Research Administration

An article by Dr. Earl Honeycutt and Dr. Vince Howe, Cameron School of Business, and Tom Ingram of Memphis State titled "Shortcomings of Sales Training Programs" has been published in Industrial Marketing Management.

Dr. Judy Sigauw, Cameron School of Business, has had the article "An Examination of Adaptive Selling: Antecedents and Outcomes" published in the Academy of Marketing Science, Miami.

An article by Dr. Dick Engdahl and Bob Keating, Cameron School of Business, and John Perrachione titled "Effects of Grade Feedback on Student Evaluation of Instruction" has been published in the Journal of Management Education, 17, 2, May.

Dr. John Zimmer, Department of Chemistry, attended a Chataqua workshop on "Chemical Demonstrations" at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, June 3 to 5.

Summer Ads

For rent: unfurnished 2BR duplex apartment, 809 Montclair Drive. Available Oct. 1. Location convenient to campus and shopping. Quiet residential setting with off-street parking. Well-maintained yard. Call Roger Lowery, ext. 3225, or 350-0386.

Vacation at Peppertree by the Sea, North Myrtle Beach from Oct. 10 to 17. Sleeps six. Full kitchen, living area, one private bedroom. $550. Call 791-5026 or ext. 3540. Ask for Patricia.

For lease: 3BR, 2 1/2 bath home. Will rent for 1 yr. + to non-smokers, no pets. 2700 sq. feet with garage, porch, and deck. $1,400/mo. Call Karen at 799-1663; leave message.

For sale: 1988 Volvo 240DL wagon, four new tires; original owner. $9,000 or best offer. Call 799-1663; leave message.

For sale: 386SX computer. 80 mb hard drive, dual floppies, fax modem, top quality printer w/cut sheet feeder, and lots of software. $1,300. Call 799-4779.

Furniture for sale: All excellent condition: couches, sleeper sofa, desks, entertainment center, dining room set. Must sacrifice: moving overseas. Call 799-1663; leave message.

For sale: Siberian husky. Gray/white female puppy, nine weeks old. AKC registered show dog from champion bloodline. $250 including accessories. Call 791-4914.

For sale: 1989 Honda Civic LX. Navy blue 4DR sedan, automatic transmission, one owner, clean, 81,500 miles, $6,800. Call Diane Brann at ext. 3649 or 256-6083 (home).

Official Notices

Shared leave

Helen Washington, Bookstore, has applied for 80 hours of shared leave to avoid leave without pay due to her recent illness. Lela Dorsey-Coleman, Housekeeping, still needs 120 hours shared leave because of surgery. Send your donations to Human Resources as soon as possible to help fellow employees through difficult times.

Student time sheets

Student time sheets for June are due no later than 10 a.m., Wednesday, June 30. Please note the time change that is necessary because of the upcoming holiday.

Call Tina Wilson at ext. 3752 if you have questions.

Accounting

June payroll for permanent employees will be paid July 1.

Faculty payroll

First session summer school faculty payroll checks will be available Wednesday, June 30, and can be picked up at the Cashier's Office between 7:45 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Proper identification is required.

Interdepartmental invoice deadline

All interdepartmental invoices to be paid in the 1992-93 fiscal year must be processed and forwarded to accounting by 10 a.m. July 1. Please direct questions to Sharon Polley at ext. 3150.

Travel reimbursements

All travel reimbursements to be paid from this fiscal year's budget should be sent to accounting by tomorrow. All travel advances must be satisfied prior to June 30. If you have questions concerning year-end procedures call Tammy Blizzard at ext. 3143.

Inventory

Central Stores will conduct inventory June 28 to 30. Since electronic ordering will be unavailable during those days, emergency orders must be hand-carried to Central Stores.

Check requests

Check requests to be paid from the 1992-93 budget should be sent to Accounting by tomorrow. Direct questions to Tammy Blizzard at ext. 3143 or Jan Lion at ext. 3227.

Emergency requisitions

Emergency requisitions should be typed or printed clearly so that emergency needs can be handled quickly and effectively.

Printing Services

Printing Services will be closed for inventory June 30. Check your copier supplies today and order prior to Central Store's inventory, June 28-30.

Back door selling

A common practice of suppliers and would-be suppliers is to attempt to cultivate favor among user agencies. This practice, referred to as "back door" selling, interferes with fair competition.

Back door selling can range from hard-sell tactics to fraternization to outright illegal gifts, kickbacks, and bribes. A sales representative may also seek favors by being helpful or offering technical assistance or information.

Unlike industrial purchasing, the open-door policy of government makes it difficult for public purchasing to prevent sales representatives from calling or visiting campus departments.

According to UNCW Administrative Procedures, any salesperson soliciting UNCW business must be directed to the Purchasing Department. Suppliers can, at times, render valuable assistance to solve a particular problem; however, it is important to keep Purchasing involved to assure legal and fair practice.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES UPDATE

The following updates to the Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual are now available on the VAX:

AUX 2.30 - Rental of Padrick House	Revised
HR 2.20 - Voluntary Shared Leave Program	Revised
HR 4.40 - Employee Emergency Loan Program	New
INF 1.20 - Administrative VAX Accounts	New
INF 2.10 - Hardware Support Services	New
INF 2.20 - VAXcluster Magnetic Tapes	New
INF 3.10 - Academic VAX Accounts	New
INF 3.20 - Use of Academic Computing Services Facilities	New
INF 3.40 - Academic Computing Services Special Services	New
INF 4.70 - Maintaining Information on Videotex	Revised
TRA 1.11- Travel Authorization and Encumbrance	Revised
TRA 1.12- Travel Advances	Revised
Travel Appendix D	New
VCB 1.20 - UNCW Special Projects	Revised

The Administrative Policies and Procedures Manual can be accessed through either VXA, VXB, or VXC on the VAX by typing INFO at the username prompt. Administrative Procedures can also be accessed through SNBALLEX and through FRS and SIS menus.

517 B8 P 411
03/30/00 47000

This is recyclable.

ARCHIVE COLLECTION

RANDALL LIBRARY

LH1.

N77

C35

1992-1993

RANDALL LIBRARY - UNCW

3 0490 1017230 U